SEX WARNING IS GIVEN BY JUDGE

Harper, City Court Jurist, Says Danger Rapidly Increasing

"Sex offenses have increased at such an alarming rate within recent years that this crime has now become one of the major threats to the safety of children." This statement was made Saturday by W. M. Harper, city judge of Monroe, in answer to questions by a Morning World reporter. Continuing, the city judge said:

"Much has been said to parents in recent years concerning the safety of their children, particularly with regard to safe motor vehicular operation, but there is another problem of child safety about which too little has been said. I refer to the ever - increasing danger to our children of both sexes at hands of sex fiends when the children are on the streets, highways or school grounds.

"There have been several instances in recent months involving sex outrages that should indeed around parents to the gravity of their responsibility to their children and they should daily warn their children to spurn offers of rides in motor vehicles from strangers or other advances from pedestrians not known by them. The children should be coached to write down license numbers of vehicles of persons making advances to them, as well descriptions of the vehicles and persons involved, and deliver such information to the police or sheriff as quickly as possible.

"Not long ago a sex fiend enticed a very young girl into his automobile on a report that her parents wanted to see her, and drove the child to a secluded spot where she was ravished by the fiend. And within recent months there have been several offenses locally where men have intentionally exposed their private parts to ladies and young girls. Three such men are now in jail serving long sentences.

"In addition to warnings by parents, I believe a real service could be performed by the school authorities in adequately warning all school children of this grave danger. And likewise, the P.-T. A. organizations might do well to make the matter a topic for consideration and discussion. Obviously it is a question that must have year by year consideration, because each year we have a new set of children coming on the scene and they are entitled to be warned."

W. Monroe Will Vote On Bonds Tuesday

Expansion Program At Stake; Liquor Sales Unlawful

The big question of whether West Monroe and ward five will carry out a $1,650,000 expansion and improvement program will be settled Tuesday at the polls. The district attorney's office yesterday issued a reminder that the sale of alcoholic beverages would be unlawful in ward five and West Monroe on Tuesday due to the election.

The program calls for the resurfacing of all West Monroe streets with hot-mix black top; expansion of the fire department; boost the water system to furnish plenty of water; a ward five hospital; and two additional pumps for the drainage system.

Proponents have maintained that these facilities are needed "if the city of West Monroe is to progress." If approved the bonds would finance one of the greatest municipal expansion programs in the history of the city.

The opposition has constantly fought the bonds with the argument that increased taxes would

Opposing Group Says They Are Against 'Waste And Extravagance'

A group of West Monroe citizens opposing the proposed bond issues to be presented at the polls Tuesday, yesterday issued a statement that they are "not against bond issues" but they are opposed to "waste and extravagance" in city government.

Their statement is as follows:

"We are for a necessary bond issue to improve and advance West Monroe and Ward Five, but we are opposed to waste and extravagance and believe the present proposed bond issue as advocated by the mayor and board of councilmen has been prepared without proper consideration of the cost and huge debt that will be incurred if their proposed bond issue is passed.

PRAYERS URGED FOR WORLD PEACE

Pope Pius Urges Prayers For Persecuted Inmates Of Red Prisons

Vatican City, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Pope Pius today urged all Catholics to pray next month for world peace and for the persecuted inmates of Communist prison camps.

The pontiff's plea, made in an encyclical called "Ingruentium Malorum" (the advancing ills) and addressed to every Roman Catholic bishop in the world, also called attention to "the iniquitous campaign" or irreligious persons who harm the "souls of the children."

He asked Catholics everywhere to recite the Rosary and pray to the Virgin Mary to "heal the ills which afflict our times."

The encyclical called on the faithful "not to forget, while running their fingers on the Rosary beads, those who languish miserable in prison camps, in jails, in concentration camps."

"Among them there are, as you know, bishops who were dismissed from their sees, only for having heroically defended the sacred and sainted rights of God and the church," the Pope added.

"There are sons, fathers and mothers, wrested from their hearths and compelled to lead unhappy lives in unknown lands and in other climates."

He said he embraced "with a particular affection," all these sufferers.

Continuing his obvious reference to persecution in Communist -dominated countries, the pontiff said that the souls of many of the faithful are subjected to "many snares" to make them break "the tie of union which links them to this Apostolic see."

The pope then added he could not "in any way pass in silence a new

CLAIM VIOLATIONS

Propagandists Make New Allegation That Allies Violate Neutrality

By Tom Bradshaw

Tokyo, Sunday, Sept. 16.—(AP)— Red propagandists today charged new Allied violations of the Kaesong neutrality zone, further dimming prospects of any resumption of the suspended Korean armistice talks.

The Peiping radio broadcast an allegation that since Sept. 12, date of an admitted mistaken Allied air strafing of Kaesong, "Puppet South Korean troops have invaded this zone three times and fired into it once."

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, was attributed to Alan Winnington, correspondent of the Communist London Daily Worker.

Winnington went on to assert that on September 15 "I watched an American fighter plane circling low over Kaesong city in such threatening manner that many civilians took cover."

There still was no official Communist response to the Allied headquarters acknowledgmenet that an Allied plane, through a navigational error, strafed Kaesong in the darkness September 12 but caused no damage.

This is the only one of the many Red charges that has been confirmed in any particular.

BUGLES SOUND

Allied Artillery Opens Up On Red Attackers; Lasts An Hour

By John Randolph

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Red regiments, filling the dark with the piercing sounds of bugles and whistles, lashed out last night and early today in east and central Korea where the Allies have been on the attack.

Allied artillery, firing 5,000 rounds into the onrushing Communists, stopped the central Korea attack 50 yards short of barbed wire marking Allied positions.

"We clobbered them," an Allied officer said of the assault, attempted northwest of Kumhwa. "We pounded them into the ground."

That southeast anchor of the old Iron Triangle is about 20 miles north of parallel 38 in central Korea.

The action began at 10 p. m. (7 a. m. EST Saturday) and lasted an hour.

To the east, where three U. S. divisions, Turk and Ethiopian units and a South Korean corps have been pushing the Allied line slowly northward, the Reds also reacted. The enemy struck back sharply early today.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter said North Koreans, blowing whistles and bugles, opened an attack shortly after last midnight north of Inje. Inje is about five miles north of parallel 38 and 27 miles inland from the east coast.

Nearly a regiment, about 3,000 men, surged forward after the Reds had laid down heavy small arms and automatic weapons fire. Carter said the attacks persisted at intervals until 4 a. m. his dispatch reported no change of positions.

Allied artillery had scorched the Reds Saturday with the heaviest barrage of the bitter, six-week-

Possible Coup In Greece Forecast By U. N. Group

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 15.—(AP)—A United Nations committee charged today six Russian-bloc countries are building up a network of Greek guerrilla agents for a new attempt by the Communists to overthrow the Greek government by force.

This report from the U. N. special committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB) came close on the heels of a strong protest by Yugoslavia against alleged violations of its borders by Albania troops. These evidences of continued tension in the Balkans have caused some U. N. diplomats to argue that the U. N. must maintain a watchdog group, such as UNSCOB in that troubled area.

In its annual report to the general assembly, which will meet in Paris November 6, UNSCOB asserted that Albania, Bulgaria, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania are giving aid to Greek guerrillas. This type of activity was said to be a new version of old Communist plans against the Athens regime.

The committee recommended that the general assembly "take note of the evidence concerning the existence in eastern and central Europe of a network for the training and clandestine re-introduction into Greece of Greek guerrilla agents for the purpose of conducting subversive activities, espionage, sabotage, propaganda and underground reorganization of the Greek guerrilla movement in Greece in preparation for an attempt to overthrow the Greek government by force.

"The report states that guerrilla bands re-entering Greece, although armed, are instructed to avoid clashes with the Greek army.

MOBILIZER HOPES MOVE NOT NEEDED

Tells Senator Ellender Industry Is Moving Ahead Speedily

Washington, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Defense Mobilizer Wilson today told Senator Ellender (D. - La.) he hopes it won't be necessary to grant rapid tax amortization and other government benefits to private companies for expansion of synthetic fiber production.

Wilson, in a letter to Ellender who is chairman of the senate agriculture committee, wrote:

"Industry appears to be moving ahead of its own initiative but if world conditions should force a review of present policy and make it necessary to provide assistance in order to get the fibers we need, we will do so. I hope, however, that this will not be necessary."

Ellender had written Wilson, protesting granting of tax and other benefits to synthetic plants, contending that raw cotton supplies are ample. Expedited tax amortization and other benefits, Ellender said, would be a waste of government funds and strategic materials.

Under rapid tax amortization the government permits an industry to deduct up to 100 per cent of the cost of a plant from taxes in five years.

Ellender wrote Wilson that in World War II tax benefits and priorities were granted for expansion of high tenacity rayon capacity equalling 500,000 bales of cotton yearly. Plants did not get into production until after the war, Ellender said, but since then have competed with cotton for the auto-

Northeast Enrollment Up 5 Per Cent

Fall semester registration at Northeast Louisiana State showed an increase of five per cent over last fall's total enrollment at Saturday noon, according to B. S. Hamner, registrar. With students still in the process of enrolling, all indications point to final figures for the semester exceeding those of the 1950-51 first semester by about fifteen per cent, President Lewis C. An important factor on Saturday's agenda at the college was the formation of late afternoon and evening classes and additional ones on Saturday mornings. About 75 teachers enrolled in classes which will be taught according to this special program.

Those who were unable to register at that time are requested to telephone the college concerning study or to enroll for courses at the first regular class meeting.

Iran Reported Mobilizing At Abadan Refinery

Baghdad, Iraq, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Reports from Basra, Iraq, today said Iran is concentrating armed forces heavily around the refinery city of Abadan, center of the British-Iranian oil controversy.

They said the concentration extends eastward in south Iran to the mouth of the Persian gulf.

(British warships lie at anchor in Iraqi waters at the head of the Persian gulf within gun range of the refinery. More than 300 British oil technicians still at the Anglo - Iranian oil company refinery are threatened with expulsion from Iran by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's ultimatum demanding that Britain resume oil negotiations under his nationalization scheme. British government officials have hinted they will use force if necessary to protect their nationals in Abadan).

J. S. Tarbutton Joins Northeast State Faculty

James S. Tarbutton of Ruston joined the Northeast Louisiana State faculty this fall as an instructor in the Science and Mathematics Department. He will teach courses in engineering and mathematics. Tarbutton fills the post of Wilkins B. Rickerson who is on military leave.

His return to Northeast State is somewhat in the nature of homecoming as he was appointed to a similar position in the fall of 1945 when the institution was known as Northeast Junior College. Teaching until mid-term of 1948, he resigned, then came back as a summer school instructor that year.

Tarbutton then gave up the position to return to his business in Ruston where he has continued to reside.

He is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute with a major in electrical engineering. He served as engineer for Tech and as acting superintendent of buildings and grounds during a two-year period that the regular superintendent was on military leave.

Before joining the Tech staff he was engaged for several years in an electrical business in radio and refrigeration work.

Tarbutton holds membership in Delta Alpha Rho, honorary engineering fraternity. He also is a member of the Ruston Rotary club.

Truman, Taft, Eisenhower Loom As Candidates

New York, Sept. 14. —(AP)— The hree overshadowing figures in his pre - campaign stage of the 952 presidential election — Truman, Taft, Eisenhower — are all om the middle west.

For that reason, people there ave thrown away the calendar.

Ten months ahead of the nation- conventions, the tides of polics already are running high and ard across the Great Plains. A y seldom passes without a poll mewhere. Advance men have en talking with delegates, ased and potential. Spot - checks crowds; door-bell quizzing, wspaper editorials, and political eeches all indicate the outlines this pattern at this point:

1. A tremendous prairie fire r Gen. Eisenhower is ready to eak out if, or when, the magic rd comes from Paris.

2. In the Republican organization, as such, Senator Taft has ade such long strides that, as of day, he could easily get the P nomination.

3. The president's popularity is ing up and regardless of the Republican candidate, he will be hard to beat in most mid-western states.

4. A great majority of the professionals of both parties and the trained observers in the Middle West are firmly convinced that Mr. Truman will run again next year.

Three recent polls, conducted among organized Republicans, gave Sen. Taft a wide margin over every other name, as a choice for the party nomination.

In Iowa, last Tuesday, A. C. Gustafson, chief clerk of the lower house of the legislator, released figured received from a survey of delegates to the last GOP state convention, Republican members of the last general assembly, and editors of Republican newspapers. He mailed 852 questionnaires. The results, he said, were:

	Taft	Eisenhower	Others
Convention Delegates	78%	10%	12%
Legislators	59	32	9
Editors	49	33	18

Similarly, the National Republican roundup committee reported from Chicago that 3,000 GOP leaders favor Taft. The poll was conducted among delegates and alternates to the last two Republican conventions. Gen. MacArthur, Cincinnati, have been touring the Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Dirksen, R.-Ill.) followed in that order. No figures were given. The committee is a private group, not sponsored by the Republican National Organization.

Again in Missouri, Republican county committee chairmen recently gave Taft 41 votes to Eisenhower's 21, and ex — governor Stassen's 20. A party source said 101 votes were cast.

In all three surveys, the names of Gov. Earl Warren of California, and Sen. Dirksen were mentioned along with Eisenhower and MacArthur.

At the Iowa state fair, 3 weeks ago, Russell Van Dyke, news director of a Des Moines radio station, spot-checked the crowds for several days and reported:

"Three to one for Eisenhower. . . . Some said they don't want a military man in the White House, but wouldn't oppose Ike on that ground."

In Cleveland, David Ingalls, a surveyor for Taft, said his chances for the nomination are "a great deal better than they were in 1948." Ingalls and Ben E. Tate of country, sounding out party sentiment for the senator.

Ingalls said, however, that it is too early to gauge Taft's strength if Gen. Eisenhower were to commit himself, definitely.

Eisenhower, of course, is the great x-factor in the whole equation.

A word from him — a "yes" or "no" to the people who want him to try for the Republican nomination — will throw the switches on a vast complex of political machinery in both parties.

His supporters in the Middle West insist that, if the general is available, the professed support for Taft, among active Republicans, will melt away rapidly. They base this on the assertion that Eisenhower has tremendous popularity with the great, unorganized, uncommitted mass of voters — in short, that the groundswell would wash away the structure Taft is building.

But whether the professional backing for Taft would disintegrate under the impact of an Eisenhower boom is something that

DODD SILENT ON MERGER RUMOR

Expresses Friendship For Medicine Man; Seeks Defeat Of Spaht

Justin Wilson, campaign manager for Lt. Gov. Bill Dodd in the forthcoming gubernatorial campaign, said here Saturday that he could render no further light on the rumored coalition between Dodd and Dudley J. LeBlanc.

Wilson, a safety engineer, has been in Monroe since Thursday, having addressed the West Monroe Lions Club.

He was brief in announcing that

Tells Senate RFC Waived Usual Doings

By Russell Brines

Washington, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Senate investigators were told today that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC) waived its usual reviewing methods to grant a $465,000 loan to the American Lithofold Corp. in 1949.

Ernest B. Howard, veteran of 19 years with RFC and then chief of its business loans branch, supplied this testimony to a senate investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee is probing charges that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr., used his influence to get RFC funds for the St. Louis company, af-

BUGLES SOUND

Allied Artillery Opens Up On Red Attackers; Lasts An Hour

By John Randolph

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Red regiments, filling the dark with the piercing sounds of bugles and whistles, lashed out last night and early today in east and central Korea where the Allies have been on the attack.

Allied artillery, firing 5,000 rounds into the onrushing Communists, stopped the central Korea attack 50 yards short of barbed wire marking Allied positions.

"We clobbered them," an Allied officer said of the assault, attempted northwest of Kumhwa. "We pounded them into the ground."

That southeast anchor of the old Iron Triangle is about 20 miles north of parallel 38 in central Korea.

The action began at 10 p. m. (7 a. m. EST Saturday) and lasted an hour.

To the east, where three U. S. divisions, Turk and Ethiopian units and a South Korean corps have been pushing the Allied line slowly northward, the Reds also reacted. The enemy struck back sharply early today.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter said North Koreans, blowing whistles and bugles, opened an attack shortly after last midnight north of Inje. Inje is about five miles north of parallel 38 and 27 miles inland from the east coast.

Nearly a regiment, about 3,000 men, surged forward after the Reds had laid down heavy small arms and automatic weapons fire. Carter said the attacks persisted at intervals until 4 a. m. his dispatch reported no change of positions.

Allied artillery had scorched the Reds Saturday with the heaviest barrage of the bitter, six-week-

Possible Coup In Greece Forecast By U. N. Group

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 15.—(AP)—A United Nations committee charged today six Russian-bloc countries are building up a network of Greek guerrilla agents for a new attempt by the Communists to overthrow the Greek government by force.

This report from the U. N. special committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB) came close on the heels of a strong protest by Yugoslavia against alleged violations of its borders by Albania troops. These evidences of continued tension in the Balkans have caused some U. N. diplomats to argue that the U. N. must maintain a watchdog group, such as UNSCOB in that troubled area.

In its annual report to the general assembly, which will meet in Paris November 6, UNSCOB asserted that Albania, Bulgaria, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania are giving aid to Greek guerrillas. This type of activity was said to be a new version of old Communist plans against the Athens regime.

The committee recommended that the general assembly "take note of the evidence concerning the existence in eastern and central Europe of a network for the training and clandestine re-introduction into Greece of Greek guerrilla agents for the purpose of conducting subversive activities, espionage, sabotage, propaganda and underground reorganization of the Greek guerrilla movement in Greece in preparation for an attempt to overthrow the Greek government by force.

"The report states that guerrilla bands re-entering Greece, although armed, are instructed to avoid clashes with the Greek army.

MOBILIZER HOPES MOVE NOT NEEDED

Tells Senator Ellender Industry Is Moving Ahead Speedily

Washington, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Defense Mobilizer Wilson today told Senator Ellender (D. - La.) he hopes it won't be necessary to grant rapid tax amortization and other government benefits to private companies for expansion of synthetic fiber production.

Wilson, in a letter to Ellender who is chairman of the senate agriculture committee, wrote:

"Industry appears to be moving ahead of its own initiative but if world conditions should force a review of present policy and make it necessary to provide assistance in order to get the fibers we need, we will do so. I hope, however, that this will not be necessary."

Ellender had written Wilson, protesting granting of tax and other benefits to synthetic plants, contending that raw cotton supplies are ample. Expedited tax amortization and other benefits, Ellender said, would be a waste of government funds and strategic materials.

Under rapid tax amortization the government permits an industry to deduct up to 100 per cent of the cost of a plant from taxes in five years.

Ellender wrote Wilson that in World War II tax benefits and priorities were granted for expansion of high tenacity rayon capacity equalling 500,000 bales of cotton yearly. Plants did not get into production until after the war, Ellender said, but since then have competed with cotton for the auto-

J. S. Tarbutton Joins Northeast State Faculty

James S. Tarbutton of Ruston joined the Northeast Louisiana State faculty this fall as an instructor in the Science and Mathematics Department. He will teach courses in engineering and mathematics. Tarbutton fills the post of Wilkins B. Rickerson who is on military leave.

His return to Northeast State is somewhat in the nature of homecoming as he was appointed to a similar position in the fall of 1945 when the institution was known as Northeast Junior College. Teaching until mid-term of 1948, he resigned, then came back as a summer school instructor that year.

Tarbutton then gave up the position to return to his business in Ruston where he has continued to reside.

He is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute with a major in electrical engineering. He served as engineer for Tech and as acting superintendent of buildings and grounds during a two-year period that the regular superintendent was on military leave.

Before joining the Tech staff he was engaged for several years in an electrical business in radio and refrigeration work.

Tarbutton holds membership in Delta Alpha Rho, honorary engineering fraternity. He also is a member of the Ruston Rotary club.

Truman, Taft, Eisenhower Loom As Candidates

New York, Sept. 14. —(AP)— The hree overshadowing figures in his pre - campaign stage of the 952 presidential election — Truman, Taft, Eisenhower — are all om the middle west.

For that reason, people there ave thrown away the calendar.

Ten months ahead of the nation- conventions, the tides of polics already are running high and ard across the Great Plains. A ay seldom passes without a poll mewhere. Advance men have en talking with delegates, asred and potential. Spot - checks crowds; door-bell quizzing, wspaper editorials, and political eeches all indicate the outlines this pattern at this point:

1. A tremendous prairie fire r Gen. Eisenhower is ready to eak out if, or when, the magic rd comes from Paris.

2. In the Republican organizaon, as such, Senator Taft has ade such long strides that, as of day, he could easily get the OP nomination.

3. The president's popularity is ing up and regardless of the Reblican candidate, he will be hard to beat in most mid-western states.

4. A great majority of the professionals of both parties and the trained observers in the Middle West are firmly convinced that Mr. Truman will run again next year.

Three recent polls, conducted among organized Republicans, gave Sen. Taft a wide margin over every other name, as a choice for the party nomination.

In Iowa, last Tuesday, A. C. Gustafson, chief clerk of the lower house of the legislator, released figured received from a survey of delegates to the last GOP state convention, Republican members of the last general assembly, and editors of Republican newspapers. He mailed 852 questionnaires. The results, he said, were:

	Taft	Eisenhower	Others
Convention Delegates	78%	10%	12%
Legislators	59	32	9
Editors	49	33	18

Similarly, the National Republican roundup committee reported from Chicago that 3,000 GOP leaders favor Taft. The poll was conducted among delegates and alternates to the last two Republican conventions. Gen. MacArthur, Cincinnati, have been touring the country, sounding out party sentiment for the senator.

Ingalls said, however, that it is too early to gauge Taft's strength if Gen. Eisenhower were to commit himself, definitely.

Eisenhower, of course, is the great x-factor in the whole equation.

A word from him — a "yes" or "no" to the people who want him to try for the Republican nomination — will throw the switches on a vast complex of political machinery in both parties.

His supporters in the Middle West insist that, if the general is available, the professed support for Taft, among active Republicans, will melt away rapidly. They base this on the assertion that Eisenhower has tremendous popularity with the great, unorganized, uncommitted mass of voters — in short, that the groundswell would wash away the structure Taft is building.

But whether the professional backing for Taft would disintegrate under the impact of an Eisenhower boom is something that

Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Dirksen, R.-Ill.) followed in that order. No figures were given. The committee is a private group, not sponsored by the Republican National Organization.

Again in Missouri, Republican county committee chairmen recently gave Taft 41 votes to Eisenhower's 21, and ex — governor Stassen's 20. A party source said 101 votes were cast.

In all three surveys, the names of Gov. Earl Warren of California, and Sen. Dirksen were mentioned along with Eisenhower and MacArthur.

At the Iowa state fair, 3 weeks ago, Russell Van Dyke, news director of a Des Moines radio station, spot-checked the crowds for several days and reported:

"Three to one for Eisenhower. . . . Some said they don't want a military man in the White House, but wouldn't oppose Ike on that ground."

In Cleveland, David Ingalls, a surveyor for Taft, said his chances for the nomination are "a great deal better than they were in 1948." Ingalls and Ben E. Tate of

JACK ANDERS' RITES ARE HELD

Many Present To Pay Tribute To Well Known Young Man

Following a rosary service at 201 Roselawn, Friday at 8 p. m., conducted by Msgr. J. C. Marsh, there was a service held in St. Matthew's Church Saturday at 9 a. m. for John Klein (Jack) Anders, 38, which was largely attended. Msgr. A. O. Olinger, Alexandria Catholic pastor, officiated, being assisted by Rev. Father A. O. Staricek.

At the grave in St. Matthew's Cemetery, Msgr. J. C. Marsh officiated, and arrangements were in charge of the Hixson Brothers Funeral Home. Active pallbearers were: A. C. Warner, Charles Womack, Robert Guerriero, F. L. Jones, George Heller, Dr. Fred Amman, all of Monroe; P. V. Rone and J. C. Wilbourn, both of Baton Rouge; and Irving Goldstein of Alexandria. Honarary pallbearers were all state offiers and employes of the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. Anders received his early education in the public schools here and latter attended Springhill College and Louisiana State University where he was graduated in 1934. Upon his graduation he was employed by the Standard Oil Company for 15 years as traveling salesman. Two years ago he was promoted to district manager of the same company in Alexandria.

While in college, he was a member of the Phi Kappa fraternity. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus and of the Lions Club of Alexandria.

Anders saw service in the last world war and at the time of his discharge held the rank of first lieutenant.

His wife is the former Miss Irene Severio of Baton Rouge. They have one daughter, Nancy, 13 years old.

He is survived by his wife and daughter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis H. Anders, Monroe; an older brother, Klein Anders, Greenville, S. C., and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr., of Owensboro, Ky. Klein Anders, Mrs. Johnson and "Chuck" Anders, son of Klein Anders, arrived in Monroe by plane Friday to attend the funeral.

CANCER SUNDAY SET SEPT. 23

Citizens Asked To Contribute To Worthy Cause On That Day

With eight days remaining the American Cancer Society's current "crusade against cancer," citizens of Ouachita parish are being asked to observe Sunday, September 23, as Cancer Memorial Sunday.

Clergymen of all Catholic and Protestant churches have been asked to participate by devoting a portion of their Sunday services to prayers for cancer control work. Jewish congregations have been asked to observe Saturday, September 22 as Cancer Sabbath.

Following a pattern established here last year, "Lights On" hour will be observed from 9 to 10 p. m. Sunday evening. Citizens who wish to contribute funds to fight cancer are being asked to turn their porch or other outside light on during that hour as a signal that they want to give. Cancer Society volunteers, under the leadership of the Pilot Club of Monroe, will call by all homes where a light is on to pick up the gift.

Commenting on plans for the observance of Cancer Memorial Sunday, Mrs. C. K. Crandall said, "We sincerely believe that religion has a definite place in the work of the American Cancer Society. Certainly the objective of saving lives — of making it possilbe to live out our allotted span — and of alleviating the suffering that cancer inflicts upon all ages is God's work and needs the blessing of divine guidance. Our scientists who are engaged in cancer research need the prayers of everyone of us." Mrs. Crandall is chairman of volunteer services for the Ouachita parish unit, A. C. S.

Efforts of the volunteers in "Lights On" hour will be directed by the Pilot Club. headed by Mrs. M. D. Garlington. Urging all residents of Monroe to turn on their lights during the period set, Mrs. Garlington said, "We are making every attempt to provide enough volunteers so that every neighborhood will be thoroughly covered. We all believe that the efforts of the Cancer Society to 'do something' about cancer deserve our wholehearted support."

Meanwhile, Eddie Hoston, chairman of the Negro division in the campaign, announced that his group has completed its plans for full participation in the "Lights On" event. "We raised some money last year," Hoston said, "but we believe we will do much better this year. Our churches, schools and business people are all cooperating.

Members of Hoston's advisory committee are: Ladies, Irene Harris, Artee Jackson, Dave Caston, J. B. Graham, Nancy McThaa, Artvemease Williams, Sally Thompson, Rebecca Bose, Izola Johnson, Julia Hilton, Clara Powe; men, Leahman Caldwell, Nelson Covington, E. H. Norman Carter States Gaston Dureau, Jr., Will Become President-Manager

Norman L. Carter announced today that Gaston J. Dureau, Jr., vice-president of Paramount Gulf Theaters, Inc., would succeed him on January 1 as president and general manager of the company. Mr. Carter will be retained by the company in a consulting and advisory capacity.

Shortly after graduation from Boys' High in New Orleans in 1911, Mr. Dureau joined the late Herman Fitchenberg and William H. Guerinager, and became associated with E. V. Richards in 1915 when the Saenger Amusement Company of Shreveport bought out the Fitchenberg Enterprises; he remained with the Saenger Company until the sale of that company to Publix Theatres Corporation in 1929. He was called to New York by Publix Theatres Corporation as division buyer and booker until 1932 and returned to New Orleans to become associated with Mr. Richards in charge of buying and booking for Paramount-Richards Theatres, Inc.

In January 1950 when United Paramount Theatres, Inc. purchased Mr. Richards' interest in the company, Mr. Dureau was made vice-president of Paramount Gulf Theatres, Inc.

The resident officers of Paramount Gulf Theatres, Inc., at January 1, 1952, in addition to Mr. Dureau, will be: Mr. Henry G. Plitt, in charge of theatre operations, elected to the office of vice-president; Mr. Maurice F. Barr, secretary of the company, in charge of advertising, publicity and public relations, and Mr. Carl F. Dixon, assistant secretary and treasurer, will be elevated to the position of treasurer — succeeding Mr. H. K. Oliphint, who has resigned effective at the end of the year to devote his entire time to other interests.

Claude Harrison To Give Address

New Orleans will play host to the second southern regional conference to be conducted for members of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors on September 27 and 28. The conference theme will stress practical means of meeting today's problems of increasing government regulation and the rising costs of operation.

Claude Harrison of Monroe, N. A. T. D. board chairman, will strike the keynote of the conference in an address dealing with the role of the expanding southland in the national economy. Mr. Harrison, president of the Ouachita Cigar and Tobacco Company, is also a member of the Louisiana Board of Commerce and Industry and a former director of Louisiana State Institutions.

The conference will lay particular stress on the important, and individual, problems faced by southern tobacco distributors during these extraordinary and turbulent times. Among the authorities attending the conference will be leaders in major phases of industry and government who will approach their subjecta fully cognizant of the importance of the individual and regional aspects of the conference.

Braised meats taste best when they are browned slowly on all sides in a heavy utensil. After that a small amount of liquid should be added and the meat covered tightly. Cook at low temperature, adding a little more liquid if necessary, until the meat is tender.

Claude Harrison To Give Address

New Orleans will play host to the second southern regional conference to be conducted for members of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors on September 27 and 28. The conference theme will stress practical means of meeting today's problems of increasing government regulation and the rising costs of operation.

Claude Harrison of Monroe, N. A. T. D. board chairman, will strike the keynote of the conference in an address dealing with the role of the expanding southland in the national economy. Mr. Harrison, president of the Ouachita Cigar and Tobacco Company, is also a member of the Louisiana Board of Commerce and Industry and a former director of Louisiana State Institutions.

The conference will lay particular stress on the important, and individual, problems faced by southern tobacco distributors during these extraordinary and turbulent times. Among the authorities attending the conference will be leaders in major phases of industry and government who will approach their subjecta fully cognizant of the importance of the individual and regional aspects of the conference.

Illegal Druggists

Two recent convictions in Lousiana of persons charged with filling medical prescriptions without licenses came about as a result of a campaign by the Louisiana board of pharmacy to bring an end to illegal operations of this kind.

Under the law, only licensed pharmacists or qualified assistants may fill medical prescriptions. The present law on the practice of pharmacy was enacted in 1948 and is much stricter than previous laws.

Prior to passage of the 1948 law, a person who had had a specified number of years of experience as a practicing pharmacist was entitled to practice, even though he had not attended a school of pharmacy. Those who had not practiced pharmacy but wished to enter that profession could do so by attending a pharmacy school for two years and then passing an examination in pharmacy.

The present law states that anyone wishing to qualify as a pharmacist must attend a qualified school of pharmacy for a term of four years and then pass an examination. The tests that must be passed have also been made more rigid.

Eugene W. Vogt of Ferriday, secretary-treasurer of the Louisiana board of pharmacy, says the board is reluctant to ask prosecutions but that it will do so unless unauthorized persons discontinue the practice of filling prescriptions.

There can be no doubt that the practice of pharmacy is one that should be under strict supervision, as it ranks along with the medical profession in the matter of saving human lives and improving health. Each time a druggist fills a prescription there is a possibility that he may be endangering a human life unless he fills it correctly. Exactness is of prime importance, whereas in some other profession it might be inconsequential.

Considering these facts, the state pharmacy laws and the board of pharmacy are indispensable. The law should be enforced.

Conviction of the two persons and a telegram received Saturday from Mr. Vogt stating that other cases throughout the state are under investigation point up the fact that there is a scarcity of qualified pharmacists in Louisiana. The law specifics that no store can advertise itself as a pharmacy unless it has in its employ a licensed pharmacist and it has been held that the use of the word "drug" store is illegal unless there is a pharmacist in the place. These regulations do not prohibit non-druggists from selling any approved medicines that are already packaged.

In pharmacy, as in many other skilled professions, there is always the danger that the practicing druggists may seek to limit the number in their profession by making it too difficult for anyone to obtain a license to practice pharmacy. Mr. Vogt says there is no limit on the number who may enter schools of pharmacy and that schools are willing to accept all students wishing to take this subject. As long as that is true, it seems to indicate a healthy condition within the profession, provided examinations are not made too severe.

Louisiana Farm People Can Fiill Needs

Louisiana farm people own 3,000,000 acres of forest land which could produce a minimum of one cord of wood, per acre, per year, or 3,000,000 cords each year. The present wood needs for the seven mills located in Louisiana is approimately 2,000,000 cords per year. Therefore, if each acre were doing its minimum job, Louisiana acres could supply the pulpwood needs and have a reserve of 1,000,000 cords of wood.

But this is only part of the picture. The farm people could collect $7,500,000 for stumpage. For labor for cutting and hauling to car they could earn $24,000,000. In addition the railroads and others could earn $10,500,000 for transporting the product. This would make a total earning of $42,000,000 from our farm woods. These figures only represent the earning of our forest land from stump to the mill. Probably twice as much is earned in manufacturing finished products, due to our supply of raw material.

The sad part of the story is this. Our lands are not producing what they can and our farmers are not earning what they can. Under management, these forest lands will produce one cord or better per acre, and our farm people could collect a minimum of $10.50 per acre per year, or add a total of $31,500,000 annually to their income from the farm.

What is needed to realize this great benefit: (1) Every acre should be 100 per cent stocked. (2) Every acre should be protected from fire. (3) Only annual growth should be cut. (4) Each farmer should do his own harvesting.

If these steps are followed we will have a successful forestry program, and every acre will be doing its job to increase incomes on the farm.

Private Smack At Fugi

Experience of the armed services during World War II has taught them the important fact that the moral of men abroad and their families at home is measurably boosted by newspaper items and photographs of their activities. For example, Ensign David G. Anderson Jr., USN, at his Deleware home on leave, describes as an "extra happy ship" the cruiser Manchester in which he served off Korea.

Ensign Anderson attributed the spirit to the captain's policy of having a staff of officers, yeomen and photographers on a continuous project: sending each man's hometown paper a squib about him every so often. These items and pictures were frequently printed and copies found their way across the ocean to the ship's bulletin boards. They made a big hit with all hands.

The Army, too, has been engaged in the same kind of sure-fire morale building effort. Most of its releases are pithy and well written. But the Army is a big affair and not every outfit in it can have a topnotch newspaper correspondent. But any outfit could do better than the item the Army sent to a newspaper in Georgetown, Del., about a soldier from that town.

It says that Pvt. Levin N. Smack returned to a swank tourist hotel near Mt. Fugi, now run for service personnel who are charged 50 cents a day, from a sight-seeing trip "tired and hungry but after an excellent dinner was ready for the evening game of bingo. 'So wonderful after the pup tent I've been living in. I could never afford this sort of vacation at home. It's been wonderful," Private Smack told the reporter."

Perhaps he talked that way, but it sounded phony. And surely the Army must realize that the glamor of the $25-a-day hotel," as a selling point for army life, was offset by the disclosure that Private Smack had been living in a pup tent!

Most comedians think they could play tragic roles, says a producer. And a lot of tragedian's performances are comedy.

Not enough attention is paid to educating pedestrians, says a judge. So lots of them step out and get bumps of knowledge.

The burglars who took a dummy from a department store window probably just needed a fourth in bridge.

What Others Say

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

AFTER THE TREATY

Majority editorial opinion is that Asiatic support of the Japanese peace treaty promises a continuing decline in the influence of Soviet propaganda in non-Communist Asia. But a considerable minority of editors fears that Russia may yet be able to win some increased support among confused and suspicious Asiatics, with warnings of Western 'imperialism' aided by Japan. While, on the other hand, a somewhat larger minority fears that world economic and trade problems may, eventually if not sooner, force Japan into some form and measure of cooperation with Russia to regain essential trade with the China mainland.

Washington (D. C.) Star (Ind.): "Prior to the San Francisco Conference—with countries like Burma and India declining to attend, and amid doubts that Indonesia would sign — there was considerable fear that the Japanese treaty might be so weakly supported by the nations of the Far Pacific that the Kremlin would score an anti-Western propaganda victory in Asia. But the baselessness of that fear has now been amply demonstrated. . . . True, nearly all of them criticized certain aspects of the treaty, but at the same time . . . the Asiatic delegations spoke out in a way that should be most discouraging to Moscow's propagandists."

Salt Lake City (Utah) Tribune (Ind.): "Heartening as the Asiatic pronouncements were, they can hardly drown out the expressions of dissatisfaction and other indications that the peace treaty signing will be only a step along a precipitous and rocky road. . . . At this juncture it appears the Communists may be trying to unite the confused and suspicious Asiatic peoples against a western oriented Japan. If they succeed in keeping Red China, India and Burma in their camp or 'neutral,' which amounts to almost the same thing, they will have furthered their interests greatly."

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "The tactics of divide and conquer have gone down under the forty - nine votes of all the non - Communist powers at San Francisco - given with misgivings of one kind or another by many, but given by all simply because Soviet policy has left the rest of the world no valid alternative. Even the Indians and the Burmese, the two powers which refused invitations to the conference, take only a position of empty 'neutralism,' not of associates of the Kremlin's isolation, Moscow will have to try something else, and whether it will be full - scale war or a return to a more collaborative course no one can know."

Charlotte (N. C.) Observer (Ind.-Dem.): "One clause in the treaty may prove troublesome, for it permits Japan to make a trade treaty with either Communist China or Nationalist China. As the Chiang regime has little to offer in the way of trade, Japan will almost certainly make a treaty with Communist China. We shall then be in the anomalous position of sanctioning a treaty with a government we do not recognize, and Communist China will be in a stronger position to demand admission to the United Nations. We may be in for trouble on that point, but it is a risk we had to take."

Denver (Colo.) Post (Ind.): "There is nothing in the treaty to prevent Japan from making a deal with Mao Tse-tung, or even with Stalin. . . . But the danger, if any, is at the moment more theoretical than practical. . . . Before the United States senate ratifies the treaty many of its members doubtless will want to be assured about which China-Red or Nationalist - Japan will recognize. . . . It is inconceivable that, during his long year of unconventional treaty negotiations with all the nations involved, John Foster Dulles did not deal with this issue."

Wall Street Journal (Ind.): "Japan's people must manufacture and export in order to live as a free nation. . . . Before World War II China was both Japan's best customer and her most important supplier of raw materials. . . . To the extent that we trade with Japan the less necessity her manufacturers will be under to trade elsewhere on such terms as they can get. . . . Of all possible developments the least desirable is that our fear of her industrial competition should drive her into Russia's suffocating embrace."

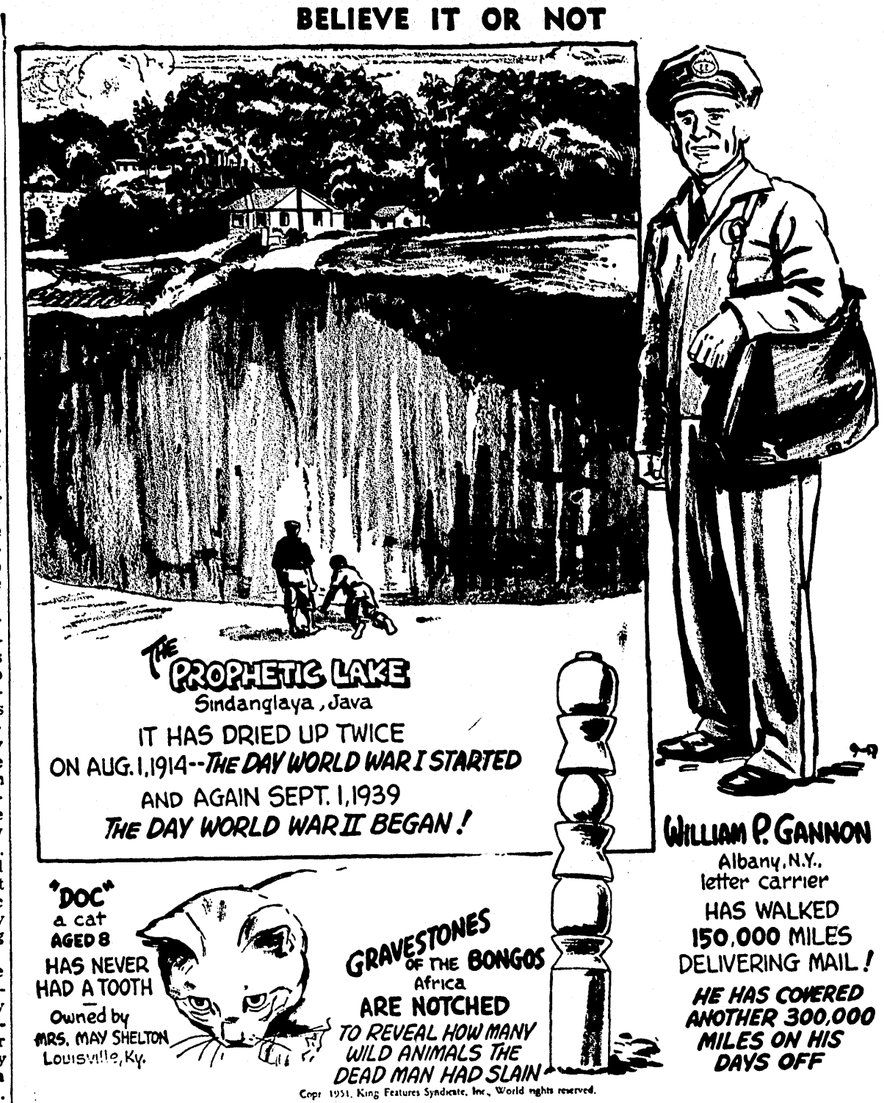
Joplin (Mo.) Globe (Ind.): "It will not be long before there will be grumbling because of cheap labor production competition on the part of Japan. She will have to export to prosper, just as does Great Britain, and developments along this line will quickly demonstrate that the mere signing of a treaty does not solve the problem of Japan's future and the part that future will play in world history. Successful completion of the treaty signing program, therefore, does not lessen the cold war nor materially brighten the international skies. Just the same it helps."

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

But I am poor and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.—Psalms 69:29.

True religion teaches us to reverence what is under us, to recognize humility and proverty, and, disgrace, wretchedness, suffering, and death, as things divine.
—Goethe

BELIEVE IT OR NOT



George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

EXTRAVAGANT GENEROSITY

Why is it that American shipyards, which were so busy supplying transportation for all the Allies, are now doing about 8.5 percent of all the shipbuilding in hand or on order? The British are doing 44.9 percent; Sweden, 11.6 percent; Germany 9.3 percent. The United States is in fourth place.

How much American money, from ECA and other sources, has gone into giving business to these other countries to our detriment? Just as we are, by an unwise tariff policy, giving advantage to British chinaware and Swiss watches, so we apparently are rehabilitating European shipyards, while our own yards are in mothballs. It may be sound from a military standpoint to rehabilitate our Allies, but does that mean that we are, at the same time, to sacrifice our own industries:

These figures are very interesting:

Merchant Shipbuilding, July 1951
New Construction in Hand or on Order

	No. of Vessels	Gross tons	Percent
Great Britain	583	5,266,557	44.9
Sweden	155	1,360,597	11.9
Germany	188	1,096,148	9.3
United States	80	997,670	8.5
Holland	91	785,522	6.7

In the matter of tankers and passenger and combined passenger-cargo ships, we are well down the list. Tankers are particularly important to keep the supply of our principal fuel moving; yet we seem to be preparing for a time when the country may have to use tankers under European flags. These are the figures for tankers, new construction, or an order, dated July 1951.

	No. of Vessels	Gross Tons
Great Britain	363	3,203,125
Sweden	92	1,096,947
Germany	91	362,850
United States	23	373,100
Holland	47	535,526

The total number of ships of 1,000 gross tons and over, being built or on order in all parts of the world, amount to 1,466. Of this, the American share is 80 vessels. No figures are here given, however, for Soviet Russia, Poland or Soviet China. These countries own large and important shipyards which may be doing an enormous business. They are undoubtedly building ships, particularly in their Asiatic yards, for whatever eventualities occur in the Pacific.

It would not be sound for the United States to try to hog all the business of the world because of our current superior economic strength, which can only last as long as we are both energetic and provident. On the other hand, a nation is not an eleemosynary institution which slowly commits suicide with the object of aiding its neighbors. It would seem that the humanitarians who arrange our policies and expend our money have become slap-happy from the joy of giving.

Perhaps the time has come to begin to check on the cansequences of our extravagant generosity. The policy of our government has been based on the export of approximately $5,000,000,000 a year for various kinds of aid to those countries which form a front against Soviet imperialism. This is the real meaning of the Marshall Plan, military aid and point four. It is a projection of the Truman doctrine of containment.

As a military policy in relation to existing and prospective wars, it may or may not be sound, depending upon the necessity for and nature of such wars.

As an economic policy, it could so strengthen other countries that the United States is outpriced in many competitive fields; this country could even be outproduced by other countries employing free American dollars.

DOWN SOUTH

POPULAR FALLACIES

We look back at our ancestors once in a while and say, "What fools those mortals were! What made them act like they did, think like they did?" Then we say to ourselves, "We are civilized and educated. We don't act that way or hink that way, any more."
any more."

Well, I wonder. Those "old timers" exhibited some outstanding examples of fallacious thinking — but what has our generation got to brag about? Let's consider a few of the popular fallacies of our day.

Just a few years ago we acted upon the belief that we could make a country prosperous through scarcity. So we killed five million little pigs and plowed under every other row of whatever we were raising. The more a farmer didn't raise, the more he got for not raising it.

Well, if our chief aim in life was to raise the price of pork, we should have killed all the pigs but one—that would really have made it high— but the people sure would have got hungry for pork chops.

No country in the history of the world ever prospered under a program of scarcity and no country ever will.

We blamed much of our unemployment and other troubles during the depression days of the 30s on labor saving machinery—and some parts of the country banned the use of steam shovels and went back to picks and wheelbarrows.

If they had wanted to make more jobs, they should have gone back to teaspoons and toothpicks—that would have taken many more men many more hours.

But if there is any one thing that has made this country prosperous, has contributed to the high standard of living we have attained, it is better ways of doing things.

We have had promulgated among us the theory that "it makes no difference how much we owe, why long as we owe it to ourselves."

Well, in the first place, we don't owe it to ourselves; we owe it to each other. And if it makes no difference how much we owe, why not stop collecting taxes altogether and just let the debt pile up?

We have also had presented to us that strange fallacy that "a large debt is a national blessing". If that's true, all I can say is that we are apparently well on the road to eternal bliss in this country, because we have piled up a national debt now standing at approximately $257 billion and are making no effort to pay it off. One of the most dastardly crimes we could commit would be to pass this debt on to our children as if it were something for which we are not responsible. Yet that is apparently what we shall do.

We now have presented to us again the theory that controls will hold down prices and prevent inflation. In fact, it is not only presented to us— it is enforced upon us.

This is in face of the fact that controls have never worked and never will — at least not in a free nation. Controls only produce scarcity and drive what goods are available into the black market. Controls will no more prevent inflation than opiates will cure cancer. It is much better to have plenty of goods at some price than no goods at a controlled price. It is much better to maintain the incentive to produce than to place prices in a straitjacket.

We are now operating under the fallacy, not so stated by the administration in so many words but to all effects and purposes guiding their thinking, that there is no limit to the amount of money we can spend — or to the tax burden the American people can bear.

Our present administration has spent in the six years since the end of World War II more money than was spent in all the years of our history, including the cost of all wars up to the beginning of World War II. We have taken it upon ourselves to become wet - nurse to the world. We are spending money without regard to resources or ability. That is the road to bankruptcy.

Dear Fellow Traveler:

I have the distinguished honor of being a member of a committee to raise fifty billion dollars to be used for placing a statue of Truman in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

We have decided not to tease it by placing it next to George Washington (who never told a lie); nor Thomas Jefferson (who spurned a third term). The committee was in a quandry, but after careful consideration it has been decided to place the statue next to that of Columbus, who after all, did not know where he was going, did not know where he was when he got there, nor where he had been when he returned. But he did the whole trip on borrowed money.

The description to be engraved on the Truman statue will read:

"I pledge allegiance to Harry Truman and to the indebtedness for which he stands, one man indispensible, with corruption for all."

Five thousand years ago Moses said:

"Pick up thy shovel, mount thine ass or camel, and I will lead you into the Promised Land."

Five thousand years later, Truman said to his friends:

"Lay down your shovel, sit on your —. light up a camel, this is the promised land."

If you are one of those who dares to have money left over after your taxes are paid, we will expect a liberal contribution."

Go Back To School In Strange Setting

English, Ind., Sept. 15. —(AP)— Thirty - five Crawford County pupils who have been out of school because their two country schools burned down will go back to school Monday—in a chicken house.

The concrete block chicken house is being cleaned up for use by the pupils of the Gonner and Oak Hill schools, which were destroyed by fire shortly before they were to have been opened for the new school year.

New Yorkers Are Talking About...

Sugar Ray's exciting 10th round at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night—against his toughest opponent—in his 134 fights, in which he lost only 2. Sugar's Victory was never Sweeter and Revenge was never more Sugary. . . . He confirmed the 21 sport writers who predicted he would win back the title. Ten said he'd win by a kayo. . . . LUTHERAN HEAD IS IN FAR EAST

Travels To Arrange Broadcast 'Bringing Christ To Nations'

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the Lutheran Hour, and one of America's most prominent religious leaders, is now on a month's tour of the Far East to complete negotiations for broadcasting the "Bringing Christ to the Nations" program over radio stations on the Japanese Islands. Previously, all Lutheran Hour broadcasts were beamed to the Japanese from a short wave station in Manila.

Dr. Bertermann's itinerary will include stops at Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong, and the Philippine Islands. In Tokyo, Dr. Bertermann is scheduled to speak at the dedication of the Lutheran Service center on September 9, and from September 16 to 21 he will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings in Hong Kong.

Through the Pan American Broadcasting Company and its vice president, Eugene Bernald, arrangements have been made for Dr. Bertermann to visit 17 Japanese radio stations in the Japanese Islands. Armed with Japanese recordings of the Lutheran Hour, prepared by Japanese experts in the United States, Dr. Bertermann will arrange for broadcasts on stations from Sapporo in northern Japan to Fukuoka in southern Japan.

Other cities included in the Japanese broadcast plans are: Tokyo, Sendai, Toyama, Kanazawa, Fukui, Nagoya, Kyoto, Kobe, Osaka, Tokoshima, Hiroshima, and Kurume. Dr. Bertermann will also contact the Broadcasting Corporation of Japan which owns a network of approximately 124 local stations.

The Lutheran Hour director expects to work closely with the Lutheran missionaries and chaplains in contacting Japanese authorities. He will also arrange for expansion of the current programming of the Lutheran Hour over stations of the armed forces radio service to include outlets in the Far East.

The Lutheran Hour is currently heard over 1,034 stations in 52 countries, and in 36 languages. The world's most wide - spread broadcast is sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League.

Dr. Bertermann will return to the United States in the later part of September, in time to participate in the Chicago stadium rally which will open the Lutheran Hour's ninteenth season on September 30.

Illegal Druggists

Two recent convictions in Lousiana of persons charged with filling medical prescriptions without licenses came about as a result of a campaign by the Louisiana board of pharmacy to bring an end to illegal operations of this kind.

Under the law, only licensed pharmacists or qualified assistants may fill medical prescriptions. The present law on the practice of pharmacy was enacted in 1948 and is much stricter than previous laws.

Prior to passage of the 1948 law, a person who had had a specified number of years of experience as a practicing pharmacist was entitled to practice, even though he had not attended a school of pharmacy. Those who had not practiced pharmacy but wished to enter that profession could do so by attending a pharmacy school for two years and then passing an examination in pharmacy.

The present law states that anyone wishing to qualify as a pharmacist must attend a qualified school of pharmacy for a term of four years and then pass an examination. The tests that must be passed have also been made more rigid.

Eugene W. Vogt of Ferriday, secretary-treasurer of the Louisiana board of pharmacy, says the board is reluctant to ask prosecutions but that it will do so unless unauthorized persons discontinue the practice of filling prescriptions.

There can be no doubt that the practice of pharmacy is one that should be under strict supervision, as it ranks along with the medical profession in the matter of saving human lives and improving health. Each time a druggist fills a prescription there is a possibility that he may be endangering a human life unless he fills it correctly. Exactness is of prime importance, whereas in some other profession it might be inconsequential.

Considering these facts, the state pharmacy laws and the board of pharmacy are indispensable. The law should be enforced.

Conviction of the two persons and a telegram received Saturday from Mr. Vogt stating that other cases throughout the state are under investigation point up the fact that there is a scarcity of qualified pharmacists in Louisiana. The law specifics that no store can advertise itself as a pharmacy unless it has in its employ a licensed pharmacist and it has been held that the use of the word "drug" store is illegal unless there is a pharmacist in the place. These regulations do not prohibit non-druggists from selling any approved medicines that are already packaged.

In pharmacy, as in many other skilled professions, there is always the danger that the practicing druggists may seek to limit the number in their profession by making it too difficult for anyone to obtain a license to practice pharmacy. Mr. Vogt says there is no limit on the number who may enter schools of pharmacy and that schools are willing to accept all students wishing to take this subject. As long as that is true, it seems to indicate a healthy condition within the profession, provided examinations are not made too severe.

Louisiana Farm People Can Fiill Needs

Louisiana farm people own 3,000,000 acres of forest land which could produce a minimum of one cord of wood, per acre, per year, or 3,000,000 cords each year. The present wood needs for the seven mills located in Louisiana is approimately 2,000,000 cords per year. Therefore, if each acre were doing its minimum job, Louisiana acres could supply the pulpwood needs and have a reserve of 1,000,000 cords of wood.

But this is only part of the picture. The farm people could collect $7,500,000 for stumpage. For labor for cutting and hauling to car they could earn $24,000,000. In addition the railroads and others could earn $10,500,000 for transporting the product. This would make a total earning of $42,000,000 from our farm woods. These figures only represent the earning of our forest land from stump to the mill. Probably twice as much is earned in manufacturing finished products, due to our supply of raw material.

The sad part of the story is this. Our lands are not producing what they can and our farmers are not earning what they can. Under management, these forest lands will produce one cord or better per acre, and our farm people could collect a minimum of $10.50 per acre per year, or add a total of $31,500,000 annually to their income from the farm.

What is needed to realize this great benefit: (1) Every acre should be 100 per cent stocked. (2) Every acre should be protected from fire. (3) Only annual growth should be cut. (4) Each farmer should do his own harvesting.

If these steps are followed we will have a successful forestry program, and every acre will be doing its job to increase incomes on the farm.

Private Smack At Fugi

Experience of the armed services during World War II has taught them the important fact that the moral of men abroad and their families at home is measurably boosted by newspaper items and photographs of their activities. For example, Ensign David G. Anderson Jr., USN, at his Deleware home on leave, describes as an "extra happy ship" the cruiser Manchester in which he served off Korea.

Ensign Anderson attributed the spirit to the captain's policy of having a staff of officers, yeomen and photographers on a continuous project: sending each man's hometown paper a squib about him every so often. These items and pictures were frequently printed and copies found their way across the ocean to the ship's bulletin boards. They made a big hit with all hands.

The Army, too, has been engaged in the same kind of sure-fire morale building effort. Most of its releases are pithy and well written. But the Army is a big affair and not every outfit in it can have a topnotch newspaper correspondent. But any outfit could do better than the item the Army sent to a newspaper in Georgetown, Del., about a soldier from that town.

It says that Pvt. Levin N. Smack returned to a swank tourist hotel near Mt. Fugi, now run for service personnel who are charged 50 cents a day, from a sight-seeing trip "tired and hungry but after an excellent dinner was ready for the evening game of bingo. 'So wonderful after the pup tent I've been living in. I could never afford this sort of vacation at home. It's been wonderful," Private Smack told the reporter."

Perhaps he talked that way, but it sounded phony. And surely the Army must realize that the glamor of the $25-a-day hotel," as a selling point for army life, was offset by the disclosure that Private Smack had been living in a pup tent!

Most comedians think they could play tragic roles, says a producer. And a lot of tragedian's performances are comedy.

Not enough attention is paid to educating pedestrians, says a judge. So lots of them step out and get bumps of knowledge.

The burglars who took a dummy from a department store window probably just needed a fourth in bridge.

What Others Say

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

AFTER THE TREATY

Majority editorial opinion is that Asiatic support of the Japanese peace treaty promises a continuing decline in the influence of Soviet propaganda in non-Communist Asia. But a considerable minority of editors fears that Russia may yet be able to win some increased support among confused and suspicious Asiatics, with warnings of Western 'imperialism' aided by Japan. While, on the other hand, a somewhat larger minority fears that world economic and trade problems may, eventually if not sooner, force Japan into some form and measure of cooperation with Russia to regain essential trade with the China mainland.

Washington (D. C.) Star (Ind.): "Prior to the San Francisco Conference—with countries like Burma and India declining to attend, and amid doubts that Indonesia would sign — there was considerable fear that the Japanese treaty might be so weakly supported by the nations of the Far Pacific that the Kremlin would score an anti-Western propaganda victory in Asia. But the baselessness of that fear has now been amply demonstrated. . . . True, nearly all of them criticized certain aspects of the treaty, but at the same time . . . the Asiatic delegations spoke out in a way that should be most discouraging to Moscow's propagandists."

Salt Lake City (Utah) Tribune (Ind.): "Heartening as the Asiatic pronouncements were, they can hardly drown out the expressions of dissatisfaction and other indications that the peace treaty signing will be only a step along a precipitous and rocky road. . . . At this juncture it appears the Communists may be trying to unite the confused and suspicious Asiatic peoples against a western oriented Japan. If they succeed in keeping Red China, India and Burma in their camp or 'neutral,' which amounts to almost the same thing, they will have furthered their interests greatly."

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "The tactics of divide and conquer have gone down under the forty - nine votes of all the non - Communist powers at San Francisco - given with misgivings of one kind or another by many, but given by all simply because Soviet policy has left the rest of the world no valid alternative. Even the Indians and the Burmese, the two powers which refused invitations to the conference, take only a position of empty 'neutralism,' not of associates of the Kremlin's isolation. Moscow will have to try something else, and whether it will be full - scale war or a return to a more collaborative course no one can know."

Charlotte (N. C.) Observer (Ind.-Dem.): "One clause in the treaty may prove troublesome, for it permits Japan to make a trade treaty with either Communist China or Nationalist China. As the Chiang regime has little to offer in the way of trade, Japan will almost certainly make a treaty with Communist China. We shall then be in the anomalous position of sanctioning a treaty with a government we do not recognize, and Communist China will be in a stronger position to demand admission to the United Nations. We may be in for trouble on that point, but it is a risk we had to take."

Denver (Colo.) Post (Ind.): "There is nothing in the treaty to prevent Japan from making a deal with Mao Tse-tung, or even with Stalin. . . . But the danger, if any, is at the moment more theoretical than practical. . . . Before the United States senate ratifies the treaty many of its members doubtless will want to be assured about which China-Red or Nationalist - Japan will recognize. . . . It is inconceivable that, during his long year of unconventional treaty negotiations with all the nations involved, John Foster Dulles did not deal with this issue."

Wall Street Journal (Ind.): "Japan's people must manufacture and export in order to live as a free nation. . . . Before World War II China was both Japan's best customer and her most important supplier of raw materials. . . . To the extent that we trade with Japan the less necessity her manufacturers will be under to trade elsewhere on such terms as they can get. . . . Of all possible developments the least desirable is that our fear of her industrial competition should drive her into Russia's suffocating embrace."

Joplin (Mo.) Globe (Ind.): "It will not be long before there will be grumbling because of cheap labor production competition on the part of Japan. She will have to export to prosper, just as does Great Britain, and developments along this line will quickly demonstrate that the mere signing of a treaty does not solve the problem of Japan's future and the part that future will play in world history. Successful completion of the treaty signing program, therefore, does not lessen the cold war nor materially brighten the international skies. Just the same it helps."

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

EXTRAVAGANT GENEROSITY

Why is it that American shipyards, which were so busy supplying transportation for all the Allies, are now doing about 8.5 percent of all the shipbuilding in hand or on order? The British are doing 44.9 percent; Sweden, 11.6 percent; Germany 9.3 percent. The United States is in fourth place.

How much American money, from ECA and other sources, has gone into giving business to these other countries to our detriment? Just as we are, by an unwise tariff policy, giving advantage to British chinaware and Swiss watches, so we apparently are rehabilitating European shipyards, while our own yards are in mothballs. It may be sound from a military standpoint to rehabilitate our Allies, but does that mean that we are, at the same time, to sacrifice our own industries:

These figures are very interesting:

Merchant Shipbuilding, July 1951
New Construction in Hand or on Order

	No. of Vessels	Gross tons	Percent
Great Britain	583	5,266,557	44.9
Sweden	155	1,360,597	11.9
Germany	188	1,096,148	9.3
United States	80	997,670	8.5
Holland	91	785,522	6.7

In the matter of tankers and passenger and combined passenger-cargo ships, we are well down the list. Tankers are particularly important to keep the supply of our principal fuel moving; yet we seem to be preparing for a time when the country may have to use tankers under European flags. These are the figures for tankers, new construction, or an order, dated July 1951.

	No. of Vessels	Gross Tons
Great Britain	363	3,203,125
Sweden	92	1,096,947
Germany	91	362,850
United States	23	373,100
Holland	47	535,526

The total number of ships of 1,000 gross tons and over, being built or on order in all parts of the world, amount to 1,466. Of this, the American share is 80 vessels. No figures are here given, however, for Soviet Russia, Poland or Soviet China. These countries own large and important shipyards which may be doing an enormous business. They are undoubtedly building ships, particularly in their Asiatic yards, for whatever eventualities occur in the Pacific.

It would not be sound for the United States to try to hog all the business of the world because of our current superior economic strength, which can only last as long as we are both energetic and provident. On the other hand, a nation is not an eleemosynary institution which slowly commits suicide with the object of aiding its neighbors. It would seem that the humanitarians who arrange our policies and expend our money have become slap-happy from the joy of giving.

Perhaps the time has come to begin to check on the consequences of our extravagant generosity. The policy of our government has been based on the export of approximately $5,000,000,000 a year for various kinds of aid to those countries which form a front against Soviet imperialism. This is the real meaning of the Marshall Plan, military aid and point four. It is a projection of the Truman doctrine of containment.

As a military policy in relation to existing and prospective wars, it may or may not be sound, depending upon the necessity for and nature of such wars.

As an economic policy, it could so strengthen other countries that the United States is outpriced in many competitive fields; this country could even be outproduced by other countries employing free American dollars.

POPULAR FALLACIES

We look back at our ancestors once in a while and say, "What fools those mortals were! What made them act like they did, think like they did?" Then we say to ourselves, "We are civilized and educated. We don't act that way or hink that way, any more." any more."

Well, I wonder. Those "old timers" exhibited some outstanding examples of fallacious thinking — but what has our generation got to brag about? Let's consider a few of the popular fallacies of our day.

Just a few years ago we acted upon the belief that we could make a country prosperous through scarcity. So we killed five million little pigs and plowed under every other row of whatever we were raising. The more a farmer didn't raise, the more he got for not raising it.

Well, if our chief aim in life was to raise the price of pork, we should have killed all the pigs but one—that would really have made it high— but the people sure would have got hungry for pork chops.

No country in the history of the world ever prospered under a program of scarcity and no country ever will.

We blamed much of our unemployment and other troubles during the depression days of the 30s on labor saving machinery—and some parts of the country banned the use of steam shovels and went back to picks and wheelbarrows.

If they had wanted to make more jobs, they should have gone back to teaspoons and toothpicks—that would have taken many more men many more hours.

But if there is any one thing that has made this country prosperous, has contributed to the high standard of living we have attained, it is better ways of doing things.

We have had promulgated among us the theory that "it makes no difference how much we owe, why long as we owe it to ourselves."

Well, in the first place, we don't owe it to ourselves; we owe it to each other. And if it makes no difference how much we owe, who not stop collecting taxes altogether and just let the debt pile up?

We have also had presented to us that strange fallacy that "a large debt is a national blessing". If that's true, all I can say is that we are apparently well on the road to eternal bliss in this country, because we have piled up a national debt now standing at approximately $257 billion and are making no effort to pay it off. One of the most dastardly crimes we could commit would be to pass this debt on to our children as if it were something for which we are not responsible. Yet that is apparently what we shall do.

We now have presented to us again the theory that controls will hold down prices and prevent inflation. In fact, it is not only presented to us— it is enforced upon us.

This is in face of the fact that controls have never worked and never will — at least not in a free nation. Controls only produce scarcity and drive what goods are available into the black market. Controls will no more prevent inflation than opiates will cure cancer. It is much better to have plenty of goods at some price than no goods at a controlled price. It is much better to maintain the incentive to produce than to place prices in a straitjacket.

We are now operating under the fallacy, not so stated by the administration in so many words but to all effects and purposes guiding their thinking, that there is no limit to the amount of money we can spend — or to the tax burden the American people can bear.

Our present administration has spent in the six years since the end of World War II more money than was spent in all the years of our history, including the cost of all wars up to the beginning of World War II. We have taken it upon ourselves to become wet - nurse to the world. We are spending money without regard to resources or ability. That is the road to bankruptcy.

Dear Fellow Traveler:

I have the distinguished honor of being a member of a committee to raise fifty billion dollars to be used for placing a statue of Truman in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

We have decided not to tease it by placing it next to George Washington (who never told a lie); nor Thomas Jefferson (who spurned a third term). The committee was in a quandry, but after careful consideration it has been decided to place the statue next to that of Columbus, who after all, did not know where he was going, did not know where he was when he got there, nor where he had been when he returned. But he did the whole trip on borrowed money.

The description to be engraved on the Truman statue will read:

"I pledge allegiance to Harry Truman and to the indebtedness for which he stands, one man indispensible, with corruption for all."

Five thousand years ago Moses said:

"Pick up thy shovel, mount thine ass or camel, and I will lead you into the Promised Land."

Five thousand years later, Truman said to his friends:

"Lay down your shovel, sit on your —. light up a camel, this is the promised land."

If you are one of those who dares to have money left over after your taxes are paid, we will expect a liberal contribution."

Sincerely yours,
Your Fellow Traveler.

Sugar Ray's exciting 10th round at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night—against his toughest opponent—in his 134 fights, in which he lost only 2. Sugar's Victory was never Sweeter and Revenge was never more Sugary. . . . He confirmed the 21 sport writers who predicted he would win back the title. Ten said he'd win by a kayo. . . . The complaint in the ex-champion's dressing room that referee Ruby Goldstein (one of our finest) "shouldn't have stopped it" means that the losers lost little time shouting up a return match. . . . Some of us were surprised that Turpin wasn't rescued earlier in that punishing last round —considering how helpless he appeared and that Sugar's punches a few years ago—killed Jimmy Doyle. . . . Turpin is a top drawer fighter, no doubt of that. But Sugar was "the better man" Wednesday night, as he so gracefully said of Turpin when Sugar lost to him 64 nights ago.

Being the champion he is (in and out of the ring), Sugar Ray told the sports reporters that his next fight would not be commercial—for him. . . . He reminded them that after he won the title from LaMotta last Winter he had this colyum announce he would defend his title for The American Heart Fund. . . . That fight will be held under the auspices of The Runyon Cancer Fund, of which Sugar Ray is a member. . . . The Runyon Fund will not take a penny of his purse. . . . We will help exploit that fight and sell tickets. . . . He gave his purse to fight cancer a year ago—and again in Paris —and he plans to give more. . . . The sort of champ who reminds all of us that Racing isn't the only Sport that has Thoroughbreds.

The Underworld's sarcastic nickname for Rudy Halley, their nemesis during the Kefauver hearings: "Halo Halley." . . . The gosh-awful taste of a comic in a radio interview — quipping about arson. That's about as funny as burning an orphanage. . . . The Nielsen survey proving that radio is far from its final gasp: Listeners, it reveals, outnumber viewers at all hours of the day and night. . . . Variety's advert describing Buddy Lester as "America's No. 1 Funny Man." Who's the author of that—Buddy? . . . Joe E. Lewis' cap-and-bells again tinkling merrily at the Copa. LUTHERAN HEAD IS IN FAR EAST

Travels To Arrange Broadcast 'Bringing Christ To Nations'

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the Lutheran Hour, and one of America's most prominent religious leaders, is now on a month's tour of the Far East to complete negotiations for broadcasting the "Bringing Christ to the Nations" program over radio stations on the Japanese Islands. Previously, all Lutheran Hour broadcasts were beamed to the Japanese from a short wave station in Manila.

Dr. Bertermann's itinerary will include stops at Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong, and the Philippine Islands. In Tokyo, Dr. Bertermann is scheduled to speak at the dedication of the Lutheran Service center on September 9, and from September 16 to 21 he will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings in Hong Kong.

Through the Pan American Broadcasting Company and its vice president, Eugene Bernald, arrangements have been made for Dr. Bertermann to visit 17 Japanese radio stations in the Japanese Islands. Armed with Japanese recordings of the Lutheran Hour, prepared by Japanese experts in the United States, Dr. Bertermann will arrange for broadcasts on stations from Sapporo in northern Japan to Fukuoka in southern Japan.

Other cities included in the Japanese broadcast plans are: Tokyo, Sendai, Toyama, Kanazawa, Fukui, Nagoya, Kyoto, Kobe, Osaka, Tokoshima, Hiroshima, and Kurume. Dr. Bertermann will also contact the Broadcasting Corporation of Japan which owns a network of approximately 124 local stations.

The Lutheran Hour director expects to work closely with the Lutheran missionaries and chaplains in contacting Japanese authorities. He will also arrange for expansion of the current programming of the Lutheran Hour over stations of the armed forces radio service to include outlets in the Far East.

The Lutheran Hour is currently heard over 1,034 stations in 52 countries, and in 36 languages. The world's most wide - spread broadcast is sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League.

Dr. Bertermann will return to the United States in the later part of September, in time to participate in the Chicago stadium rally which will open the Lutheran Hour's ninteenth season on September 30.

JOE MILNER TO ADDRESS CLUB

Will Visit Kiwanis Group In Meridian To Urge Youth Enterprise

Joe Milner, graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and presently enrolled at N. L. S. C., was recently extended an invitation, which was accepted, from the Meridian Mississippi Kiwanis Club to be the featured speaker at a special noon luncheon.

The object of Milner's trip was to interest the Kiwanis of that city and the county school officials in initiating in their local school a Key Club, a high school civic club sponsored by Kiwanis International.

Speaking before a special joint session of the local Kiwanis and school board officials, Joe introduced himself as district Key Club governor who had official jurisdiction over "the volunteer state of Tennessee, the Bayou State of Mississippi, and Louisiana—the home of the Longs, taxes, and Hadacol."

During the course of his talk, he made special efforts to point out what a tremendous part the development of character in youth plays in determining the fate of our nation.

Comparing the materialistic pioneering stages of yesterday with the spiritualistic stages of today, Milner asserted, "perhaps many of us have never stopped at any length to reflect upon the idea that even today we are still in a definite pioneering stage. Human resources, vast and limitless in abundance, are ours to develop. Quite probably our oversight of this is due entirely to the fast day in which we are living—a day which has focused all our attentions upon the materialistic aspects of this life and far too seldom upon those things which are life itself."

Citing the great part Key Club may play in the training of youth, he said, "Key Club International, now in its twenty-sixth year of existence, has made definite pioneering history. Similar to the many raw resources that man has developed and put into widespread use to give us the greatest standard of living the world has ever known, Key Club has earnestly endeavored to take those intangible elements of life, rarer than diamonds or platinum itself—leadership, citizenship, and service—to fashion ideal mannood."

Joe, during his senior year of high school, served as local Key Club president and, at the same time, served also in the capacity of district governor. He recently presided over a district convention in Alexandria, La., during which time almost one thousand boys were assembled.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel of this city, Milner has spoken before many Kiwanis Clubs in Louisiana, Mississippi, and west Tennessee.

CAP Over Monroe

In formal meeting this week, Capt. Jack Hover, commanding officer of the Monroe flight of Civil Air Patrol, called upon all his officers to bring their sections to complete organization as a preliminary to full scale operation during the coming season. Each officer has been requested to make a personal project of recruiting new personnel. Are you interested in Civil Air Patrol? Call Captain Hover at 9842 or 6560, or come out any Monday night to a meeting at 8 o'clock at Selman Field.

Next time you make fried chicken make a cream gravy to serve with it. Just add two tablespoons of flour to two tablespoons of the fat and drippings left in the frying pan and blend well; pour in a cup of milk or thin cream and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Season the gravy with salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste.

HEADS HOTEL MEN

Lawrence J. Hulin, above, vice president and manager of the Virginia Hotel, Friday was elected president of the Louisiana Hotel association. Hulin was elected at a meeting of the Tri-State Hotels association convention at Mobile, Ala.

Civilian Idea Results In Award

Leonard Green, formerly of Jonesboro, employed in the field maintenance shops of the Barksdale Field in Shreveport since September 1941, was recntly awarded seventy - five dollars for his outstanding job improvement suggestion.

The presentation was made by Colonel George L. Robinson, base commander, approved by the base suggestion awards committee, the cash award is part of an air force program to encourage suggestions from civilian workers.

Green's suggestion was a new type of mandrel used in the installation of hose fittings. Together with new mandrel he suggested the use of a power driven tool such as a portable electric or pneumatic motor.

If you have a pot of chives gorwing in your kitchen use some of them chopped in flully mashed potatoes. They're delicious, too, in scrambled eggs.

Clyde Beatty Circus To Play 2 Performances Here Monday

Completely Revamped Show Boasts Many Outstanding Attractions

Tomorrow is the day—that much heralded special kind of red and gold studded holiday complete with blaring bands, the roars of wild jungle animals and the aroma of sawdust known as circus day. Proof of this lies in the fact that with the coming of dawn early tomorrow morning, will be the precision-like arrival of the long brilliantly-hued orange and blue special railroad trains bringing the big Clyde Beatty Circus to town for a one-day exhibition at the Plum street showgrounds with performances scheduled at 3 and 8 p.m.

Those great, lumbering, rubber-colored giants of the jungle, the elephants, and the frisky but awkward little elephants, the educated jungle beasts, the erudite ring and track horses, the bespangled folk and clowns all will roll into toward aboard their "special Pullmans."

The dining tent or the "cook house" as it is known in circus vernacular, will be the first tent raised, where two dozen cooks, bakers and waiters will be busily engaged in the preparation of serving of more than 2000 meals, which they are required to serve in a single day to the big shows vast human family. The mammoth stoves and ovens will be stoked, and a bountiful hot breakfast will soon be awaiting the battalions of workmen and others at the proper time.

The circus which has been completely revamped and is brand new from front to back for the brilliant all-new 1951 tour, is featuring many new recently imported foreign features, most of whom are appearing in this country for the first time. There are combined with the tried and true champions of the American sawdust rings to present the most exciting and dazzling performance in Clyde Beatty's long illustrious career.

Heading the long list of international favorites, is the owner and star of this huge amusement institution, "Mr. Circus" himself, Clyde Beatty. The world renowned star of screen, radio and television and recognized as the greatest wild animal trainer of the ages, will appear in person at each performance, presenting his famous group of fighting and trained thorobred African lions and Royal Bengal tigers, all at one time in the big steel arena. Beatty, this year, is featuring his world famous tiger-killing lion Prince, the 558-pound ferocious beast who recently attracted international attention when he savagely attacked and killed two tigers in the act during performances at Detroit.

Other top-flight features include the Flying Esquedos, a direct importation from Spain, who present the most daring and difficult turns on the flying trapeze in all circusdom today; the great Borge Barton from Sweden, presenting his unbelievable equilibristic wonders and his internationally heralded feat of standing upon his forefinger in an upright position with no support of any form. Then there is the sensational Erickson family from Denmark, presenting their astounding displays of balance and acrobatics; France's famed stars Pape and Rene, a pretty girl and her husband who cheat death with their aerial dare-deviltry near the vast upper reaches of the big top dome; the Ivanovs in their tight-wire wizardry; and scores of other new sensations new to North American circus audiences.

The doors to the circus will open one hour prior to each performance, in order that patrons may have ample time in which to visit the hugh menagerie of rare and wild jungle animals and at no added charges whatsoever, a spokesman for the circus stated here today. Tickets for both general admission and reserved seats will be on sale at the downtown ticket office located in Walgreen's Drug Store, all day tomorrow and at the same prices as charged at the circus grounds, the spokesman further stated.

CIRCUS STAR

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS MEET

Ferriday, La., Sept. 15. —(Special)— The Ferriday Future Homemakers of America Club met Friday for their first meeting of the year. Officers were elected at this time to serve for the ensuing year. The new officers are as follows: president, Louise Boyette; vice-president, Claudia Trant; secretary, Norma Jean Early; treasurer, Clarice Smith; historian, Marjorie Trant; reporter, Rosemary Johnston and parliamentarian, Frozine Sanson.

MARINE CORPS ADDING WOMEN

More Will Be Admitted To Ranks Under New Order

Today young women in America may be found in practically every section of the business and professional world They have successfully invaded the hitherto exclusively male military organizations, where they serve with pride and distinction.

During September the United States marine corps, long the most colorful branch of the armed services, will open its ranks to an additional number of young American women who are seeking a more interesting and profitable occupation.

For the women who can meet the high standards of the marine corps, there awaits such an occupation with new opportunities and new friends. Even as a private their pay will compare favorably with what they now make. In addition, as marines, they will be provided with free living quarters, food, medical and dental care, plus many other privileges. They will also enjoy the companionship of the highest type women who proudly wear the globe and anchor of the marine corps.

It is a proud boast of the leathernecks that there is no such thing as a lonesome marine, man or woman.

Applicants for the women marines must be at least 20 but under 31 years of age, single with no dependents, and be a high school graduate. Naturally they must be citizens of the United States and have excellent characters.

Those accepted for enlistment in the marine corps will be sent to Parris Island, S. C., for six weeks of basic training. Here they will be instructed in such subjects as military courtesy, history and traditions of the marine corps, and the mission the leathernecks perform in the national defense establishment. This basic training will help them to assume their places as members of an elite organization of military men and women, the United States marine corps.

Upon completion of this training women marines are given a 10-day leave to visit family and friends. Whereupon they will report to one of the 36 posts and stations, including Washington, D. C., New York City, New Orleans, and San Francisco, for duty assignments. Here their new life as a marine will really begin.

There are plenty of opportunities for advancement and increased pay. All of this, plus the adventure of new places and people await the eligible young woman who applies at the local marine corps recruiting station at room 312, Post Office Building, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Phoenix One-Stop Service Provides Complete Needs At Palace

When stockings were lost to sight between the saucy rustle of the wayward hem and the nifty top of the high button shoe, Phoenix turned its knitting needles to the ladies hosiery trade. The stocking that was destined to make the American leg famous was emboldened with polka dots and lacey inserts long before Irene Castle showed her knees or young ladies danced the Charleston on table tops back in that far side of paradise. They walked through the pages of Vogue and Vanity Fair, then as now, in their lovely Phoenix stockings.

Sixty years of fashion leadership, two generations of making the finest stockings in America for the women of fashion bring a rich background of experience, technical skill and forward-thinking methods to the modern scene.

Over the years Phoenix has led the industry in revolutionary developments contributing to a finer product. High twist construction has produced duller and duller textures, greater elasticity and a more snag-resistant stocking. The mastery of new machine techniques in the twisting of the yarn and of new processes for the improving of the finish have contributed immeasureably to the beauty of hosiery. Research is constant in the Phoenix laboratories on long-range projects that look far ahead to even more fascinating discoveries.

Today, Phoenix rigorous standards of perfection have produced a stocking of greater consistency in performance and of fabulous beauty in every construction detail. Characteristic are the finer seams, the full-fashioned pointing of greater delicacy, the masterful shaping of the ankles and heel, the careful custom-fit proportioning and the melting dull-finish look that permits color to blend so beautifully with skintones and costume colors in cosmetone nylons.

The pendulum of fashion swings around once again and we see the very pointed low-cut velvet slipper peeping out from under Victorian-colored taffeta skirts in a brilliant night blue with a blue aura cosmetone stocking on the leg. She is 1951 in the stocking that is still making the American leg famous.

In Wiesbaden, Germany and the reservoir at Ars sur Moselle, evidences of early Roman construction in hexagonal and triangular clay floor tiles can be found.

Presbyterians In Monthly Meet

The Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church held regular monthly meeting Thursday night in Fellowship Hall.

Aage Glud, club's president, stated nice attendance even if it was bad weather.

And visitors present were Jerry Moore, who returned from service and O. C. Ringwald.

Then Fred Meyer, chairman of program committee, introduced W. E. "Bill" Bennett, well known in service stations, who gave a wonderful talk about the "Gideons' Club" and the Bible and Condition of America today. And all who missed his talk sure will regret it.

Also a delicious chicken pot pie supper was served with cole slaw, coffee and cream puffs. In charge of supper, was Aage Glud, B. L. Root and E. A. Porter, Jr.

And the next committee for Men's Club on Thursday, October 11, will be E. F. "Skipper" Jones, as program chairman, and M. L. "Pete" Simmons, refreshment committee.

Also Rev. Ernest Holloway gave a special prayer for one of our best remembered friends and members of club, Dr. R. L. Wood.

Also the Men's Club is helping with other groups of churches sponsoring a Colored girl to Sillman College at Tallahassee, Ala. Also, W. B. "Bill" Matthews, made a donation to buy the monthly Presbyterian Bulletin for each membeer.

Rev. Ernest Holloway opened meeting with invocation and also closed with the benediction. All present had an enjoyable time.

Wall Seeks Help For Mental Cases In State

Ouachita Parish Representive Shady Wall said yesterday he strongly endorsed the efforts of the state, with cooperation from the more elaborate means for treatment and research in mental cases in Louisiana.

Wall, chairman of the charitable institucions committee, has just completed a tour of observation where he and other legislators were shown the need for more scientific treatment of psychiatric cases and what was being done toward that goal.

The Ouachita parish lawmaker said the new mental hospital at Mandeville, La., was expected to be and would be one of the "most up-to-date institutions of its kind in the nation."

Wall said his entourage, pressed for time, was unable to visit the Mandeville institution. They met in New Orleans with psychiatric specialists and members of the state hospital board, Wall said.

An impressive explanation of what was being achieved in the fight against mental diseases was given by heads of the psychiatric and neurology departments of Tulane and L.S.U. Wall said.

"I see in this program a progressive manner of handling our mentally sick," Wall said. He said the state's mental hospitals at Jackson and Pineville were little more than a "dumping ground" for mentally ill.

Wall said he had not succeeded in obtaining a permanent psychiatrist to serve the Conway Memorial hospital here, Wall said, however, a coalition of efforts by the hospital board, Dr. C. P. Gray, Jr. and himself had been able to arrange for a trained psychologist to visit the Conway hospital two days a week from New Orleans.

A quailfied psychiatrist is reported to have seriously considered establishing a private practice in Monroe, Wall said. "In that event," he said, "we hope to arrange for him to hold clinic two days a week at Charity hospital." "This idea has received favorable response from Jesse Bankston," Wall said. Bankston is director of the state hospital board.

Representative Wall said the prospects for getting a psychiatrist to come to Monroe "look good."

Grayson Youth Congratulated For Gallantry In Korean Action

With the First Marine Division in Korea, (Delayed) — Marone Technical Sergeant Bernie Otwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Otwell of Grayson, La., is congratulated by his commandering officer, Lt. Col. Merritt Adelman, after the latter presented him with the Silver Star Medal for his gallantry in action against the enemy in Korea.

The leatherneck sergeant's citation read in part: "During a heavy enemy counterattack a mortar shell landed near Sergeant Otwell's gun emplacement containing one hundred rounds of high explosive ammunition. Technical Sergeant Otwell, realizing the danger to the other men around him immediately entered the ammunition pit and began to throw snow on the ammunition in an effort to extinguish the flames. Realizing the snow was not going to be effective, Sergeant Otwell continued to remain in the pit, removing his parka coat and using it to smother the flames. His courageous actions prevented the ammunition from exploding and causing serious injury or death to the personnel in his section and possible destruction of the section artillery weapon during a most critical stage of a firing mission."

Technical Sergeant Otwell is currently serving with an artillery battalion of the first marine division.

Clyde Beatty Circus To Play 2 Performances Here Monday

Completely Revamped Show Boasts Many Outstanding Attractions

Tomorrow is the day—that much heralded special kind of red and gold studded holiday complete with blaring bands, the roars of wild jungle animals and the aroma of sawdust known as circus day. Proof of this lies in the fact that with the coming of dawn early tomorrow morning, will be the precision-like arrival of the long brilliantly-hued orange and blue special railroad trains bringing the big Clyde Beatty Circus to town for a one-day exhibition at the Plum street showgrounds with performances scheduled at 3 and 8 p.m.

Those great, lumbering, rubber-colored giants of the jungle, the elephants, and the frisky but awkward little elephants, the educated jungle beasts, the erudite ring and track horses, the bespangled folk and clowns all will roll into toward aboard their "special Pullmans."

The dining tent or the "cook house" as it is known in circus vernacular, will be the first tent raised, where two dozen cooks, bakers and waiters will be busily engaged in the preparation of serving of more than 2000 meals, which they are required to serve in a single day to the big shows vast human family. The mammoth stoves and ovens will be stoked, and a bountiful hot breakfast will soon be awaiting the battalions of workmen and others at the proper time.

The circus which has been completely revamped and is brand new from front to back for the brilliant all-new 1951 tour, is featuring many new recently imported foreign features, most of whom are appearing in this country for the first time. There are combined with the tried and true champions of the American sawdust rings to present the most exciting and dazzling performance in Clyde Beatty's long illustrious career.

Heading the long list of international favorites, is the owner and star of this huge amusement institution, "Mr. Circus" himself, Clyde Beatty. The world renowned star of screen, radio and television and recognized as the greatest wild animal trainer of the ages, will appear in person at each performance, presenting his famous group of fighting and trained thorobred African lions and Royal Bengal tigers, all at one time in the big steel arena. Beatty, this year, is featuring his world famous tiger-killing lion Prince, the 558-pound ferocious beast who recently attracted international attention when he savagely attacked and killed two tigers in the act during performances at Detroit.

Other top-flight features include the Flying Esquedos, a direct importation from Spain, who present the most daring and difficult turns on the flying trapeze in all circusdom today; the great Borge Barton from Sweden, presenting his unbelievable equilibristic wonders and his internationally heralded feat of standing upon his forefinger in an upright position with no support of any form. Then there is the sensational Erickson family from Denmark, presenting their astounding displays of balance and acrobatics; France's famed stars Pape and Rene, a pretty girl and her husband who cheat death with their aerial dare-devitry near the vast upper reaches of the big top dome; the Ivanovs in their tight-wire wizardry; and scores of other new sensations new to North American circus audiences.

The doors to the circus will open one hour prior to each performance, in order that patrons may have ample time in which to visit the hugh menagerie of rare and wild jungle animals and at no added charges whatsoever, a spokesman for the circus stated here today. Tickets for both general admission and reserved seats will be on sale at the downtown ticket office located in Walgreen's Drug Store, all day tomorrow and at the same prices as charged at the circus grounds, the spokesman further stated.

CIRCUS STAR

Beatrice Andrews, aerialist, is one of the outstanding stars of the Clyde Beatty Circus showing here tomorrow.

MARINE CORPS ADDING WOMEN

More Will Be Admitted To Ranks Under New Order

Today young women in America may be found in practically every section of the business and professional world They have successfully invaded the hitherto exclusively male military organizations, where they serve with pride and distinction.

During September the United States marine corps, long the most colorful branch of the armed services, will open its ranks to an additional number of young American women who are seeking a more interesting and profitable occupation.

For the women who can meet the high standards of the marine corps, there awaits such an occupation with new opportunities and new friends. Even as a private their pay will compare favorably with what they now make. In addition, as marines, they will be provided with free living quarters, food, medical and dental care, plus many other privileges. They will also enjoy the companionship of the highest type women who proudly wear the globe and anchor of the marine corps.

It is a proud boast of the leathernecks that there is no such thing as a lonesome marine, man or woman.

Applicants for the women marines must be at least 20 but under 31 years of age, single with no dependents, and be a high school graduate. Naturally they must be citizens of the United States and have excellent characters.

Those accepted for enlistment in the marine corps will be sent to Parris Island, S. C., for six weeks of basic training. Here they will be instructed in such subjects as military courtesy, history and traditions of the marine corps, and the mission the leathernecks perform in the national defense establishment. This basic training will help them to assume their places as members of an elite organization of military men and women, the United States marine corps.

Upon completion of this training women marines are given a 10-day leave to visit family and friends. Whereupon they will report to one of the 36 posts and stations, including Washington, D. C., New York City, New Orleans, and San Francisco, for duty assignments. Here their new life as a marine will really begin.

There are plenty of opportunities for advancement and increased pay. All of this, plus the adventure of new places and people await the eligible young woman who applies at the local marine corps recruiting station at room 312, Post Office Building, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

OPPOSING

mayor and council had presented the bond issue to the people in the form of $1,900,000.00 bond issue.

"In the recent election in Monroe in regard to the fire department bond issue, the Monroe Steering committee was appointed to submit a proposal which they reduced the proposed bond issue as presented by the Monroe city officials from $950,000.00 to $650,000.00. This the residents assert is an example of the economy the people of West Monroe are asking for.

"The West Monroe Steering committee has mailed postcards to West Monroe taxpayers, the group stated showing the voters what their increased taxation will be if the present proposed bond issue is passed. These figures, the group stated have been calculated on the basis of the bonds being sold at an interest rate of 1½ per cent. The citizens pointed out that this is calculated on money borrowed directly after World War II when interest rates were much cheaper. Today, after making inquiries of bond buyers in New Orleans and New York, those who would actually purchase West Monroe hospital district and drainage district bonds, we had to conclude that the proposed bonds could not be retired at the millage rates that have been published by the proponents of the bond issue. That means a higher annual cost for every person who pays property taxes. Most of the telegraphed answers from the bond buyers declared the bonds would sell at an interest rate of from 2.90 to 3.15. Others said they could make no estimate until they had examined the West Monroe financial sheet.

"Based upon the bond selling at 2.90 per cent interest rate, West Monroe city taxes would approximately double what they are at the present time. As you must remember there is no homestead exemption on city taxes, this only applies on state and parish taxes. The group further stated as an example that the bonds recently sold by the Ouachita Parish School board sold at a rate of 2.82 which greatly exceed the proposed rate of interest the bonds would sell for as advocated by those in favor of the present bond issue. Anyone can figure for himself what a tax increase would be caused by $1,-900,000.00 bond issue. It was further pointed out by the group that West Monroe needs a hospital, but proponents of the hospital can give no answer why they did not ask for Federal Aid which would save the taxpayers approximately $150,-000.00, neither can they state in what manner the hospital would be operated.

"One citizen stated he could not understand why the city officials were asking for $140,000.00 to build a central fire station, when our present city hall cost $148,000.00. Cities of Alexandria, Baton Rouge and Lake Charles have constructed fire stations, the average cost was approximately $50,000.00, which included accomodations for ten firemen and four fire trucks. In regard to the $500,000.00 bonds for the water system, there is no plan formulated and of this sum $300,-000.00 would be in the form of certificates of indebtedness to be repaid from profits from the water system. We say profits, and the City of West Monroe is now desperately trying to make ends meet with the present income. In 1946, when the $700,000.00 bond issue was voted, additional water to the city was promised, today there is no more additional lines bringing water to the city, all in all the proposed bond issue is very badly planned and we think that vast consideration should be given when voting on such a vital issue as streets, water and fire department.

"The group further stated they are willing to support any responsible plan for a bond issue for West Monroe and Ward Five, provided it is given careful consideration and not planned in a wasteful manner."

WINNER

Miss Joyce Lee Hilton of 305 Browning, West Monroe, has been notified that she is a second-prize winner in the national Shirley Lee dress contest. For this she was awarded a beautiful Shirley Lee dress by The Palace. Her winning entry entitled "Why I Prefer Shirley Lee Junior Petite dresses . . ." was selected from the thousands of entries sent in by contestants from all sections of the country. This is not the first prize that Miss Hilton has won. While she was in the 6th and 7th grades, she won a prize for herself and a trophy for the school in speech. Joyce Lee is 13 years old and attends the St. Paschal School. Before moving here, she resided in St. Louis, Mo., where she was very active in basketball and swimming.

DODD SILENT ON

he had no comment on the coalition and said that a statement confirming the rumor would have to come from Dodd himself.

An Associated Press story Thursday from New Orleans said that a coalition appeared imminent between Dodd and LeBlanc with LeBlanc stepping down as a gubernatorial candidate to run for lieutenant governor on Dodd's ticket.

LeBlanc answered the reports by saying, "It's all right with me." The state senator, when asked if he would be willing to subordinate his own gubernatorial aspirations to join forces with Dodd, said:

"Absolutely. Dodd is a personal friend of mine, and I would do anything to defeat Longism in Louisiana and to prevent multimillionaire oil men from coming here and buying the election."

Dodd told reporters he had no comment to make on reports of the coalition, but added:

"Senator LeBlanc is a very good close personal friend of mine. We have a lot in common, and one thing in common is our desire to see hand-picked candidates like (Judge Carlos) Spaht retired to the good green grass where they belong."

EXPANSION

tend to drive new industry to other cities and inflict a bonded debt on the people to be repaid in the economically unpredictable future.

The opposition also charges that money approved in previous bond elections has not been spent as advocates had promised before its approval.

However, backers of the presently pending bond issues maintain that new industry will be attracted by the modern and substantial public facilities the expansion would afford. At various citizens' meetings held over the city for the past few weeks, members of a specially appointed steering committee have reported representatives of industrial plants already located as in favor of the expanded facilities.

Critics have said the city could not re-do all its streets (about 50 miles) with the $500,000 sought for that purpose. However, city officials say that engineers have studied the situation and report that it can be done.

They say that immediate access to gravel and a black topping plant and free engineering from the state make it possible. A blacktopping plant is located just out of West Monroe near the gravel pits on highway 80. State highway officials have agreed to engineer the street program free of charge, eliminating an expense of approximately $35,000.

At a meeting sponsored by the steering committee Friday night at Crosley school, Sam Humphries, West Monroe insurance man said the insurance rates in West Monroe were almost certain to be increased in the event the proposed fire department expansion program was not approved. Charles G. Wall, Jr., chairman of the steering committee, explained that the city now holds a third class fire rate. He said if the rate was lowered to fourth class insurance premiums would jump ten cents per hundred dollars of the protection. The present rate is 40 cents per hundred.

Humphries said the odds would be greatly in favor of a second class rating in the event the fire department was expanded under the provisions of the pending bond issue. A second class rate, he said would bring the premium down to about 33 cents per hundred.

In behalf of the water program, Alderman Hugh Taylor, who is also a member of the steering committee, said Friday night that city of West Monroe's elevated water tank now in use compared to that of Chatham, La. He said that in order to keep West Monroe's fire department sufficiently bolstered with an abundance of water the new reservoir and elevated tank, called for in the bond issue, are a necessity. Taylor said he personally felt that the water program was the most important of all the other improvements.

Sen. John F. McCormick, called on to explain the hospital program, pointed out that the institution would be strictly non-profit whether operated by a manager under the hospital board or leased to a private organization. He said any margin shown in the operation of the hospital would be put back into the hospital or applied to the retirement of the bonds.

Mrs. Aimee Cook, also a member of the steering committee, made a brief talk on the hospital and the other provisions of the program.

Mrs. Cook, principal at Mitchell school, gave woman's point of view in saying: "If we don't approve these fine programs after we have obtained one of the finest high schools available, it'll be like a woman wearing a $150 dress and a two-bit hat."

The steering committee, drawn from a cross-section of West Monroe civic clubs and citizens, was organized shortly after the bond issues were proposed. The committee has spent much time and money in an effort to better acquaint the people of West Monroe and ward five with the facts of the issues.

Committee Chairman Charles G. Wall said the group would continue to keep a close watch on the progress of the program and advise the city council if and after the bonds were approved.

Wall said the 23-member body might be called a "watch-dog committee." The city council has agreed to accept the committee's recommendation and follow its suggestions as far as legally possible.

Members of the committee and the various groups they were selected from are: Bob McNeely, American Legion; Billy Sullivan and Keith Cobb, Hudson-Leehy post of the V. F. W.; Dan Bivens, Jr., Leo Walsworth, F. C. McConnell, Mack Avants and Charles G. Wall, Jr., West Monroe Business Men's Association; Carl White and W. O. Smith, West Monroe Lions; Sam Humphries and Vance Rhodes, West Monroe Kiwanis; Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Bobashelas Book Club; Mrs. John Lewis, Civic League; Mrs. George Lawn, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. G. Rickerson, Athaneum Book Club; Mrs. H. Clyde Cook, LaTertulla Book Club; Mrs. J. L. Haynes, Altrurian Book Club; Mrs. Hugh Taylor, Lioness Club; Dr. Katherine Foster, Altrusa Book Club.

The following members were appointed at large: C. E. Baker, Mrs. Aimee Cook, Rev. Jaroy Weber, D. C. Harper and G. E. Tyner.

500. And when a reward was offered, he refused to accept any recompense. He explained that like a Boy Scout he had done it as his good deed for the day!

Wonder how many bus drivers and all others for that matter, would do likewise? This man, W. C. Johnson, 37, married and has a wife and two small children, declared that a clear conscience was the best possible reward. The newspapers in Houston, to a degree, atoned for he had his picture published but by no means through any efforts of his own.

The driver of the bus, looking from a bus window saw the billfold on the sidewalk and at once upon possessing it he awaited answer to an advertisement which was to locate the owner. This came in good time and the man sought was a ship captain living in Kelso, Wash.

Johnson got as much "kick" in making restitution as did the owner in reclaiming his holdings.

And here it may be said that honesty has its own reward, the reward of a clean conscience.

Fun, friendship, fellowship, and service are the things that all girls who join Y-Teens of the Y. W. C. A. find through their clubs. This year the theme for the Y-Teens is: "Tune Your Deeds to Meet World Needs" states Jo Rhodes, president of Inter - Club Council. Many interesting programs and activities have been planned for this year and any girl 12-18 years of age or who is in the 7th-12th grades interested in Y-Teens is extended an invitation to join the club.

Friends here gave Rev. Russell Stellwagon, well known youthful Baptist minister, a hearty farewell Saturday as he left for Tokyo where he will be engaged in Baptist mission work. He was commissioned for this service at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church here this week.

He is but 22 years of age but he has been preaching for three or four years and has already established a record for zeal and performance in the evangelistic field and he is expected to continue along this line when across the seas.

Bob Harmon relates that when he went home the other night and announced, with considerable degree of enthusiasm, that he was to deliver an address to a club, that his wife at once got curious.

"You talk at a club — well what club in the world would want to hear you?" was her rather caustic response.

He told her he had forgotten what the club was called. Then she persisted:

"Where does the club meet?" Again he said he was not as yet informed.

"But when you get there what will you discuss?" persistently interrogated the wife.

"Dear, I don't know what I shall discuss," he declared a bit crestfallen.

"Well my guess is that if you don't know the club or where it meets or what you are going to say, you had better stay home. Looks like you are planning on another night out," she concluded.

James Sevier Succumbs At 90

Tallulah, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—James D. Sevier, retired Madison parish planter and father of State Representative Henry B. Sevier, died at his home in Gulfport, Miss., at 8 a.m. today following a short illness. He was 90.

Mr. Sevier, who was a member of a very prominent pioneer family of this area, had lived the past 29 years in Gulfport.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Tallulah Methodist Church with the Rev. A. A. McNight officiating. Interment will be in the Silver Cross cemetery under direction of Cruthers Funeral home.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maggie Allen Sevier, one daughter, Mrs. B. P. Tolk, one son, Henry B. Sevier, 7 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren, all of Tallulah.

Pallbearers, who are nephews, will be Howard Sevier, Malcolm Sevier, Warren Sevier, Andrew L. Sevier, Jr., Jim Sevier, Barton Sevier, and W. P. Sevier, Jr.

Honorary pallbearers will be John Sevier, Albert Sevier, Andrew Sevier, George Sevier and Dr. Preston Herring, Vicksburg, Miss.

Fred F. Millsaps, 62, is president of the Ouachita National Bank, one of the largest banks in north Louisiana.

Born in Monroe, Mr. Millsaps has lived in the Twin Cities his entire life. He graduated from Washington and Lee University in 1908 and majored in civil engineering.

He began his career with the bank in the transit department. His father, the late Thomas Fredrick Millsaps and the late D. A. Breard, Jr., organized the first Ouachita National Bank in Monroe in 1887. The bank received its national charter in April of 1870.

Mr. Millsaps is a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, First Presbyterian Church of which he is treasurer and is a past president of the Louisiana Banker's Association. The bank is also a member of the American Banker's Association.

Mr. Millsaps resides at 1900 Riverside and has two children, Ellen Kent Millsaps and Dr. Fred L. Millsaps, Jr.

He spends his pasttime boating on the Ouachita river.

The present Ouachita National Bank Building was erected in 1921 and is comprised of 170 offices, in addition to the bank. The bank also operates two branches, one in West Monroe, the other on North Fourth and Arkansas and plans to open a third branch on the corner of Layton and Jackson street in October.

There are 59 persons employed by the bank and 30 in the bank offices.

Accident Fatal To Negro Woman

A Negro woman was killed instantly late yesterday when she attempted to cross Highway 80 six miles west of West Monroe.

She was identified as Lattie Davis, 42, Route 1, Calhoun.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, said she was struck by an automobile driven by Arden Roy Hibbard, 200 Peach street Monroe.

Dr. French said preliminary investigation revealed that Hibbard was driving east to Monroe and did not see the Negro woman until he was upon her. She had just left the Park Store and Market and was crossing the highway when she was struck by the right fender of Hibbard's vehicle.

Death was attributed to head injuries and hemorrhage. The Negro also had multiple contusions and a severe laceration on the left leg.

Dr. French said there were no witnesses to the accident other than Hibband and his wife, who were in the automobile. The investigation will be completed Tuesday at 2 p. m.

crime which, with utmost sorrow, we earnestly want to draw not only your attention, but the attention of the clergy, of the parents, and even of the public authorities.

"We refer to the iniquitious campaign that the impious lead everywhere to harm the candid souls of the children. Not even the innocent age has been spared."

The pontiff deplored the "sad condition of our times" and said:

"The fraternal union among the nations, broken from such a long time, has not been re-established everywhere. Yet, everywhere we see souls upset by hatred and rivalry, while threats of new bloody conflicts still hover over the people."

Calling for prayers, the pope said:

"With joyful expectation and revived hope, we look forward to the coming month of October during which the faithful flock in larger numbers to the churches to raise their supplications by means of the Holy Rosary.

"This prayer, O venerable brethren we desire should be made with a more intense fervor of the soul this year to meet the increasingly grave needs."

Stressing the importance of prayers to the Virgin Mother, the pope said:

"We do not hesitate to affirm again publicly that we put great hope in the Holy Rosary to heal the ills which afflict our times. Not with the strength of arms, but through divine help obtained through this prayer, the church will face courageously the infernal enemy, like David did with his sling shot."

The pope said the Apostolic blessing was granted "to all those who, during the month of October, will say the Holy Rosary according to these intentions of ours."

ter its previous applications were turned down. He has denied any connection with the loans and is expected to testify before the committee later.

Senator Mundt (R.-S. D.) said the subcommittee has evidence "some people" got "gratuities far greater" in this case than those which brought quick dismissal yesterday to one RFC official. He said this would be developed in later sessions.

Oliver B. Kraft, assistant manager of the RFC's St. Louis branch, was fired within hours of his testimony that a Lithofold official paid his expenses of $262 on a five-day vacation. Kraft said the favor was repaid with a gift of ceramics, made by his wife, valued at $200-250.

Mundt told a reporter the gratuities he mentioned represent something more tangible" than a free vacation trip. He would not specify whether money payments were involved, but indicated it was merchandise of some kind.

Other developments:

1. Chauncey Y. Dodds, now assistant to the deputy RFC administrator and an RFC official at the time of the loans, testified he did not even know Boyle. He said in his 18 years with the lending agency he had "no recollection of any contact at all by any members of the (Democratic National) committee."

2. A third key figure testified Friday that Boyle had arranged for Lithofold officials to meet Harley Hise, then RFC chairman, and three days later the company got its first loan. The witness was James E. Toole, former Lithofold treasurer and onetime RFC official, whose black diary has supplied considerable information.

3. Toole's diary contained entries stating he had continued contacts with Howard after leaving the RFC for Lithofold and the two had discussed the loans. Howard contradicted part of these contentions, and said he had not given Toole information concerning Lithofold loans.

Parlor City Grove Holds Election

Parlor City Grove 288, Woodmen Circle, held the regular meeting in Woodmen Hall, Thursday night. Mrs. Mary Willet presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ora Beasley.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Ailene Barton whose death occurred recently.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Mary Willet; first vice-president, Mrs. Almeda Welch; second vice - president, Mrs. Opal Thompson; secretary, Mrs. Lorelle Ellis; treasurer, Mrs. Annie Boulier; chaplain, Mrs. Faye Hamilton; attendant, Mrs. Mildred Batten; assistant attendant, Mrs. Jewel Earl; musician, Mrs. Isabel Gibbs; captain, Mrs. Nancy Neyland. These officers will be installed in October.

can only be speculated upon, much less proved.

Is the general a Republican?

His friends, Roy Roberts, editor of the Kansas City Star, and Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman, have said over and over again that he is.

Will he be a candidate for the GOP nomination?

Eisenhower's supporters hope and believe so. They say he is in no position, now, to make an affirmative statement. He has a job to complete, the creation of a western European army. At what point, at what stage of development, that job could be marked "finished," is hard to determine. It is difficult even to say when the work will have reached a point where Eisenhower could hand it over to someone else.

Nevertheless, the men who will lead an Eisenhower campaign—if one becomes possible—expect a definite statement from him somewhere around Jan. 1.

They all insist that they have no information to support the expectation, that the general has said nothing, privately, and that they are not authorized to speak for him. Still the belief persists.... "somewhere around the first of the year."

In the speculation about Eisenhower, there is this fact to be considered:

In 1948, he wrote a letter to Leonard V. Finder, New Hampshire publisher definitely taking himself out of the lists of possible choices for the nomination. There is nothing to prevent him from doing the same thing now, reiterating the beliefs he expressed then.

hower, there is this fact to bSCHH

The fact that he has remained silent leads his followers to believe that silence means consent. But they say they don't know.

Meanwhile, his friends are holding themselves in readiness, prepared to move fast at a moment's notice.

An "Eisenhower charter," which would give legal status to his candidacy, has been in existence for a year in Ohio. The general's name has already been entered by petition in the Oregon Democratic presidential race, and a state representative, Mark Hatfield, recently reported he has more than the 1,000 required signatures to put him on the Republican primary ballot.

BUGLE SOUNDS

old battle of the East Korean hills.

The 24 - hour concentration of tremendous firepower was aimed at blasting the North Koreans from deep, stone and log bunkers. The Reds had battled Allied infantrymen to a standstill on some ridges.

It was the heaviest artillery barrage by a single Allied infantry division since last April, when the U. S. Third division smashed Chinese hordes in the battle of the Imjin river, in western Korea.

The eastern front division was not named. However, previously identified on that front were the U. S. First marine division, Second and Seventh infantry divisions and the Republic of Korea ROK First corps.

High explosives, white phosphorous and time - fused shells rained on Red positions on the ridges north of Yanggu, some 35 miles inland from the east coast.

Allied infantrymen had seized some hills in that sector, but couldn't budge the Reds from others. Weary of this, UN field commanders called for the intensive barrage before sending the infantry back up the slopes.

In the narrow valleys below, Allied tanks nosed boldl yinto Communist territory to draw fire and return it with their 75-millimeter guns.

On the west-cental front, bayonet-wielding U. N. troops captured strategic high ground northwest of Kumhwa after a 10-hour battle—the last two hours of which was hand-to-hand.

It was described by a frontline officer as "one of the hardest-fought battles of the west- central front since the Han (river) crossing."

Allied troops stormed the hill three times. Twice they fell back in the face of searing small arms and mortar fire.

Then with fixed bayonets they swept the Reds off the ridge.

Communist artillery and mortar fire was comparatively heavy elsewhere on the central and west - central sectors. Ground action was minor, however.

In the west, activity was so limited that one Allied briefing officer saw fit to mention that one UN patrol was fired upon by two Chinese.

CLAIMS VIOLATION

to August 22, have been dismissed by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as falsehoods or too flimsy to merit a reply.

The Reds called off the talks after the August 22 sub-committee meeting, charging that an Allied plane had tried to "murder" their delegation at Kaesong. Ridgway rejected this as a complete frameup.

Although not official, Winnington's blasts have thus far accurately foreshadowed the positions taken by the Communist leaders.

"It needs to be understood," he said today, "that Ridgway is not in a position to make concessions, but only to make more apologies of a more convincing nature and take satisfactory measures to guarantee that no more incidents occur, so that talks can resume.

"Nothing less will suffice after the Americans' record of reckless perfidy throughout the whole talks."

The Red propagandist added an attack on Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. eighth army commander.

Alleging that the Allies had "thrown away almost 9,000 men in one month for no gain," and that air force losses averaged 10.2 daily, Winnington said Van Fleet "is now back on his old nervous formula, 'I would welcome a Communist offensive.' "

He concluded by calling Ridgway a liar and bluffer and saying, "Koreans and Chinese do not bluff."

The Allied command, ignoring the flood of Red propaganda, stood by its position that the next move was up to the Reds, since they have not yet replied officially to the acknowledgement of the strafing.

Reporters' efforts to identify or interview the pilot involved were rebuffed on grounds that it would embarrass him.

However, an unofficial background statement issued by Ridgway's public information office Saturday night said, "the strafing was an unfortunate occurrence and of course steps will be taken by the United Nations command to avoid a repetition. But it should drive home to the Reds and to those people in their propaganda sphere that the honesty and integrity of the free world is the one guidepost that can be counted on in the rush of 'violations' that have been charged since the talks began."

It added that special training schools have been established for Greek guerrillas in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland.

Greek guerrilla forces retreated from the war-torn country in 1949. The committee recommended that the assembly reassert the importance of maintenance of peace in the Balkans.

The committee called on the assembly to recommend to the states concerned in the area:

1. Cessation of all assistance to the Greek guerrilla movement.
2. Renewal of diplomatic and good-neighborly relations.
3. Renewal, revision or establishment of frontier conventions.
4. Disarming and disposition of Greek guerrillas.
5. An embargo on arms and war materials to Albania and Bulgaria until it has been determined these states have ceased their unlawful assistance to the Greek guerrillas.
6. Repatriation of Greek military personnel, Greek children and other Greek nationals.
7. The cooperation of all states concerned with UNSCOB, especially in regard to the prompt investigation of complaints.

21 In Air Disaster In Colorado

Flagler, Colo., Sept. 15. —(AP)— A low flying plane, stunting for a crowd at an airshow, cartwheeled into the horror stricken spectators, today, killing 21 and injuring at least 20 more.

The disaster turned this prosperous eastern Colorado farming town of 793 persons into a center of grief, sorrow and confusion as hearses and ambulances sped to and from the airport. At least nine of the dead were children.

The pilot of the low wing monoplane was doing a snap roll over the crowd of 1,000 spectators. Suddenly it plunged toward the earth, caught a wing on an automobile and smashed a path through the screaming crowd.

One wing and the landing gear sheered off as the plane bounced through a row of parked cars. The engine hit another row of automobiles and the tail assembly swept around and into a third row of vehicles loaded with spectators.

Most of the dead and injured were in automobiles. One woman, 100 feet away from the plane, was injured by flying fragments as it disintegrated.

"I could see parts of the plane fly over the cars," said Father Edward Dinan, Flagler Catholic priest. "The plane more or less splintered into bits." He moved among the dead, dying and injured offering aid and comfort.

Denver Post reporter William J. Barker said the "chaos that followed is beyond description. Children died beside their parents. Women could be heard screaming the names of loved ones. It was like the end of the world."

Farmers moved in with pick-up trucks to evacuate dead and injured before ambulances arrived. Crowds gathered at the Flagler hospital. Motorists drove aimlessly up and down streets.

mayor and council had presented the bond issue to the people in the form of $1,900,000.00 bond issue.

"In the recent election in Monroe in regard to the fire department bond issue, the Monroe Steering committee was appointed to submit a proposal which they reduced the proposed bond issue as presented by the Monroe city officials from $950,000.00 to $650,000.00. This the residents assert is an example of the economy the people of West Monroe are asking for.

"The West Monroe Steering committee has mailed postcards to West Monroe taxpayers, the group stated showing the voters what their increased taxation will be if the present proposed bond issue is passed. These figures, the group stated have been calculated on the basis of the bonds being sold at an interest rate of 1½ per cent. The citizens pointed out that this is calculated on money borrowed directly after World War II when interest rates were much cheaper. Today, after making inquiries of bond buyers in New Orleans and New York, those who would actually purchase West Monroe hospital district and drainage district bonds, we had to conclude that the proposed bonds could not be retired at the millage rates that have been published by the proponents of the bond issue. That means a higher annual cost for every person who pays property taxes. Most of the telegraphed answers from the bond buyers declared the bonds would sell at an interest rate of from 2.90 to 3.15. Others said they could make no estimate until they had examined the West Monroe financial sheet.

"Based upon the bond selling at 2.90 per cent interest rate, West Monroe city taxes would approximately double what they are at the present time. As you must remember there is no homestead exemption on city taxes, this only applies on state and parish taxes. The group further stated as an example that the bonds recently sold by the Ouachita Parish School board sold at a rate of 2.82 which greatly exceed the proposed rate of interest the bonds would sell for as advocated by those in favor of the present bond issue. Anyone can figure for himself what a tax increase would be caused by $1,-900,000.00 bond issue. It was further pointed out by the group that West Monroe needs a hospital, but proponents of the hospital can give no answer why they did not ask for Federal Aid which would save the taxpayers approximately $150,-000.00, neither can they state in what manner the hospital would be operated.

"One citizen stated he could not understand why the city officials were asking for $140,000.00 to build a central fire station, when our present city hall cost $148,000.00. Cities of Alexandria, Baton Rouge and Lake Charles have constructed fire stations, the average cost was approximately $50,000.00, which included accomodations for ten firemen and four fire trucks. In regard to the $500,000.00 bonds for the water system, there is no plan formulated and of this sum $300,-000.00 would be in the form of certificates of indebtedness to be repaid from profits from the water system. We say profits, and the City of West Monroe is now desperately trying to make ends meet with the present income. In 1946, when the $700,000.00 bond issue was voted, additional water to the city was promised, today there is no more additional lines bringing water to the city, all in all the proposed bond issue is very badly planned and we think that vast consideration should be given when voting on such a vital issue as streets, water and fire department.

"The group further stated they are willing to support any responsible plan for a bond issue for West Monroe and Ward Five, provided it is given careful consideration and not planned in a wasteful manner."

WINNER

Miss Joyce Lee Hilton of 305 Browning, West Monroe, has been notified that she is a second-prize winner in the national Shirley Lee dress contest. For this she was awarded a beautiful Shirley Lee dress by The Palace. Her winning entry entitled "Why I Prefer Shirley Lee Junior Petite dresses . . ." was selected from the thousands of entries sent in by contestants from all sections of the country. This is not the first prize that Miss Hilton has won. While she was in the 6th and 7th grades, she won a prize for herself and a trophy for the school in speech. Joyce Lee is 13 years old and attends the St. Paschal School. Before moving here, she resided in St. Louis, Mo., where she was very active in basketball and swimming.

he had no comment on the coalition and said that a statement confirming the rumor would have to come from Dodd himself.

An Associated Press story Thursday from New Orleans said that a coalition appeared imminent between Dodd and LeBlanc with LeBlanc stepping down as a gubernatorial candidate to run for lieutenant governor on Dodd's ticket.

LeBlanc answered the reports by saying, "It's all right with me." The state senator, when asked if he would be willing to subordinate his own gubernatorial aspirations to join forces with Dodd, said:

"Absolutely. Dodd is a personal friend of mine, and I would do anything to defeat Longism in Louisiana and to prevent multimillionaire oil men from coming here and buying the election."

Dodd told reporters he had no comment to make on reports of the coalition, but added:

"Senator LeBlanc is a very good close personal friend of mine. We have a lot in common, and one thing in common is our desire to see hand-picked candidates like (Judge Carlos) Spaht retired to the good green grass where they belong."

EXPANSION

tend to drive new industry to other cities and inflict a bonded debt on the people to be repaid in the economically unpredictable future.

The opposition also charges that money approved in previous bond elections has not been spent as advocates had promised before its approval.

However, backers of the presently pending bond issues maintain that new industry will be attracted by the modern and substantial public facilities the expansion would afford. At various citizens' meetings held over the city for the past few weeks, members of a specially appointed steering committee have reported representatives of industrial plants already located as in favor of the expanded facilities.

Critics have said the city could not re-do all its streets (about 50 miles) with the $500,000 sought for that purpose. However, city officials say that engineers have studied the situation and report that it can be done.

They say that immediate access to gravel and a black topping plant and free engineering from the state make it possible. A blacktopping plant is located just out of West Monroe near the gravel pits on highway 80. State highway officials have agreed to engineer the street program free of charge, eliminating an expense of approximately $35,000.

At a meeting sponsored by the steering committee Friday night at Crosley school, Sam Humphries, West Monroe insurance man said the insurance rates in West Monroe were almost certain to be increased in the event the proposed fire department expansion program was not approved. Charles G. Wall, Jr., chairman of the steering committee, explained that the city now holds a third class fire rate. He said if the rate was lowered to fourth class insurance premiums would jump ten cents per hundred dollars of the protection. The present rate is 40 cents per hundred.

Humphries said the odds would be greatly in favor of a second class rating in the event the fire department was expanded under the provisions of the pending bond issue. A second class rate, he said would bring the premium down to about 33 cents per hundred.

In behalf of the water program, Alderman Hugh Taylor, who is also a member of the steering committee, said Friday night that city of West Monroe's elevated water tank now in use compared to that of Chatham, La. He said that in order to keep West Monroe's fire department sufficiently bolstered with an abundance of water the new reservoir and elevated tank, called for in the bond issue, are a necessity. Taylor said he personally felt that the water program was the most important of all the other improvements.

Sen. John F. McCormick, called on to explain the hospital program, pointed out that the institution would be strictly non-profit whether operated by a manager under the hostpial board or leased to a private organization. He said any margin shown in the operation of the hospital would be put back into the hospital or applied to the retirement of the bonds.

Mrs. Aimee Cook, also a member of the steering committee, made a brief talk on the hospital and the other provisions of the program.

Mrs. Cook, principal at Mitchell school, gave woman's point of view in saying: "If we don't approve these fine programs after we have obtained one of the finest high schools available, it'll be like a woman wearing a $150 dress and a two-bit hat."

The steering committee, drawn from a cross-section of West Monroe civic clubs and citizens, was organized shortly after the bond issues were prooosed. The committee has spent much time and money in an effort to better acquaint the people of West Monroe and ward five with the facts of the issues.

Committee Chairman Charles G. Wall said the group would continue to keep a close watch on the progress of the program and advise the city council if and after the bonds were approved.

Wall said the 23-member body might be called a "watch-dog committee." The city council has agreed to accept the committee's recommendation and follow its suggestions as far as legally possible.

Members of the committee and the various groups they were selected from are: Bob McNeely, American Legion; Billy Sullivan and Keith Cobb, Hudson-Leehy post of the V. F. W.; Dan Bivens, Jr., Leo Walsworth, F. C. McConnell, Mack Avants and Charles G. Wall, Jr., West Monroe Business Men's Association; Carl White and W. O. Smith, West Monroe Lions; Sam Humphries and Vance Rhodes, West Monroe Kiwanis; Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Bobashelas Book Club; Mrs. John Lewis, Civic League; Mrs. George Lawn, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. G. Rickerson, Athaneum Book Club; Mrs. H. Clyde Cook, LaTertulla Book Club; Mrs. J. L. Haynes, Altrurian Book Club; Mrs. Hugh Taylor, Lioness Club; Dr. Katherine Foster, Altrusa Book Club.

The following members were appointed at large: C. E. Baker, Mrs. Aimee Cook, Rev. Jaroy Weber, D. C. Harper and G. E. Tyner.

500. And when a reward was offered, he refused to accept any recompense. He explained that like a Boy Scout he had done it as his good deed for the day!

Wonder how many bus drivers and all others for that matter, would do likewise? This man, W. C. Johnson, 37, married and has a wife and two small children, declared that a clear conscience was the best possible reward. The newspapers in Houston, to a degree, atoned for he had his picture published but by no means through any efforts of his own.

The driver of the bus, looking from a bus window saw the billfold on the sidewalk and at once upon possessing it he awaited answer to an advertisement which was to locate the owner. This came in good time and the man sought was a ship captain living in Kelso, Wash.

Johnson got as much "kick" in making restitution as did the owner in reclaiming his holdings.

And here it may be said that honesty has its own reward, the reward of a clean conscience.

Fun, friendship, fellowship, and service are the things that all girls who join Y-Teens of the Y. W. C. A. find through their clubs. This year the theme for the Y-Teens is: "Tune Your Deeds to Meet World Needs" states Jo Rhodes, president of Inter - Club Council. Many interesting programs and activities have been planned for this year and any girl 12-18 years of age or who is in the 7th-12th grades interested in Y-Teens is extended an invitation to join the club.

Friends here gave Rev. Russell Stellwagon, well known youthful Baptist minister, a hearty farewell Saturday as he left for Tokyo where he will be engaged in Baptist mission work. He was commissioned for this service at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church here this week.

He is but 22 years of age but he has been preaching for three or four years and has already established a record for zeal and performance in the evangelistic field and he is expected to continue along this line when across the seas.

Bob Harmon relates that when he went home the other night and announced, with considerable degree of enthusiasm, that he was to deliver an address to a club, that his wife at once got curious.

"You talk at a club — well what club in the world would want to hear you?" was her rather caustic response.

He told her he had forgotten what the club was called. Then she persisted:

"Where does the club meet?" Again he said he was not as yet informed.

"But when you get there what will you discuss?" persistently interrogated the wife.

"Dear, I don't know what I shall discuss," he declared a bit crestfallen.

"Well my guess is that if you don't know the club or where it meets or what you are going to say, you had better stay home. Looks like you are planning on another night out," she concluded.

Fred F. Millsaps, 62, is president of the Ouachita National Bank, one of the largest banks in north Louisiana.

Born in Monroe, Mr. Millsaps has lived in the Twin Cities his entire life. He graduated from Washington and Lee University in 1908 and majored in civil engineering.

He began his career with the bank in the transit department. His father, the late Thomas Fredrick Millsaps and the late D. A. Breard, Jr., organized the first Ouachita National Bank in Monroe in 1887. The bank received its national charter in April of 1870.

Mr. Millsaps is a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, First Presbyterian Church of which he is treasurer and is a past president of the Louisiana Banker's Association. The bank is also a member of the American Banker's Association.

Mr. Millsaps resides at 1900 Riverside and has two children, Ellen Kent Millsaps and Dr. Fred L. Millsaps, Jr.

He spends his pasttime boating on the Ouachita river.

The present Ouachita National Bank Building was erected in 1921 and is comprised of 170 offices, in addition to the bank. The bank also operates two branches, one in West Monroe, the other on North Fourth and Arkansas and plans to open a third branch on the corner of Layton and Jackson street in October.

There are 59 persons employed by the bank and 30 in the bank offices.

Accident Fatal To Negro Woman

A Negro woman was killed instantly late yesterday when she attempted to cross Highway 80 six miles west of West Monroe.

She was identified as Lettie Davis, 42, Route 1, Calhoun.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, said she was struck by an automobile driven by Arden Roy Hibbard, 200 Peach street Monroe.

Dr. French said preliminary investigation revealed that Hibbard was driving east to Monroe and did not see the Negro woman until he was upon her. She had just left the Park Store and Market and was crossing the highway when she was struck by the right fender of Hibbard's vehicle.

Death was attributed to head injuries and hemorrhage. The Negro also had multiple contusions and a severe laceration on the left leg.

Dr. French said there were no witnesses to the accident other than Hibband and his wife, who were in the automobile. The investigation will be completed Tuesday at 2 p. m.

crime which, with utmost sorrow, we earnestly want to draw not only your attention, but the attention of the clergy, of the parents, and even of the public authorities.

"We refer to the iniquitious campaign that the impious lead everywhere to harm the candid souls of the children. Not even the innocent age has been spared."

The pontiff deplored the "sad condition of our times" and said:

"The fraternal union among the nations, broken from such a long time, has not been re-established everywhere. Yet, everywhere we see souls upset by hatred and rivalry, while threats of new bloody conflicts still hover over the people."

Calling for prayers, the pope said:

"With joyful expectation and revived hope, we look forward to the coming month of October during which the faithful flock in larger numbers to the churches to raise their supplications by means of the Holy Rosary.

"This prayer, O venerable brethren we desire should be made with a more intense fervor of the soul this year to meet the increasingly grave needs."

Stressing the importance of prayers to the Virgin Mother, the pope said:

"We do not hesitate to affirm again publicly that we put great hope in the Holy Rosary to heal the ills which afflict our times. Not with the strength of arms, but through divine help obtained through this prayer, the church will face courageously the infernal enemy, like David did with his sling shot."

The pope said the Apostolic blessing was granted "to all those who, during the month of October, will say the Holy Rosary according to these intentions of ours."

ter its previous applications were turned down. He has denied any connection with the loans and is expected to testify before the committee later.

Senator Mundt (R.-S. D.) said the subcommittee has evidence "some people" got "gratuities far greater" in this case than those which brought quick dismissal yesterday to one RFC official. He said this would be developed in later sessions.

Oliver B. Kraft, assistant manager of the RFC's St. Louis branch, was fired within hours of his testimony that a Lithofold official paid his expenses of $262 on a five-day vacation. Kraft said the favor was repaid with a gift of ceramics, made by his wife, valued at $200-250.

Mundt told a reporter the gratuities he mentioned represent something more tangible" than a free vacation trip. He would not specify whether money payments were involved, but indicated it was merchandise of some kind.

Other developments:

1. Chauncey Y. Dodds, now assistant to the deputy RFC administrator and an RFC official at the time of the loans, testified he did not even know Boyle. He said in his 18 years with the lending agency he had "no recollection of any contact at all by any members of the (Democratic National) committee."

2. A third key figure testified Friday that Boyle had arranged for Lithofold officials to meet Harley Hise, then RFC chairman, and three days later the company got its first loan. The witness was James E. Toole, former Lithofold treasurer and onetime RFC official, whose black diary has supplied considerable information.

3. Toole's diary contained entries stating he had continued contacts with Howard after leaving the RFC for Lithofold and the two had discussed the loans. Howard contradicted part of these contentions, and said he had not given Toole information concerning Lithofold loans.

can only be speculated upon, much less proved.

Is the general a Republican?

His friends, Roy Roberts, editor of the Kansas City Star, and Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman, have said over and over again that he is.

Will he be a candidate for the GOP nomination?

Eisenhower's supporters hope and believe so. They say he is in no position, now, to make an affirmative statement. He has a job to complete, the creation of a western European army. At what point, at what stage of development, that job could be marked "finished," is hard to determine. It is difficult even to say when the work will have reached a point where Eisenhower could hand it over to someone else.

Nevertheless, the men who will lead an Eisenhower campaign—if one becomes possible—expect a definite statement from him somewhere around Jan. 1.

They all insist that they have no information to support the expectation, that the general has said nothing, privately, and that they are not authorized to speak for him. Still the belief persists.... "somewhere around the first of the year."

In the speculation about Eisenhower, there is this fact to be considered:

In 1948, he wrote a letter to Leonard V. Finder, New Hampshire publisher definitely taking himself out of the lists of possible choices for the nomination. There is nothing to prevent him from doing the same thing now, reiterating the beliefs he expressed then.

hower, there is this fact to bSCHH

The fact that he has remained silent leads his followers to believe that silence means consent. But they say they don't know.

Meanwhile, his friends are holding themselves in readiness, prepared to move fast at a moment's notice.

An "Eisenhower charter," which would give legal status to his candidacy, has been in existence for a year in Ohio. The general's name has already been entered by petition in the Oregon Democratic presidential race, and a state representative, Mark Hatfield, recently reported he has more than the 1,000 required signatures to put him on the Republican primary ballot.

old battle of the East Korean hills.

The 24 - hour concentration of tremendous firepower was aimed at blasting the North Koreans from deep, stone and log bunkers. The Reds had battled Allied infantrymen to a standstill on some ridges.

It was the heaviest artillery barrage by a single Allied infantry division since last April, when the U. S. Third division smashed Chinese hordes in the battle of the Imjin river, in western Korea.

The eastern front division was not named. However, previously identified on that front were the U. S. First marine division, Second and Seventh infantry divisions and the Republic of Korea ROK First corps.

High explosives, white phosphorous and time - fused shells rained on Red positions on the ridges north of Yanggu, some 35 miles inland from the east coast.

Allied infantrymen had seized some hills in that sector, but couldn't budge the Reds from others. Weary of this, UN field commanders called for the intensive barrage before sending the infantry back up the slopes.

In the narrow valleys below, Allied tanks nosed boldl yinto Communist territory to draw fire and return it with their 75-millimeter guns.

On the west-cental front, bayonet-wielding U. N. troops captured strategic high ground northwest of Kumhwa after a 10-hour battle—the last two hours of which was hand-to-hand.

It was described by a frontline officer as "one of the hardest-fought battles of the west- central front since the Han (river) crossing."

Allied troops stormed the hill three times. Twice they fell back in the face of searing small arms and mortar fire.

Then with fixed bayonets they swept the Reds off the ridge.

Communist artillery and mortar fire was comparatively heavy elsewhere on the central and west - central sectors. Ground action was minor, however.

In the west, activity was so limited that one Allied briefing officer saw fit to mention that one UN patrol was fired upon by two Chinese.

CLAIMS VIOLATION

to August 22, have been dismissed by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as falsehoods or too flimsy to merit a reply.

The Reds called off the talks after the August 22 sub-committee meeting, charging that an Allied plane had tried to "murder" their delegation at Kaesong. Ridgway rejected this as a complete frameup.

Although not official, Winnington's blasts have thus far accurately foreshadowed the positions taken by the Communist leaders.

"It needs to be understood," he said today, "that Ridgway is not in a position to make concessions, but only to make more apologies of a more convincing nature and take satisfactory measures to guarantee that no more incidents occur, so that talks can resume.

"Nothing less will suffice after the Americans' record of reckless perfidy throughout the whole talks."

The Red propagandist added an attack on Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. eighth army commander.

Alleging that the Allies had "thrown away almost 9,000 men in one month for no gain," and that air force losses averaged 10.2 daily, Winnington said Van Fleet "is now back on his old nervous formula, 'I would welcome a Communist offensive.' "

He concluded by calling Ridgway a liar and bluffer and saying, "Koreans and Chinese do not bluff."

The Allied command, ignoring the flood of Red propaganda, stood by its position that the next move was up to the Reds, since they have not yet replied officially to the acknowledgement of the strafing.

Reporters' efforts to identify or interview the pilot involved were rebuffed on grounds that it would embarrass him.

However, an unofficial background statement issued by Ridgway's public information office Saturday night said, "the strafing was an unfortunate occurrence and of course steps will be taken by the United Nations command to avoid a repetition. But it should drive home to the Reds and to those people in their propaganda sphere that the honesty and integrity of the free world is the one guidepost that can be counted on in the rush of 'violations' that have been charged since the talks began."

ernment, have now become the primary aims of the Greek guerrilla movement," the U N S C O B report said.

It added that special training schools have been established for Greek guerrillas in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland.

Greek guerrilla forces retreated from the war-torn country in 1949. The committee recommended that the assembly reassert the importance of maintenance of peace in the Balkans.

The committee called on the assembly to recommend to the states concerned in the area:

1. Cessation of all assistance to the Greek guerrilla movement.
2. Renewal of diplomatic and good-neighborly relations.
3. Renewal, revision or establishment of frontier conventions.
4. Disarming and disposition of Greek guerrillas.
5. An embargo on arms and war materials to Albania and Bulgaria until it has been determined these states have ceased their unlawful assistance to the Greek guerrillas.
6. Repatriation of Greek military personnel, Greek children and other Greek nationals.
7. The cooperation of all states concerned with UNSCOB, especially in regard to the prompt investigation of complaints.

The committee, established in 1947, consists of Australia, Brazil, China, France, Mexico, the Philippines, Pakistan, Britain and the United States. Poland and the Soviet Union were elected to it but declined to serve and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky in 1948 attacked its report as "garbage."

The Paris assembly must decide whether to continue UNSCOB.

TRIBE DISPLAYS PLENTY POWER IN SURPRISE WIN

Greg LeBlanc, Rush Score Touchdowns That Defeat Bulldogs

Lafayette, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—The Southeastern Louisiana Institute Bulldogs, an early season choice to be a front-runner in the Gulf States Conference race, were rocked back on their heels by a surprisingly strong Northeast State College team from Monroe here tonight as the S.L.I. ELEVEN AB DA ⅛⅜⅛⅜ DEFEAT INOSRBB

The Northeast Indians, engaging in competition with a full slate of four-year schools for the first time since leaving the junior college ranks, outrushed the Bulldogs all the way but had to fibht fro mbehind to win as they were trailing 7-6 going into the final period.

A 15-yard pass, Lloyd Ray to End Greg LeBlanc, was good for the opening touchdown that sent the Indians haead early in the second quarter, but the Bulldobs put on an offensive show of their own before the half was over with End Charles Gaudin taking a touchdown pass from Quarterback Jack Herron to tie up the game. Kenneth Sweeney's placekick gave S.L.I. the lead.

A 70-yard touchdown march, climaxed by a short line plunge by W. A. "Dub" Rush sewed up the game for the Indians, however, in the final period. Francis Baker kicked the point, and the Redskins, who meet Southeastern Louisiana at Monroe next Saturday night, had made their debut as a senior college a very successful one.

The first downs were 14 to 8 in favor of Northeast. The Indians rushed for 245 yards and passed for 20. The Bulldogs got 122 yards rushing and 89 passing.

Fumbles marred the early part of the game, but Northeast finally found an offensive punch in the waning minutes of the initial period after downing a Billy Higginbotham punt on their own 37.

Bob Gunter rammed the line three times for a first on the Bulldog 35. Bob Carter sliced through left tackle for nine, and Lloyd Ray made it a first on the 22. "Dub" Rush got seven at right tackle as the quarter ended with the Indians in possession of the S. L. I. 15.

Carter hit guard for ten to open the second period for a first on the five. Rush was thrown for a five-yard loss and a penalty against the Tribe put the ball back on the Bulldog 15. Then Ray drifted back and fired a pass to Greg LeBlanc in the endzone to put the Monroe eleven ahead. 6 to 0. Boatright missed the kick for the point.

The Indians' audacity fired the Bulldogs and they came storming back, driving 70 yards to paydirt. Roy Simmons, Higginbotham, and F. G. Mixon powered for two firsts in a drive to the Indian 43. Higginbotham sliced off tackle to the Tribe 27. Kenne'h Sweeney whammed the line twice for a first on the 15. Herron then passed to Gaudin on the nine and the Bulldog end went the rest of the way to tie the score. Sweeney kicked the point that put S. L. I. ahead 7-6 at the half.

Midway of the second period the Indians threatened again when Rex Penzinger intercepted a Herron pass and ran it to the Bulldog 38. After making a first on the S. L. I. 27, however, LeBlanc dropped a Ray pass into the endzone, and on the next play Simmons intercepted a Ray toss to relieve the pressure.

Pensinger intercepted another Herron pass early in the second half, being downed on the Bulldog 29, but Northeast couldn't capitalize on the break, but after an exchange of punts the Tribe began moving again from their own 30.

"Dub" Rush, Bob Carter, Ed Plonsky, Ray and Cammelo Detoure shared in a six-first - down drive to the Bulldog eight. Detoure slipped through the line to the five as the period ended.

Rush got one yard at the middle to open the final period. Detoure rammed his way within one foot of paydirt, and on the next play Rush sliced off tackle to score. Francis Baker came in to boot the extra point, and it was Northeast's ball game.

Westrum, Giant Catcher, Fined For Clash With Ump

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Catcher Wes Westrum of the New York Giants today was fined $50 and suspended for three days as a result of his altercation with Umpire Al Barlick in a game against the Chicago Cubs here yesterday.

"Pushing the umpire" was the reason given in the telegram sent by Ford C. Frick, president of the National League.

The argument started when Barlick called Chicago base - runner Frankie Baumholtz safe in a close play at home plate in the first inning. Westrum was immediately ejected from the game.

Relay Scramble Tops Mat Show At Kallio's Tuesday

HARRELL, O'HARA TEAMED AGAINST WRIGHT, SARKEY

Villainous Matmen Seek Revenge For Last Week's Defeats Here

Another tag team match is on tap this week at Gus Kallio's Arena when Henry Harrell and Doran O'Hara team up for the third time against Rube Wright and his different partners, with Babe Sarkey holding down that position Tuesday night.

Harrell, world's light heavyweight champion from Vicksburg, Miss., won his match against Rube Wright last week by a fluke and Wright is laying down the challenge for this week's event, selecting Sarkey as his running mate.

All four matmen wrestled here last week in two different matches with Harrell and O'Hara both winning on flukes over the other two.

Harrell and Wright wrestled the main event here at that time, and Harrell pinned his opponent while his foot was tangled in the ropes, which was supposed to be discounted until the foot was untangled and both wrestlers were on their feet again. The referee, however, did not see the foot and counted Wright out, in the deciding fall of the evening.

Sarkey and O'Hara wrestled in the semi - final on the same bill and O'Hara won on almost as silly a decision as Harrell got. After being greatly hindered time and again by the referee, who couldn't seem to get out of his way and held him in position for a brutal beating by O'Hara, Sarkey became tired of it and threw both the wrestler and the referee out of the ring. He was promptly disqualified by the referee.

So it seems as if both teams are pretty evenly matched this week, with the losers last week teaming up to see if they can get a little revenge on the other pair. Wright has a month-long standing of brutality here, however, and Sarkey inclined a little along that line last week himself, so the fans will be rooting for the other team to win again this week. With the villians out for blood and Harrell and O'Hara being backed by the crowd, this week's event should be exciting enough to please the most discriminating of fans.

The main event will be a 90-minute time limit affair with two falls to win.

There will also be two one-fall preliminary matches between opponents on the different tag teams.

Jack Roberts, of Mississippi, will referee all three events.

FOOTBALL FANS of the Twin Cities will be better able to enjoy their games here this fall in keeping tabs on the time of each quarter as a result of the installation of electric clocks at Monroe's two gridirons, Brown Field on the campus of Northeast State College, and Neville High School stadium. The clocks and scoreboards, contributed by the Coca Cola Bottling Company here, are pictured above as Henry Biedenharn, Sr., vice president of the bottling company here, made the formal presentation to school officials. In the top photo is the Neville clock with, left to right, Assistant Principal George Riser, Superintendent J. M. Boyet, Biedenharn, Principal Paul J. Neal, and Coach Bill Ruple. The college clock is pictured next with those present being Coach James L. Malone, Superintendent Mack Avants of parish schools, Ouachita Principal I. C. Strickland(Dean Lewis C. ONE HITTER COPS EDGEMERE EVENT

Tea-Maker Comes Home First In Spinalong With Hill Prince Third

New York, Sept. 15. —(AP)— The Greentree stable's One Hitter won the $27,925 Edgemere Handicap today in a photo finish with them Hampton stable's Alerted. J. W. Nizlek's All At Once was third in the mile and one quarter event.

Ted Atkinson got One Hitter up in the final jumps after Alerted had pulled clear of the pace-setting All At Once about a sixteenth of a mile from the finish.

The winner was timed in 2:03 1-5 for his third stakes victory of the year. One Hitter paid $15.20, $6.50 and $5.10, and netted $18,900.

Hill Prince the 1950 American champion, made his 1951 debut in the preceding race, the Spinalong Handicap, and turned in a sparkling performance in the six furlong affair although finishing third to F. Ambrose Clark's Tea-Maker.

Second went to the Greentree stable's Northern Star.

Tea-Maker, ridden by Dave Gorman, was timed in 1:10 4-5 over a fast track, for his second victory in 14 starts this season.

The winner, an eight-year - old gelding, paid $7.40, $3.60 and $2.40.

Northern Star returned $3.20 and $2.20, and Hill Prince, owned by C. T. Chenery, returned $2.70. Hill Prince was injured at Santa Anita last winter, and has been on the sidelines since. He carried top weight of 128 pounds, with 121 on Tea-Maker, and 118 for Northern Star.

Northwestern's Demons Given Short Scrimmage

Natchitoches, La., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The football squad of Northwestern State College engaged in a short scrimmage this afternoon and then called off further practice until Monday afternoon.

Blocking, pass offense and signal drills were also on the afternoon program.

Northwestern will open its 1951 season next Saturday against Central Oklahoma State.

Cool Weather Helps Louisiana Tech In Work For Howard Payne Invasion

Bulldogs Engage Yellow Jackets Next Saturday At Brownwood, Tex.

Louisiana Tech's football players, aided by cooler weather, wound up a week of rough going Saturday as they continued drills for their opener with Howard Payne College at Brownwood, Tex., the night of September 22.

The Tech tutors still are bothered with weakness on offense and are faced with such problems as finding suitable replacements for last year's top two left halfbacks and the leading two right halfbacks.

Howard Payne's Yellow Jackets, playing their first game of the season against the Tech Bulldogs, will be girded to even the series of games with Tech which started in 1946. Since that year, the Techmen have won three and the Jackets two.

In 1946, the Bulldogs licked the Texans, 13-7. The next year the Yellow Jackets blanked the Techsters, 14-0. In 1948, Tec hretaliated with a 20-0 shut out over the Brownwood boys and in 1949 the Jackets eked out a 22-19 victory over the Bulldogs.

Last year at Ruston, the Techmen trounced the Howard Payne team by a score of 27-20.

Payne's year to even the count, Coach Aillet takes note of the fact that the Yellow Jackets' offense now is minus the services of a former star passer in the person of C. W. Davenport. It was Davenport's hurling in the 1949 and 1950 encountrs that left firm impressions upon the Techsters.

Offsetting that loss, however, is the fact that Howard Payne this year has a new coach, C. R. (Swede) Anderson, who likely will becloud the issue with a new bag of tricks, thus nullifying Tech's contemplated strategy based on past performances by the Jackets.

The Techmen will open their season with a comparateively light squad. The linemen average 185 pounds and the backs 169 pounds.

Bengals' Scrubs Rough On Varsity

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Louisiana State's varsity and scrub football teams battled on fairly even terms in a two-hour game-type scrimmage today.

The full-tilt affair, which took up the entire practice, teetered up and down the field. The varsity held a slight edge, but neither side's offense clicked for very long.

Only bright spots in the lacklustre drill were the running and blocking of Fullback Billy West, the heads-up quarterbacking of Jim Barton and the defensive line play of Moose Potter.

Barton also played safety on defense, for the first time, underscoring Coach Gaynell Tinsley's troubles at that post. With L.S.U.'s opener against Mississippi Southern only a week away, no player has cinched the berth.

Star Halfback Lee Hedges was still out with a pulled calf muscle. His understudy, LeRoy Labat, joined him today with a badly sprained elbow.

Winnsboro Squeezes Past Lake Providence In Opener, 12 To 8

Winnsboro, La., Sept. 15.—(Special) — The Winnsboro High School Wildcats, who edged out a strong Lake Providence eleven last night 12-8, are pointing toward Newellton High School next Friday night in this week's scrimmages.

Winnsboro's new head coach, Philip Poole, and Assistant Coach Orville Elkins were well pleased over last night's game, which was a thriller rom start to finish with Winnsboro making a touchdown in the first few minuted of play, and in the final minute of play Lake Providence had the ball and was trying hard for a TD which would have won the game for them. The Wildcats, however, were holding on hard and even after the officials, who must have acquired some of the fan's excitement, allowed the Panthers five downs, they did not allow the Panthers to score. The officials discovered the error after the fifth down and handed the ball into the Wildcats possession just as the whistle blew, ending the game.

Lake Providence received the opening kick - off on their own 13 and had to punt after gaining only six yards. Eugene Southern, Wildcat quarterback, caught the punt and handed it off to Steve Thompson who ran 60 yards for the touchdown. The extra point kick was no good. Then Tommie Davis broke through the right side of the Panther line for the second TD and although the kick was no good, the Wildcats ended the half 12 points ahead of the other team.

In the fourth quarter, the Panthers drove all the way to the Wildcats one-foot line, where they fumbled the ball. James McGraw recovered for Winnsboro, and on the next play Southern attempted a punt and stepped out of the end zone, giving the Panthers two points on a safety for their first score of the game.

The Panthers scored the final touchdown of the game,on a pass from Thrashman to Dalfum from the Wildcats 30-yard line. The kick for extra point was no good.

Winnsboro gained 72 yards from the line of scrimmage, made three first downs, tried four passes with none completed, and lost 40 yards on penalties, while Lake Providence gained 115 yards from the line of scrimmage, made eight first downs, and completed six passes out of 11 tries. They lost five yards on penalties.

START'S OWLS BOW TO DELHI

Defending District Class B Champions Score 31 To 0 Victory

Delhi, La., Sept. 15.—Special)—Delhi's Bears rolled over the Owls at Start Friday by a 31 to 0 score.

The 1950 Class B state runners-up gained 112 yards net on running plays and completed five passes out of eleven attempted for 102 yards. Start gained 35 yards running and completed two passes for 22 yards out of 14 attempts, three of which were intercepted by Delhi. Each team made four first downs.

Norman Derouen scored the first touchdown on a run from the Start eleven early in the first quarter and Milford Andrews kick for point was good.

Charles Wyly took an Andrews pass and scampered 27 yards for the second touchdown early in the second quarter. A few minutes later he ran a Start punt to the Owl 41 and on the next play circled left end and sprinted across the goal line.

With the ball on the Owl 30, Andrews passed to Derouen who went to the five and on the next play crashed center for the Bears fourth touchdown.

Pat Patterson, Bear fullback, intercepted a Start pass on the Owl 30 and ran it back to the three. Rudolph Dozier plowed through on the following play for the final score.

Alligators Upset Wyoming, 13 To 0

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Haywood Sullivan threw a slippery football just like it wasn't raining tonight to give Florida's Gators an upset 13-0 victory over Skyline Conference champion Wyoming.

Sullivan, the six-foot four inch quarterback, passed 24 yards to End Jim French for one touchdown and set up the other with a 35-yard toss to End Don Brown.

Wyoming's Cowboys, favored by one to 11 points, had the kind of weather they figured would help their single wing power attack. But they didn't reckon with Sullivan, who looked even better than in 1950.

Bossier City Makes Class AA Debute With 33 To 0 Victory Over Ouachita

Charles DeSadier Scores Four Touchdowns To Lead Bearcat Attack

Bossier City, Sept. 15 — (Special) — The Bossier City Bearcats rolled over the Ouachita Parish High School of Monroe here tonight in their first Class AA game of the season, 33 to 0.

Quarterback Milburn Barefield, Adair Cox, the Bearcat's left halfback, and Right Half Charles DeSadier was the strong triumvirate, scoring for Bossier City in all quarters.

In the first minutes the ame Ouachita was forced to kick, after ball was grabbed by DeSadier on the Ouachita 45-yard line and run back to the Ouachita nine. Three plays later DeSatier went over for the game's first touchdown.

Bossier City, trying almost no passes, piled up over 300 yards on running alone, while the Lions were unable to gain much ground either passing or kicking, although they were in scoring range at least one time.

Ouachita made their scoring bid in the third quarter when they reached the Bossier City nine-yard line, only to be set back and stopped on every down. Bossier took over on their own 13 - yard line, and DeSatier, on a hand-off from Barefield, ran 87 yards for a touchdown for Bossier.

Ouachita, whose inexperienced team committed several errors, fumbled the ball several times and were thrown for losses while trying to get a pass receiver in the clear more than once.

The strong Bossier City team seemed to have no trouble either scoring points are stopping a scoring bid by their rival. Cox could always be counted on to get the Bearcats out of a tight spot. cats should have kicked they allowed Cox to run the ball, and were never failed. Bossier City completed a total of 13 first downs during the game.

Actually the raging Bearcats racked up one more touchdown than they were credited with. In the first quarter of the game DeSadier, who scored four of Bossier City's five touchdowns, went over for another touchdown, moving the ball forward in short bursts after Bossier City received a Ouachita punt. There was a penalty on the play, however, and the ball was called back and given to Ouachita.

Barefield, who went over for one of Bossier City's scores, shined ostly on hand-offs either to Cox, who picked up a lot of yardage but failed to score, and DeSadier.

Benny Franklin and Frank Mobley were Ouachita's wheel - horses of the night, taking part in almost all of Ouachita's plays and gaining most of the 27 yards on the ground that they picked up.

Barefield, after successive runs by Cox and DeSaider, made his score on a one-yard quarterback sneak in the second quarter, and Jim Honeycutt, who kicked all the extra points fo the game, made the conversion.

Gene Muckleroy, playing in the fullback position for Ouachita, took up where Franklin and Mobley left off, goong through the middle usually for a gain f a few yards.

Score by quarters:

Scoring touchdowns — Bossier City, DeSadier (4), Barefield. Conversions — Honeycutt (3).

FERRIDAY DOWNS PRENTISS ELEVEN

Westbrook's Run - Back Of Punt In Last Period Brings 12-6 Win

Ferriday, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Linebacker Everett Westbrook took in a desperate goal line punt and raced 10 yards for a touchdown midway of the fourth quarter last night to give the Ferriday High School Bulldogs a 12 to 6 victory over Prentiss, Miss., to open the 1951 football season here.

Prentiss had scored in the first quarter and fought off Ferriday's threats successfully until late in the third when the Bulldogs took a Prentiss fumble on the 33 and moved to a touchdown that knotted the score.

Ferriday opened the game strong but the drive fizzled out on the Prentiss 22. The Mississippians took over and drove all the way to score with Shade Coulter sparking the march with a 30-yard run. A pass from Quarterback Pat Bullock to Halfback "Son" Spights was good for 31 yards and the score. The extra point try failed.

A Mississippi fumble, recovered by Duane Storm, gave the Bulldogs the break that tied the game. Getting possession of the fumble on the Prentiss 33, the Bulldogs hit paydirt when Quarterback "Red" McNew sneaked over from the one. Kick for the point failed, but Ferriday had tied the score.

Then the Bulldogs, going strong in the final period, inadvertently set up their winning tally when lost the ball on downs on te Pentiss one. Attempting the kickout, the Mississippi punte got off a wobbly punt despite a bad pass in the punt and ipped ove to scoe.

Ferriday goes to Lake Providence next Friday.

Crowville Trips Clarks, 28 To 0

Clarks, Sept. 15.—(Special) —The Crowville High School football team defeated the Clarks High School team here last night, 28 to 0.

In the first quarter of the game Buford Ashley, Crowville quarterback, ran 15 yards for the first touchdown to go ahead of Clarks, 7 to 0, at the end of the quarter.

Then, in the second quarter, Ashley got loose again and ran 60 yards for the second touchdown with Sikes again scoring the extra point, to put Crowville ahead by two touchdowns as the half came to a close.

Crowville's last two touchdowns came in the third quarter, with Sikes slugging through the middle for a toudhdown off the one-yard line and Tommy Moore making a 15-yard run for the final score. Marlon Guy and Sikes made the extra points.

Outstanding Crowville linemen were Billy Joe Laird, Cloyce Chowns, and James Lanier, while Pauley and Cristman, backs, and Stickland, a lineman, were Clark's most outstanding players.

Score by quarters:

Crowville	7	7	14	0	—28

MANGHAM OPENS AT WATERPROOF

Dragons Have Only Four Regulars Back, But Face Season Hopefully

Mangham, Sept. 15.—(Special)—The Mangham High School Dragons, who open their football season against Waterproof next Friday, begin their fourth week of practice Monday.

Coach Theo Jones, Dragon mentor, plans to use the last few sessions for polishing up the rough spots in his gridiron machine.

The 33-man squad, which includes only four regulars from last season, has showed surprising promise in the first three weeks of practice, Coach Jones described it as the lightest, but scrappiest, squad he has ever fielded.

"My boys are inexperienced," he said, "but they really want to play football." The local supporters, having witnessed some of the recent workouts, are inclined to agree with Coach Jones, and are enthusiastic about the team.

The Dragons have eight scheduled games this fall, and are seeking another to fill the open date, October 12.

Their football schedule is as follows:

Sept. 28—Sicily Island, here.
Oct. 5—Gilbert, here.
Oct. 12—Open.
Oct. 19—Delhi, there.
Oct. 26—Start, there.
Nov. 2—Wisner, here.
Nov 9—Crowville, here.
Nov. 16—Rayville, here.

Five Touchdowns Feature Rough Ole Miss Scrimmage

University, Miss., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The University of Mississippi football squad went through a rousing secrimmage today, with No. 1 offense vs. No. 1. defense and No. 2 offense vs. No. 2 defense.

Five touchdons ere made. Lea Parslay, Sardis, Miss., freshman halfback, ran 12 yards for a TD through the middle of the line. Jimmie Lear, Memphis, threw to touchdown passes, 35 and 45 yards to Harold Maxwell of Laurel. Rocky Byrd, Pascagoula, scored from the five. Harol Lofton, Brookhaven, threw a 22-yard pass to Dillard Wilson for a touchdown.

NORTHEAST REDSKINS UPSET S. L. I., 13 TO 7

RIBE DISPLAYS PLENTY POWER IN SURPRISE WIN

reg LeBlanc, Rush Score Touchdowns That Defeat Bulldogs

Lafayette, La., Sept. 15.—(Spe-al)—The Southeastern Louisiana stitute Bulldogs, an early season oice to be a front-runner in the ulf States Conference race, were cked back on their heels by a rprisingly strong Northeast State ollege team from Monroe here to-ght as the S.L.I. ELEVEN AB A 18 24 0 7 8 DEFEAT INOSRBB The Northeast Indians, engaging competition with a full slate of ur-year schools for the first time nce leaving the junior college nks, outrushed the Bulldogs all e way but had to fibht fro mbe-nd to win as they were trailing 3 going into the final period.

A 15-yard pass, Lloyd Ray to nd Greg LeBlanc, was good for e opening touchdown that sent e Indians haead early in the sec-d quarter, but the Bulldobs put an offensive show of their own efore the half was over with End harles Gaudin taking a touchdown ass from Quarterback Jack Her-n to tie up the game. Kenneth weeney's placekick gave S.L.I. e lead.

A 70-yard touchdown march, cli-axed by a short line plunge by . A. "Dub" Rush sewed up the me for the Indians, however, in e final period. Francis Baker cked the point, and the Redskins, ho meet Southeastern Louisiana Monroe next Saturday night, had ade their debut as a senior col-ge a very successful one.

The first downs were 14 to 8 favor of Northeast. The Indians shed for 245 yards and passed r 20. The Bulldogs got 122 yards shing and 89 passing.

Fumbles marred the early part the game, but Northeast final-found an offensive punch in e waning minutes of the initial eriod after downing a Billy Hig-nbo ham punt on their own 37. Bob Gunter rammed the line ree times for a first on the Bull-g 35. Bob Carter sliced through ft tackle for nine, and Lloyd ay made it a first on the 22. "Dub" ush got seven at right tackle as e quarter ended with the Indians possession of the S. L. I. 15. Carter hit guard for ten to open e second period for a first on e five. Rush was thrown for five-yard loss and a penalty gainst the Tribe put the ball ck on the Bulldog 15. Then Ray ifted back and fired a pass to reg LeBlanc in the endzone to ut the Monroe eleven ahead. 6 0. Boatright missed the kick r the point.

The Indians' audacity fired the ulldogs and they came storm-g back, driving 70 yards to pay-irt. Roy Simmons, Higginboth-m, and F. G. Mixon powered for vo firsts in a drive to the In-an 43. Higginbotham sliced off ckle to the Tribe 27. Kenne'h weeney whammed the line twice r a first on the 15. Herron then assed to Gaudin on the nine and e Bulldog end went the rest of e way to tie the score. Sweeney cked the point that put S. L. I. ead 7-6 at the half.

Midway of the second period the dians threatened again when ex Penzinger intercepted a Her-n pass and ran it to the Bulldog . After making a first on the S. . I. 27, however, LeBlanc ropped a Ray pass into the end-one, and on the next play Sim-ons intercepted a Ray toss to re-eve the pressure.

Pensinger intercepted another erron pass early in the second alf, being downed on the Bull-g 29, but Northeast couldn't cap-alize on the break, but after an xchange of punts the Tribe began oving again from their own 20. "Dub" Rush, Bob Carter, Ed lonsky, Ray and Cammelo De-oure shared in a six-first - down rive to the Bulldog eight. De-oure slipped through the line to e five as the period ended.

Rush got one yard at the middle open the final period. Detoure ammed his way within one foot paydirt, and on the next play ush sliced off tackle to score. rancis Baker came in to boot e extra point, and it was North-ast's ball game.

Westrum, Giant Catcher, Fined For Clash With Ump

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Catcher Wes Westrum of the New York Giants today was fined $50 and suspended for three days as a result of his altercation with Umpire Al Barlick in a game against the Chicago Cubs here yesterday.

"Pushing the umpire" was the reason given in the telegram sent by Ford C. Frick, president of the National League.

The argument started when Barlick called Chicago base - runner Frankie Baumholtz safe in a close play at home plate in the first inning. Westrum was immediately ejected from the game.

Relay Scramble Tops Mat Show At Kallio's Tuesday

HARRELL, O'HARA TEAMED AGAINST WRIGHT, SARKEY

Villainous Matmen Seek Revenge For Last Week's Defeats Here

Another tag team match is on tap this week at Gus Kallio's Arena when Henry Harrell and Doran O'Hara team up for the third time against Rube Wright and his different partners, with Babe Sarkey holding down that position Tuesday night.

Harrell, world's light heavyweight champion from Vicksburg, Miss., won his match against Rube Wright last week by a fluke and Wright is laying down the challenge for this week's event, selecting Sarkey as his running mate.

All four matmen wrestled here last week in two different matches with Harrell and O'Hara both winning on flukes over the other two.

Harrell and Wright wrestled the main event here at that time, and Harrell pinned his opponent while his foot was tangled in the ropes, which was supposed to be discounted until the foot was untangled and both wrestlers were on their feet again. The referee, however, did not see the foot and counted Wright out, in the deciding fall of the evening.

Sarkey and O'Hara wrestled in the semi - final on the same bill and O'Hara won on almost as silly a decision as Harrell got. After being greatly hindered time and again by the referee, who couldn't seem to get out of his way and held him in position for a brutal beating by O'Hara, Sarkey became tired of it and threw both the wrestler and the referee out of the ring. He was promptly disqualified by the referee.

So it seems as if both teams are pretty evenly matched this week, with the losers last week teaming up to see if they can get a little revenge on the other pair. Wright has a month-long standing of brutality here, however, and Sarkey inclined a little along that line last week himself, so the fans will be rooting for the other team to win again this week. With the villians out for blood and Harrell and O'Hara being backed by the crowd, this week's event should be exciting enough to please the most discriminating of fans.

The main event will be a 90-minute time limit affair with two falls to win.

There will also be two one-fall preliminary matches between opponents on the different tag teams.

Jack Roberts, of Mississippi, will referee all three events.

FOOTBALL FANS of the Twin Cities will be better able to enjoy their games here this fall in keeping tabs on the time of each quarter as a result of the installation of electric clocks at Monroe's two gridirons, Brown Field on the campus of Northeast State College, and Neville High School stadium. The clocks and scoreboards, contributed by the Coca Cola Bottling Company here, are pictured above as Henry Biedenharn, Sr., vice president of the bottling company here, made the formal presentation to school officials. In the top photo is the Neville clock with, left to right, Assistant Principal George Riser, Superintendent J. M. Boyst, Biedenharn, Principal Paul J. Neal, and Coach Bill Ruple. ONE HITTER COPS EDGEMERE EVENT

Tea-Maker Comes Home First In Spinalong With Hill Prince Third

New York, Sept. 15. —(AP)— The Greentree stable's One Hitter won the $27,925 Edgemere Handicap today in a photo finish with them Hampton stable's Alerted. J. W. Nizlek's All At Once was third in the mile and one quarter event.

Ted Atkinson got One Hitter up in the final jumps after Alerted had pulled clear of the pace-setting All At Once about a sixteenth of a mile from the finish.

The winner was timed in 2:03 1-5 for his third stakes victory of the year. One Hitter paid $15.20, $6.50 and $5.10, and netted $18,900.

Hill Prince the 1950 American champion, made his 1951 debut in the preceding race, the Spinalong Handicap, and turned in a sparkling performance in the six furlong affair although finishing third to F. Ambrose Clark's Tea-Maker.

Second went to the Greentree stable's Northern Star.

Tea-Maker, ridden by Dave Gorman, was timed in 1:10 4-5 over a fast track, for his second victory in 14 starts this season.

The winner, an eight-year - old gelding, paid $7.40, $3.60 and $2.40.

Northern Star returned $3.20 and $2.20, and Hill Prince, owned by C. T. Chenery, returned $2.70. Hill Prince was injured at Santa Anita last winter, and has been on the sidelines since. He carried top weight of 128 pounds, with 121 on Tea-Maker, and 118 for Northern Star.

Northwestern's Demons Given Short Scrimmage

Natchitoches, La., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The football squad of Northwestern State College engaged in a short scrimmage this afternoon and then called off further practice until Monday afternoon.

Blocking, pass offense and signal drills were also on the afternoon program.

Northwestern will open its 1951 season next Saturday against Central Oklahoma State.

Cool Weather Helps Louisiana Tech In Work For Howard Payne Invasion

Bulldogs Engage Yellow Jackets Next Saturday At Brownwood, Tex.

Louisiana Tech's football players, aided by cooler weather, wound up a week of rough going Saturday as they continued drills for their opener with Howard Payne College at Brownwood, Tex., the night of September 22.

The Tech tutors still are bothered with weakness on offense and are faced with such problems as finding suitable replacements for last year's top two left halfbacks and the leading two right halfbacks.

Howard Payne's Yellow Jackets, playing their first game of the season against the Tech Bulldogs, will be girded to even the series of games with Tech which started in 1946. Since that year, the Techmen have won three and the Jackets two.

In 1946, the Bulldogs licked the Texans, 13-7. The next year the Yellow Jackets blanked the Techsters, 14-0. In 1948, Tec hretaliated with a 20-0 shut out over the Brownwood boys and in 1949 the Jackets eked out a 22-19 victory over the Bulldogs.

Last year at Ruston, the Techmen trounced the Howard Payne team by a score of 27-20.

Payne's year to even the count, Coach Aillet takes note of the fact that the Yellow Jackets' offense now is minus the services of a former star passer in the person of C. W. Davenport. It was Davenport's hurling in the 1949 and 1950 encountrs that left firm impressions upon the Techsters.

Offsetting that loss, however, is the fact that Howard Payne this year has a new coach, C. R. (Swede) Anderson, who likely will becloud the issue with a new bag of tricks, thus nullifying Tech's contemplated strategy based on past performances by the Jackets.

The Techmen will open their season with a comparateively light squad. The linemen average 185 pounds and the backs 169 pounds.

Bengals' Scrubs Rough On Varsity

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Louisiana State's varsity and scrub football teams battled on fairly even terms in a two-hour game-type scrimmage today.

The full-tilt affair, which took up the entire practice, teetered up and down the field. The varsity held a slight edge, but neither side's offense clicked for very long.

Only bright spots in the lackluster drill were the running and blocking of Fullback Billy West, the heads-up quarterbacking of Jim Barton and the defensive line play of Moose Potter.

Barton also played safety on defense, for the first time, underscoring Coach Gaynell Tinsley's troubles at that post. With L.S.U.'s opener against Mississippi Southern only a week away, no player has cinched the berth.

Star Halfback Lee Hedges was still out with a pulled calf muscle. His understudy, LeRoy Labat, joined him today with a badly sprained elbow.

Winnsboro Squeezes Past Lake Providence In Opener, 12 To 8

Winnsboro, La., Sept. 15.—(Special) — The Winnsboro High School Wildcats, who edged out a strong Lake Providence eleven last night 12-8, are pointing toward Newellton High School next Friday night in this week's scrimmages.

Winnsboro's new head coach, Philip Poole, and Assistant Coach Orville Elkins were well pleased over last night's game, which was a thriller rom start to finish with Winnsboro making a touchdown in the first few minuted of play, and in the final minute of play Lake Providence had the ball and was trying hard for a TD which would have won the game for them. The Wildcats, however, were holding on hard and even after the officials, who must have acquired some of the fan's excitement, allowed the Panthers five downs, they did not allow the Panthers to score. The officials discovered the error after the fifth down and handed the ball into the Wildcats possession just as the whistle blew, ending the game.

Lake Providence received the opening kick - off on their own 13 and had to punt after gaining only six yards. Eugene Southern, Wildcat quarterback, caught the punt and handed it off to Steve Thompson who ran 60 yards for the touchdown. The extra point kick was no good. Then Tommie Davis broke through the right side of the Panther line for the second TD and although the kick was no good, the Wildcats ended the half 12 points ahead of the other team.

In the fourth quarter, the Panthers drove all the way to the Wildcats one-foot line, where they fumbled the ball. James McGraw recovered for Winnsboro, and on the next play Southern attempted a punt and stepped out of the end zone, giving the Panthers two points on a safety for their first score of the game.

The Panthers scored the final touchdown of the game,on a pass from Thrashman to Dalfum from the Wildcats 30-yard line. The kick for extra point was no good.

Winnsboro gained 72 yards from the line of scrimmage, made three first downs, tried four passes with none completed, and lost 40 yards on penalties, while Lake Providence gained 115 yards from the line of scrimmage, made eight first downs, and completed six passes out of 11 tries. They lost five yards on penalties.

START'S OWLS BOW TO DELHI

Defending District Class B Champions Score 31 To 0 Victory

Delhi, La., Sept. 15.—Special)—Delhi's Bears rolled over the Owls at Start Friday by a 31 to 0 score.

The 1950 Class B state runners-up gained 112 yards net on running plays and completed five passes out of eleven attempted for 101 yards. Start gained 35 yards running and completed two passes for 22 yards out of 14 attempts, three of which were intercepted by Delhi. Each team made four first downs.

Norman Derouen scored the first touchdown on a run from the Start eleven early in the first quarter and Milford Andrews kick for point was good.

Charles Wyly took an Andrews pass and scampered 27 yards for the second touchdown early in the second quarter. A few minutes later he ran a Start punt to the Owl 41 and on the next play circled left end and sprinted across the goal line.

With the ball on the Owl 30, Andrews passed to Derouen who went to the five and on the next play crashed center for the Bears fourth touchdown.

Pat Patterson, Bear fullback, intercepted a Start pass on the Owl 30 and ran it back to the three. Rudolph Dozier plowed through on the following play for the final score.

Alligators Upset Wyoming, 13 To 0

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Haywood Sullivan threw a slippery football just like it wasn't raining tonight to give Florida's Gators an upset 13-0 victory over Skyline Conference champion Wyoming.

Sullivan, the six-foot four inch quarterback, passed 24 yards to End Jim French for one touchdown and set up the other with a 35-yard toss to End Don Brown.

Wyoming's Cowboys, favored by one to 11 points, had the kind of weather they figured would help their single wing power attack. But they didn't reckon with Sullivan, who looked even better than in 1950.

Bossier City Makes Class AA Debute With 33 To 0 Victory Over Ouachita

Charles DeSadier Scores Four Touchdowns To Lead Bearcat Attack

Bossier City, Sept. 15 — (Special) — The Bossier City Bearcats rolled over the Ouachita Parish High School of Monroe here tonight in their first Class AA game of the season, 33 to 0.

Quarterback Milburn Barefield, Adair Cox, the Bearcat's left halfback, and Right Half Charles DeSadier was the strong triumvirate, scoring for Bossier City in all quarters.

In the first minutes the ame Ouachita was forced to kick, after ball was grabbed by DeSadier on the Ouachita 45-yard line and run back to the Ouachita nine. Three plays later DeSatier went over for the game's first touchdown.

Bossier City, trying almost no passes, piled up over 300 yards on running alone, while the Lions were unable to gain much ground either passing or kicking, although they were in scoring range at least one time.

Ouachita made their scoring bid in the third quarter when they reached the Bossier City nine-yard line, only to be set back and stopped on every down. Bossier took over on their own 13 - yard line, and DeSatier, on a hand-off from Barefield, ran 87 yards for a touchdown for Bossier.

Ouachita, whose inexperienced team committed several errors, fumbled the ball several times and were thrown for losses while trying to get a pass receiver in the clear more than once.

The strong Bossier City team seemed to have no trouble either scoring points are stopping a scoring bid by their rival. Cox could always be counted on to get the Bearcats out of a tight spot. cats should have kicked they allowed Cox to run the ball, and were never failed. Bossier City completed a total of 13 first downs during the game.

Actually the raging Bearcats racked up one more touchdown than they were credited with. In the first quarter of the game DeSadier, who scored four of Bossier City's five touchdowns, went over for another touchdown moving the ball forward in short bursts after Bossier City received a Ouachita punt. There was a penalty on the play, however and the ball was called back and given to Ouachita.

Barefield, who went over for one of Bossier City's scores, shined ostly on hand-offs either to Cox who picked up a lot of yardage but failed to score, and DeSadier.

Benny Franklin and Frank Mobley were Ouachita's wheel - horse of the night, taking part in almost all of Ouachita's plays and gaining most of the 27 yards on the ground that they picked up.

Barefield, after successive runs by Cox and DeSaider, made his score on a one-yard quarterback sneak in the second quarter, and Jim Honeycutt, who kicked all the extra points fo the game, made the conversion.

Gene Muckleroy, playing in the fullback position for Ouachita took up where Franklin and Mobley left off, goong through the middle usually for a gain f a few yards.

Score by quarters:

Scoring touchdowns — Bossier City, DeSadier (4), Barefield. Conversions — Honeycutt (3).

FERRIDAY DOWNS PRENTISS ELEVEN

Westbrook's Run - Back Of Punt In Last Period Brings 12-6 Win

Ferriday, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Linebacker Everett Westbrook took in a desperate goal line punt and raced 10 yards for a touchdown midway of the fourth quarter last night to give the Ferriday High School Bulldogs a 12 to 6 victory over Prentiss, Miss., to open the 1951 football season here.

Prentiss had scored in the first quarter and fought off Ferriday's threats successfully until late in the third when the Bulldogs took a Prentiss fumble on the 33 and moved to a touchdown that knotted the score.

Ferriday opened the game strong but the drive fizzled out on the Prentiss 22. The Mississippians took over and drove all the way to score with Shade Coulter sparking the march with a 30-yard run. A pass from Quarterback Pat Bullock to Halfback "Son" Spights was good for 31 yards and the score. The extra point try failed.

A Mississippi fumble, recovered by Duane Storm, gave the Bulldogs the break that tied the game. Getting possession of the fumble on the Prentiss 33, the Bulldogs hit paydirt when Quarterback "Red" McNew sneaked over from the one. Kick for the point failed, but Ferriday had tied the score.

Then the Bulldogs, going strong in the final period, inadvertently set up their winning tally when lost the ball on downs on te Pentiss one. Attempting the kickout, the Mississippi punte got off a wobbly punt despite a bad pass in the punt and ipped ove to scoe.

Ferriday goes to Lake Providence next Friday.

Crowville Trims Clarks, 28 To 0

Clarks, Sept. 15.—(Special) —The Crowville High School football team defeated the Clarks High School team here last night, 28 to 0.

In the first quarter of the game Buford Ashley, Crowville quarterback, ran 15 yards for the first touchdown of the game, and Lewis Ray Sikes kicked the extra point to go ahead of Clarks, 7 to 0, at the end of the quarter.

Then, in the second quarter, Ashley got loose again and ran 60 yards for the second touchdown with Sikes again scoring the extra point, to put Crowville ahead by two touchdowns as the half came to a close.

Crowville's last two touchdowns came in the third quarter, with Sikes slugging through the middle for a toudhdown off the one-yard line and Tommy Moore making a 15-yard run for the final score. Marion Guy and Sikes made the extra points.

Outstanding Crowville linemen were Billy Joe Laird, Cloyce Chowns, and James Lanier, while Pauley and Cristman, backs, and Stickland, a lineman, were Clark's most outstanding players.

Score by quarters:

MANGHAM OPENS AT WATERPROOF

Dragons Have Only Fou Regulars Back, But Face Season Hopefully

Mangham, Sept. 15.—(Special)—The Mangham High School Dragons, who open their football season aainst Waterproof next Friday, begin their fourth week of practice Monday.

Coach Theo Jones, Dragon mentor, plans to use the last few sessions for polishing up the rough spots in his gridiron machine.

The 33-man squad, which includes only four regulars from last season, has showed surprising promise in the first three weeks of practice. Coach Jones describes it as the lightest, but scrappiest squad he has ever fielded.

"My boys are inexperienced," he said, "but they really want to play football." The local supporters, having witnessed some of the recent workouts, are inclined to agree with Coach Jones, and are enthusiastic about the team.

The Dragons have eight scheduled games this fall, and are seeking another to fill the open date, October 12.

Their football schedule is as follows:

Sept. 21—Waterproof, there.
Sept. 28—Sicily Island, here.
Oct. 5—Gilbert, here.
Oct. 12—Open.
Oct. 19—Delhi, there.
Oct. 26—Start, there.
Nov. 2—Wisner, here.
Nov 9—Crowville, here.
Nov. 16—Rayville, here.

TIGERS CHECK YANKS; TRIBE, SENATORS SPLIT

4 HOMERS HELP BENGALS SCORE 7 TO 4 VICTORY

Cleveland Wins Opener With Nats, 4-2, But Drops Second, 7-6

New York, Sept. 15.—(AP)— The Detroit Tigers tossed a monkey wrench into New York's pennant drive today, smashing four home runs to defeat the Yankees. 7 to 4.

The defeat left the Yankees one game back of the front-running Cleveland Indians who divided a twin bill with the Washington Senators.

Vic Wertz caused the Yanks the most grief. The slugging Tiger right fielder drove home four runs on a pair of homers Former Yank Dick Kryhoski and starting Pitcher Marlin Stuart also homered for the Tigers.

Johnny Sain was the victim of the vicious Tiger bombardment. Sain worked the first six innings and yielded six runs. The loss was Sain's first in three decisions since his arrival from the Boston Braves.

Stuart, beaten five straight times, was relieved by Dizzy Trout in the fifth after the Yanks had threatened to get back into the game. The Yanks scored a run on four walks with two out before Trout came in and stamped out the rally by getting Yogi Berra to ground out with the bases loaded. Berra won yesterday's game with a grand slam homer.

A'S NUDGE CHISOX

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Eddie Joost's single—his only hit of the game—off reliever Harry Dorish scored pinch - runner Bobby Shantz with the winning run in the 12th inning to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 5 to 4 victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

Chicago had been ahead all the way until Dave Philley came up in the ninth inning and slammed a home run to send the game into extra innings. Gus Zernial accounted for the A's first three runs when he hit his 31st homer of the season in the sixth with two mates aboard.

BROWNS STOP BOSOX

Boston, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The last-place St. Louis Browns checked the Boston Red Sox' pennant drive today by pulling out a 3-2 victory over righthander Duane Pillette. Rookie Bob Nieman, who celebrated his major league debut yesterday with two consecutive homers, singled in the Brownies' winning run.

The Browns combined three of their six hits with two bases on balls to score all of their runs at southpaw Chuck Stobbs' expense in the eighth inning.

Maxwell Beats Gagliardi In National Amateur Finals

TEXAS COLLEGE STAR CHALKS UP 4 AND 3 VICTORY

Becomes Youngest To Win Crown Since Bobby Jones In 1924

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Billy Maxwell, poker - faced, 22-year - old college boy from Odessa, Tex., chopped down giant-killer Joe Gagliardi with a relentless streak of par golf today and became the youngest player since the great Bobby Jones to win the United States Amateur championship.

The stocky, imperturbable redhead, deadly with his irons, defeated the 39-year - old Mamaroneck, N. Y., barrister and father of five children, 4 and 3, in their 36 - hole finals over the atersoaked Saucon Valley course.

Jones was the same age — 22— when he won the first of his five amateur titles at Merion in 1924, but the youngest man to capture this championship was Robert Gardner, who did it at 19 in 1909.

Today's battle of "unknowns," which was expected to produce mediocre golf, turned instead into a terrific battle of birdies, with bringing gasps from the crod of more than 5,000.

When Maxwell, the first Texan to take the crown, closed out the mild - mannered lawyer on the 33rd hole, he was even par for the day over the 6,979 - yard, par 71 layout, which played long and heavy from yesterday's torrential rain.

Through 149 holes of match play covering seven matches, the tight-lipped Texan was only eight lipped Texan as only eight strokes over par, by far the best individual showing of the tournament.

Gagliardi played the finals loaded with medicine to alleviate the pain of a stabbing tooth -ache. He had three abscesses in his mouth lanced Thursday and another cut open last night.

His doctor said the pain as so severe the Westchester count attorney hadn't eaten a square meal in three days and got little sleep last night. He was given sedatives. He gulped down aspirins before teeing off this morning.

However, Gagliardi's tooth - ache apparently had little to do with the outcome of the match since Maswell played almost unbeatable golf.

The North Texas State student, hungery with his approaches, straight ith his drives and pinmoved over Saucon Valley like a well - oiled machine — bringing natural compraisors with Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson of his Lone Star state.

He had only one noticeable letdown. That in the middle of the afternoon around when he went over par on the 25th, 26th and 27th holes, three - putting the last to.

With his advantage cut from five to three holes as a result of this laxity, it appeared the old man might make a comeback. But Maxell recied off six straight pars, a pace Gagliardi couldn't match.

Gagliardi, conqueror of defending champion Sam Urzetta and former champion Charlie Coe in his surprising march to the finals, scrambled magnificently during the morning round to go to lunch only two down, although Maxwell was one-under - par for the 18 holes.

5-WAY DEADLOCK IN M'GUIRE MEET

Smith, Passman, Prophit, Green, Buce Playoff For Blind Bogey Award

A five-way tie for the lead in a McGuire Park Golf Club blind bogey tourney will be played off this week, and a party for club membership is scheduled for Wednesday night at the West Monroe club.

McGuire Park's course is in excellent condition, thanks to rains of the week plus the hard work of the club's new Pro Tilden Austin, who has been spending plenty of time seeing to it that his nine-hole layout is kept in tip-top shape.

Playing off the blind bogey event during the week will be Jack Smith, Stanley Passman, Girado Prophit, Jimmy Green and Ray Buce.

John Kelso Sr. won the high net award and "Bo" Moses and Dickie Touchstone tied for low net in the event the past week.

Pro Austin last night said McGuire Park's club championship tournament will be held soon, the date yet to be fixed.

Play over the McGuire course has become popular in the last few weeks with exceptionally large crowds touring the links over the week ends.

Greenies Handed Long Scrimmage

New Orleans, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Scrimmage of two hours duration occupied Tulane's Green Wave this afternoon as Coach Henry Frnka's crew wound up its second week of work.

The top offensive and defensive teams tied up in the first hour of the workout before Frnka began substituting freely in the closing half hour of the session.

Stubby Ronnie Kent, the 195-pound fullback from New Orleans, who is Frnka's only experienced offensive back returning, stole the yard gains. But the biggest che of the afternoon sounded when Quarterback Fred Dempsey of Chicago sprinted for one touchdown from 15 yards out.

Frnka's warning earlier this year that only running quarterbacks would be utilized seemed borne out during the afternoon. And all three candidates proved able runners.

In the line Soohomore Guard George Cummins, a 240-pounder from New Orleans, broke through on defense on numerous occasions. His play along with that of Tackle Ed Petroski of Sunderland, Mass., highlighted work in the line.

WOMEN'S EVENT KILLED AT HODGE

Annual Tournament Scheduled At Advance Club Next Sunday

Hodge, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Sunday, Sept. 23, the first day of autumn, is the date selected annual ladies' golf tournament at the Advance Golf Club, according to Mrs. Paul Bourg and Mrs. Pierce Finton, tournament chairmen. Some of the finest women golfers in Louisiana and Arkansas are expected to be on hand for this affair, as has been the case in the past.

Mrs. Bourg also announced with understandable pride, that she had secured Mr. Gordon Perrin of El Dorado, Ark., as starter for the tourney. Mr. Perrin has 14 years experience handling golf tournaments and his recognized success is attributed largely to his undeviating and impartial rulings for all players. He has been present as a spectator at two of the three previous advance tournaments, all of which his wife, Mrs. Mary Perrin, won.

Mrs. Perrin, defending champion, has already stated that she will be present to look after her title, and there are several of the best women golfers in Louisiana expectedto be here to try to send her back without it.

The advance course is in fine condition since the recent rains and is expected to continue toimprove between now and tournament time. Qualifying rounds consisting of 18 holes, started today, and those trying for the championship flight will be required to qulaify on the advance course. Anyone not expecting to make the championship flight may play their qualifying round on their home course.

Stormy Cloud In Record Run To Take Marchbank

San Bruno, Calif., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Stormy Cloud, a former claimer from the Californai county fair circuit came from far back today to win the $10,000 added Marchbank Handicap at Tanforna.

The five - year - old gelding by Battledore, ridden by Henry Moreno, 112, scored a photo finish nose decision over Akimbo, highweighted at 120 pounds. The time of 1:43 4-5 set a new track record for the mile and sixteenth.

Blue Cloth, with Ray Rork up at 107, finished third.

The victory was worth $6,000. The winner, owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Phillips of Los Angeles, and his running mate, Star Fiddle, closed as the favorite, and apid $7.40,$3 .90 and $3.40.

Akimbo returned $5.20 and $4.20 and Blue Cloth $5.60.

OAK GROVE COPS CONFERENCE TILT

Tigers Defeat Farmerville High, 24-13, In Class A Battle

Oak Grove, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—In a northeast district Class A football contest here last night the Oak Grove Tigers took a 24-13 victory from the visiting Farmerville High School Farmers. The game was characterized by a sorry Oak Grove offense, brilliant at times, as excellent blocking set up long runs, but ragged through most of the game. Farmervilleheld a rugged unbalanced line defense.

Oak Grove opened the scoring in the second period when Quarterback Jess Smith, on a delayed spin buck, scored from the 10. The drive began when Farmer Back P. Nolans put went out of bounds on the Farmerville 35. Fullback Jim Posey gained one over center. Smith picked up 12 yards on a right end sweep and a pass to End Herbert Manley netted 12 yards to set up the score.

The Tigers struck quick for the recovered a Farmer fumble on the kickoff; Halfback Cookie Moreau gained three; Smith picked up 17 on a delayed spin buck; a 15-yard penalty against Farmerville, and Smith passed to End Earl Bradley for 12 yards and the touchdown.

In the third period, Farmerville, with Halfback Ramsey and Fullback Nolan doing the honors, drove for their first marker; Nolan scoring from the four on a line plunge.

Oak Grove retaliated late in the third on a drive from their 43 that ended with Halfback Kelly Nix scoring over tackle from the two. A Farmer pass, Ramsey to Baxter, netted 30 yards, but the visitors bogged down on the Tiger 30.

For Oak Grove, Moreau went 29 yards on an end sweep, Smith collected 15 yards on a center spin buck, and after two unsuccessful passes, Smith cut around end, reversed his field and romped 15 yards to the end zone.

Farmerville's other touchdown came following a drive aided b ya 15-yard penalty against Oak Grove for illegal use of the hands. Quarterback Tucker scored from the half-yard line on a center plunge. Nolan's kick for th point was good.

TIGERS CHECK YANKS; TRIBE, SENATORS SPLIT

4 HOMERS HELP BENGALS SCORE 7 TO 4 VICTORY

Cleveland Wins Opener With Nats, 4-2, But Drops Second, 7-6

New York, Sept. 15.—(AP)— The Detroit Tigers tossed a monkey wrench into New York's pennant drive today, smashing four home runs to defeat the Yankees, 7 to 4.

The defeat left the Yankees one game back of the front-running Cleveland Indians who divided a twin bill with the Washington Sentors.

Vic Wertz caused the Yanks the most grief. The slugging Tiger right fielder drove home four runs on a pair of homers. Former Yank Dick Kryhoski and starting Pitcher Marlin Stuart also homered for the Tigers.

Johnny Sain was the victim of the vicious Tiger bombardment. Sain worked the first six innings and yielded six runs. The loss was Sain's first in three decisions since his arrival from the Boston Braves.

Stuart, beaten five straight times, was relieved by Dizzy Trout in the fifth after the Yanks had threatened to get back into the game. The Yanks scored a run on four walks with two out before Trout came in and stamped out the rally by getting Yogi Berra to ground out with the bases loaded. Berra won yesterday's game with a grand slam homer.

BROWNS STOP BOSOX

Boston, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The last- place St. Louis Browns checked the Boston Red Sox' pennant drive today by pulling out a 3-2 victory over righthander Duane Pillette. Bob Nieman, who celebrated his major league debut yesterday with two consecutive homers, singled in the Brownies' winning run.

The Browns combined three of their six hits with two bases on balls to score all of their runs at southpaw Chuck Stobbs' expense in the eighth inning.

Maxwell Beats Gagliardi In National Amateur Finals

Becomes Youngest To Win Crown Since Bobby Jones In 1924

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 15.—(AP)— Billy Maxwell, poker - faced, 22-year - old college boy from Odessa, Tex., chopped down giant-killer Joe Gagliardi with a relentless streak of par golf today and became the youngest player since the great Bobby Jones to win the United States Amateur championship.

The stocky, imperturbable redhead, deadly with his irons, defeated the 39-year - old Mamaroneck, N. Y., barrister and father of five children, 4 and 3, in their 36 - hole finals over the ater-soaked Saucon Valley course.

Jones was the same age — 22— when he won the first of his five amateur titles at Merion in 1924, but the youngest man to capture this championship was Robert Gardner, who did it at 19 in 1909.

Today's battle of "unknowns," which was expected to produce mediocre golf, turned instead into a terrific battle of birdies, with bringing gasps from the crod of more than 5,000.

When Maxwell, the first Texan to take the crown, closed out the mild - mannered lawyer on the 33rd hole, he was even par for the day over the 6,979 - yard, par 71 layout, which played long and heavy from yesterday's torrential rain.

Through 149 holes of match play covering seven matches, the tight-lipped Texan was only eight strokes over par, by far the best individual showing of the tournament.

Gagliardi played the finals loaded with medicine to alleviate the pain of a stabbing tooth -ache. He had three abscesses in his mouth lanced Thursday and another cut open last night.

His doctor said the pain as so severe the Westchester count attorney hadn't eaten a square meal in three days and got little sleep last night. He was given sedatives. He gulped down aspirins before teeing off this morning.

However, Gagliardi's tooth - ache apparently had little to do with the outcome of the match since Maswell played almost unbeatable golf.

The North Texas State student, hungery with his approaches, straight ith his drives and pinmoved over Saucon Valley like a well - oiled machine — bringing natural compraisors with Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson of his Lone Star state.

He had only one noticeable letdown. That in the middle of the afternoon around when he went over par on the 25th, 26th and 27th holes, three - putting the last to.

With his advantage cut from five to three holes as a result of this laxity, it appeared the old man might make a comeback. But Maxell reeled off six straight pars, a pace Gagliardi couldn't match.

Gagliardi, conqueror of defending champion Sam Urzetta and former champion Charlie Coe in his surprising march to the finals, scrambled magnificently during the morning round to go to lunch only two down, although Maxwell was one-under - par for the 18 holes.

5-WAY DEADLOCK IN M'GUIRE MEET

Smith, Passman, Prophit, Green, Buce Playoff For Blind Bogey Award

A five-way tie for the lead in a McGuire Park Golf Club blind bogey tourney will be played off this week, and a party for club membership is scheduled for Wednesday night at the West Monroe club.

McGuire Park's course is in excellent condition, thanks to rains of the week plus the hard work of the club's new Pro Tilden Austin, who has been spending plenty of time seeing to it that his nine-hole layout is kept in tip-top shape.

Playing off the blind bogey event during the week will be Jack Smith, Stanley Passman, Girado Prophit, Jimmy Green and Ray Buce.

John Kelso Sr. won the high net award and "Bo" Moses and Dickie Touchstone tied for low net in the event the past week.

Pro Austin last night said McGuire Park's club championship tournament will be held soon, the date yet to be fixed.

Play over the McGuire course has become popular in the last few weeks with exceptionally large crowds touring the links over the week ends.

Greenies Handed Long Scrimmage

New Orleans, Sept. 15.—(AP)— Scrimmage of two hours duration occupied Tulane's Green Wave this afternoon as Coach Henry Frnka's crew wound up its second week of work.

The top offensive and defensive teams tied up in the first hour of the workout before Frnka began substituting freely in the closing half hour of the session.

Stubby Ronnie Kent, the 195-pound fullback from New Orleans, who is Frnka's only experienced offensive back returning, stole the yard gains. But the biggest che of the afternoon sounded when Quarterback Fred Dempsey of Chicago sprinted for one touchdown from 15 yards out.

Frnka's warning earlier this year that only running quarterbacks would be utilized seemed borne out during the afternoon. And all three candidates proved able runners.

In the line Sophomore Guard George Cummins, a 240-pounder from New Orleans, broke through on defense on numerous occasions. His play along with that of Tackle Ed Petroski of Sunderland, Mass., highlighted work in the line.

WOMEN'S EVENT KILLED AT HODGE

Annual Tournament Scheduled At Advance Club Next Sunday

Hodge, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—Sunday, Sept. 23, the first day of autumn, is the date selected annual ladies' golf tournament at the Advance Golf Club, according to Mrs. Paul Bourg and Mrs. Pierce Finton, tournament chairmen. Some of the finest women golfers in Louisiana and Arkansas are expected to be on hand for this affair, as has been the case in the past.

Mrs. Bourg also announced with understandable pride, that she had secured Mr. Gordon Perrin of El Dorado, Ark., as starter for the tourney. Mr. Perrin has 14 years experience handling golf tournaments and his recognized success is attributed largely to his undeviating and impartial rulings for all players. He has been present as a spectator at two of the three previous advance tournaments, all of which his wife, Mrs. Mary Perrin, won.

Mrs. Perrin, defending champion, has already stated that she will be present to look after her title, and there are several of the best women golfers in Louisiana expectedto be here to try to send her back without it.

The advance course is in fine condition since the recent rains and is expected to continue toimprove between now and tournament time. Qualifying rounds consisting of 18 holes, started today, and those trying for the championship flight will be required to qulaify on the advance course. Anyone not expecting to make the championship flight may play their qualifying round on their home course.

Stormy Cloud In Record Run To Take Marchbank

San Bruno, Calif., Sept. 15.—(AP)— Stormy Cloud, a former claimer from the Californai county fair circuit came from far back today to win the $10,000 added Marchbank Handicap at Tanforna.

The five - year - old gelding by Battledore, ridden by Henry Moreno, 112, scored a photo finish nose decision over Akimbo, highweighted at 120 pounds. The time of 1:43 4-5 set a new track record for the mile and sixteenth.

Blue Cloth, with Ray Rork up at 107, finished third.

The victory was worth $6,000. The winner, owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Phillips of Los Angeles, and his running mate, Star Fiddle, closed as the favorite, and apid $7.40,$3 .90 and $3.40.

Akimbo returned $5.20 and $4.20 and Blue Cloth $5.60.

The old track record, 1:43, was set by Special Agent March 14, 1946. The attendance was 18,335.

OAK GROVE COPS CONFERENCE TILT

Tigers Defeat Farmerville High, 24-13, In Class A Battle

Oak Grove, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)—In a northeast district Class A football contest here last night the Oak Greve Tigers took a 24-13 victory from the visiting Farmerville High School Farmers. The game was characterized by a sorry Oak Grove offense, brilliant at times, as excellent blocking set up long runs, but ragged through most of the game. Farmervilleheld a rugged unbalanced line defense.

Oak Grove opened the scoring in the second period when Quarterback Jess Smith, on a delayed spin buck, scored from the 10. The drive began when Farmer Back P. Nolans put went out of bounds on the Farmerville 35. Fullback Jim Posey gained one over center. Smith picked up 12 yards on a right end sweep and a pass to End Herbert Manley netted 12 yards to set up the score.

The Tigers struck quick for the recovered a Farmer fumble on the kickoff; Halfback Cookie Moreau gained three; Smith picked up 17 on a delayed spin buck; a 15-yard penalty against Farmerville, and Smith passed to End Earl Bradley for 12 yards and the touchdown.

In the third period, Farmerville, with Halfback Ramsey and Fullback Nolan doing the honors, drove for their first marker; Nolan scoring from the four on a line plunge.

Oak Grove retaliated late in the third on a drive from their 43 that ended with Halfback Kelly Nix scoring over tackle from the two. A Farmer pass, Ramsey to Baxter, netted 30 yards, but the visitors bogged down on the Tiger 30.

For Oak Grove, Moreau went 29 yards on an end sweep, Smith collected 15 yards on a center spin buck, and after two unsuccessful passes, Smith cut around end, reversed his field and romped 15 yards to the end zone.

Farmerville's other touchdown came following a drive aided b ya 15-yard penalty against Oak Grove for illegal use of the hands. Quarterback Tucker scored from the half-yard line on a center plunge. Nolan's kick for th point was good.

MERSON SPARKS BUCS TO 11 TO 4 WIN OVER BUMS

Giants Improve Second Place Position With 5-2 Victory Over Cubs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Rookie second - baseman John Merson drove in six runs with four hits today to spark the tail - end Pittsburgh Pirates to an 11-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers and cut Brooklyn's National League lead to five games.

Merson, recently recalled from Indianapolis of the American Association, contributed a triple and three singles to a 15-hit Pirate attack which drove Ralph Branca from the mound after three innings and cost him his eighth defeat of the year. He's won 13. Mel Queen gained his sixth win against nine losses.

A crowd of 11,098 saw the Pirates take their 12th win from the Dodgers against only 10 losses to gain the best final season record in the league over the Bums.

Duke Snider hit his 29th homer for the Dodgers in the first inning and Jackie Robinson came through with his 17th in the fifth. Frank Thomas smashed his second home run for the Pirates in the eighth during a four - run rally which sewed up the game.

HEAFNER IN LEAD WITH MIDDLECOFF

North Carolina Heavyweight, Memphis Dentist Head Eastern Open

Baltimore, Sept. 15. —(AP)— Dr. Cary Middlecoff came blazing in late today with a red hot putter to shoot four-under - par 68 and tie Clayton Heafner for the halfway lead of the Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

The golfing dentist from Memphis and the 225-pound Heafner from Charlotte, N.C. were even at 139 in the 72-hole tourney winding up Sunday with 36 holes.

A stroke behind the two leaders came little Jerry Barber of Pasadena, Calif., who had a 69 on his second go-round. Three were tied for third at 141, including Al Smith of Danville, Va., who slipped from his first round first-place score of 67 to 74.

Smith took 37 putts compared to his opening 30 in going two over par. Tied with him are Andy Gibson of Towson with 69-72 and Ralph Lomeli of Fresno, Calif., with 72-69.

Only 10 of the field of 132 were able to break par on the second round compared to 16 on Thursday. As Lloyd Mangrum, the defending champion who fell back with 75 for a 146 total, said the "water made the 6,895-yard course longer."

The heavy rain yesterday had postponed the second round. The 65 low scorers, up to 152, qualified for tomorrow's double round.

The second round leaders:

Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, 71-68—139.

Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N.C. 69-70—139.

Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif., 71-69—140.

Ralph Lomeli, Fresno, Calif., 72-69—141.

Al Smith, Danville, Va., 67-74-141.

Andy Gibson, Towson, Md., 69-72—141.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N.Y., 72-71—143.

Larry Glosser, Mamaroneck, N.Y., 72-71—143.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., 70-74—144.

Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N.Y., 71-73—144.

Fred Hawkins, El Paso, 71-73—144.

Wally Ulrich, St. Paul, Minn., 71-73—144.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., 74-70—144.

Chuck Klein, San Antonio, 71-73—144.

Kentucky Mauls Tennessee Tech By 72-13 Margin

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 15. —(AP)— Kentucky employed the deadly passing of Vito (Babe) Parilli and the down-the - middle bursts of Bill Leskovar to grind out a 72-13 football victory over Tennessee Tech here today.

Warming up for bigger things to come — starting with Texas next week — Kentucky used the season opener mainly to give its sophomores and freshment experience.

The 26,000 fans, basking in sunny, 76 - degree weather, saw the unveiling of loping Harold Gruner, a Louisville sophomore halfback; Max Mason, a yearling halfbackfrom Rockmart, Ga., and Bob Hardy, a yearling quarterback from Paducah, Ky.

Tech's threats in the main were packed in two long, thrilling passes from freshman Quarterback Jack Van Hooser to End Eddie Scott.

One covered 58 yards, the other 68, in accounting for the Tenness ans' scoring.

Parilli connected on his first six passes and consumed 115 yards in the process in just ten minutes. He pitched Kentucky to a touchdown in three plays that covered 65 yards and the rout was in the making.

He hit Jim Proffitt for 14, Ed Hamilton for 18 and arched one 35 yards to Harry Jones in the end zone, and it was 6-0, after a minute and 23 seconds.

The Kentucky Babe fired a total of 16 times and hit on 11 of his throws, to account for 175 yards. He heaved for two touchdowns.

Tenn. Tech	0	0	6	7	—13
Kentucky	19	20	13	20	—72

Tennessee Tech scoring — touchdowns, Scott (2); point after touchdown — Holloway.

Kentucky scoring — touchdowns Harry Jones (2), Clark, Hamilton, Larry Jones, Farley, Gruner (2), Hardy, Felch, Hunt. Points after touchdown — H. Jones (4), Donaldson, Farley.

Houtteman, Tiger Pitching Ace, Gets Army Discharge

Camp Pickett, Va., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Art Houtteman, star pitcher last season for the Detroit Tigers, as discharged from the army today. He as given a medical discharge.

Houtteman left immediately by automobile to join his wife and three-week - old daughter at her home in Rahay, N. J.

The hurler was discharger from the army because of lingering effects of a brain injury received in an automobile accident at Lakeland, Fla., in the spring of 1949. He recovered to win 15 games for the Bengals that year and chalked up 19 triumphs during 1950.

Houtteman said he didn't plan to do any pitching the rest of the current season.

Municipal Continues Qualifying For Twin City Championship Tournament

Test Flights End Friday; Match Play Begins Next Saturday

Qualifying for the Twin City Golf Tournament moved slow through the past week but is expected to gather steam this week as players have until next Friday evening to post their qualifying scores for the Municipal Golf Club show here

Earl y qualifiers, however, are J. N. Reynolds 85. C. G. Marechal 85, A. J. Brownlee 92, W. B. House 102, J. B. Washburn 102, E. D. Smith 103, and Fred Brownlee 104.

Tournament play is due to begin next Saturday.

Club Pro H. A Britt last night said two matches will be played during the week beginning Saturday and running through the following Friday, September 28.

One round will be played the week of September 30 to October 6, and the championship final is scheduled for Sunday, October 7, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Pro Britt last night said awards will be offered for winners in all flights in addition to a trophy to be presented the winner of the championship flight.

The Twin Cities Championship was last played in the late 1903s, but is being revived in Britt's program to build up the golf presentations of the club he took over a little more than a year ago.

Historic St. Leger Won By Talma 11

Doncaster, England, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Marcel Boussac's Talma II, making only its third start, won the St. Leger Stakes today by 10 lengths, one of the longest margins in the 166 years of the race.

Thousands of pounds in late bets cut the price on the nervous French three - year-old from 100 to 6 at noon to 7 to 1 at post time three hours later. Odds in the tote dropped down to just over 6 to 1.

And it was money in the bank for the gamblers who got the late word. Talma II took over after six and a half furlongs and the only questions to be answered in the last mile were which horses would finish second and third in the last of Britain's 1951 classics.

Fraise Du Bois II, owned by the wife of the Aga Khan, came on in the final furlong to take second with Peter Bartholomew's Medway third. They went off at 15 to 2 and 40 to 1 odds respectively.

Bucks' Fullback Suspended For Part In Barroom Brawl

Columbus, O., Sept. 15. —(AP)— Ohio State's football prospects were darkened today as the Bucks lost their first string fullback as the result of a barroom brawl.

John Hlay, 21-year-old 212-pound junior from Niles, was suspended from athletics indefinitely after pleading innocent to three charges of assault and battery and two of resisting an officer.

He is free on $135 bail after being arrested with a fraternity brother early today in a downtown tavern.

Nebraska's All-America Bobby Reynolds Injured

Curtis, Neb., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Bobby Reynolds, All-America halfback for the University of Nebraska, suffered a shoulder separation in a scrimmage at the Cornhusker football camp today.

Coach Bill Glassford said Reynolds would be out for four to six weeks.

Nebraska opens its football season against Texas Christian at Lincoln Sept. 29.

Reynolds, rated All - America as a sophomore last year, was the nation's leading scorer.

PIRATES TAKE SLICE OUT OF DODGER LEAD

MERSON SPARKS BUCS TO 11 TO 4 WIN OVER BUMS

Giants Improve Second Place Position With 5-2 Victory Over Cubs

Pittsburgh, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Rookie second - baseman John Merson drove in six runs with four hits today to spark the tail - end Pittsburgh Pirates to an 11-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers and cut Brooklyn's National League lead to five games.

Merson, recently recalled from Indianapolis of the American Association, contributed a triple and three singles to a 15-hit Pirate attack which drove Ralph Branca from the mound after three innings and cost him his eighth defeat of the year. He's won 13. Mel Queen gained his sixth win against nine losses.

A crowd of 11,098 saw the Pirates take their 12th win from the Dodgers against only 10 losses to gain the best final season record in the league over the Bums.

Duke Snider hit his 29th homer for the Dodgers in the first inning and Jackie Robinson came through with his 17th in the fifth. Frank Thomas smashed his second home run for the Pirates in the eighth during a four - run rally which sewed up the game.

Bucks' Fullback Suspended For Part In Barroom Brawl

Columbus, O., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Ohio State's football prospects were darkened today as the Bucks lost their first string fullback as the result of a barroom brawl.

John Hlay, 21-year-old 212-pound junior from Niles, was suspended from athletics indefinitely after pleading innocent to three charges of assault and battery and two of resisting an officer.

He is free on $135 bail after being arrested with a fraternity brother early today in a downtown tavern.

Nebraska's All-America Bobby Reynolds Injured

Curtis, Neb., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Bobby Reynolds, All-America halfback for the University of Nebraska, suffered a shoulder separation in a scrimmage at the Cornhusker football camp today.

Coach Bill Glassford said Reynolds would be out for four to six weeks.

Nebraska opens its football season against Texas Christian at Lincoln Sept. 29.

Reynolds, rated All - America as a sophomore last year, was the nation's leading scorer.

CARDS SLUG BRAVES

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of 10 walks — five of them to Solly Hemus — plus Del Rice's two-run homer and Vern Benson's two - run double to hand the Boston Braves a 10 to 1 defeat today. Cliff Chambers went the route for the Red Birds, striking out seven men while giving up an equal number of hits.

PHILS WHIP REDS

Cincinnati, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Rookie southpaw Niles Jordan held the Cincinnati Reds to two hits for eight innings today as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Reds 5-2.

The Phillies' big blow came in the ninth when they scored three runs off two singles, an error and three walks. Danny Litwhiler slammed his second home run of the season for the Reds in the eighth and Del Ennis homered for the Phillies in the second, both with none on. It was Ennis' 15th.

WOMEN'S MEET AT BAYOU CLUB

Northeast Louisiana Association In One-Day Event Wednesday

The recently organized Northeast Louisiana Ladies' Golf Association conducts its first "Ladies' Day" tournament at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here Wednesday, it was announced last night by Bayou Pro Winnie Cole.

The women's organization is composed of members of Advance Golf Club of Hodge, Ruston Country Club, Morehouse Country Club, McGuire Park Golf Club of West Monroe, Municipal Golf Club of Monroe, and Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Association officers are Mrs. George Miller, president, Monroe's immediate past women's state amateur champion from Bayou DeSiard; Mrs. James Harbuck, municipal, vice-president; and Mrs. Clyde Nash, McGuire Park, secretary. Board members are Mrs. G. W. Acklin, Hodge; Mrs. Joe Aillet, Ruston; and Mrs. Warren Stevenson, Ruston.

Meetings are scheduled for every two months with a one-day tourney, alternating among member clubs.

North Carolina Heavyweight, Memphis Dentist Head Eastern Open

Baltimore, Sept. 15. —(AP)— Dr. Cary Middlecoff came blazing in late today with a red hot putter to shoot four-under - par 68 and tie Clayton Heafner for the halfway lead of the Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

The golfing dentist from Memphis and the 225-pound Heafner from Charlotte, N.C. were even at 139 in the 72-hole tourney winding up Sunday with 36 holes.

A stroke behind the two leaders came little Jerry Barber of Pasadena, Calif., who had a 69 on his second go-round. Three were tied for third at 141, including Al Smith of Danville, Va., who slipped from his first round first-place score of 67 to 74.

Smith took 37 putts compared to his opening 30 in going two over par. Tied with him are Andy Gibson of Towson with 69-72 and Ralph Lomeli of Fresno, Calif., with 72-69.

Only 10 of the field of 132 were able to break par on the second round compared to 16 on Thursday. As Lloyd Mangrum, the defending champion who fell back with 75 for a 146 total, said the "water made the 6,895-yard course longer."

The heavy rain yesterday had postponed the second round. The 65 low scorers, up to 152, qualified for tomorrow's double round.

The second round leaders:

Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, 71-68—139.

Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N.C. 69-70—139.

Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif., 71-69—140.

Ralph Lomeli, Fresno, Calif., 72-69—141.

Al Smith, Danville, Va., 67-74-141.

Andy Gibson, Towson, Md., 69-72—141.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N.Y., 72-71—143.

Larry Glosser, Mamaroneck, N.Y., 72-71—143.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., 70-74—144.

Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N.Y., 71-73—144.

Fred Hawkins, El Paso, 71-73—144.

Wally Ulrich, St. Paul, Minn., 71-73—144.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., 74-70—144.

Chuck Klein, San Antonio, 71-73—144.

Kentucky Mauls Tennessee Tech By 72-13 Margin

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 15. —(AP)— Kentucky employed the deadly passing of Vito (Babe) Parilli and the down-the - middle bursts of Bill Leskovar to grind out a 72-13 football victory over Tennessee Tech here today.

Warming up for bigger things to come — starting with Texas next week — Kentucky used the season opener mainly to give its sophomores and freshment experience.

The 26,000 fans, basking in sunny, 76 - degree weather, saw the unveiling of loping Harold Gruner, a Louisville sophomore halfback; Max Mason, a yearling halfbackfrom Rockmart, Ga., and Bob Hardy, a yearling quarterback from Paducah, Ky.

Tech's threats in the main were packed in two long, thrilling passes from freshman Quarterback Jack Van Hooser to End Eddie Scott.

One covered 58 yards, the other 68, in accounting for the Tenness ans' scoring.

Parilli connected on his first six passes and consumed 115 yards in the process in just ten minutes. He pitched Kentucky to a touchdown in three plays that covered 65 yards and the rout was in the making.

He hit Jim Proffitt for 14, Ed Hamilton for 18 and arched one 35 yards to Harry Jones in the end zone, and it was 6-0, after a minute and 23 seconds.

The Kentucky Babe fired a total of 16 times and hit on 11 of his throws, to account for 175 yards. He heaved for two touchdowns.

Tenn. Tech	0	0	6	7	—13
Kentucky	19	20	13	20	—72

Tennessee Tech scoring — touchdowns, Scott (2); point after touchdown — Holloway.

Kentucky scoring — touchdowns Harry Jones (2), Clark, Hamilton, Larry Jones, Farley, Gruner (2), Hardy, Felch, Hunt. Points after touchdown — H. Jones (4), Donaldson, Farley.

Houtteman, Tiger Pitching Ace, Gets Army Discharge

Camp Pickett, Va., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Art Houtteman, star pitcher last season for the Detroit Tigers, as discharged from the army today. He as given a medical discharge.

Houtteman left immediately by automobile to join his wife and three-week - old daughter at her home in Rahay, N. J.

The hurler was discharger from the army because of lingering effects of a brain injury received in an automobile accident at Lakeland, Fla., in the spring of 1949. He recovered to win 15 games for the Bengals that year and chalked up 19 triumphs during 1950.

Houtteman said he didn't plan to do any pitching the rest of the current season.

Test Flights End Friday; Match Play Begins Next Saturday

Qualifying for the Twin City Golf Tournament moved slow through the past week but is expected to gather steam this week as players have until next Friday evening to post their qualifying scores for the Municipal Golf Club show here

Earl y qualifiers, however, are J. N. Reynolds 85, C. G. Marechal 85, A. J. Brownlee 92, W. B. House 102, J. B. Washburn 102, E. D. Smith 103, and Fred Brownlee 104.

Tournament play is due to begin next Saturday.

Club Pro H. A Britt last night said two matches will be played during the week beginning Saturday and running through the following Friday, September 28.

One round will be played the week of September 30 to October 6, and the championship final is scheduled for Sunday, October 7, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Pro Britt last night said awards will be offered for winners in all flights in addition to a trophy to be presented the winner of the championship flight.

The Twin Cities Championship was last played in the late 1903s, but is being revived in Britt's program to build up the golf presentations of the club he took over a little more than a year ago.

Historic St. Leger Won By Talma 11

Doncaster, England, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Marcel Boussac's Talma II, making only its third start, won the St. Leger Stakes today by 10 lengths, one of the longest margins in the 166 years of the race.

Thousands of pounds in late bets cut the price on the nervous French three - year-old from 100 to 6 at noon to 7 to 1 at post time three hours later. Odds in the tote dropped down to just over 6 to 1.

And it was money in the bank for the gamblers who got the late word. Talma II took over after six and a half furlongs and the only questions to be answered in the last mile were which horses would finish second and third in the last of Britain's 1951 classics.

Fraise Du Bois II, owned by the wife of the Aga Khan, came on in the final furlong to take second with Peter Bartholomew's Medway third. They went off at 15 to 2 and 40 to 1 odds respectively.

Cedar Farm's Halter Cops $10,000 Olympic Handicap

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Cedar Farm's Halter registered a front-running triumph in the $10,000-added Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City today.

Jockey Carroll Bierman guided Halter home 2½ lengths before Harry Lamontagne's Steel Blue. Our Request, a 57-1 hazard and extreme outsider in the field of seven, was third, another three lengths back.

In scoring his second stakes victory of the year Halter picked up $7,375. The colt, winner of Bowies Farrell Handicap early the spring, was an outsider with the crowd of 17,900 and paid $20.80, $7.60 and $5.80. Steel Blue returned $5.20, $4.40 and Our Request, $10.60.

JITTERS ALMOST RUIN MISS RAWLS

But Betsy Holds On To Maintain Lead In Women's National Open

Atlanta, Sept. 15.—(AP)— Betsy Rawls' nerves almost gave way today under the strain of a three-day march toward victory in the National Women's Open Golf Tournament, but the little Texan settled her jitters to score a 74 and hang onto the lead.

Should 23-year-old Betsy win tomorrow, Texas would score a great triple victory in 1951.

Ben Hogan of Ft. Worth is the men's Open champion and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., today won the National Amateur men's championship.

Betsy's two-over par 74 on old Druid Hills course gave her a three-round total of 218 — three strokes better than Babe Zaharias and Marlene Bauer have come up with in this sixth National Open.

All three of the leaders are, or were, Texans. Betsy's home is Austin, Marlene's Midland, and the Babe was born in Dallas.

The remainder of the field was stretched far out with big gaps even between many of the lowest scorers.

Pert and pretty Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., the baby of the tournament at 18 years, one month, became low amateur with a creditable 74 for 223. If there's a sentimental pick among the gallerites to win the tournament, young Pat is the girl.

Her 223 is matched by Bev Hanson of Indio, Calif., who finds golfing best in Georgia. Bev won the National Amateur here last year. Today, Bev shot a great 33 on the outgoing nine for the best golf of the meet. She finished with a 70 and a tie for the lowest 18 hole score this week.

National Amateur Champion Dot Kirby of Atlanta, was tied with professional Patty Berg and Kathy McKinnon, amateur, of Lake Worth, Fla. Dot had a 75, Kathy a 73, and Patty a 77 for 226. Two more Georgians are next—Louise Suggs of Carrollton with 227 after a 75 and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville with 228 after a 78.

Tulane's traditional rival, L. S. U. is also the Greenies' oldest opponent. Tulane and L. S. U. met for the first time on November 25, 1893 just one week before the Greenies played Ole Miss.

Negro Nines Bill Engagement Here

The New Orleans Eagles will meet the strong Chicago American Giants here in a continuation of the American Negro League series Tuesday night at Legion Memorial Park.

Both teams have played great ball during the season and both were barely nosed out of the second-half championship in the last series, playing against each other.

The Eagles have one of the best young teams in the league. Most of their team is composed of college students who have that do-or-die spirit, and they fight hard until the last man is out. Yet, there are enough seasoned players to give the team the necessary balance.

Manager Winfield Welch of the Chicago American Giants also has a strong team with a number of outstanding players on its roster. His team is expected to give the Eagles a hard time of it in the game.

Yellmantown 1st In Chicago Event

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(AP)— Yellmantown, owned by Billy Minor and Marshall Robinson of Lexington, Ky., won the $11,975 Chicago Handicap at Hawthorne today while racing over a grass course for the first time.

The 4-year-old gray gelding opened up an early four-length lead and then lasted under a hustling ride by Jockey Earl J. Knapp to defeat Dr. Ole Nelson by half a length.

Dr. Ole Nelson, racing for Maurie and Roy Saffir, was coupled with Walmac Farm's grass champion, Volcanic. The entry trained by Howard (Babe) Wells went off as the even-money favorite of the crowd of 20,298, mostly because of the presence of Volcanic.

Volcanic, burdened under 130 pounds, made a good bid entering the stretch and then faltered to finish third.

Yellmantown, who equalled the 6½ furlong track mark of 1:16 2-5 last Saturday while winning the Midwest Handicap, carried 117 pounds in the Chicago. He returned $7.20 for $2.

Sedgman Wins Way Into Finals Opposite Trabert

Los Angeles, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Frank Sedgman of Australia defeated Herb Flam of Los Angeles in the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest Tournament today after a three-hour battle by scores of 7-5, 1-6, 5-7, 6-3 and 10-8.

Sedgman will play Tony Trabert of Cincinnati in the finals tomorrow.

A turn-away crowd of 4,500 fans sweltered with the players at the Los Angeles tennis club. All were eager to see if Flam, the Beverly Hills towhead, could repeat the upset he scored over Sedgman at Wimbledon this summer.

Cedar Farm's Halter Cops $10,000 Olympic Handicap

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Cedar Farm's Halter registered a front-running triumph in the $10,000-added Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City today.

Jockey Carroll Bierman guided Halter home 2½ lengths before Harry Lamontagne's Steel Blue. Our Request, a 57-1 hazard and extreme outsider in the field of seven, was third, another three lengths back.

In scoring his second stakes victory of the year Halter picked up $7,375. The colt, winner of Bowies Farrell Handicap early the spring, was an outsider with the crowd of 17,900 and paid $20.80, $7.60 and $5.80. Steel Blue returned $5.20, $4.40 and Our Request, $10.60.

JITTERS ALMOST RUIN MISS RAWLS

But Betsy Holds On To Maintain Lead In Women's National Open

Atlanta, Sept. 15.—(AP)— Betsy Rawls' nerves almost gave way today under the strain of a three-day march toward victory in the National Women's Open Golf Tournament, but the little Texan settled her jitters to score a 74 and hang onto the lead.

Should 23-year-old Betsy win tomorrow, Texas would score a great triple victory in 1951.

Ben Hogan of Ft. Worth is the men's Open champion and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., today won the National Amateur men's championship.

Betsy's two-over par 74 on old Druid Hills course gave her a three-round total of 218 — three strokes better than Babe Zaharias and Marlene Bauer have come up with in this sixth National Open.

All three of the leaders are, or were, Texans. Betsy's home is Austin, Marlene's Midland, and the Babe was born in Dallas.

The remainder of the field was stretched far out with big gaps even between many of the lowest scorers.

Pert and pretty Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., the baby of the tournament at 18 years, one month, became low amateur with a creditable 74 for 223. If there's a sentimental pick among the gallerites to win the tournament, young Pat is the girl.

Her 223 is matched by Bev Hanson of Indio, Calif., who finds golfing best in Georgia. Bev won the National Amateur here last year. Today, Bev shot a great 33 on the outgoing nine for the best golf of the meet. She finished with a 70 and a tie for the lowest 18 hole score this week.

National Amateur Champion Dot Kirby of Atlanta, was tied with professional Patty Berg and Kathy McKinnon, amateur, of Lake Worth, Fla. Dot had a 75, Kathy a 73, and Patty a 77 for 226. Two more Georgians are next—Louise Suggs of Carrollton with 227 after a 75 and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville with 228 after a 78.

Tulane's traditional rival, L. S. U. is also the Greenies' oldest opponent. Tulane and L. S. U. met for the first time on November 25, 1893 just one week before the Greenies played Ole Miss.

Negro Nines Bill Engagement Here

The New Orleans Eagles will meet the strong Chicago American Giants here in a continuation of the American Negro League series Tuesday night at Legion Memorial Park.

Both teams have played great ball during the season and both were barely nosed out of the second-half championship in the last series, playing against each other.

The Eagles have one of the best young teams in the league. Most of their team is composed of college students who have that do-or-die spirit, and they fight hard until the last man is out. Yet, there are enough seasoned players to give the team the necessary balance.

Manager Winfield Welch of the Chicago American Giants also has a strong team with a number of outstanding players on its roster. His team is expected to give the Eagles a hard time of it in the game.

Yellmantown 1st In Chicago Event

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(AP)— Yellmantown, owned by Billy Minor and Marshall Robinson of Lexington, Ky., won the $11,975 Chicago Handicap at Hawthorne today while racing over a grass course for the first time.

The 4-year-old gray gelding opened up an early four-length lead and then lasted under a hustling ride by Jockey Earl J. Knapp to defeat Dr. Ole Nelson by half a length.

Dr. Ole Nelson, racing for Maurie and Roy Saffir, was coupled with Walmac Farm's grass champion, Volcanic. The entry trained by Howard (Babe) Wells went off as the even-money favorite of the crowd of 20,298, mostly because of the presence of Volcanic.

Volcanic, burdened under 130 pounds, made a good bid entering the stretch and then faltered to finish third.

Yellmantown, who equalled the 6½ furlong track mark of 1:16 2-5 last Saturday while winning the Midwest Handicap, carried 117 pounds in the Chicago. He returned $7.20 for $2.

Sedgman Wins Way Into Finals Opposite Trabert

Los Angeles, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Frank Sedgman of Australia defeated Herb Flam of Los Angeles in the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest Tournament today after a three-hour battle by scores of 7-5, 1-6, 5-7, 6-3 and 10-8.

Sedgman will play Tony Trabert of Cincinnati in the finals tomorrow.

A turn-away crowd of 4,500 fans sweltered with the players at the Los Angeles tennis club. All were eager to see if Flam, the Beverly Hills towhead, could repeat the upset he scored over Sedgman at Wimbledon this summer.

Mr. Gentry had been employed at the Bastrop paper mill for a number of years, but was retired at the time of his death. He had been a resident of Bastrop for the past 22 years and was residing at 715 Boatner street at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. E. H. Gentry, of Bastrop; one son, Estes Gentry, of Florida; three daughters, Mrs. Farell McCloud, of Bastrop; Mrs. L. A. Mew, of Ida, La., and Mrs. E. N. Atkinson, of Shreveport; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

MRS. HELEN CARTER

Winnsboro, La., Sept. 15—(Special) —Funeral services were incomplete pending arrival of relatives for Mrs. Helen Lee Carter, 40, who died at her home near Mangham today.

Mrs. Carter was the wife of Olie Carter, a well-known planter and merchant in the Bell community settlement near Mangham. She was a member of the Episcopalian Church of Rayville.

She is survived by her husband; one sister, Mrs. C. A. McKey, Lockhaven, Penn.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Snow, Weatherford, Okla.; one half-brother, John Snow Jr., with the United States Army.

MRS. EMMA RANDALL

Ferriday, La., Sept. 15.—(Special) Funeral services were held Friday at 11:30 a. m. for Mrs. Emma E. Randall, 56, who died suddenly Wednesday of a heart attack at her home in Clayton, where she had lived for the past twelve years.

The last rites were held from the family home and interment took place in the Pine Hill Cemetery in Sicily Island. The serviecs were under the direction of Young Funeral Home of Ferriday.

Mrs. Randall is survived by her husband, O. E. Randall of Clayton, five daughters, Mrs. Lillian Hemphill, of Clayton; Miss Susie Randall, Clayton; Mrs. Emma Lola Boles, Ferriday; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Williams, Memphis, Tenn; and Mrs. Mattie Clark, Vidalia, and four sons J. D. Randall, Baton Rouge, Monroe, and Alvin, all off Morgan City, La; and Corporal Herman Randall of the U. S. army in Korea.

JENNINGS WILL MARK OIL ENTRY

Half Century Of New Industry In Louisiana To Be Observed

Jennings, Sept. 16.—(Special)—The scream of a steam whistle, rising from a 1901-type drilling rig at 10 o'clock the morning of September 21, will announce to the world that Louisiana's oil and gas industry is 50 years of age. The whistle will inaugurate a three-day celebration of the 50th anniversary, to be held at Jennings and Lake Arthur.

The old-style drilling rig, which will remain as a permanent memorial to industry pioneers responsible for the first oil well in the state, also will be "spudded in" as a part of anniversary ceremonies.

On Sept. 21, 1901, the state's first oil well spouted over the derrick in a rice field northeast of Jennings, in Acadia parish. The 160-foot column of oil launched Louisiana's people on a new era of industrial achievement.

Louis Clement, son of the man on whose land the well was drilled, is one of the few persons still living who saw the state's first productive oil well come in.

It was rice-harvesting time on the Clement farm, and Louis and his brothers, bare-looted and straw-hatted, were busy in the field.

"We heard a noise and saw the oil go out," he said. "At first we just thought it was black smoke from the boiler at the well. But it kept on blowing, and we saw the mud blowing out over the derrick.

"We got permission from Papa to go over to the derrick. There the oil was spewing out over the derrick and over the ground. We didn't realize just what was happening."

Jules Clement, the landowner, followed his sons to the well and was thoroughly doused in the oil by W. Scott Heywood, promoter-driller of the well, and the four-man drilling crew.

The Clement family has been literally "soaked in oil" since that time. For almost 50 years, they have received royalty checks from the original lease, which still is producing oil. The Jennings field, with the arrival of its 50th anniversary, becomes the eleventh U. S. oil field to reach that age.

The leases which covered the first oil field in the state were assembled by a group of Jennings business and professional men, Frank Jaenke, Thomas Mafaffey, the only survivor, I. D. L. Williams, S. A. Spencer and Dr. A. C. Wilkins. The Jennings group asked Heywood, who had been active in Texas and California wildcatting, to do the actual drilling.

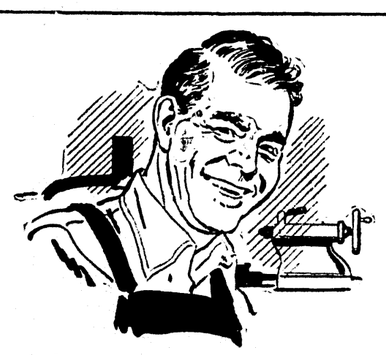
Heywood also was authorized to organize the Jennings Oil Company and sell stock in order to provide operating money. Stock was held by the Jennings group, and by Heywood Brothers.

The first well was drilled to 1,000 feet without results. Heywood, under obligation to drill another thousand-foot well, asked that he be permitted to drill that hole starting at 1,000 feet, and carry the initial test down to 2,000 feet. This agreement was executed.

At 1,700 feet, the drill-bit struck an oil sand which proved to be 110 feet thick. The well was bailed twice; when the bailer was withdrawn the second time, a solid four-inch column of oil soared over the derrick. That was the start of the oil and gas industry in Louisiana.

Is ADVERTISING helping you?

The Pay-off is your Pay Envelope



What One Worker Says:

MACHINIST—I'll say advertising helps me. We make typewriters. I get paid because my outfit—and thousands of other companies we sell to—can sell their products or services at a profit. They do this mainly through advertising—modern mass-selling operation without which we'd really be in a fix. Advertising, by selling goods, protects my job.

Perhaps You've Never Seen It Put This Simply Before

ADVERTISING has been defined as "salesmanship in print—or on the air waves." The more advertising sells, the more goods are needed to fill that demand. The more goods needed, the more men and women are needed at the factory that makes those goods—yes, and on the farms and mines and mills that make the raw materials needed to make the product. In addition, more men and women are needed by the railway and trucking companies that ship the goods, and by the stores that sell it.

Advertising, by selling goods, starts a never-ending chain that leads to more jobs, better jobs, greater personal security.

So when you hear or read advertising—remember, it's helping you by making your job, your home, your income, far more secure!

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Advertising... BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE Makes your job more secure

Half Century Of New Industry In Louisiana To Be Observed

Jennings, Sept. 16.—(Special)—The scream of a steam whistle, rising from a 1901-type drilling rig at 10 o'clock the morning of September 21, will announce to the world that Louisiana's oil and gas industry is 50 years of age. The whistle will inaugurate a three-day celebration of the 50th anniversary, to be held at Jennings and Lake Arthur.

The old-style drilling rig, which will remain as a permanent memorial to industry pioneers responsible for the first oil well in the state, also will be "spudded in" as a part of anniversary ceremonies.

On Sept. 21, 1901, the state's first oil well spouted over the derrick in a rice field northeast of Jennings, in Acadia parish. The 160-foot column of oil launched Louisiana's people on a new era of industrial achievement.

Louis Clement, son of the man on whose land the well was drilled, is one of the few persons still living who saw the state's first productive oil well come in.

It was rice-harvesting time on the Clement farm, and Louis and his brothers, bare-footed and straw-hatted, were busy in the field.

"We heard a noise and saw the oil go out," he said. "At first we just thought it was black smoke from the boiler at the well. But it kept on blowing, and we saw the mud blowing out over the derrick.

"We got permission from Papa to go over to the derrick. There the oil was spewing out over the derrick and over the ground. We didn't realize just what was happening."

Jules Clement, the landowner, followed his sons to the well and was thoroughly doused in the oil by W. Scott Heywood, promoter-driller of the well, and the four-man drilling crew.

The Clement family has been literally "soaked in oil" since that time. For almost 50 years, they have received royalty checks from the original lease, which still is producing oil. The Jennings field, with the arrival of its 50th anniversary, becomes the eleventh U. S. oil field to reach that age.

The leases which covered the first oil field in the state were assembled by a group of Jennings business and professional men, Frank Jaenke, Thomas Mafaffey, the only survivor, I. D. L. Williams, S. A. Spencer and Dr. A. C. Wilkins. The Jennings group asked Heywood, who had been active in Texas and California wildcatting, to do the actual drilling.

Heywood also was authorized to organize the Jennings Oil Company and sell stock in order to provide operating money. Stock was held by the Jennings group, and by Heywood Brothers.

The first well was drilled to 1,000 feet without results. Heywood, under obligation to drill another thousand-foot well, asked that he be permitted to drill that hole starting at 1,000 feet, and carry the initial test down to 2,000 feet. This agreement was executed.

At 1,700 feet, the drill-bit struck an oil sand which proved to be 110 feet thick. The well was bailed twice; when the bailer was withdrawn the second time, a solid four-inch column of oil soared over the derrick. That was the start of the oil and gas industry in Louisiana.

Is ADVERTISING helping you?

The Pay-off is your Pay Envelope

What One Worker Says:

MACHINIST—I'll say advertising helps me. We make typewriters. I get paid because my outfit—and thousands of other companies we sell to—can sell their products or services at a profit. They do this mainly through advertising—modern mass-selling operation without which we'd really be in a fix. Advertising, by selling goods, protects my job.

Perhaps You've Never Seen It Put This Simply Before

ADVERTISING has been defined as "salesmanship in print—or on the air waves." The more advertising sells, the more goods are needed to fill that demand. The more goods needed, the more men and women are needed at the factory that makes those goods—yes, and on the farms and mines and mills that make the raw materials needed to make the product. In addition, more men and women are needed by the railway and trucking companies that ship the goods, and by the stores that sell it.

Advertising, by selling goods, starts a never-ending chain that leads to more jobs, better jobs, greater personal security.

So when you hear or read advertising—remember, it's helping you by making your job, your home, your income, far more secure!

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Advertising... BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE Makes your job more secure

WHAT BENEFITS WILL YOU RECEIVE AS A TAXPAYER WITH THE PASSAGE OF ALL THE WEST MONROE AND WARD FIVE BOND ISSUES ?

Go To The Polls Tuesday — and

VOTE YES

FOR A 60-BED HOSPITAL IN WARD FIVE

STREET DEPARTMENT

All persons living on dirt and graveled streets of West Monore will get out of the dust and mud. The City Council, by resolution, has gone on record to spend the money voted for streets in the following order:

1. The first work to be done will be to blacktop all dirt and graveled streets, thus quickly eliminating dust and mud.
2. Next the rebuilding of all blacktopped streets with the remarkoble new "Hot Mix" asphalt.
3. Next will be the resurfacing of all curb and gutter paved streets. All street work will be advertised and let to the lowest bidder, with the specifications covering all streets in the city.
4. Competent engineers have assured the City Council that the proposed $495,000.00 bond issue is sufficient to do the COMPLETE job, regardless of what the 'Do-Nothings" say.
5. Did you know that the people of West Monroe will save $35,-000.00 in engineer's fees because all engineering work will be furnished by the State Department of Highways at no cost to you?

WATER DEPARTMENT

Do you want your insurance rate raised?

Are you tired of dry water faucets?

Would you like to stand by and watch your home burn down because of empty fire hose?

Are you tired of seeing your flowers and garden die?

Are you tired of carrying water from out in the yard when the ground is frozen?

Did you know thot low water pressure increases the donger of seepage and pollution in your water lines?

Are you tried of paying for water that you cannot get, when someone nearer the well is wasting the water?

We must vote this water bond issue if we are to continue to go forward.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

You remember the big fires we have just had in this city. Can you vote against the fire department?

STEERING COMMITTEE HAS APPROVED BOND ISSUE!

All the proposed bond issues hove been approved by members of a Steering Committee chosen from among the outstanding civic and business leoders of West Monroe and Ward Five. They have also been approved by the West Monroe Business Men's Association, the West Monroe Kiwonis Club ond the West Monroe Lions Club.

Will the voters of Ward Five and West Monroe follow the advice of these unselfish citizens who ore devoting their time ond effort to this campaign free of charge, or will they follow the advice of unidentified persons who are waging a campaign chock full of destructive criticism, half-truths and whole untruths? We challenge these critics to make themselves known. Who are they and whot are their motives?

NEXT TUESDAY THE TAXPAYING VOTERS OF WARD FIVE WILL BE GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME TO SECURE A HOSPITAL IN WEST MONROE, A LONG-TIME WISH OF OUR EOPLE THAT CAN EASILY BECOME A REALITY.

BECAUSE PRACTICALLY ALL HOMES IN WARD FIVE ARE ASSESSED AT LESS THAN THE $2000 HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION, THESE HOME OWNERS WOULD NOT HAVE TC PAY ONE ADDITIONAL CENT IN TAXES FOR A HOSPITAL THAT WOULD TRULY BE ONE OF THE FINEST THINGS THAT EVER CAME TO OUR COMMUNITY.

PLEASE READ THE ACCOMPANYING LETTER FROM THE OUACHITA PARISH MEDICAL SOCIETY. DOESN'T THE ENDORSEMENT OF OUR OWN PHYSICIANS INDICATE THAT SUCH A HOSPITAL IS FEASIBLE AND BADLY NEEDED? ASK YOUR OWN FAMILY PHYSICIAN WHHAT HE THINKS OF A HOSPITAL IN WARD FIVE?

REMEMBER — Such a hospital in Ward Five would NOT Cost the Average Home Owner one cent in taxes!

Mr. Hugh Taylor
City Alderman
West Monroe, Louisiana
Dear Mr. Taylor:
The Ouachita Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting September 6, 1951. At this meeting the members of The Society unanimously voted to support any future actions, within its power, which might be taken toward the erecting of a Hospital in West Monroe, Louisiana.

Very truly yours,

New Books Released

NEWS FROM THE PARISH LIBRARY

This is the season when the publishers are releasing a number of new books and the Ouachita Parish Public Library has a number of fascinating titles on order. Almost every day new books arrive and are made available for the people of Ouachita parish. There are books for every taste. What do you like?

If you are a mystery fan, you will be interested to know that there are two brand new titles; "Beat the Devil" by James Helvick and "Man Dead" by Selwyn Jepson. If you like western stories you will want to read "Summer Range" by Llewellyn P. Holmes, "Forty Pounds of Gold" by Phil Stong and the fascinating true book "My Home on the Range" by Margaret Wallace Kennedy. This is the story of a bride who asked herself what could be better than starting married life as the mistress of a 120,000 acre ranch in Arizona? How this adventure worked out is the theme of this hilarious true story. It is a warm human story that will make you laugh and probably cry. This is the story of a young tenderfoot school teacher suddenly called upon to cope with problems that were too big for her in an evironment she knew too little about. She does it all with a gallantry and a good humor that will touch your heart while it appeals to your sense of fun.

If you are a reader of light fiction, you will be interested to know that Margaret Culkin Banning has a new book "Fallen Away" and that Mabel Seeley also has a new one "Stranger Beside Me." If you like your fiction more serious, you will want to read "Call for a Miracle" by Benedict Kiely. This is an Irish story with all its somberness and some of its humor.

The poet who said "The world is so full of a number of things," could just as easily have been talking about the library. For within its walls are stored a vast amount of information on all sorts of subjects. New books are being added almost every day to this Non-fiction collection. Probably there is one that just fits your needs. Have you always wanted to paint in water-colors? If you have there is a new book for you, "Water Color Painting for Beginners" by Francis Russell Flint. Do you ever wonder about the contents of the cosmetics you use? Try "More Than Skin Deep" by Mary Catherine Phillips. Are you interested in the art of enameling? Then you will want "Enameling, Principles and Practice" by Kenneth F. Bates.

There are many antique collectors in Ouachita parish. Two books which will appeal to them are: "Field Guide to Early American Furniture" by Thomas H. Ormsbee and "How to Know Early American Antiques" by Alice Winchester. A fascinating new book for music lovers is called "Songs of the Confederacy" and was compiled by Richard Barksdale Harwell. It contains the words and music of many of the songs that fired the hearts of the southern people during the Civil War. Religious books are always popular in the library. A new one is called "The Lore of the Old Testament" and was compiled by Joseph Gare.

Are you planning a wedding anniversary celebration for yourself or a friend? If you are, you will be glad to know that the library has a new book called "Wedding Anniversary Celebrations" by Beatrice Plumb. This book tells everything about successfully celebrating an anniversary.

Since natural gas is one of the basic industries of Ouachita parish there are many people who should be interested in a new book "Natural Gas Economics" by Joseph A. Kornfeld. Are you raising cattle? If you are they are sure to be sick sometime. The library has a new book "Special Report on Diseases of Cattle" published by the U. S. department of agriculture, which should be of great help. Fishermen will welcome the news that the library has a new book called "Dry-Fly Trout Fishing" by William W. Michael.

Teachers will probably want to see a new title called "The Workshop Way of Learning" by Earl Clarence Kelley. If you like to read about crime and criminals, you will want "True Tales of Crime and Rascality" by St. Clair McKelway, Thomas B. Costain, one of the most popular of historical novelists, is writing a fascinating history of England. His first volume, "The Conquerors" appeared last year and took the story through the Norman conquest. This second volume "The Magnificent Century" takes the story through the 13th century, dealing mainly with the momentous years of the reign of Henry III. These were years of violence, strife, civil wars, efforts to establish England on the continent. Henry was a weak and vacillating ruler, but not the cruel man his father was nor the great man his son became. Costain paints the picture of these years with broad sweeps of superb narration.

HODGE

Deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Energy Black whose death occurred at a local hospital in Jonesboro August 30. He was sixty-eight years old and is survived by four daughters and two sons and four grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Moore have returned from a pleasant visit with their daughter and her family of Beaumont, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Moore attended the marriage of their granddaughter, Mirian Spaulding while in the city.

BEVERLY JEAN NEUDECKER WEDS OLIVER CROMWELL DAWKINS, III

Of interest to friends in this section is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Beverly Jean Neudecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Neudecker, and Cpl. Oliver Cromwell Dawkins, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cromwell Dawkins, Jr., of Louisville, Ky. The wedding was solemnized Tuesday, August 28, at 8:30 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Louisville, Ky. The Rev. William H. Langley officiated.

The bride was wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin and carried white glamellias and tuberoses with ivy.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Jo-Ann Neudecker, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Dawkins, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Martha Nicholas, Miss Barbara Montague and Mrs. Dale Neudecker.

Mr. Dawkins served his son as best man and ushers were Randolph Childress, William Kinnaird, Jr., Dale Neudecker, and Robert Vaughan.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Corporal and Mrs. Dawkins left by motor for Laguna Beach, California where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawkins, Jr., parents of the bridegroom, are former residents of Monroe. Mrs. Dawkins will be remembered as the former Jean Hanna. Mrs. Joe Hanna of this city, maternal grandmother of the groom, attended the wedding and will continue her visit for indefinite stay.

CALHOUN

Miss Frances Barnes returned home last week from Champagne, Ill., where she has been teaching this summer. Her mother, Mrs. Bill Barnes, and brother George, went to Champagne and motored back with her.

Mrs. B. N. Pipes has as her guest this week her sister, Miss Katherine Livadais of Monroe.

Miss Doris Williams of Bastrop spent last week in the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. F. Jones, Sr.

Mrs. Lula Scott of West Monroe is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. H. Q. Green.

Mrs. J. H. Caraway of Jonesboro has recently moved to Calhoun and is living with her daughter Rev. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jacob of Chatham visited relatives in Calhoun Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. H. O. Taylor had as their guests last Sunday their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Taylor, Jr., and children Judy and Mike of West Monroe.

The "Trichobatrachus Robustus" is one frog that has a skin of dilaments closely resembling hair.

Miss Barbara Jean Chapman Bride Of Clark Matkins, Jr.

Lovely Double-Ring Ceremony Is Solemnized At Highland Baptist Church In Shreveport

In a candlelight, double-ring ceremony Saturday evening September 1 at 7 o'clock, Miss Barbara Jean Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chapman, of Shreveport and C. Clark Matkins, Jr. of Sterlington, were united in holy wedlock at the Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport by the Rev. Howard McCarty.

As the guests assembled prenuptial music was played by Miss Inez Furniss at the organ who also accompanied Mrs. Robert Chatham as she so beautifully rendered "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly."

The church was beautifully and effectively decorated with pedestal baskets of white gladioli and marconi daisies interspersed with ferns, and jade palms. The altar railing was interlaced with garlands of ivy, and specimen caliduims circled the altar. Cathedral candles formed a background along the choir ballustrade between which wrought iron floor candlabras intertwined with greenery were tapered toward a point.

In the glow of the candlelight the bride, given in marriage by her father, Mark Chapman, was radiantly beautiful in her double wedding-ring gown of bridal satin, fashioned with a deep yoke of illusion. The satin covered buttons fastened the fitted bodice in the back and also the long tapered sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. The very bouffant satin skirt covered with double rings flowed into a graceful train. From the coronet, beaded with tiny pearls, flowed a floor length nylon illusion veil. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a penny in her shoe. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white, purple throated orchid, studded with tuberoses and carnations.

Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr. of San Antonio, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was gowned in an aqua taffeta fitted elongated bodice with a bouffant floor length skirt, a shoulder cape and a crocheted cloche of the same color. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of complimenting asters and flowing streamers.

Miss Anna Fay Chapman served her sister as maid of honor.

The rainbow wedding was a colorful picture with the attendants gowned in identically fashioned dresses as the matron of honor's. Miss Anna Fay Chapman and Miss Jo Nell Ballew wore deep pink taffeta; Miss Mickey Gene Duncan, cousin of the bride and Miss Patsy Stephens were in apple green taffetas. The candlelighters, Mi Sara Matkins, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Lynette Askew were gowned in yellow taffeta. The two little flower girls Betty Faye Buie and Linda Buie were similarly dressed in aqua and carried little baskets of rose petals.

Master Mark E. Chapman, Jr. brother of the bride and Master Keith Poth, cousin of the bride, were the ring bearers for the double-ring ceremony, carrying the rings on white heart shaped satin pillows. They wore white suits with wine bow ties.

Lytle Matkins served his brother as best man. The head usher was Edmund Carter, uncle of the bridegroom. Others serving as ushers were Luther Farrar, Marlyon McNabb and Bob Horton. The men were attired in navy blue suits with wine bow ties, white handkerchiefs, and white boutonnieres.

Mrs. Chapman chose for her daughter's wedding a floor-length pink lace over dusty rose satin with matching lace mitts and a rhinestone studded halo hat. She wore a deep wine aster shoulder corsage. Mrs. Matkins, mother of the bridegroom chose a floor length green lace over satin with matching mitts and lace cloche. She wore a yellow and green waist corsage.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. M E. Chapman were hosts at a reception in the church dining room. The bridal colors of white and green were carried out with two pedestal baskets of white gladioli and marconi daisies making a lovely background for the bride's table, which was laid with an imported white cutwork linen cloth and centered with the bridemaids' heart bouquets. Flanking the centerpiece were tall tapers in sterling candelabra, which enhanced the three tiered square wedding confection topped by a minature bride and groom and the crystal punch bowl.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. H. H. Duncan the bride's grandmother and Mrs. George Kalmbach, who ushered them to the receiving line which included the parents of the bride and bridegroom, the newly wedded couple, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids. The guests were then invited by Miss Lynett Askew to have a bag of rice tied with white ribbon. Mrs. E. B. Duncan, aunt of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Tippett presided at the cake, and Miss Adrienne Kalmbach presided at the punch bowl. Other members of the house party were Miss Sara Matkins, Mrs. Cecil Broadwater, Mrs James Tatom, and Miss Suzanne Poth Mrs. Robert Chatham and Mrs. James Tatom at the piano rendered appropriate selections throughout the evening.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Ruston where they will continue their education at Louisiana Tech.

Mrs. Clark Matkins, Jr. chose for her traveling ensemble a navy blue gabardine with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid from the center of the bridal bouquet.

Out-of-Town Guests

The guests were registered at the entrance of the church by Mrs. James Tatom before the wedding. The guests registered from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Byrd and Mrs. Annie Chapman of Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr., Suzanne Poth, and Keith Poth from San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kahanke and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Shaw of Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo C. Matkins, Mr. Edmund Carter, Mr. Marlyon McNabb, Miss Faye Humphrey, Mr. Bob Horton, Miss Mary Jean Lewis Miss Sara Matkins and Mr. Lytle Matkins, all of Sterlington: Bob Farmer and Sonny Jones of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Herbert, Jr., Edwin Duncan and Mickey Duncan of Minden and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Duncan of Lucas.

Rehearsal Supper

Rev. and Mrs. Howard McCarty were hosts at a buffet supper for the Chapman - Matkins wedding party Friday evening, August 31, at their home. The following guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. McCarty: Miss Barbara Chapman, Mr. Clark Matkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Matkins, Mrs. Robert Chapman, Miss Inez Furniss, Mrs. H. H. Duncan, Mrs. Kahanke, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr., Mr. Lytle Matkins, Miss Sara Matkins, Miss Anna Fay Chapman Miss Jo Nell Ballew, Miss Lynette Askew, Miss Patsy Stephens, Miss Mickey Duncan, Suzanne Poth, Keith Poth, Mark Chapman, Jr., Mr. Edmund Carter, Mr. Luther Farrar, Mr. Bob Horton, Mr. Marlyon McNabb.

The honors guests' place was marked with a gift of crocheted hot plate mats presented by the hostess. Lovely floral arrangements were placed at vantage points through the dining room, living room and the sun room.

Central Grammar PTA To Have First Meeting

The first meeting of the Central Grammar P.-T. A. will be held in the school auditorium on Thursday afternoon, September 20, at 3:15. The first meeting is always very important, and all parents are urged to make a special effort to attend. An interesting program has been planned with Mrs. M. L. DeFreese as guest speaker. Mrs. DeFreese is the state director of extension and life membership and is always a most interesting speaker at all P.-T. A. gatherings. The theme for this program will be the school needs parents, and Mrs. DeFreese will center her remarks around this thought.

Johnnie Elizabeth Floyd Weds William Ned Thomas

Vows Exchanged Before Improvised Altar Of Pink Gladioli, Asters And White Tapers

A wedding charming in its simplicity was that of Miss Johnnie Elizabeth Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmit E. Floyd, of this city, to Mr. William Ned Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. G L. Thomas of Chatham, La.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Monroe, at four o'clock in the evening August 25.

The wedding vows were exchanged before a mantle artistically decorated with pink gladioli and asters. Tall white tapers lighted prior to the ceremony by Mr. Harry Long cast a soft glow over the arrangement.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a pale blue silk shantung suit with white velvet hat and black accessories. The white Bible she carried was topped with a single white orchid from which fell streamers of white satin ribbon.

Miss Reta Clement served as the bride's only attendant. She chose for the occasion a pink summer suit with black velvet hat and accessories. Mr. Harry Long served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the bride's home. The beautifully appointed table was covered with a white cut work linen cloth, centered with a floral arrangement of white asters, tuberoses, and fern.

The wedding contection, topped with a minature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Nat Clinton, assisted by Mrs. Janice Haile. On the opposite end of the table Miss Mary Ann Ashford presided over the crystal bowl of punch.

The bridal couple left shortly after the reception for a honeymoon trip to Hot Springs, Ark., and other points of interest in the Ozark Mountains.

Marie King Nelsen Entertains Thursday At The Home Of Her Grandmother In Columbia

The J. W. King home in Columbia was a festive setting when Marie King Nelsen entertained Thursday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Jorenda Reynolds and Stephen Schubert of Monroe.

Jorenda who has recently come with her family, the O. N. Reynoldses, to live at their plantation, Synope, near Columbia, was introduced at this time to Marie's intimate friends. Stephen who has been a house guest in the King home on previous occasions, renewed acquaintances.

Late summer blossoms from the King's gardens were arranged with artistry in the reception suite. The refreshment table was particularly entrancing from the young guests. Porcelain figurines, a victorian boy and girl beneath an arch of fern and old - fashioned sweet williams, formed the center decor. The side - board emphasized a back - to - school theme with quaint dolls from the "Little Women" series in pleasing array with each doll character holding a small book and with the book which they portrayed, Little Women, placed at one side and the book. Little Men, at the other.

Marie's mother, Mrs. Haakon Nelson, and her aunt, Miss Bettye King, directed delightful games: Match it, Doll Dance. Mystery, and a Treasure Hunt in which each guest found a gift. Marie presented her honor guests lovely gifts.

Mrs. J. W. King, Marie's grandmother, and Mrs. Wear Martin assisted in the courtesies.

Delicious openfaced sandwiches and frosted drinks were served buffet and later a desert course, pineapple sherbert and cookies were served on the veranda to the hostess, her honor guests, Jorenda Reynolds, and Stephen Schubert, and Phyllis Ann Winters, Jerry Thornhill, Lynn Morris, Sherman Louis Carroll, Sandra Ellis, Bobby Durham, Sharan James, Lee Roy Adams III, John Adams, John Morris, and Maurice Cottingham.

Miss Barbara Jean Chapman Bride Of Clark Matkins, Jr.

Lovely Double-Ring Ceremony Is Solemnized At Highland Baptist Church In Shreveport

In a candlelight, double-ring ceremony Saturday evening September 1 at 7 o'clock, Miss Barbara Jean Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chapman, of Shreveport and C. Clark Matkins, Jr. of Sterlington, were united in holy wedlock at the Highland Baptist Church in Shreveport by the Rev. Howard McCarty.

As the guests assembled prenuptial music was played by Miss Inez Furniss at the organ who also accompanied Mrs. Robert Chatham as she so beautifully rendered "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly."

The church was beautifully and effectively decorated with pedestal baskets of white gladioli and marconi daisies interspersed with ferns, and jade palms. The altar railing was interlaced with garlands of ivy, and specimen caliduims circled the altar. Cathedral candles formed a background along the choir ballustrade between which wrought iron floor candlabras intertwined with greenery were tapered toward a point.

In the glow of the candlelight the bride, given in marriage by her father, Mark Chapman, was radiantly beautiful in her double wedding-ring gown of bridal satin, fashioned with a deep yoke of illusion. The satin covered buttons fastened the fitted bodice in the back and also the long tapered sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. The very bouffant satin skirt covered with double rings flowed into a graceful train. From the coronet, beaded with tiny pearls, flowed a floor length nylon illusion veil. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a penny in her shoe. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white, purple throated orchid, studded with tuberoses and carnations.

Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr. of San Antonio, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was gowned in an aqua taffeta fitted elongated bodice with a bouffant floor length skirt, a shoulder cape and a crocheted cloche of the same color. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of complimenting asters and flowing streamers.

Miss Anna Fay Chapman served her sister as maid of honor.

The rainbow wedding was a colorful picture with the attendants gowned in identically fashioned dresses as the matron of honor's. Miss Anna Fay Chapman and Miss Jo Nell Ballew wore deep pink taffeta; Miss Mickey Gene Duncan, cousin of the bride and Miss Patsy Stephens were in apple green taffetas. The candlelighters, Mi Sara Matkins, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Lynette Askew were gowned in yellow taffeta. The two little flower girls Betty Faye Buie and Linda Buie were similarly dressed in aqua and carried little baskets of rose petals.

Master Mark E. Chapman, Jr. brother of the bride and Master Keith Poth, cousin of the bride, were the ring bearers for the double-ring ceremony, carrying the rings on white heart shaped satin pillows. They wore white suits with wine bow ties.

Lytle Matkins served his brother as best man. The head usher was Edmund Carter, uncle of the bridegroom. Others serving as ushers were Luther Farrar, Marlyon McNabb and Bob Horton. The men were attired in navy blue suits with wine bow ties, white handkerchiefs, and white boutonnieres.

Mrs. Chapman chose for her daughter's wedding a floor-length pink lace over dusty rose satin with matching lace mitts and a rhinestone studded halo hat. She wore a deep wine aster shoulder corsage. Mrs. Matkins, mother of the bridegroom chose a floor length green lace over satin with matching mitts and lace cloche. She wore a yellow and green waist corsage.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. M E. Chapman were hosts at a reception in the church dining room. The bridal colors of white and green were carried out with two pedestal baskets of white gladioli and marconi daisies making a lovely background for the bride's table, which was laid with an imported white cutwork linen cloth and centered with the bridemaids' heart bouquets. Flanking the centerpiece were tall tapers in sterling candelabra, which enhanced the three tiered square wedding confection topped by a minature bride and groom and the crystal punch bowl.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. H. H. Duncan the bride's grandmother and Mrs. George Kalmbach, who ushered them to the receiving line which included the parents of the bride and bridegroom, the newly wedded couple, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids. The guests were then invited by Miss Lynett Askew to have a bag of rice tied with white ribbon. Mrs. E. B. Duncan, aunt of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Tippett presided at the cake, and Miss Adrienne Kalmbach presided at the punch bowl. Other members of the house party were Miss Sara Matkins, Mrs. Cecil Broadwater, Mrs. James Tatom, and Miss Suzanne Poth Mrs. Robert Chatham and Mrs. James Tatom at the piano rendered appropriate selections throughout the evening.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Ruston where they will continue their education at Louisiana Tech.

Mrs. Clark Matkins, Jr. chose for her traveling ensemble a navy blue gabardine with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid from the center of the bridal bouquet.

Out-of-Town Guests

The guests were registered at the entrance of the church by Mrs. James Tatom before the wedding. The guests registered from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Byrd and Mrs. Annie Chapman of Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr., Suzanne Poth, and Keith Poth from San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kahanke and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Shaw of Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo C. Matkins, Mr. Edmund Carter, Mr. Marlyon McNabb, Miss Faye Humphrey, Mr. Bob Horton, Miss Mary Jean Lewis Miss Sara Matkins and Mr. Lytle Matkins, all of Sterlington; Bob Farmer and Sonny Jones of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duncan and Mickey Duncan of Mindenand Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Duncan of Lucas.

Rehearsal Supper

Rev. and Mrs. Howard McCarty were hosts at a buffet supper for the Chapman - Matkins wedding party Friday evening, August 31, at their home. The following guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. McCarty: Miss Barbara Chapman, Mr. Clark Matkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Matkins, Mrs. Robert Chapman, Miss Inez Furniss, Mrs. H. H. Duncan, Mrs. Kahanke, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Poth, Jr., Mr. Lytle Matkins, Miss Sara Matkins, Miss Anna Fay Chapman Miss Jo Nell Ballew, Miss Lynette Askew, Miss Patsy Stephens, Miss Mickey Duncan, Suzanne Poth, Keith Poth, Mark Chapman, Jr., Mr. Edmund Carter, Mr. Luther Farrar, Mr. Bob Horton, Mr. Marlyon McNabb.

The honors guests' place was marked with a gift of crocheted hot plate mats presented by the hostess. Lovely floral arrangements were placed at vantage points through the dining room, living room and the sun room.

Style Show To Be Held At Agricultural Building Friday

"Why make pattern alterations?" is the question often asked home demonstration agents at the agricultural extension department. Their answer is "Because patterns are made for the perfect figure and it is easier to alter paper than material."

Mrs. Euna Speilman, home demonstration agent and Mrs. Mildred G. Swift associate home demonstration agent announce a style show to be given at the agricultural building on Friday September 21 at 9:30 in the morning and 2:30 in the afternoon. The same show is to be given both morning and afternoon for convenience of housewives. The models will style new fall clothes they have made and most of the models have hard to fit figures. Dress forms with patterns altered will be an exhibit in the auditorium. These altered patterns will be same used to make the dress worn by the model.

There will be three door prizes given by local firms; two dress lengths of material and a dress form to be made later to fit the winning person. A complete display of new fall material will be shown by local firms.

Every woman who sews should see this style show, hear the explanation on pattern alteration and see the exhibit of altered patterns for different figure defects.

Mrs. Speilman and Mrs. Swift extend an invitation to all who are interested.

Style Show To Be Held At Agricultural Building Friday

"Why make pattern alterations?" is the question often asked home demonstration agents at the agricultural extension department. Their answer is "Because patterns are made for the perfect figure and it is easier to alter paper than material."

Mrs. Euna Speilman, home demonstration agent and Mrs. Mildred G. Swift associate home demonstration agent announce a style show to be given at the agricultural building on Friday September 21 at 9:30 in the morning and 2:30 in the afternoon. The same show is to be given both morning and afternoon for convenience of housewives. The models will style new fall clothes they have made and most of the models have hard to fit figures. Dress forms with patterns altered will be an exhibit in the auditorium. These altered patterns will be same used to make the dress worn by the model.

There will be three door prizes given by local firms; two dress lengths of material and a dress form to be made later to fit the winning person. A complete display of new fall material will be shown by local firms.

Every woman who sews should see this style show, hear the explanation on pattern alteration and see the exhibit of altered patterns for different figure defects.

Mrs. Speilman and Mrs. Swift extend an invitation to all who are interested.

TAKE WEDDING VOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Austin Wink cut their wedding cake following their marriage August 26 at the Peniel Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Olivee Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark. Mr. Wink is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wink.

MISS OLIVEE CLARK AND JOHNNY AUSTIN WINK UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Olivee Clark and Johnny Austin Wink were united in marriage Sunday, August 26 at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Peniel Baptist church with the Rev. C. C. Martin officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark of West Monroe and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wink, also of West Monroe.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an archway of smilax and hibicus shaded from a deep pink at the botton to the palest pink at the top. The altar was banked in smilax and magnolia with baskets of huckleberry, ferns and white gladioli on each side.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy with an overskirt of eyelet embroidery. She carried her bouquet, an orchid surrounded by tulle and stephanotis with white satin streamers tied with clusters of stephanotis, on a white Bible. A fingertip veil fell from her starched lace cap.

Miss Hilda Fay Ross was the bride's only attendant. She was wearing a dress of blue organdy over matching taffeta. Her corsage was of pink asters and stephanotis.

Walter Bell served the groom as best man.

Miss Bonnie Bingaman played appropriate wedding music and accompanied David Crockett who sang "Because" and "Always."

Mrs. Clark, the bride's mother was wearing a navy crepe complimented by a pink hibiscus corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wink wore a navy print with red accessories and a corsage of red hibiscus. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clark, wore a dark print and a corsage of yellow hibiscus.

The beautiful floral arrangements and decorations for the wedding were done by Mrs. Beatrice Crabtree, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Vermon Batson, where the many friends and relatives wished happiness to the newly married couple. Vases of roses had been placed at vantage points throughout the house.

After the bridal couple had shared the first piece of the beautiful three-tier wedding cake, their sisters Jean and Joyce Clark and Joanne Wink served punch and wedding cake to the guests.

For their wedding trip the bride changed to a navy blue dress with white accessories and wore the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Ouachita Parish High school. Both are members of Peniel Baptist church.

The bridal couple will make their home in Newton, Miss., at 105 Walnut. Mr. Wink will attend Clarke Baptist College in Newton where he will study for the ministry.

The town of Madalena, N. M., is named for the great white-rock profile of Mary Magdalene, long a landmark in the mountains south of the place.

The U. S. Secret Service, treasury department, warns that there is more counterfeiting today than at any time in the past 10 years.

YWCA Activities

YRG's Club

On Monday evening the YRG's Club met for its regular supper-program meeting. After a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley who was assisted by Frances McClary as hostess, Helen Crosby, president, called the meeting to order. Pat Hall gave the devotional using the 13th chapter of First Corinthians as the basis of her remarks.

Two new members, Pat Hall and Valerie Madden were welcomed to the group. Plans for the next meeting which will be a "birthday dinner" were presented to the group. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction. Members who were present were: Helen Crosby, Tommie Jean Lee, Frances McClary, Norma Geiger, Pearle Hopkins, DeJuana Neal, Vauna Dean Newsom, Pat Hall, Valerie Madden, Mrs. Hundley, and Miss Sharp.

The YRG's and Mrs. Hundley have as their guest for a few days this week one of its former members, Miss Gloria Dice from Monticello, Fla.

Y-Teens

Jo Rhodes, president of Inter-Club Council of Y-Teens, met with the following leaders of Y-Teen clubs: Joyce Shivers, Mary Lou Trawick, Sue Wade, Willie Mae Flanigan, Maxine Vickers, Ann Hebert, Joyce Lanier, Jean Doncer, Margaret Ballard, Betty Bandy, Pat Worley, and Jo Eileen Watts to discuss organization plans for the Y-Teen Clubs which will begin meetings Monday September 17. The Honest Injuns' Club (Junior club) will meet Monday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; the Y'd Awake Club (senior club) will meet Tuesday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; Jolly Y Janes' Club (sophomore club) will meet Wednesday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; the Y's Gals (Ouachita Grammar School club — 7th and 8th grades) will meet on Thursday at the OPG School at 3:15 p. m. Other clubs will be organized at Selman School, Lenwil School, Neville School, and Ouachita Parish High School. Y-Teen Clubs meet once a week and membership is open to any girl 12-17 or in 7-12 grades. Any girl interested in being a Y-Teen contact the Y. W. C. A., or any of Y-Teen leaders mentioned in this paragraph. The theme for the Y-Teens this year is "Tune your deeds to meet world needs."

The Business And Professional Girls' Club

On Wednesday the B. and P. Club held their regular supper-program meeting. Maude Brownlee opened the meeting with the invocation. After the supper the girls gathered in the club rooms for the installation of officers and pledge service for members. Betty Lou Alpha presided as leader for this most impressive and inspiring and challenging service. The symbols of triangles and candles were used. The candles formed the sides of three triangles which represented. You yourself, a member; your club; and your Y. W. C. A. The candles for the triangle you represented: body, mind and spirit . . . work, play, love and religion; for the triangle, club; its members, its officers and sponsors, the club; for your Y. W. C. A. the club groups, the board and committees and all the many members. Betty Lou gave the challenge of leadership to the new president of the club, Kiki Gatzoulas, who then gave the challenge to the other officers, vice - president, Carolyn Swain; recording secretary, Phoebe Miller; corresponding secretary, Janet Shepard; treasurer, Gladys Carey; reporter, Bessie Kocatas; parliamentarian, Jenibe Westbrook; sponsor, Mrs. P. A. Poag and Mrs. C. P. Guerriero and to the members. The Y. W. C. A. song, "Follow the Gleam" and the Y. W. C. A. purpose were used as the pledge of acceptance of the challenge and membership. Betty Lou Alpha presented to the club and to the Y. W. C. A. a very lovely tray as a gift. A new member, Beryl Brack and two guests, Beatrice Cretney and Frances McCleary were welcomed to the meeting. The theme for the year for the club is "Are We Aware?"

Membership

There is a place of leadership and service for you in the Y. W. C. A. There is a need for advisers for Y-Teen Clubs, for people who like to share some skill or talent, for people to give devotionals, lead discussions, and make talks to groups. Membership in the Y. W. C. A. offers fellowship, a place of service, a satisfaction from sharing and from doing a specific job or working with people.

Did you know the Y. W. C. A. has a memorial gift fund? Many people have given to the Y. W. C. A. many wonderful books and some of the lovely furnishings as memorials to their friends and loved ones.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Harris who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on September 1 at their lovely country home in Swartz.

MUSIC MAKES PLEASANT PILL

Melody Capable Of Relaxing Nerves And Soothing Troubled Mind

The tradition that music is medicine for the ill is a tradition almost as old as the history of man. There is nothing new in the knowledge that melody can relax the nerves, can soothe the troubled mind. Such treatment has not always been called therapeutic, for it takes modern man to find expensive words for simple remedies.

The twentieth century, with its acquisition of scientific techniques has delved into the therapeutic value of music in a thoroughgoing manner. Perhaps the findings are not as scientific as the researchers would wish, for researchers like neat theories and perfect plans, and human beings refuse to fit into any rigid scheme. None the less, music of one kind or another has done wonders for the patient.

Music Fills the Air

By music, of course, is meant everything from Gregorian Chant to Richard Rogers, for every man has his own definition, his craving for some particular kind of tuneful literature. The axiom, now bromidic, that one man's meat is another man's poison, states a truth that is not to be denied.

Gentle songs soothe the sick patient, for the sustained, quietly moving phrases calm his nerves, make his illness seem less frightful, turn his attention from himself.

The musician, who responds most fully to music, forgets his worries and his problems by making his own music or by listening to the magnificent music of others. No problem looks as stubborn as it looked in the beginning, if music has its say.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

TAKE WEDDING VOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Austin Wink cut their wedding cake following their marriage August 26 at the Peniel Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Olivee Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark. Mr. Wink is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wink.

MISS OLIVEE CLARK AND JOHNNY AUSTIN WINK UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Olivee Clark and Johnny Austin Wink were united in marriage Sunday, August 26 at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Peniel Baptist church with the Rev. C. C. Martin officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark of West Monroe and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wink, also of West Monroe.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an archway of smilax and hibicus shaded from a deep pink at the botton to the palest pink at the top. The altar was banked in smilax and magnolia with baskets of huckleberry, ferns and white gladioli on each side.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy with an overskirt of eyelet embroidery. She carried her bouquet, an orchid surrounded by tulle and stephanotis with white satin streamers tied with clusters of stephanotis, on a white Bible. A fingertip veil fell from her starched lace cap.

Miss Hilda Fay Ross was the bride's only attendant. She was wearing a dress of blue organdy over matching taffeta. Her corsage was of pink asters and stephanotis.

Walter Bell served the groom as best man.

Miss Bonnie Bingaman played appropriate wedding music and accompanied David Crockett who sang "Because" and "Always."

Mrs. Clark, the bride's mother was wearing a navy crepe complimented by a pink hibiscus corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wink wore a navy print with red accessories and a corsage of red hibiscus. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clark, wore a dark print and a corsage of yellow hibiscus.

The beautiful floral arrangements and decorations for the wedding were done by Mrs. Beatrice Crabtree, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Vermon Batson, where the many friends and relatives wished happiness to the newly married couple. Vases of roses had been placed at vantage points throughout the house.

After the bridal couple had shared the first piece of the beautiful three-tier wedding cake, their sisters Jean and Joyce Clark and Joanne Wink served punch and wedding cake to the guests.

For their wedding trip the bride changed to a navy blue dress with white accessories and wore the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Ouachita Parish High school. Both are members of Peniel Baptist church.

The bridal couple will make their home in Newton, Miss., at 105 Walnut. Mr. Wink will attend Clarke Baptist College in Newton where he will study for the ministry.

YRG's Club

On Monday evening the YRG's Club met for its regular supper-program meeting. After a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley who was assisted by Frances McClary as hostess, Helen Crosby, president, called the meeting to order. Pat Hall gave the devotional using the 13th chapter of First Corinthians as the basis of her remarks.

Two new members, Pat Hall and Valerie Madden were welcomed to the group. Plans for the next meeting which will be a "birthday dinner" were presented to the group. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction. Members who were present were: Helen Crosby, Tommie Jean Lee, Frances McClary, Norma Geiger, Pearle Hopkins, DeJuana Neal, Vauna Dean Newsom, Pat Hall, Valerie Madden, Mrs. Hundley, and Miss Sharp.

The YRG's and Mrs. Hundley have as their guest for a few days this week one of its former members, Miss Gloria Dice from Monticello, Fla.

Y-Teens

Jo Rhodes, president of Inter-Club Council of Y-Teens, met with the following leaders of Y-Teen clubs: Joyce Shivers, Mary Lou Trawick, Sue Wade, Willie Mae Flanigan, Maxine Vickers, Ann Hebert, Joyce Lanier, Jean Doncer, Margaret Ballard, Betty Bandy, Pat Worley, and Jo Eileen Watts to discuss organization plans for the Y-Teen Clubs which will begin meetings Monday September 17. The Honest Injuns' Club (Junior club) will meet Monday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; the Y'd Awake Club (senior club) will meet Tuesday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; Jolly Y Janes' Club (sophomore club) will meet Wednesday at the Y at 4:00 p. m.; the Y's Gals (Ouachita Grammar School club — 7th and 8th grades) will meet on Thursday at the OPG School at 3:15 p. m. Other clubs will be organized at Selman School, Lenwil School, Neville School, and Ouachita Parish High School. Y-Teen Clubs meet once a week and membership is open to any girl 12-17 or in 7-12 grades. Any girl interested in being a Y-Teen contact the Y. W. C. A., or any of Y-Teen leaders mentioned in this paragraph. The theme for the Y-Teens this year is "Tune your deeds to meet world needs."

The Business And Professional Girls' Club

On Wednesday the B. and P. Club held their regular supper-program meeting. Maude Brownlee opened the meeting with the invocation. After the supper the girls gathered in the club rooms for the installation of officers and pledge service for members. Betty Lou Alpha presided as leader for this most impressive and inspiring and challenging service. The symbols of triangles and candles were used. The candles formed the sides of three triangles which represented. You yourself, a member; your club; and your Y. W. C. A. The candles for the triangle you represented: body, mind and spirit . . . work, play, love and religion: for the triangle, club; its members, its officers and sponsors, the club; for your Y. W. C. A. the club groups, the board and committees and all the many members. Betty Lou gave the challenge of leadership to the new president of the club, Kiki Gatzoulas, who then gave the challenge to the other officers, vice - president, Carolyn Swain; recording secretary, Phoebe Miller; corresponding secretary, Janet Shepard; treasurer, Gladys Carey; reporter, Bessie Kocatas; parliamentarian, Jenibe Westbrook; sponsor, Mrs. P. A. Poag and Mrs. C. P. Guerriero and to the members. The Y. W. C. A. song, "Follow the Gleam" and the Y. W. C. A. purpose were used as the pledge of acceptance of the challenge and membership. Betty Lou Alpha presented to the club and to the Y. W. C. A. a very lovely tray as a gift. A new member, Beryl Brack and two guests, Beatrice Cretney and Frances McCleary were welcomed to the meeting. The theme for the year for the club is "Are We Aware?"

Membership

There is a place of leadership and service for you in the Y. W. C. A. There is a need for advisers for Y-Teen Clubs, for people who like to share some skill or talent, for people to give devotionals, lead discussions, and make talks to groups. Membership in the Y. W. C. A. offers fellowship, a place of service, a satisfaction from sharing and from doing a specific job or working with people.

Did you know the Y. W. C. A. has a memorial gift fund? Many people have given to the Y. W. C. A. many wonderful books and some of the lovely furnishings as memorials to their friends and loved ones.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Harris who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on September 1 at their lovely country home in Swartz.

MUSIC MAKES PLEASANT PILL

Melody Capable Of Relaxing Nerves And Soothing Troubled Mind

The tradition that music is medicine for the ill is a tradition almost as old as the history of man. There is nothing new in the knowledge that melody can relax the nerves, can soothe the troubled mind. Such treatment has not always been called therapeutic, for it takes modern man to find expensive words for simple remedies.

The twentieth century, with its acquisition of scientific techniques has delved into the therapeutic value of music in a thoroughgoing manner. Perhaps the findings are not as scientific as the researchers would wish, for researchers like neat theories and perfect plans, and human beings refuse to fit into any rigid scheme. None the less, music of one kind or another has done wonders for the patient.

Music Fills the Air

By music, of course, is meant everything from Gregorian Chant to Richard Rogers, for every man has his own definition, his craving for some particular kind of tuneful literature. The axiom, now bromidic, that one man's meat is another man's poison, states a truth that is not to be denied.

Gentle songs soothe the sick patient, for the sustained, quietly moving phrases calm his nerves, make his illness seem less frightful, turn his attention from himself.

The musician, who responds most fully to music, forgets his worries and his problems by making his own music or by listening to the magnificent music of others. No problem looks as stubborn as it looked in the beginning, if music has its say.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

Miss Bettie Jo Camp Is Bride Of Robert Gordon Glenn

First Baptist Church In West Monroe Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

The First Baptist Church in West Monroe was the scene Sunday afternoon, September 2, at 4 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Bettie Jo Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Camp, Sr., of West Monroe, and Robert Gordon Glenn son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Glenn, Sr. The Rev. Jaroy Weber officiated.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double-ring ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with standards of white mums and sprengerii. A bridal arch of magnolia blossoms and southern smilax was the setting for the ceremony. Branched candelabra holding slender white tapers were entwined with southern smilax and the chancel rail was decorated with the same greenery. Reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Raymond Spence, of Nashville, Tenn. close friends and former music teacher of the bride, rendered several selections of nuptial music on the organ and accompanied Mr. H. Roy Glenn, Jr., of Dallas, Texas, brother of the groom, in songs. The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her wedding gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, made by her mother. The deep set yoke of net illusion was fashioned with a scalloped neckline of Chantilly lace. The long Chantilly lace sleeves, coming to points over her hands, were fastened with tiny seed pearl buttons which also adorned the back of the illusion yoke. The full skirt with Chantilly lace overskirt extended into a chapel length train.

Her veil of fingertip length was of net illusion and borrowed from Mrs. Womack LeJune. For something old she wore a coin dated 1851 in her shoe. She carried a white Bible, a gift of her S. S. dept. in the church she worked in at Fort Worth, Tex., topped with a bouquet of white glamellia and tuberoses tied with satin ribbon and tulle.

Miss Mary Ann Monroe, life long friend and college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. James Milliorn of Ft. Worth, Tex. The bridal attendants were wearing gowns of pale green net over taffeta with green satin bodices. Their bouquets were of shades of yellow hibiscus and croton leaves with variegated ribbons. Jill Luna of Dallas, Tex. served as flower girl and Mike Milliorn of Ft. Worth, Tex. was ring bearer.

J. C. S. White of Oklahoma City, Okla. served the groom as best man. Groomsman was G. A. Glenn of Dallas, Tex. Ushers were Erick N. Camp, Jr. and Henry Camp, brothers of the bride, Eugene Jones and Jerry Fitzgerald of Dallas, J. D. Wink of West Monroe.

Reception

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the reception hall of the church. Arrangements of white mums and greenery were placed at vantage points.

The bride's table was overlaid with an Italian cut work cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding confection surrounded with a garland of tuberoses, Fleur-de-meur, stephanotis and maiden hair fern. Draped from the four corners were garlands of the same flowers interspersed with tapering candles. A miniature bride's bouquet of the same flowers formed the central decor for the top tier of the wedding cake. Another table decorated with the same flowers held the punch bowl. Mrs. H. Roy Glenn, Jr. and Mrs. G. A. Glenn, of Dallas, Tex., both sisters-in-law of the groom, presided at the punch table. At the bride's book was Mrs. E. N. Camp, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. J. Henry Camp of Sulphur furnished music on the marimba.

Assisting in the serving were Miss Jane Ewing, Miss Mary Lou Young, Miss Carolyn McCarty, Miss Bonnie Lou Pettit and Mrs. John Platt, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Helen LeFever, cousin of the bride, welcomed the guests.

For her wedding trip to the Ozarks the bride was wearing a two tone beige gabardine dress with jacket. Her accessories were of beige and dark brown. She wore a white glamellia corsage. Following their wedding trip the bridal couple will make their home in Ft. Worth, Tex. where both are students at Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

Mrs. Glenn is a graduate of Louisiana Tech. The bridegroom graduated from Southern Methodist University.

Out-of-town Guests

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Glenn, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Glenn, Jr. and son Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Luna and daughter Jill, Mrs. Ethel Jones and Eugene, Myra Jean Odom, Mrs. Ruy Markham, grandmother of the groom, Misses Ceil and Lessie Markham, aunts of the groom, all of Dallas, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. James Milliorn and son Mike of Fort Worth, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Camp of Sulphur, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. White and Mike of Oklahoma City, Okla. and Jerry Fitzgerald of Dallas, Tex.

Rehearsal Supper

Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Glenn Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Camp, Sr. were hosts at the rehearsal supper honoring the bridal couple at the home of the latter.

A bountiful meal was served buffet style from long tables placed on the porch.

The bride and groom presented gifts to their attendants at this time.

The numerous wedding gifts were placed on display.

Guests attending the rehearsal supper were: Miss Bettie Jo Camp and Robert G. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spence of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. C. S. White, and Mike of Oklahoma City, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Glenn, Jr., Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Luna, Gill, Mrs. Ethel Jones, Eugen, Myra Jean Odom, Jerry Fitzgerald, all of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. James Milliorn, and Mike of Ft. Worth, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. James H. Camp of Sulphur, Misses Mary Ann Monroe, Jane Ewing, Mary Lou Young, Bonnie Lou Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. John Platt, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr., Mrs. John P. Lewis, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Rev. Jaroy Weber.

Mayor C. C. Bell of West Monroe has a well stocked deep freeze thereby stretching his food budget. Of course Kathleen has been in the midst of the food preparation too. Most of the work of preparing food for the freezer has been done at night when there were 4 hands instead of two. Mayor Bell called me last Tuesday night for method for freezing fish. Of course our newest recommendation is to quick freeze the fish in a pan of water, with water completely covering. Then wrap the block of ice in regular freezer paper, seal and place in the deep freeze.

Big preparations are under way for Ouachita Valley Fair. Tom Hicks, John Birdsong, and Mrs. J. R. Frantom are very capably managing everything. Mrs. G. W. Roberts on Willis street in West Monroe is working on her landscape plan. She has about 13 trees on her 100' x 150' lot. We're playing up the trees and doing very little foundation planting, with a well sod lawn of shade loving grass, and all those gorgeous trees, she needs very little more.

Martha and George Hibbard are busy making yard furniture. This hot summer has made us all enjoy our yards more and wish we had more lawn furniture. Martha called our office for blue prints for making tables, chairs and benches.

Mayor C. C. Bell of West Monroe has a well stocked deep freeze thereby stretching his food budget. Of course Kathleen has been in the midst of the food preparation too. Most of the work of preparing food for the freezer has been done at night when there were 4 hands instead of two. Mayor Bell called me last Tuesday night for method for freezing fish. Of course our newest recommendation is to quick freeze the fish in a pan of water, with water completely covering. Then wrap the block of ice in regular freezer paper, seal and place in the deep freeze.

Big preparations are under way for Ouachita Valley Fair. Tom Hicks, John Birdsong, and Mrs. J. R. Frantom are very capably managing everything. This promises to be the best fair ever put on in Ouachita parish. The date October 8 through 13. Call 3-2251 for premium lists. Read Bertram Hatten's fair news to keep up with the latest developments (I taught Bertram at O. P. H. S. He was a straight "A" pupil).

Mrs. G. W. Roberts on Willis street in West Monroe is working on her landscape plan. She has about 13 trees on her 100' x 150' lot. We're playing up the trees and doing very little foundation planting, with a well sod lawn of shade loving grass, and all those gorgeous trees, she needs very little more.

Martha and George Hibbard are busy making yard furniture. This hot summer has made us all enjoy our yards more and wish we had more lawn furniture. Martha called our office for blue prints for making tables, chairs and benches.

Miss Despena Kokinos Becomes Bride Of Leonard Victor Cascio

Couple Exchange Nupital Vows In Morning Ceremony At Saint Matthew's Church

The Saint Matthew's Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding uniting Miss Despena Marie Kokinos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kokinos, and Leonard Victor Cascio, son of Mr. Veto Cascio and the late Mrs. Cascio, which was celebrated on Monday, September 3 at nine o'clock in the morning. Monseignor J. C. Marsh officiated in the impressive double-ring service.

The alter was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and tuberoses. White Cathedral tapers burned in graduated candelabra, casting a glow on the bridal arch formed of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and tuberoses. White chrysanthemums also adorned the alter railing.

A concert of prenuptial music was rendered by Mr. Leon Hammons, who also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Irving Zeidman as he sang "Ave Maria." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony. Soft music was rendered by Mr. Hammons during the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her wedding gown of white bridal satin. The tight fitting bodice was fashioned with a yoke and collar of imported Guipure lace outlined by a drop shoulder bertha with long sleeves falling into lily points over the hands. The full lace skirt under a voluminous satin skirt fanned out into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported net illusion was trimmed in Guipure lace and fell gracefully from her satin bonnet trimmed in lace and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and tuberoses tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Katie Cascio, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. Nick Fontana and the other bridal attendants were Miss Frances Cascio, Mrs. Tony Cascio, Mrs. Lenny Battistone, Mrs. John Tropea, Miss Kiki Gatzoulas, Miss Mary Poulas, Miss Bessie Kocatas and Miss Lorethia Ladart. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Charlene Cascio and Linda Battistone was flower girl.

A similar white color was employed in the attendant's dresses in the floral decorations used in the church and at the luncheon and reception held at the Virginia Hotel. The attendants wore identical models of danseuse length fashioned of Chantilly lace and slipper satin. The tight fitted bodices were created in a scalloped nylon net yoke edged in seed pearls with long white satin sleeves coming to points over their hands. They wore braided white crowns trimmed with sea shells in the form of flowers that held a tiny veil coming to the edge of their eyes. White satin opera pumps were worn and they carried bouquets of white asters.

Harry Kokinos, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Tony Cascio, Lenny Battiestone, John Tropea, Raleigh Poulas, Johnny Johnson, Sidney Accardo, Mitchell Milletello and Phil Saragusa. Ring bearer was Master Jimmy Kokinos. Ushers were Fred Fudickar, Bailey Grant, Joe David Cascio, Benny Barberio. The men were attired in white summer tuxedoes.

Mrs. Kokinos, mother of the bride, was lovely in a powder blue crepe dress with black velvet accessories and white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding a luncheon was held at the Virginia Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kokinos were also hosts at a dance which was given that night.

Yellow and orchid chrysanthemums and yellow and orchid gladioli were placed at vantage points throughout with arrangements of the same flowers centering the luncheon tables.

The bride's table overlaid with a beautiful white cutwork cloth was centered with the five tiered wedding confection. A miniature bride and groom topped the wedding confection with the bridal doll's veil over five feet long. The bride at this time threw her wedding bouquet with Miss Bessie Kocatos catching the flowers.

Over five hundred guests attended the luncheon and wedding dance following the wedding. Out-of-town guests included friends and relatives from Port Arthur, Tex., Galveston, Houston, Dallas, Tex., Shreveport, New Orleans, Vicksburg, Meridian, Jackson, Miss., and Pine Bluff and Little Rock, Ark.

For their wedding trip to the west the bride was wearing a green velvet suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return they will be at home in the Majestic Apartments.

Mrs. Cascio is a graduate of St. Matthew's school and Northeast Junior college. The bridegroom graduated from Neville High school.

and Mrs. R. W. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hammett, Mrs. J. E. Benton and two children, Richard and Ashley, Mrs. Marguerite Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fitch, Julian Chandler, Mr. E. M. ART SHOP OPENING ON LOUISVILLE AVE.

Paintings of Twin City artists will be on display this afternoon at the formal opening of the Art Shop, an establishment which will mark one more step in the cultural development of Monroe.

Located on Louisville avenue, the shop will stock a variety of art supplies and of aesthetic and technical literature. Regular exhibitions of student work, specialized media and types will be held and most of these paintings will be available for sale. Classes will also be conducted for both adults and children.

The rooms of the shop are attractively decorated, with an unusual color scheme of shades of yellow-green and lavender being an interesting feature. These rooms include a front section where art supplies and literature will be placed, an office and informal lounge, and a classroom studio.

Enrollments for classes will be accepted immediately preceeding the opening, on either an hourly or weekly basis. In addition to the adult classes which will meet three times a week, instruction for children in art appreciation, drawing and painting will be given on Saturday mornings.

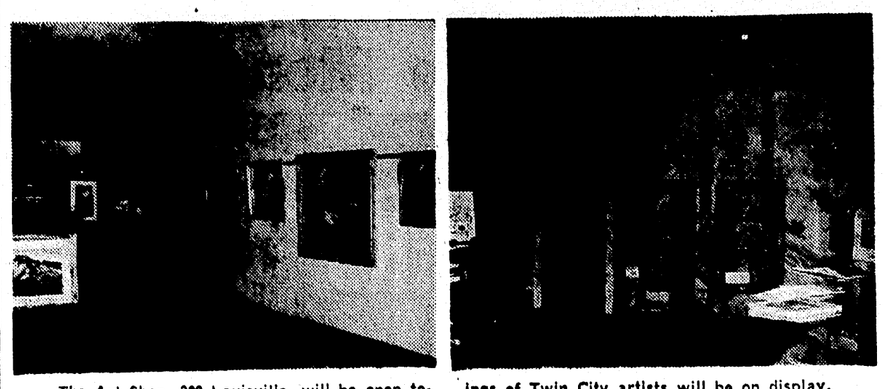
Today's exhibition will represent the work of nearly twenty artists of Monroe and vicinity. They are: Mrs. E. F. Dalton, Tony Danna, Harry Lemert, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Courtney Oliver, Frank Parker, Mrs. India Stubbs, Allen Trousdale, Mrs. Marie Wamsley, Miss Martha Prentiss, Mrs. Calvin Folds, Homer Cook, Mrs. Al Beasley, Mrs. K. Magruder, Harry Durgin, Mrs. Leita Mae King, Miss Mabel Lane, Cora Butler, Earl Maxwell, and K. O. Hanes.

An estate tax return must be filed for every citizen or resident of the United States whose gross estate, including insurance, exceeds $60,000 in value at the time of death.

SHOWING VIEWS

James V. Reid will fill the pulpit of First Methodist Church this evening at 7:30. Mr. Reid, whose home is in Ft. Worth, spends his entire time in missionary - evangelistic work throughout the United States and in Central America. He has become famous for his missionary journeys into Central America each winter. He has made fifteen such missions into these fascinating and challenging countries. His journyes are made more interesting by the motion pictures, that he brings back to present to the churches in the United States. He has appeared in a number of the churches in Monroe and West Monroe and many will welcome the opportunity to hear and see him again.

THE ART SHOP OPENS TODAY WITH EXHIBITION



The Art Shop, 309 Louisville, will be open today from 2 to 6 p.m. for public inspection. Paintings of Twin City artists will be on display.

ART PRIZE NOW TO BE LARGER

New Orleans Association Raises First Award From $100 To $200

The first prize for the best work in the show regardless of medium has been increased from $100 to $200 it is announced by the Art Association of New Orleans in connection with its forthcoming annual fall exhibition. This increase was made possible through the generosity of one of the long standing members of the Art Association who prefers to remain anonymous for the present. The deadline for receiving entries for this 27th Annual Exhibition without a jury of selection is Wednesday, September 19 at 5:00 p. m. Entries should be delivered to the Delgado Art Museum in City Park New Orleans.

The Art Association holds two members' exhibitions each year at the museum; one in the fall and one in the spring. The fall no-jury show this year will open Sept. 23 and continue through Oct. 9. These competitions are open to all members of the Art Association. The dues are $5.00 a year.

All work submitted will be exhibited. One work in each medium of painting, sculpture, drawing, and the graphic arts and five items of creative craft work may be submitted. An artist may submit in any number of media, but works must be original and not previously shown publicly in New Orleans.

A competent jury of award will be announced later. Winners of the first prizes since the summer, 1950 will be ineligible this year for a first prize in the same medium. The following prizes have been offered thus far: The first prize for the best work in the show regardless of medium is $200 cash. (Given by an Anonymous donor).

$100 cash First Louisiana Prize for the best work regardless of medium by an artist born in the state or living therein for the past two years. At the discretion of the jury the winner of this prize may also receive the prize for the best work in the show. (Given by the Art Associaton of New Orleans).

$25 cash Second Prize (for work by any member of Art Association) given by anonymous donor.

$50 cash prize for the best portrait regardless of medium. Given by anonymous donor.

Other prizes are anticipated.

Any artist interested in exhibiting in this show may do so by joining the Art Association. For further information call Galvez 4420 or write to the Isaac Delgado Museum of Art, City Park New Orleans.

Illegal Pharmacy Plea Is Entered

A telegram received here Saturday from Eugene W. Vogt of Ferriday, secretary - treasurer of the Louisiana board of pharmacy, stated that M. M. Box of Shreveport had entered a plea of guilty in criminal court in that city to a charge of filling medical prescriptions without a license. He was fined $250 and costs of court.

Another defendant was convicted on a similar charge in New Orleans a few days ago and Mr. Vogt said other cases are under investigation throughout the state.

Crop yields in the United States have increased about 45 per cent in the last 25 years. Milk production per cow has increased 2 per cent.

Miss Dawne Wilson Is Bride Of Paul Richard Massey

First Methodist Church In Oak Grove Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

In an ampressive double-ring ceremony Sunday, August 26, Miss Dawne Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Willie J. Plair, of Oak Grove, and Mr. L. H. Wilson, of El Dorado, Ark., became the bride of Mr. Paul Richard Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee Massey of Little Rock, Ark. The wedding vows were exchanged at 4:30 in the afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Oak Grove with the Rev. R. L. Clayton, pastor, officiating.

Floor baskets of white mums and white asters, with tall white cathedral tapers burning from candelabra, formed the background for the altar which was arranged with greenery.

Mrs. Ellis Womack at the organ gave a program of nuptial music as the guests were ushered to their seats by Mr. Wilson Crane of Little Rock and Mr. Clyde L. Posey, uncle of the bride, from Monroe. She accompanied Mr. Garland Shell of Monroe, who sang "I Love Thee" and "Oh, Promise Me" and at the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by Miss Toni Roberts of Oak Grove and Miss Linda Lou Thompson of Monroe. They wore dresses of blue rose net over satin with matching satin blouses.

The bride chose Mrs. Charles Willingham of Memphis, Tenn., sister of the bridegroom, to attend her as matron of honor and another sister, Mrs. Wilson Crane of Little Rock, as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink net over pink taffeta. The strapless bodice was tight-fitting and the full skirts fell into two tiers. They wore hats of the same material as their dresses and net stoles around their shoulders. Their bouquets were rainbow asters.

Mr. Paul Lee Massey served his son as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin fashioned with a basque waist and a yoke of Chantilly lace studded with seed pearls. The long sleeves ended in lily points over her hands. The full skirt fell into a chapel train and the finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a half hat of lace to the yoke of her dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of tuberoses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Massey attended Louisiana Tech, Centenary, L. S. U. and is a graduate of the University of Arkansas. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Massey, who is also a graduate of the University of Arkansas, is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Miss Sally Beth Williams and Miss Martha Jane Mitchiner served the punch and Mrs. James E. Carson was in charge of the bride's book. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. R. M. Dickson and Mrs. Clyde L. Posey of Monroe, Mrs. Odell Roberts, Oak Grove, Mrs. B. E. Galloway of New Orleans and Miss Toni Roberts and Miss Linda Lou Thompson.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip to New Orleans. For travel the bride wore a dusty rose crepe dress with matching faille duster and black velvet accessories. At her shoulder was pinned the orchid from her bouquet.

On their return they will be at home in Little Rock, Ark.

The following out-of-town guests attended the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Posey and daughter, Martha, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Miss Linda Lou Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collens, Mr.

Miss Despena Kokinos Becomes Bride Of Leonard Victor Cascio

Couple Exchange Nupital Vows In Morning Ceremony At Saint Matthew's Church

The Saint Matthew's Catholic Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding uniting Miss Despena Marie Kokinos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kokinos, and Leonard Victor Cascio, son of Mr. Veto Cascio and the late Mrs. Cascio, which was celebrated on Monday, September 3 at nine o'clock in the morning. Monseignor J. C. Marsh officiated in the impressive doublering service.

The alter was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and tuberoses. White Cathedral tapers burned in graduated candelabra, casting a glow on the bridal arch formed of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and tuberoses. White chrysanthemums also adorned the alter railing.

A concert of prenuptial music was rendered by Mr. Leon Hammons, who also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Irving Zeidman as he sang "Ave Maria." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony. Soft music was rendered by Mr. Hammons during the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her wedding gown of white bridal satin. The tight fitting bodice was fashioned with a yoke and collar of imported Guipure lace outlined by a drop shoulder bertha with long sleeves falling into lily points over the hands. The full lace skirt under a voluminous satin skirt fanned out into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported net illusion was trimmed in Guipure lace and fell gracefully from her satin bonnet trimmed in lace and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and tuberoses tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Katie Cascio, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. Nick Fontana and the other bridal attendants were Miss Frances Cascio, Mrs. Tony Cascio, Mrs. Lenny Battistone, Mrs. John Tropea, Miss Kiki Gatzoulas, Miss Mary Poulas, Miss Bessie Kocatas and Miss Lorethia Ladart. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Charlene Cascio and Linda Battistone was flower girl.

A similar white color was employed in the attendant's dresses in the floral decorations used in the church and at the luncheon and reception held at the Virginia Hotel. The attendants wore identical models of danseuse length fashioned of Chantilly lace and slipper satin. The tight fitted bodices were created in a scalloped nylon net yoke edged in seed pearls with long white satin sleeves coming to points over their hands. They wore braided white crowns trimmed with sea shells in the form of flowers that held a tiny veil coming to the edge of their eyes. White satin opera pumps were worn and they carried bouquets of white asters.

Harry Kokinos, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Croomsmen were Tony Cascio, Lenny Battiestone, John Tropea, Raleigh Poulas, Johnny Johnson, Sidney Accardo, Mitchell Milletello and Phil Saragusa. Ring bearer was Master Jimmy Kokinos. Ushers were Fred Fudickar, Bailey Grant, Joe David Cascio, Benny Barberio. The men were attired in white summer tuxedoes.

Mrs. Kokinos, mother of the bride, was lovely in a powder blue crepe dress with black velvet accessories and white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding a luncheon was held at the Virginia Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kokinos were also hosts at a dance which was given that night.

Yellow and orchid chrysanthemums and yellow and orchid gladioli were placed at vantage points throughout with arrangements of the same flowers centering the luncheon tables.

The bride's table overlaid with a beautiful white cutwork cloth was centered with the five tiered wedding confection. A miniature bride and groom topped the wedding confection with the bridal doll's veil over five feet long. The bride at this time threw her wedding bouquet with Miss Bessie Kocatos catching the flowers.

Over five hundred guests attended the luncheon and wedding dance following the wedding. Out-of-town guests included friends and relatives from Port Arthur, Tex., Galveston, Houston, Dallas, Tex., Shreveport, New Orleans, Vicksburg, Meridian, Jackson, Miss., and Pine Bluff and Little Rock, Ark.

For their wedding trip to the west the bride was wearing a green velvet suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return they will be at home in the Majestic Apartments.

Mrs. Cascio is a graduate of St. Matthew's school and Northeast Junior college. The bridegroom graduated from Neville High school.

ART SHOP OPENING ON LOUISVILLE AVE.

Paintings of Twin City artists will be on display this afternoon at the formal opening of the Art Shop, an establisment which will mark one more step in the cultural development of Monroe.

Located on Louisville avenue, the shop will stock a variety of art supplies and of aesthetic and technical literature. Regular exhibitions of student work, specialized media and types will be held and most of these paintings will be available for sale. Classes will also be conducted for both adults and children.

The rooms of the shop are attractively decorated, with an unusual color scheme of shades of yellow-green and lavender being an interesting feature. These rooms include a front section where art supplies and literature will be placed, an office and informal lounge, and a classroom studio.

Enrollments for classes will be accepted immediately preceeding the opening, on either an hourly or weekly basis. In addition to the adult classes which will meet three times a week, instruction for children in art appreciation, drawing and painting will be given on Saturday mornings.

Today's exhibition will represent the work of nearly twenty artists of Monroe and vicinity. They are: Mrs. E. F. Dalton, Tony Danna, Harry Lemert, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Mrs. Courtney Oliver, Frank Parker, Mrs. India Stubbs, Allen Trousdale, Mrs. Marie Wamsley, Miss Martha Prentiss, Mrs. Calvin Folds, Homer Cook, Mrs. Al Beasley, Mrs. K. Magruder, Harry Durgin, Mrs. Leita Mae King, Miss Mabel Lane, Cora Butler, Earl Maxwell, and K. O. Hanes.

An estate tax return must be filed for every citizen or resident of the United States whose gross estate, including insurance, exceeds $60,000 in value at the time of death.

SHOWING VIEWS

New Orleans Association Raises First Award From $100 To $200

The first prize for the best work in the show regardless of medium has been increased from $100 to $200 it is announced by the Art Association of New Orleans in connection with its forthcoming annual fall exhibition. This increase was made possible through the generosity of one of the long standing members of the Art Association who prefers to remain anonymous for the present. The deadline for receiving entries for this 27th Annual Exhibition without a jury of selection is Wednesday, September 19 at 5:00 p. m. Entries should be delivered to the Delgado Art Museum in City Park New Orleans.

The Art Association holds two members' exhibitions each year at the museum; one in the fall and one in the spring. The fall no-jury show this year will open Sept. 23 and continue through Oct. 9. These competitions are open to all members of the Art Association. The dues are $5.00 a year.

All work submitted will be exhibited. One work in each medium of painting, sculpture, drawing, and the graphic arts and five items of creative craft work may be submitted. An artist may submit in any number of media, but works must be original and not previously shown publicly in New Orleans.

A competent jury of award will be announced later. Winners of the first prizes since the summer, 1950 will be ineligible this year for a first prize in the same medium. The following prizes have been offered thus far: The first prize for the best work in the show regardless of medium is $200 cash. (Given by an Anonymous donor).

$100 cash First Louisiana Prize for the best work regardless of medium by an artist born in the state or living therein for the past two years. At the discretion of the jury the winner of this prize may also receive the prize for the best work in the show. (Given by the Art Associaton of New Orleans).

$25 cash Second Prize (for work by any member of Art Association) given by anonymous donor.

$50 cash prize for the best portrait regardless of medium. Given by anonymous donor.

Other prizes are anticipated.

Any artist interested in exhibiting in this show may do so by joining the Art Association. For further information call Galvez 4420 or write to the Isaac Delgado Museum of Art, City Park New Orleans.

Illegal Pharmacy Plea Is Entered

A telegram received here Saturday from Eugene W. Vogt of Ferriday, secretary - treasurer of the Louisiana board of pharmacy, stated that M. M. Box of Shreveport had entered a plea of guilty in criminal court in that city to a charge of filling medical prescriptions without a license. He was fined $250 and costs of court.

Another defendant was convicted on a similar charge in New Orleans a few days ago and Mr. Vogt said other cases are under investigation throughout the state.

Crop yields in the United States have increased about 45 per cent in the last 25 years. Milk production per cow has increased 2 per cent.

Miss Dawne Wilson Is Bride Of Paul Richard Massey

First Methodist Church In Oak Grove Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

In an ampressive double-ring ceremony Sunday, August 26, Miss Dawne Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Willie J. Plair, of Oak Grove, and Mr. L. H. Wilson, of El Dorado, Ark., became the bride of Mr. Paul Richard Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee Massey of Little Rock, Ark. The wedding vows were exchanged at 4:30 in the afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Oak Grove with the Rev. R. L. Clayton, pastor, officiating.

Floor baskets of white mums and white asters, with tall white cathedral tapers burning from candelabra, formed the background for the altar which was arranged with greenery.

Mrs. Ellis Womack at the organ gave a program of nuptial music as the guests were ushered to their seats by Mr. Wilson Crane of Little Rock and Mr. Clyde L. Posey, uncle of the bride, from Monroe. She accompanied Mr. Garland Shell of Monroe, who sang "I Love Thee" and "Oh, Promise Me" and at the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by Miss Toni Roberts of Oak Grove and Miss Linda Lou Thompson of Monroe. They wore dresses of blue rose net over satin with matching satin blouses.

The bride chose Mrs. Charles Willingham of Memphis, Tenn., sister of the bridegroom, to attend her as matron of honor and another sister, Mrs. Wilson Crane of Little Rock, as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink net over pink taffeta. The strapless bodice was tight-fitting and the full skirts fell into two tiers. They wore hats of the same material as their dresses and net stoles around their shoulders. Their bouquets were rainbow asters.

Mr. Paul Lee Massey served his son as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin fasnioned with a basque waist and a yoke of Chantilly lace studded with seed pearls. The long sleeves ended in lily points over her hands. The full skirt fell into a chapel train and the finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a half hat of lace to the yoke of her dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of tuberoses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Massey attended Louisiana Tech, Centenary, L. S. U. and is a graduate of the University of Arkansas. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Massey, who is also a graduate of the University of Arkansas, is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Miss Sally Beth Williams and Miss Martha Jane Mitchiner served the punch and Mrs. James E. Carson was in charge of the bride's book. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. R. M. Dickson and Mrs. Clyde L. Posey of Monroe, Mrs. Odell Roberts, Oak Grove, Mrs. B. E. Galloway of New Orleans and Miss Toni Roberts and Miss Linda Lou Thompson.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip to New Orleans. For travel the bride wore a dusty rose crepe dress with matching faille duster and black velvet accessories. At her shoulder was pinned the orchid from her bouquet.

On their return they will be at home in Little Rock, Ark.

The following out-of-town guests attended the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Posey and daughter, Martha, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Miss Linda Lou Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collens, Mr.

Delta Rho Delta Sorority Has Guest Speaker At Meeting

Mrs. DeWitt Milam Talks On 'Our Own Community Citizenship Responsibilities'

"Qualities which make a good leader are those qualities which make a good citizen," Mrs. DeWitt Milam said Monday evening as she told Sigma members at the Virginia Hotel that preparation for our community responsibilities is preparation to serve, not to rule.

Mr. DeWitt Milam, volunteer Red Cross Field Consultant for Northeast Louisiana, was the speaker at an assembly meeting sponsored by the Delta Rho Delta National business and professional women's sorority.

Speaking from the standpoint of "Our Own Community Citizenship Responsibilities," Mrs. Milam quoted Edwin Markham.

Mrs. Milam stated "We are the builders, we have grown, and we continue to grow, our responsibilities become heavier. One hundred and seventy-five years ago George Washington said, quote "If the citizens of the United States are not free and happy the fault will be entirely their own." He, as well as Abraham Lincoln, when he said, quote "If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of free men we must live through all time or die by suicide." placed heavy responsibilities on us, did they not?

Nothing is more certain to wreck our Democratic state than apathy on the part of us as citizens. Today we find that indifference, unrest or uncertainty, is still the enemy of our democracy and it hangs over us like a cloud so black that it presents a danger of self destruction from within. As good citizens we must know that our American system of government is based on the right of the individual under the law. It is based upon the tenets of Christianity, the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, and the Golden Rule. It is also based on reason, common sense and the dignity of man, yet we are faced with the threat of State Control, Socialism and Communism. What are the facts that we face today? What are the facts that we must grapple with and recognize in order to overcome apathy and assume the responsibilities that are ours and demonstrate that the people are better than their leaders?

We cannot be impatient and expect changes overnight, it does not happen that way in the free way of life. There is a certain price of inefficiency and incompetence that we must pay for freedom. We must work with good will and good faith toward the development of peaceful understanding between nations and between men. It cannot be done by a few. All must participate in it. Francis Bacon said, "In the theater of human life, it is only for God and the angels to be spectators." Each of us has a responsibility. Apathy is unthinkable now. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and we must be vigilant for the threat is before us. We can look only to the price of liberty," and we must be vigilant for the threat is before us. We can look only to ourselves for inner strength and inner power. Let us renew our trust in God and go forward ourselves for inner strength and inner power. Let us renew our trust in God and go forward without fear and with manly hearts and be an inspiration to others. One often wonders what it is that makes someone an inspiration to others. Surely we can see it is not he who takes all but rather he who gives all; not one who knows all but rather he who is continually seeking knowledge so he may have more to give. It is not the person who criticizes freely but rather the person who understands quietly. The person who copies cannot inspire; it is he who creates who gives those around him something of the fineness of life. It is not the person who stands alone too combat evil, but he who unites in a cooperative spirit with others to reconstruct social life and prevent evil at its source. It is he whose life has put selflessness before selfishness.

Following the meeting Mrs. Milam readily answered many questions from the group. Those present were Mrs. R. Golson, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Mary Elizabeth Stringer, Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Miss Catherine Buckley, Mrs. De. C. Metcalf, Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Janet Shepard, Miss Fredda Mickel, Miss Mary Riser, Mrs. Jean Boyce, Mrs. James Riddle, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Mrs. Milam and her mother, Mrs Beck from Shreveport.

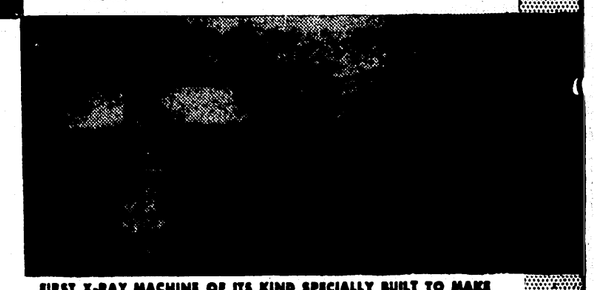
The Spine tells the story . . .

Unless your spine is properly supported while you sleep, you are not sleeping healthfully! There's much more to choosing a mattress than just testing it for softness and checking its price tag . . . or just checking its price tag, alone, as so many people mistakenly do. Your investment in sleep equipment is an investment in health, so choose your bedding wisely, scientifically . . . see this X-ray exhibit on display here now.



FIRST X-RAY MACHINE OF ITS KIND SPECIALLY BUILT TO MAKE THESE TESTS.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

He will tell you how important it is to your general health and well-being to have the proper sleep equipment . . . equipment that is not only comfortable but provides the firm support your spine must have to stay level.

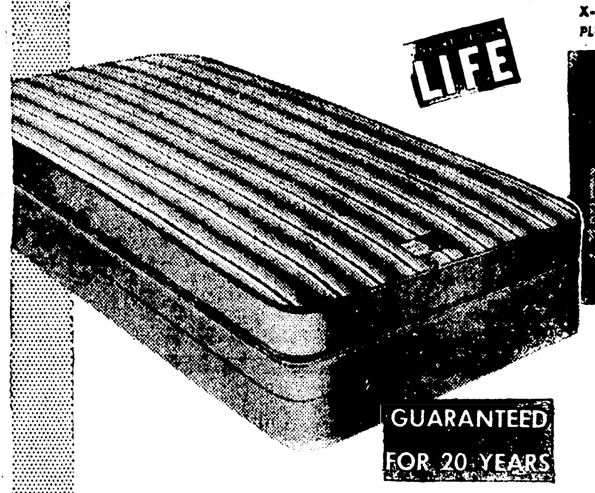
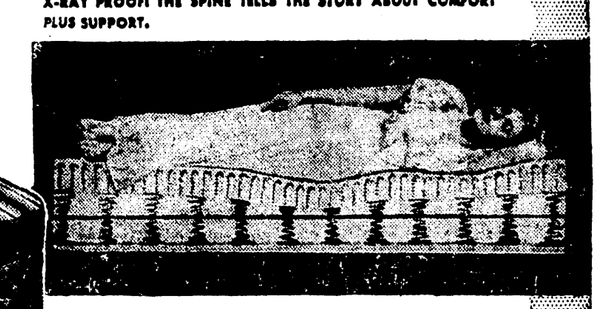
X-RAY PROOF! THE SPINE TELLS THE STORY ABOUT COMFORT PLUS SUPPORT.



LIFE



GUARANTEED FOR 20 YEARS

Only the Airfoam Mattress and Red-Line Foundation gives this combination of luxurious comfort and healthful support as evidenced by the cross-section diagram above. The Airfoam Mattress, a billowy puff of millions of tiny air cells, shapes itself to every part of your body—responds with a buoyant "uplift" that means luxurious comfort all over.

Englander's Red-Line Foundation, made for the Airfoam Mattress, gives the kind of support doctors say you should have, as shown in the X-ray picture. The springs are joined together only in the middle by a flexible steel band. The upper half conforms to the contours of your body. The lower half gives you firm support. Together the Airfoam Mattress and Red-Line Foundation mean the luxurious comfort and healthful support found in no other bedding at any price.

Delta Rho Delta Sorority Has Guest Speaker At Meeting

Mrs. DeWitt Milam Talks On 'Our Own Community Citizenship Responsibilities'

"Qualities which make a good leader are those qualities which make a good citizen," Mrs. DeWitt Milam said Monday evening as she told Sigma members at the Virginia Hotel that preparation for our community responsibilities is preparation to serve, not to rule.

Mr. DeWitt Milam, volunteer Red Cross Field Consultant for Northeast Louisiana, was the speaker at an assembly meeting sponsored by the Delta Rho Delta National business and professional women's sorority.

Speaking from the standpoint of "Our Own Community Citizenship Responsibilities," Mrs. Milam quoted Edwin Markham.

Mrs. Milam stated "We are the builders, we have grown, and we continue to grow, our responsibilities become heavier. One hundred and seventy-five years ago George Washington said, quote "If the citizens of the United States are not free and happy the fault will be entirely their own." He, as well as Abraham Lincoln, when he said, quote "If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of free men we must live through all time or die by suicide," placed heavy responsibilities on us, did they not?

Nothing is more certain to wreck our Democratic state than apathy on the part of us as citizens. Today we find that indifference, unrest or uncertainty, is still the enemy of our democracy and it hangs over us like a cloud so black that it presents a danger of self destruction from within. As good citizens we must know that our American system of government is based on the right of the individual under the law. It is based upon the tenets of Christianity, the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, and the Golden Rule. It is also based on reason, common sense and the dignity of man, yet we are faced with the threat of State Control, Socialism and Communism. What are the facts that we face today? What are the facts that we must grapple with and recognize in order to overcome apathy and assume the responsibilities that are ours and demonstrate that the people are better than their leaders?

We cannot be impatient and expect changes overnight, it does not happen that way in the free way of life. There is a certain price of inefficiency and incompetence that we must pay for freedom. We must work with good will and good faith toward the development of peaceful understanding between nations and between men. It cannot be done by a few. All must participate in it. Francis Bacon said, "In the theater of human life, it is only for God and the angels to be spectators." Each of us has a responsibility. Apathy is unthinkable now. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and we must be vigilant for the threat is before us. We can look only to the price of liberty," and we must be vigilant for the threat is before us. We can look only to ourselves for inner strength and inner power. Let us renew our trust in God and go forward ourselves for inner strength and inner power. Let us renew our trust in God and go forward without fear and with manly hearts and be an inspiration to others. One often wonders what it is that makes someone an inspiration to others. Surely we can see it is not he who takes all but rather he who gives all; not one who knows all but rather he who is continually seeking knowledge so he may have more to give. It is not the person who criticizes freely but rather the person who understands quietly. The person who copies cannot inspire; it is he who creates who gives those around him something of the fineness of life. It is not the person who stands alone too combat evil, but he who unites in a cooperative spirit with others to reconstruct social life and prevent evil at its source. It is he whose life has put selflessness before selfishness.

Following the meeting Mrs. Milam readily answered many questions from the group. Those present were Mrs. R. Golson, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Mary Elizabeeth Stringer, Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Miss Catherine Buckley, Mrs. De. C. Metcalf, Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Janet Shepard, Miss Fredda Mickel, Miss Mary Riser, Mrs. Jean Boyce, Mrs. James Riddle, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Mrs. Milam and her mother, Mrs Beck from Shreveport.

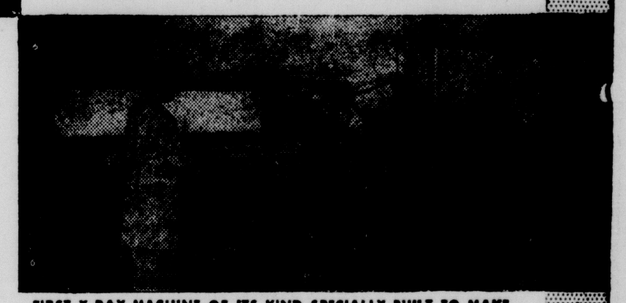
The Spine tells the story . . .

Unless your spine is properly supported while you sleep, you are not sleeping healthfully! There's much more to choosing a mattress than just testing it for softness and checking its price tag . . . or just checking its price tag, alone, as so many people mistakenly do. Your investment in sleep equipment is an investment in health, so choose your bedding wisely, scientifically . . . see this X-ray exhibit on display here now.



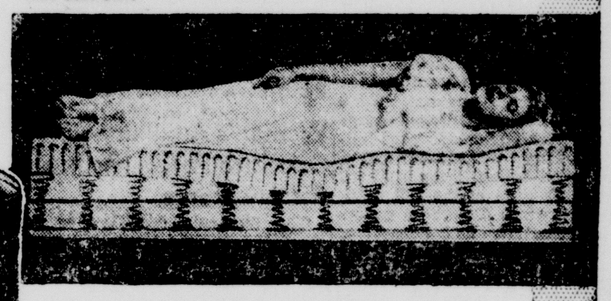
FIRST X-RAY MACHINE OF ITS KIND SPECIALLY BUILT TO MAKE THESE TESTS.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

He will tell you how important it is to your general health and well-being to have the proper sleep equipment . . . equipment that is not only comfortable but provides the firm support your spine must have to stay level.

READY FOR THE RAYS. MODEL LIES COMPLETELY RELAXED ON ENGLANDER SLEEP ENSEMBLE.

X-RAY PROOF! THE SPINE TELLS THE STORY ABOUT COMFORT PLUS SUPPORT.



Only the Airfoam Mattress and Red-Line Foundation gives this combination of luxurious comfort and healthful support as evidenced by the cross-section diagram above. The Airfoam Mattress, a billowy puff of millions of tiny air cells, shapes itself to every part of your body—responds with a buoyant "uplift" that means luxurious comfort all over.

Englander's Red-Line Foundation, made for the Airfoam Mattress, gives the kind of support doctors say you should have, as shown in the X-ray picture. The springs are joined together only in the middle by a flexible steel band. The upper half conforms to the contours of your body. The lower half gives you firm support. Together the Airfoam Mattress and Red-Line Foundation mean the luxurious comfort and healthful support found in no other bedding at any price.

Englander SLEEP ENSEMBLE

A TRIUMPH IN RESTING! A TRIUMPH IN TESTING!

See them both here today! Yes, we're proud to present this spectacular double feature . . . Englander's unsurpassed Airfoam sleep ensemble and the X-ray evidence Englander has made possible with the collaboration of leading orthopedic authorities and roentgenologists (X-ray experts). Every claim that has previously been made for this superb Airfoam mattress and Red-Line Foundation is now an indisputable fact . . . an important fact to guide you in choosing your new sleep equipment. Miss Jean Heloise Thomas Is Lovely September Bride

Marriage Of Former Monroe Girl And Earl W. Dorrell Solemnized In Beaumont, Tex.

A recent wedding of interest to Monroe friends was that of Miss Jean Heloise Thomas and Earl Winston Dorrell which was solemnized in Beaumont, Tex. The bride is the daughter of the former Annie Lee Stallings of Grayson and Hardie Lee Thomas of Las Vegas, Nev. Mr. Dorrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dorrell, of Beaumont, Tex.

Dr. Homer T. Fort officiated at the twilight ceremony which was held in the First Methodist church of Beaumont. Mrs. Joseph Truncale, organist, played the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn processional and recessional wedding marches. Joseph Truncale sang "Because" as the bridal solo and "The Lord's Prayer" for the benediction as the light from myriad cathedral tapers fell upon the tall baskets of white chrysanthemums, silhouetting the kneeling bride and groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina dress of imported white Chantilly lace over white satin and net. The sculptured bodice, buttoned down the back with tiny self-covered buttons, had long fitted sleeves and a small round collar. Deep scallops finished the edge of the full gathered skirt, which featured a sweeping hemline. Her half bonnet of lace with scalloped pleated illusion caught with seed pearls, held in place a chapel - length veil of French illusion. The bride wore in her hair a gold barrette worn by her maternal grandmother at her wedding. She carried a small white satin covered Bible, crested with a white orchid and stephanotis, which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother.

Mrs. Arturo N. Alvarado of New Orleans was her sister's attendant. She wore a gown of Persian blue imported lace, and in her hair a headdress of coral reef roses with variegated ivy leaves. She carried a matching crescent bouquet.

Thomas H. Thomas of Beaumont served as the best man. Dr. Arturo Alvarado of New Orleans and Charles E. Turrentine of Alexandria, were ushers.

Reception at Hotel

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Mirror Room of the Hotel Beaumont. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Rush R. Jemison, Mrs. Harry M. Davis, and Mrs. Percy P. Love, maternal aunts of the bride, Mrs. Charles Earl Turrentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Davis of Monroe, and cousin of the bride, presided at the bride's book. Small white satin rice bags from a tulle covered basket were passed to the guests by Barbara Jo Turretine, tiny cousin of the bride. The reception music was directed by Joseph Truncale.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorrell left for the Mississippi coast where they will be at Gulf Hill Dude Ranch at Ocean Springs until September 15. After that they will be at home at 4455 Pershing street, Beaumont, Tex.

Mrs. Dorrell, who is a graduate of Neville High School and of Northwestern State College, received a Master of Science degree from Louisiana State University She is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma, social sorority, and of Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Omega Pi, honorary education fraternities. She is an instructor in Lamar College of Beaumont.

Mr. Dorrell was graduated from Beaumont High School and attended Lamar College. He served four years in the navy and at present is employed by Magnolia Petroleum Co.

Out-of-Town Guests

Among out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Koontz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Davis of Monroe; Mrs. Wilton H. Williams and Mrs. Mattie Dreisbach of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turrentine and Barbara Jo Turrentine of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Talbot of Labadieville; Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Lee Thomas, Jr. and Miss Cyrille Jean Thomas of Modesto, Calif; Mrs. Rush R. Jemison of Takoma Park, Md., and Mrs. Percy Love of Chicago, Ill.

Miss Emily Ann Tyson Is Lovely September Bride

Marriage to Ethan LeRoy Capps Takes Place at First Presbyterian Church In Houston, Tex.

One of the loveliest weddings of the fall season was that of Miss Emily Ann Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Nagle, of this city, and Houston, Tex., when she became the bride of Ethan Leoy Capps; of Houston, Tex., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Capps, of Sherman, Tex.

The marriage was solemnized in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Houston, Tex., September 8 at seven - thirty o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. William H. Foster, Jr. officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double-ring ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with tall standards, entwined with southern smilax, and holding slender white cathedral tapers. Tall silver urns held imported jade and floor baskets overflowing with white asters, mums and baby's breath, made a picturesque setting for the candlelight service. Reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mr. Charles Pabor, organist, played several selections and accompanied Mr. Jay Froman as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The traditional wedding marches marked the begining and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in her bridal gown, traditional in design, of antique ivory satin with yoke of French illusion forming a portrait neckline. A panel at the front of the fitted bodice of imported handrun Alencon lace, was embroidered with seed pearls, and extended to epaulets at the shoulder. The long molded sleeves were petal shaped at the hands, at which the lace was used again. The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops was attached at the low waistline of the bodice and swept to a Cathedral length train. Her finger - tip length veil, of antique French illusion, was caught to a bicorne of the Alencon lace, accented by seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, lillies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Alice Elizabeth Ellington, of Houston, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William K. Hoffman, Jr., of Houston, Mrs. Clifton R. Caldwell, Jr., of Shreveport, and Miss Martha Sue Capps, of Sherman, Tex., sister of the groom.

The bridal attendants wore identical models of Pompeia pink satin and French net. The camisole bodice of the satin was softened at the neckline by net in petal shapes. The bouffant skirt, of several layers of net, was worn over crinolines. Net shawls accented the shoulder line. Matching plumes, with gold shadow veiling, for headdress, completed the ensemble. They carried cascade bouquets of talisman mums and blue water lillies.

Little Susan Nagle, of Dallas, Tex., cousin of the bride, with floor-length gown of imported candle-light taffeta and nylon illusion net, similar to the bride's gown, carried a bouquet of the bride's chosen colors.

Gary S. Bennett, of Houston, Tex., served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were William K. Hoffman, Jr., of Houston, Tex. Marion Groner, of Baton Rouge, and Forrest L. Freitag, of Houston. Ushers were Gordon Lea Moise, of Houston, Tex., and Sgt. Homer S. Whorten, of Camp Chaffee, Ark., cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Nagle, mother of the bride, chose for this occasion a champagne chiffon with the bodice trimmed in bronze bugle beads, with matching gloves and hat of irredescent beads. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Capps was wearing an aquamarine crepe dress with matching hat and white gloves. Her corsage was an orchid.

Reception

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was given at the Plaza Hotel in Houston. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Capps and members of the bridal party.

Attractive arrangements of white flowers and greenery were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms. The bride's table was overlaid with an imported linen lace cloth and centered with the double-ring wedding cake, with a replica of the bride's bouquet done in confection for decoration. Tall tapers in silver candelabra with lace fern and stephanotis completed the decor.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Ross B. Nelson, Sr., of Shreveport, Mrs. Bess McCarty, of Fort Worth, Tex., and Mrs. Jane Tyson Young, of Houston, all aunts of the bride; Miss Evelyn Flake, Miss Bernita Fletcher, Mrs. Claude T. Allen, Mrs. L. S. Moise, and Mrs. Wesley H. Ellington, all of Houston, and Mrs. P. A. Wilkirson of Hillsboro, Tex. Mrs. A. Know Tyson of Houston, and Mrs. Kevin K. McQuhae, of Orange, Tex., both cousins of the bride.

After their wedding trip to New Orleans and Biloxi, Miss., the couple will make their home in Houston, Tex., at 1832 Marshall avenue. For traveling, Mrs. Capps was wearing a navy blue gabardine suit, with matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Capps graduated from the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Capps is a graduate of Texas A. & M college.

Out-of-town Guests

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Capps, of Sherman, Tex., parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Nagle, Dr. D. H. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Allen, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wilkirson, of Hillsboro, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lilley of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Bobbye Guy, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Miss Emily Ann Tyson Is Lovely September Bride

Marriage to Ethan LeRoy Capps Takes Place at First Presbyterian Church In Houston, Tex.

One of the loveliest weddings of the fall season was that of Miss Emily Ann Tyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Nagle, of this city, and Houston, Tex., when she became the bride of Ethan Leoy Capps, of Houston, Tex., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Capps, of Sherman, Tex.

The marriage was solemnized in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Houston, Tex., September 8 at seven - thirty o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. William H. Foster, Jr. officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double-ring ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with tall standards, entwined with southern smilax, and holding slender white cathedral tapers. Tall silver urns held imported jade and floor baskets overflowing with white asters, mums and baby's breath, made a picturesque setting for the candlelight service. Reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mr. Charles Pabor, organist, played several selections and accompanied Mr. Jay Froman as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The traditional wedding marches marked the begining and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in her bridal gown, traditional in design, of antique ivory satin with yoke of French illusion forming a portrait neckline. A panel at the front of the fitted bodice of imported hand-run Alencon lace, was embroidered with seed pearls, and extended to epaulets at the shoulder. The long molded sleeves were petal shaped at the hands, at which the lace was used again. The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops was attached at the low waistline of the bodice and swept to a Cathedral length train. Her finger - tip length veil, of antique French illusion, was caught to a bicorne of the Alencon lace, accented by seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, lillies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Alice Elizabeth Ellington, of Houston, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William K. Hoffman, Jr., of Houston, Mrs. Clifton R. Caldwell, Jr., of Shreveport, and Miss Martha Sue Capps, of Sherman, Tex., sister of the groom.

The bridal attendants wore identical models of Pompeia pink satin and French net. The camisole bodice of the satin was softened at the neckline by net in petal shapes. The bouffant skirt, of several layers of net, was worn over crinolines. Net shawls accented the shoulder line. Matching plumes, with gold shadow veiling, for headdress, completed the ensemble. They carried cascade bouquets of talisman mums and blue water lillies.

Little Susan Nagle, of Dallas, Tex., cousin of the bride, with floor-length gown of imported candle-light taffeta and nylon illusion net, similar to the bride's gown, carried a bouquet of the bride's chosen colors.

Gary S. Bennett, of Houston, Tex., served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were William K. Hoffman, Jr., of Houston, Tex. Marion Groner, of Baton Rouge, and Forrest L. Freitag, of Houston. Ushers were Gordon Lea Moise, of Houston, Tex., and Sgt. Homer S. Whorten, of Camp Chaffee, Ark., cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Nagle, mother of the bride, chose for this occasion a champagne chiffon with the bodice trimmed in bronze bugle beads, with matching gloves and hat of irredescent beads. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Capps was wearing an aquamarine crepe dress with matching hat and white gloves. Her corsage was an orchid.

Reception

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was given at the Plaza Hotel in Houston. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Capps and members of the bridal party.

Attractive arrangements of white flowers and greenery were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms. The bride's table was overlaid with an imported linen lace cloth and centered with the double-ring wedding cake, with a replica of the bride's bouquet done in confection for decoration. Tall tapers in silver candelabra with lace fern and stephanotis completed the decor.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Ross B. Nelson, Sr., of Shreveport, Mrs. Bess McCarty, of Fort Worth, Tex., and Mrs. Jane Tyson Young, of Houston, all aunts of the bride; Miss Evelyn Flake, Miss Bernita Fletcher, Mrs. Claude T. Allen, Mrs. L. S. Moise, and Mrs. Wesley H. Ellington, all of Houston, and Mrs. P. A. Wilkirson of Hillsboro, Tex. Mrs. A. Know Tyson of Houston, and Mrs. Kevin K. McQuhae, of Orange, Tex., both cousins of the bride.

After their wedding trip to New Orleans and Biloxi, Miss., the couple will make their home in Houston, Tex., at 1832 Marshall avenue. For traveling, Mrs. Capps was wearing a navy blue gabardine suit, with matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Capps graduated from the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Capps is a graduate of Texas A. & M college.

Out-of-town Guests

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Capps, of Sherman, Tex., parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Nagle, Dr. D. H. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Allen, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wilkirson, of Hillsboro, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lilley of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Bobbye Guy, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Miss Carol Mae Thornhill Is Bride Of Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Jr.

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Church Of The Nazarene

The Church of the Nazarene of Monroe was the scene September 1 of the wedding of Miss Carol Mae Thornhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thornhill, of this city, and Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oather L. Hoskins also of this city. The Rev. Daniel Stafford officiated at the impressive ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows before the altar which was beautifully decorated with magnolia leaves. Tall standards of white tapers placed behind the altar enhanced the setting. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

The candles were lighted by Mr. Jerry Davis and Mr. Johnny Ward while Miss Neweeta Waldron played several selections of nuptial music. Miss Waldron then sang in beautiful voice, "O Promise Me" and "Always" and was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss LaNelda Waldron. At the close of the ceremony, the bridal couple knelt at the altar while Miss Waldron sang "Submission."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her white organdy dress, which was ballerina length and its simplicity added much to its beauty. She wore a Juliet hat of embroidery and organdy with a shoulder length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and satin ribbon. She also carried out the tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue."

Miss Barbara Thornhill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was orchid organdy very similar to that of the bride. Her bouquet was a nosegay of orchid daisies. Miss Marguerite Hoskins, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and was gowned in yellow organdy, an exact replica of the maid of honor. Her bouquet was a nosegay of yellow asters.

H. V. Shaw served as best man and John Pope as usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Thornhill chose black for her daughter's wedding, with a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Hoskins, the bridegroom's mother, also wore black and her corsage was red carnations.

The bride and groom, their parents and the attendants, received the guests before a background of ivy and floor standards of white gladioli. The bride's table was covered with a handmade lace cloth and the tiered wedding cake was flanked by silver candelabrum.

Mrs. Noel Henderson served the wedding cake and Mrs. Ralph K. Morgan and Mrs. Edgar Hoskins, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch service.

After a brief wedding trip to Lake Bruin, the couple will make their home in Monroe.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Buck Whatley and sons, Hal and Jon, of Port Arthur, Tex.

MISS MARIAN JANE SPAULDING WEDS MR. ROBERT PICKARD

One of the loveliest weddings of the season was that of Miss Marian Jane Spaulding and Robert Pickard of Beaumont, Texas. Miss Spaulding is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spaulding of Beaumont and formerly of Hodge, and Mr. Pickard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Pickard of Port Arthur, Texas.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. A. Holub in St. Anne's Catholic Church in Beaumont Friday night at seven o'clock, before an altar enchanced with tall baskets of white gladiola and chrysanthemums and ferns. Banked with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and palms were pyramids of burning tapers forming a semi-circle about the altar interlaced with garlands of pom-pom chrysanthemums. Sprays of white blossoms tied with bows of white satin ribbon and tulle ornamented the end of the pews.

A prelude of nuptial music was rendered by George Booker at the organ as the guests were being seated by the ushers Jack Turnbow and Kyle Preston of Port Arthur. He also accompanied Miss Carolyn Lockwood who sang "Ava Maria" and "Panis Anglicus."

The bride escorted by her father, entered to the strains of the wedding march, as chimes were softly heard in the distance, enhancing the beauty and solemnity of the occasion. She wore an original gown of imported magnolia satin, styled with a fitted bodice with a bertha collar of alencon lace. The long tapered sleeves ended in lily points over the hand. The full skirt featured a peplum at the hipline and developed in a graceful cathedral. Framing her face and falling about the shoulders was her tiered finger length veil of French Illusion which was caught to a cap of pearled illusion with a cornet of net and seed pearls.

Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She carried a white satin covered prayer book, crested with a specimen orchid and showered with stephonotis and satin streamers tied with love knots.

The bride's attendants were; Mrs. John Gautreaux of Port Arthur sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor; Miss Dolores Howard and Miss Romona Brossette of Shreveport served as bridesmaids. They wore identically fashioned models of ruffled nylon net over taffeta in pastel shades. The maid of honor wore a mauve pink net over taffeta Miss Dolores Howard wore seafoam green net over taffeta and Miss Romona Brossett a pale yellow net over taffeta. Each carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, from which fell streamers of pastel satin ribbons tied with baby mums in pastel colors. Little Madelyn Gautreaux was flower girl dropping rose petals from a dainty pink basket.

Lewis Pickard, of Norman Oklahoma, attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Benny Fontana of Port Arthur and Charles Smith of Henderson.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Spaulding wore a black crepe and her corsage was a purple orchid with matching maline and satin ribbon. The grandmother of the bride chose a navy crepe, wearing corsage of purple orchid with matching maline and satin streamers. Mother of the groom Mrs. Pickard was becomingly attired in black crepe model and her corsage too was an orchid of purple hue.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding entertained at a reception in the Mirror Room of the Hotel Beaumont. The three tiered bridal confection, embossed with lillies of the valley, surmounted with a miniature bride and groom, mounted on a huge reflector, encircled with garlands of Magnolis Daisies, artistically tied with white maline and satin ribbons, formed a lovely feture. At the opposite end was a crystal bowl of punch. Centering the table was a crystal bowl holding lillies and lacy ferns. The silver knife for cutting the cake was tied with white satin ribbon knotted with stephonotis.

Assisting with the serving courtesies were: Mrs. Robert Fulgham, Miss Maxine Stukes, Mrs. Cecil Aycock, Mrs. W. S. Arthur, Miss Flora Blanton of Houston and Miss Frances Wimberly.

For traveling the bride chose an early fall model of grey with a matching halo hat. The orchid from her Bible formed her shoulder corsage.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pickard will be at home at 4802 Caroline Street, Houston, Texas while Mr. Pickard is a student at the University of Texas, school of denistry. He previously attended Lamar College and the University of Oklahoma. He is a member of the X Psi Phi dental fraternity.

Mrs. Pickard was graduated from South Park High School and Lamar college where she was a member of the Southern Belles. She also attended Northwestern State College.

Among the out-of-town guest attending the ceremony were the bride's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs M. C. Moore of Hodge, Miss Betty Seale of Belton and a group of Houston friends, members of Mr. Pickard's fraternity.

Miss Carol Mae Thornhill Is Bride Of Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Jr.

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Church Of The Nazarene

The Church of the Nazarene of Monroe was the scene September 1 of the wedding of Miss Carol Mae Thornhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thornhill, of this city, and Mr. O. L. Hoskins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oather L. Hoskins also of this city. The Rev. Daniel Stafford officiated at the impressive ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows before the altar which was beautifully decorated with magnolia leaves. Tall standards of white tapers placed behind the altar enhanced the setting. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

The candles were lighted by Mr. Jerry Davis and Mr. Johnny Ward while Miss Neweeta Waldron played several selections of nuptial music. Miss Waldron then sang in beautiful voice, "O Promise Me" and "Always" and was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss LaNelda Waldron. At the close of the ceremony, the bridal couple knelt at the altar while Miss Waldron sang "Submission."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her white organdy dress, which was ballerina length and its simplicity added much to its beauty. She wore a Juliet hat of embroidery and organdy with a shoulder length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and satin ribbon. She also carried out the tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue."

Miss Barbara Thornhill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was orchid organdy very similar to that of the bride. Her bouquet was a nosegay of orchid daisies. Miss Marguerite Hoskins, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and was gowned in yellow organdy, an exact replica of the maid of honor. Her bouquet was a nosegay of yellow asters.

H. V. Shaw served as best man and John Pope as usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Thornhill chose black for her daughter's wedding, with a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Hoskins, the bridegroom's mother, also wore black and her corsage was red carnations.

The bride and groom, their parents and the attendants, received the guests before a background of ivy and floor standards of white gladioli. The bride's table was covered with a handmade lace cloth and the tiered wedding cake was flanked by silver candelabrum.

Mrs. Noel Henderson served the wedding cake and Mrs. Ralph K. Morgan and Mrs. Edgar Hoskins, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch service.

After a brief wedding trip to Lake Bruin, the couple will make their home in Monroe.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Buck Whatley and sons, Hal and Jon, of Port Arthur, Tex.

MISS MARIAN JANE SPAULDING WEDS MR. ROBERT PICKARD

One of the loveliest weddings of the season was that of Miss Marian Jane Spaulding and Robert Pickard of Beaumont, Texas. Miss Spaulding is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spaulding of Beaumont and formerly of Hodge, and Mr. Pickard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Pickard of Port Arthur, Texas.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. A. Holub in St. Anne's Catholic Church in Beaumont Friday night at seven o'clock, before an altar enchanced with tall baskets of white gladiola and chrysanthemums and ferns. Banked with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and palms were pyramids of burning tapers forming a semicircle about the altar interlaced with garlands of pom-pom chrysanthemums. Sprays of white blossoms tied with bows of white satin ribbon and tulle ornamented the end of the pews.

A prelude of nuptial music was rendered by George Booker at the organ as the guests were being seated by the ushers Jack Turnow and Kyle Preston of Port Arthur. He also accompanied Miss Carolyn Lockwood who sang "Ava Maria" and "Panis Anglicus."

The bride escorted by her father, entered to the strains of the wedding march, as chimes were softly heard in the distance, enhancing the beauty and solemnity of the occasion. She wore an original gown of imported magnolia satin, styled with a fitted bodice with a Bertha collar of alencon lace. The long tapered sleeves ended in lily points over the hand. The full skirt featured a peplum at the hipline and developed in a graceful cathedral. Framing her face and falling about the shoulders was her tiered finger length veil of French Illusion which was caught to a cap of pearled illusion with a cornet of pearl and seed pearls.

Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She carried a white satin covered prayer book, crested with a specimen orchid and showered with stephonotis and satin streamers tied with love knots.

The bride's attendants were; Mrs. John Gautreaux of Port Arthur sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor; Miss Dolores Howard and Miss Romona Brossette of Shreveport served as bridesmaids. They wore identically fashioned models of ruffled nylon net over taffeta in pastel shades. The maid of honor wore a mauve pink net over taffeta. Miss Dolores Howard wore seafoam green net over taffeta and Miss Romona Brossett a pale yellow net over taffeta. Each carried colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, from which fell streamers of pastel satin ribbons and with baby mums in pastel colors. Little Madelyn Gautreaux as flower girl dropping rose petals from a dainty pink basket.

Lewis Pickard, of Norman Oklahoma, attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Benny Fontana of Port Arthur and Charles Smith of Henderson.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Spaulding wore a black crepe and her corsage was a purple orchid with matching maline and satin ribbon. The grandmother of the bride chose a navy crepe, wearing a corsage of purple orchid with matching maline and satin streamers. Mother of the groom Mrs. Pickard was becomingly attired in a black crepe model and her corsage too was an orchid of purple hue.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding entertained at a reception in the Mirror Room of the Hotel Beaumont. The three tiered bridal confection, embossed with lillies of the valley, surmounted with a miniature bride and groom, mounted on a huge reflector, encircled with garlands of Magnolis Daisies, artistically tied with white maline and satin ribbons, formed a lovely picture. At the opposite end was a crystal bowl of punch. Centering the table was a crystal bowl filled with lillies and lacy ferns. The silver knife for cutting the cake was tied with white satin ribbon knotted with stephonotis.

Assisting with the serving courtesies were: Mrs. Robert Fulgham, Miss Maxine Stukes, Mrs. Cecil Aycock, Mrs. W. S. Arthur, Miss Flora Blanton of Houston and Miss Frances Wimberly.

For traveling the bride chose an early fall model of grey with a matching halo hat. The orchid from her Bible formed her shoulder corsage.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pickard will be at home at 4802 Caroline Street, Houston, Texas while Mr. Pickard is a student at the University of Texas, school of denistry. He previously attended Lamar College and the University of Oklahoma. He is a member of the X Psi Phi dental fraternity.

Mrs. Pickard was graduated from South Park High School and Lamar college where she was a member of the Southern Belles. She also attended Northwestern State College.

Among the out-of-town guest attending the ceremony were the bride's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs M. C. Moore of Hodge, Miss Betty Seale of Belton and a group of Houston friends, members of Mr. Pickard's fraternity.

HODGE

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sanderford of Monroe were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Jimerson Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary Neisler has sufficiently recovered from a recent major operation to be allowed to return to her home near Wyatt.

Mrs. Jessie Wynn has returned to her home in Jonesboro after a very pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. O. A. Eaddy of Keithville.

Delta Beta Sigma Sorority Entertains At Rush Week End

Formal Dance And Installation Highlight Pre-School Rush Activities

Members of the Delta Beta Sigma sorority entertained recently with a pre-school rush week end. Starting the week end was a mother-daughter "get-acquainted" party at the home of Miss Ann Flinn.

Friday evening members and rushees enjoyed a delicious barbecued chicken dinner, preceded by a delightful swim at the home of Miss Jean Stovall. Sunday morning the girls attended St. Matthew Catholic Church. The round of parties was completed that afternoon with a tea at the home of Miss Polly Riley for members, rushees, and their mothers.

The highlight of the weekend was the formal installation of the incoming officers at the home of Miss Vonnette Austin. This was followed by a gala formal dance held on the roof of the Frances Hotel. The ballroom was decorated with festive autumn leaves. Huge pages from diaries, telling of the events of Delta Beta Sigma during the past year, adorned the wall.

At this time the outgoing president, Miss Vonnette Austin presented gifts to the outgoing sponsers who were Den. Tisdale, Don Wells, Bill Worley, and Raymond Smart. She then introduced the incoming president, Miss Martha Hatchell who in turn introduced the incoming officers who are: Miss Rosemary McGinn, vice-president; Miss Mary Lou Harris, corresponding secretary; Miss Polly Riley, recording secretary; Miss Carolyn Peters, treasurer; Miss Barbara Kelso, custodian; Miss Georgianne Blanchard, parliamentarian; Miss Diane Ducote, historian; Miss Terri Tidwell, reporter; Miss Jo Rhodes, sentinel; and the incoming sponsers J. E. Peters, Leland Sims, and Wade Williams. The outgoing Mother Mrs. Ruby Pettit, and outgoing Lady Sponser Mrs. R. C. Sparks; and incoming Lady Sponser Mrs. L. P. Harris were presented corsages at this time. Uable to attend the dance was Mrs. George Tidwell, incoming Mother.

Members, rushees and their dates attending the dance were: Miss Martha Hatchell and John Bivins, Miss Mary Lou Harris and Buck Brown, Miss Carolyn Peters and Donald Bussey, Miss Rosemary McGinn and Tommy Starnes, Miss Polly Riley and Ed Seymour, Miss Georgianne Blanchard and John Filhoil, Miss Vonnette Austin and John Sims, Miss Ann Merriman and John Culpepper, Miss Martha Clayton Sparks and Dent Tisdale, Miss Jean Stovall and Keith Hunter, Miss Judy Brown and Wade Williams, Miss Mary Warner and Bill Worley, Miss Lela Bess Kite and Pepper Shlenker, Miss Ann Beth Lewis and Frank Cerniglia, Miss Betty Jane Pettit and Charles Stratford, Miss Anna Joyce Eyre and Ben Citizen, Miss Pat Guerriero and Grady Merriman, Miss Emma Lou Barton and Raymond Smart, Miss Jane Coats and Don Esterling, Miss Dorothy Works and Sam Hightower, Miss Flora Kitchingham and Guy DuPriest, Miss Sue Ann Windes and Speed Bancroft, Barbara and Earl Tarver, Miss Pat Reitzell and Johnny Crump, Miss Catherine Underwood and Ed Johnson, Miss Margaret Ann Lee and Bill O'Kelly, Miss Eltzner Frazier and Mike Cage, Miss Ann Choate and Sam Cararas, Miss Miriam Bigger and John Spatafora, Miss Pauline Barringer and Buddy Rizzo, Miss Ginger Blanks and Robert Cudd, Miss Barbara Stoler and Dickie Seidenspinner, Miss Jo Ann Heinberg and Layman Godwin, Miss Gail Bingham and Mike Boggs, Miss Connie Pickering and Alton McCready, Mrs. Ruby Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hatchell.

Rushees who attended other parties, but who were not at the dance were Miss Pud Huckabay, Miss Julia Bess Williams, Miss Jo Ann Norman, Miss Catherine Noel, Miss Pat Ruple, and Miss Carol Tonore.

TAXPAYERS AND VOTERS — WEST MONROE — READ EVERY WORD OF THIS AD!

WHY $1,900,000.00 ADDITIONAL TAXES ?

Important!

The authors and sponsors of this advertisement are perfectly willing to support any responsible plans for the betterment of West Monroe and Ward Five. However, we thoroughly believe that the present bond proposals have been prepared without proper consideration of the huge debt that would be incurred.

SO — $500,000.00 is now being Asked by our Mayor & Board of Aldermen!

WHY

Why is our present Mayor and Board of Aldermen asking for $500,000 to complete our water works system when our Late Mayor and Board of Aldermen in our $700,000 bond issue, (which we passed in 1946), stated $264,000 would lay a main line from the wells to our city, construct a huge reservoir and lay water lines to every section of the city of West Monroe, complete. They have used this $264,000. WHAT HAPPENED?

Why is our present Mayor and Board of Aldermen asking for $140,000 to build a central fire station when we voted $175,000 to construct a new city hall, central fire station, a northside fire station, a southside fire station, including equipment, in our previous $700,000 bond election? What Happened? Our present city hall cost $148,000. Should we have a central fire station as elaborate as our present city hall?

Why should our Mayor, Drainage Board and Board of Aldermen ask $175,000 for Drainage from Ward Five residents when the Ouachita Parish Police Jury DONATED $300,000 out of OUR General fund to Parish Drainage and WE voted and are TODAY paying one-half mills drainage tax, already. Incidentally, the west side of the River received one little drainage ditch from all of this money.

HERE'S SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT!

Why are our Mayor and Board of Aldermen asking for $495,000 for street repairs when our Parking Meters and Cigarette Tax are bringing in Approximately $60,000 per year which will pay for resurfacing our entire city streets in eight years instead of a 20-year yoke around our necks? Are they interested in keeping the yoke off our necks or the chance to handle $495,000?

Now—Our Mayor and Board of Aldermen in the Friday, August 24th, 1951, issue of the Ouachita Citizen shows on increase of 11 mills in taxes if the $1,900,000 bond issue is passed.

Listen, Taxpayer—If a $700,000 bond issue, which we passed, increased our taxes 14 MILLS, what will a $1,900,000 bond issue increase it? WE SAY 21 MILLS!

COMPARISON!

Here Is Tax Millage In Other Louisiana Towns!

RUSTON 9 mills BASTROP 20 mills

ALEXANDRIA 19 mills SHREVEPORT 18½ mills

The Present West Monroe Tax Is 21.6

If The Bond Issue Is Voted West Monroe TAX MILLAGE Will Be 42.6

INCLUDING HOSPITAL & DRAINAGE TAX! AND—

It Will Increase The Average Home Owner's City Tax 100%.

Remember, Homestead Exemption Does Not Apply To City Taxes.

VOTE AGAINST

THIS TREMENDOUS INCREASE IN TAXES
WE CAN'T STAND MORE TAXES

LET'S KEEP WEST MONROE AND WARD FIVE ON A SOUND BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL BASIS

THE HOSPITAL ISSUE:

WHY ARE WE NOT ENTITLED TO HAVE A HOSPITAL THAT WILL STAND UP TO FEDERAL AND STATE REGULATIONS?

WHY DO OUR MAYOR, BOARD OF ALDERMEN AND HOSPITAL BOARD WANT TO BUILD US A SUB - STANDARD HOSPITAL AT SUCH EXHORBITANT COST AND HOW DO THEY EXPECT TO GET FEDERAL AND STATE AID ON A SUB-STANDARD HOSPITAL AFTER IT IS BUILT, IF THEY CONNOT GET IT NOW?

WHY IS IT THAT OTHER CITIES, IN THIS AREA, HAVE ASKED FOR AND RECEIVED AID FROM THE FEDERAL AND STATE GOVERNMENTS TO CONSTRUCT THEIR HOSPITALS?

WHY SHOULD OUR OFFICIALS TURN DOWN THE CHANCE TO RECEIVE A MAJOR PORTION OF THIS HOSPITAL COST AND THE TAXPAYERS OF WARD FIVE HAVE TO SUFFER THE ENTIRE COST?

IS IT THAT THEY WANT TO RENT THIS HOSPITAL FOR $1.00 PER YEAR OR USE IT FOR A POLITICAL FOOTBALL?

Yes, we do want improvement for West Monroe—and we are ready to support any responsible plan for a bond issue for West Monroe and Ward 5—providing it is given careful consideration and planned in a Businesslike manner and not a wasteful manner.

TAXPAYERS! — If the bond issues are approved and the tax burden is far greater than has been estimated by supporters of the Bond Issues the blame will fall upon the shoulders of those responsible for misleoding the public, but the cost will fall upon the shoulders of the taxpayers. —

And let us remember that good times and inflation will not necessarily last for the next 20 to 25 years during the life of the proposed indebtedness.

Business And Profession Club Women Have September Meeting

Miss Barbara Barker Reports On Pelican Girls' State Activities At Meeting

At the business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Tuesday evening, September 11, at Hotel Frances, Miss Barbara Barker, who was sponsored by the club, rendered one of the most vivid and interesting reports on Pelican Girls' State activities ever enjoyed.

To highlight her talk, Miss Barker related that in addition to teaching gratefulness and humbleness, one of the main purposes of Girls' State was to give our youth an opportunity to correctly learn the ways and means of good government. Individualism and every individual's right to vote was also stressed. To make their knowledge lasting and more effective, delegates were placed in different mock parishes and on different political parties. They ran for election, made campaign speeches and formed the members that the B. and P. W. Club will put on their annual bingo game some time during the month of October. Membership Chairman Helen Blanchard proposed several names for membership and their acceptance was unanimous.

gave inaugural addresses. Miss Barker was successively elected as sheriff of her parish, parish chairman and governor of the Nationalist Party.

In addition delegates formed ball teams, bands and glee clubs. "Stunt Night", to celebrate their last evening in Baton Rouge, revealed considerable talent and afforded hilarious entertainment as a fitting finish to their intensive nine-day session.

Committee chairmen of all the standing committee next gave reports on their activities to date and those still in the offing. Finance Chairman Bessie Skinner inMae Modes to help in the cancer drive by being responsible for night collections on their respective blocks. As before, those wishing to donate to the cancer fund will so indicate by turning on their porch lights.

Mrs. E. G. Touchstone, 1017 North Fifth street, has extended an invitation to all B & P W Club members to attend the tea being given at her home on Sunday, September 16, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. in honor of Miss Alice Chilton.

The North Side Group of the League of women Voters has cordially invited all club members to attend their annual Silver Tea on Wednesday, September 19 at the home of Mrs. John Fox, 1400 Riverside from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m.

INSTRUCTION IS PLAN OF P.-T.A.

Will Be Held In 1st Baptist Educational Bldg. September 26

The Twin Cities P.-T. A. council announces plans for their annual fall school of instruction to be held Wednesday, Sept. 26 at the First Baptist Church Educational Building. Registration will begin at 9:00 a. m.

The services of Miss Clyde Mobley, consultant on parent education from the state department of education has been secured as an instructor of study classes in home and family life education. This is a return engagement by Miss Mobley and was a special request of the council members. She is known throughout the state for her work in organizing parent education groups, and this course proved to be the most popular one presented at the 1950 P.-T. A. school of instruction.

Mrs. Carl Thompson, chairman, and Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, co-chairman have planned the program from evaluation of the members of last year's session. The subjects chosen by the members should prove stimulating and interesting. Also on the program will be a P.-T. A. publications fashion parade as presented by Mrs. James A. Larkan at the Louisiana P.-T. A. annual convention. This demonstration proved to be one of the highlights of the convention, and is a request performance by the Twin Cities council.

Mrs. Paul Thompson, president of the council has issued invitations to all the local units in the 5th district to attend this meeting, and to participate in the sessions.

For a gourmet appetizer: serve honeydew melon with thinly sliced Italian ham.

PEDESTRIANS TRAFFIC VICTIMS

Two Out Of Five Killed Thus Are Those Who Are Walking

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 15.—(Special)— Two out of every five persons killed in traffic accidents in this country have been pedestrians Jimmie Babington, secretary - manager of the Louisiana Motor Transport Association, stated today in warning pedestrians to use crosswalks when crossing streets.

"Walk a few extra steps and save your life," he said. "The crosswalks and other safety zones were installed for the protection of pedestrians and should always be used. Let's end this unnecessary loss of life by staying in the safety zones."

He added that you can't always count on passenger car drivers being as alert as the nation's professional truck drivers and stopping in time when someone bursts into the street without looking. Even the fastest - acting professional drivers cannot always stop for jaywalking pedestrians .

"Safety zones" is this month's campaign theme of Louisiana Motor Transport Association's courtesy and safety campaign. The campaign is directed toward all who use the highways — the professional drivers, the passenger car drivers and pedestrians.

"Also remember that crosswalks, streetcar zones and other safety zones are not stone walls," Babington said. "You have to be alert to the vehicles on the road, and just being in the proper zone does not automatically protect you from injury. Remember that in this country, where automobile traffic is heavier than in any other country in the world, it is always wise for the pedestrian to look before stepping into the street, even if it is into a safety zone," he concluded.

For a quick dessert serve sauteed fresh peach halves on French toast and pass the maple syrup.

LET'S KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT

FIRST—

The Board of Commissioners of Ouachita Parish Gravity Drainage is asking the taxpayers of West Monroe and a small portion of Ward Five to furnish them the necessary money—NOT FOR DRAINAGE—but to buy pumps and build a new pump station to LIFT THE WATER OVER THE LEVEE DURING HIGH WATER.

SECOND—

It is absolutely necessary for the protection of the homes and business establishments in West Monroe and that portion of Ward Five that extends from the Monroe Sand & Gravel Company on the West to McGuire Addition on the North that ADDITIONAL PUMPS be immediately installed. There is no way to get this water over the Levee except TO PUMP IT OVER. When the river is high EVERY DROP OF RAIN WATER falling in this area must BE PUMPED OVER THE LEVEE. If this is not done then the Drainage Area will become a lake and will remain so until the water in the river goes down.

The new pumps are necessary—first, because the two present pumps are 15 years old and there is always a possibility that they will go out of commission during an emergency; second, because during recent years the drainage of all sections in the district has been so greatly improved that rain water rushes unimpeded to the Black Bayou drainage ditch and accumulates with great rapidity in the vicinity of the pumping station. If the pumps are unable to lift the water over the levee as fast as it piles up, then backwater accumulates to such an extent that we have real flood conditions in many thickly populated sections of West Monroe and Ward Five.

THIRD—

The Board of Commissioners of Gravity Drainage District No. 1 is a separate and distinct body from the Tensas Basin Levee Board, the City of West Monroe or the Parish of Ouachita and is composed of a group of public spirited citizens who serve you without pay and only with the idea of keeping flood waters away from our homes and places of business.

FOURTH—

No matter where you live, within the City of West Monroe or inside in the Drainage District if your assessed valuation is $2,000 or less YOUR TAXES WILL NOT BE ONE PENNY because of your homestead exemption for this amount.
The present board nor any future Drainage Board cannot improse any tax on you if your assessment is less than $2000.

Your homestead exemptions is a constitutional ammendment to the laws of Louisiana and was voted for by the people. The only way your taxes may be raised on this proposition, if you come within the homestead exemption, is for YOU the people to vote out the homestead exemption act.

Business And Profession Club Women Have September Meeting

Miss Barbara Barker Reports On Pelican Girls' State Activities At Meeting

At the business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Tuesday evening, September 11, at Hotel Frances, Miss Barbara Barker, who was sponsored by the club, rendered one of the most vivid and interesting reports on Pelican Girls' State activities ever enjoyed.

To highlight her talk, Miss Barker related that in addition to teaching gratefulness and humbleness, one of the main purposes of Girls' State was to give our youth an opportunity to correctly learn the ways and means of good government. Individualism and every individual's right to vote was also stressed. To make their knowledge lasting and more effective, delegates were placed in different mock parishes and on different political parties. They ran for election, made campaign speeches and formed the members that the B. and P. W. Club will put on their annual bingo game some time during the month of October. Membership Chairman Helen Blanchard proposed several names for membership and their acceptance was unanimous.

gave inaugural addresses. Miss Barker was successively elected as sheriff of her parish, parish chairman and governor of the Nationalist Party.

In addition delegates formed ball teams, bands and glee clubs. "Stunt Night", to celebrate their last evening in Baton Rouge, revealed considerable talent and afforded hilarious entertainment as a fitting finish to their intensive nine-day session.

Committee chairmen of all the standing committee next gave reports on their activities to date and those still in the offing. Finance Chairman Bessie Skinner in-

Mrs. Laura Slator, chairman of the Agnes Morris Loan committee, announced that Miss Lida Mae King, who recently graduated from art school, will paint portraits and teach art at Mr. Spatafora's art studio.

National Business Women's Week, September 23-29, will be initially launched with a coffee hour at the home of Miss Alice Baur, 505 Louisville avenue, on Sunday, September 23, at 9:30 a.m. At 11:00 o'clock club members will attend High Mass at St. Matthews Catholic Church where special pews will be reserved for them; this service will be broadcast.

On Tuesday evening, September 25, at 7:30 o'clock, the Bosses' Banquet will be held in the Mirror Room on Hotel Frances mezzanine. Kindly make all banquet reservations with Miss Alice Baur.

President Louise Massey will represent the Monroe B. and P.W. Club at the regional conference to be held at Topeka, Kan. on October 5-6-7th.

Several members promised Miss Mae Modes to help in the cancer drive by being responsible for night collections on their respective blocks. As before, those wishing to donate to the cancer fund will so indicate by turning on their porch lights.

Mrs. E. G. Touchstone, 1017 North Fifth street, has extended an invitation to all B & P W Club members to attend the tea being given at her home on Sunday, September 16, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. in honor of Miss Alice Chilton.

The North Side Group of the League of women Voters has cordially invited all club members to attend their annual Silver Tea on Wednesday, September 19 at the home of Mrs. John Fox, 1400 Riverside from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m.

An old lady was watching a game of tennis and noticed how often the ball was driven against the net. "Why don't they take down the net?" she asked.
It is hard for many of us to understand the value of obstacles, of hazards, of hindrances. We cannot understand the joys of the chase. We never enter into the delight of overcoming.
If the time ever comes when all our ditches are filled, all our nets are taken down, life will be too tame to live. Let us praise God daily for the burdens in the way, face them cheerfully and overcome them with a shout.
Services at our church are:

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE
Grammont and Catalpa Streets

Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister
The attendance at the Sabbath School is on the increase. Were you present last Sabbath? If you were not, you were missed. And with your attendance the 300 plus mark will be reached.
"Worship that pays" is the subject of the morning hour of service. This is the season of the year when people turn back to the church, after the summer and a vacation. The motivation is worship. But what is worship, the worship that pays?
"God Recognized" is the theme of the evening. God is everywhere, but what are the means of recognition?
The Synod of Louisiana will meet in The First Presbyterian Church of Alexandria, September 18-20. The Session will be represented by Dr. D. M. Moore or Mr. C. S. Foster; the minister will be present as a member of the Presbytery of Red River.
On to Dallas, men! A great assembly of men will gather in Dallas, November 9-11, to think about the church, and what they can do as members of the church. If plans materialize, a number of men will attend.

Our Children

MODERN EDUCATION

Today's schools, many of the better ones, are very different from the schools of twenty-five years ago, and a good thing, too. To me there was nothing sadder than the sight of fifty-odd active, intelligent, healthy children, raring to go about the business of growing up to a state of self-sufficiency, sitting silently, stiff as ramrods in their benches while the teacher, jaw set and eyes steeled, questioned them in turn from the text before her, marking each answer in per cent of success or failure. That sit-still-and-listen school is passing out fast now, the faster and more completely the better.
Today's school is not quiet, nor are the children sitting rigidly in their benches. Four or five of the class are grouped about a table, their heads bent over a chart; another group are lettering, drawing, coloring the sheets related to the matter that other group is checking in the reference book; a group is gathered about the teacher's desk deep in a discussion of ways and means to further the project in hand; still another group is making a report to their leader, a bright-faced child who listens, questions, makes notes. Everybody is actively busy. Children all over the room are talking, standing about tables, moving across the room to another table or bookshelf.
To those used to the old-style classroom this one seems noisy and disjointed. In reality it is a workshop in which things are being accomplished. Children are growing under their own power, aided by the teacher but not dominated by her or him. They are using their minds; they are discovering power, creative power, that will in time to come distinguish the American child, youth, adult, from all others as a free, intelligent able man or woman.
The workshops in the schools are not a waste of time and money as some uniformed people seem to think. They are the laboratories for the cultivation of informed, efficient, self-starting American citizens. Experience is what teaches people. The children who have access to shops, laboratories, libraries, studios, gardens, parks, museums, those to whom the doors of businessmen, industralists, civic bureaus, and like institutions are open, are learning, growing, achieving in a culture so rich and enduring as to make the experiences of their grandfathers' schooldays look like child's play.
If your children's school does not come up to this standard—why not?

Modern parents know that cooing to baby will not teach him to talk. Children learn by imitation. Doctor Patri discusses this subject fully in his leaflet P-21, "Talking to Baby." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

LEGION AUXILIARY IN LAKE PROVIDENCE OUTLINES HISTORY

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 16.—(Special)— Pictured above are three presidents of Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, American Legion Auxiliary, at Lake Providence. Reading left to right, seated is Mrs. Margaret M. Newman, who was the organizing president and who has served the unit four years as president and Mrs. Marie Bandenburg Parker, who was the president when the unit celebrated it's 25th year of service. Standing is Mrs. Naomi Hardin Rosenzweig, recently installed president, who has goals to accomplish in exceeding past records.
Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37 was organized July 26, 1926 through the efforts of Mrs. Newman at the insistance and with the cooperation of the late Dr. W. H. Hamley and O. N. Hamilton, then post adjutant, as they did not want their post a bachelor post and they were anxious to have department representation to cast a vote for Miss Jennie O'Kelly (now Mrs. C. M. Mitchell) of Monroe as department president.
The unit and post at Lake Providence were named for three Lake Providence service men who were killed in World War I; First Lieutenant Thomas J. Powell, Jr., a volunteer in the infantry, Pvt. G. C. Martin, volunteer in the U. S. marine corps, and Pvt. Bennie Barrett in the infantry.
The ten charter members of which seven are still living, were Mrs. T. J. Powell, Sr., Mrs. Lillian Powell Gross, Mrs. Arthur B. Patrick, Mrs. H. L. Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Frank Byerly, Mrs. Nancy Hamer Ellis, Mrs. O. P. Hamilton, Mrs. Max Levy, Mrs. Earnest Newman and Mrs. T. J. Powell, Jr. The first corps of officers were Mrs. Newman, president; Mrs. Ellis, vice - president; Mrs. T. J. Powell Jr., secretary; Mrs. Gross, treasurer and Mrs. Byerly, chaplain. Mrs. W. K. Evans was the delegate to the department convention.
Unit presidents for the 25 years of the unit's history were 1926-27-28 Mrs. Margaret M. Newman, president with Mrs. Bessie B. Powell, secretary; other years with president and secretary were 1929-30 Mrs. W. H. Hamley, Mrs. Isabel R. Voelker 1931-32 Mrs. Bessie Lyon, Mrs. Alice A. Sharp; 1933 Mrs. Alice Whittington Johnson, Mrs. Pearlier Schober; 1934 Mrs. E. C. Frenz, Mrs. Agnes Hamley; 1935-36 Mrs. Grace Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Vera Cohron and Mrs. Pearlie Schober; 1937 Mrs. W. T. Turner, Mrs. H. L. Van Valkenburgh; 1938 Mrs. Ottilie Wall, Mrs. Maude McPhate Van Fossen; 1939 Mrs. Grady Wyly, Mrs. Agnes Hamley; 1940-41, Mrs. Harry Blount; 1947 Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston; 1945-46 Mrs. Alma Cutter Igou, Mrs. Harry Blount; 1947 Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, Mrs. Rose Mary Beard Barlow; 1948 Mrs. Doris Majors Winters, Mrs. Louisa O'Steen; 1949 Mrs. Mary Hall Reed, Mrs. Nell Hamilton Patrick; 1950 Mrs. Adell Goode Markey, Miss Nikki Cade; 1951 Mrs. Marie B. Parker, Mrs. Sybal Logan; 1951-52 year Mrs. Naomi H. Rosenzweig with Mrs. Jaon Bruton Hamilton secretary.
Among the early projects were medals for sixth grade students' best essays on "How Sixth Grade Boys and Girls May Become Better Citizens"; musical comedies; suppers for the Boy Scouts; Mother's Day candy sale; underprivileged families sent to recreation camp, Alexandria; quarterly payment of cigarette fund for veterans at Alexandria hospital. 1927 is considered the outstanding year with cooperation with Red Cross in emergency relief in gathering and distributing clothing, food and medicine to those from stricken areas which were overflowed and which left Lake Providence a veritable island from backwaters coming through the bayous both north and south of the town.
The outstanding program of the unit is child welfare, of which Mrs. Margaret Newman has been chairman for 15 of the 25 years of existance, and in which thousands of dollars, countless articles of clothing, hundreds of pounds of food, have been donated to help for a better community life.
The membership has grown from the 10 of 1926 to 180 in 1951 with a greatly increased goal for 1952 report.

HODGE

Mr. Drew Jimerson and son James enjoyed a very pleasant fishing trip to Old River Wednesday.

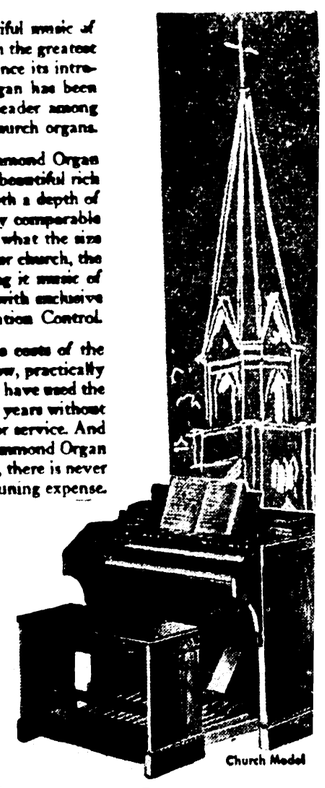
Hewitt's Doorway To Fine Music Offers . . . .
The most beautiful of all music for your church
Traditionally the beautiful music of the organ is synonymous with the greatest music of the church. Since its introduction, the Hammond Organ has been the outstanding leader among all church organs.
For your church the Hammond Organ offers thousands of beautiful rich church tones, together with a depth of expression unequalled by any comparable instrument. No matter what the size or construction of your church, the Hammond Organ can bring it music of "cathedral quality," with exclusive Reverberation Control.
Service and maintenance costs of the Hammond Organ are low, practically negligible; many churches have used the Hammond Organ for years without spending a single dollar for service. And since the Church Model Hammond Organ cannot go out of tune, there is never a cent of tuning expense.


Church Model
Year after year, more churches choose the Hammond Organ than all other comparable instruments combined. This is striking evidence of the leadership of the Hammond Organ—the best buy for your church.
HAMMOND ORGAN
We cordially invite you to see, hear, and play the Church Model Hammond Organ at our showrooms soon. No obligation, of course. Hammond Organ prices start at only . . . .

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, pastor.
J. O. Fleming, church school superintendent.
An old lady was watching a game of tennis and noticed how often the ball was driven against the net. "Why don't they take down the net?" she asked.
It is hard for many of us to understand the value of obstacles, of hazards, of hindrances. We cannot understand the joys of the chase. We never enter into the delight of overcoming.
If the time ever comes when all our ditches are filled, all our nets are taken down, life will be too tame to live. Let us praise God daily for the burdens in the way, face them cheerfully and overcome them with a shout.
Services at our church are:
Sunday:
Church School — 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship service — 10:50 a. m.
Youth fellowship — 6:00 p. m.
Children's service — 6:45 p. m.
Worship service — 7:30 p. m.
Monday:
Woman's Society of Christian Service — 2:00 p. m.
Tuesday: Wesleyan Service Guild — 7:30 p. m.
Wednesday: Mid - week service — 7:30 p. m.
"You are always welcome at Claiborne."

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE
Grammont and Catalpa Streets
Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister
The attendance at the Sabbath School is on the increase. Were you present last Sabbath? If you were not, you were missed. And with your attendance the 300 plus mark will be reached.
"Worship that pays" is the subject of the morning hour of service. This is the season of the year when people turn back to the church, after the summer and a vacation. The motivation is worship. But what is worship, the worship that pays?
"God Recognized" is the theme of the evening. God is everywhere, but what are the means of recognition?
The Synod of Louisiana will meet in The First Presbyterian Church of Alexandria, September 18-20. The Session will be represented by Dr. D. M. Moore or Mr. C. S. Foster; the minister will be present as a member of the Presbytery of Red River.
On to Dallas, men! A great assembly of men will gather in Dallas, November 9-11, to think about the church, and what they can do as members of the church. If plans materialize, a number of men will attend.

MODERN EDUCATION

Today's schools, many of the better ones, are very different from the schools of twenty-five years ago, and a good thing, too. To me there was nothing sadder than the sight of fifty-odd active, intelligent, healthy children, raring to go about the business of growing up to a state of self-sufficiency, sitting silently, stiff as ramrods in their benches while the teacher, jaw set and eyes steeled, questioned them in turn from the text before her, marking each answer in per cent of success or failure. That sit-still-and-listen school is passing out fast now, the faster and more completely the better.
Today's school is not quiet, nor are the children sitting rigidly in their benches. Four or five of the class are grouped about a table, their heads bent over a chart; another group are lettering, drawing, coloring the sheets related to the matter that other group is checking in the reference book; a group is gathered about the teacher's desk deep in a discussion of ways and means to further the project in hand; still another group is making a report to their leader, a bright-faced child who listens, questions, makes notes. Everybody is actively busy. Children all over the room are talking, standing about tables, moving across the room to another table or bookshelf.
To those used to the old-style classroom this one seems noisy and disjointed. In reality it is a workshop in which things are being accomplished. Children are growing under their own power, aided by the teacher but not dominated by her or him. They are using their minds; they are discovering power, creative power, that will in time to come distinguish the American child, youth, adult, from all others as a free, intelligent able man or woman.
The workshops in the schools are not a waste of time and money as some uniformed people seem to think. They are the laboratories for the cultivation of informed, efficient, self-starting American citizens. Experience is what teaches people. The children who have access to shops, laboratories, libraries, studios, gardens, parks, museums, those to whom the doors of businessmen, industralists, civic bureaus, and like institutions are open, are learning, growing, achieving in a culture so rich and enduring as to make the experiences of their grandfathers' schooldays look like child's play.
If your children's school does not come up to this standard—why not?

Modern parents know that cooing to baby will not teach him to talk. Children learn by imitation. Doctor Patri discusses this subject fully in his leaflet P-21, "Talking to Baby." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

LEGION AUXILIARY IN LAKE PROVIDENCE OUTLINES HISTORY

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 16.—(Special)— Pictured above are three presidents of Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, American Legion Auxiliary, at Lake Providence. Reading left to right, seated is Mrs. Margaret M. Newman, who was the organizing president and who has served the unit four years as president and Mrs. Marie Bandenburg Parker, who was the president when the unit celebrated it's 25th year of service. Standing is Mrs. Naomi Hardin Rosenzweig, recently installed president, who has goals to accomplish in exceeding past records.
Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37 was organized July 26, 1926 through the efforts of Mrs. Newman at the insistance and with the cooperation of the late Dr. W. H. Hamley and O. N. Hamilton, then post adjutant, as they did not want their post a bachelor post and they were anxious to have department representation to cast a vote for Miss Jennie O'Kelly (now Mrs. C. M. Mitchell) of Monroe as department president.
The unit and post at Lake Providence were named for three Lake Providence service men who were killed in World War I; First Lieutenant Thomas J. Powell, Jr., a volunteer in the infantry, Pvt. G. C. Martin, volunteer in the U. S. marine corps, and Pvt. Bennie Barrett in the infantry.
The ten charter members, of which seven are still living, were Mrs. T. J. Powell, Sr., Mrs. Lillian Powell Gross, Mrs. Arthur B. Patrick, Mrs. H. L. Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Frank Byerly, Mrs. Nancy Hamer Ellis, Mrs. O. P. Hamilton, Mrs. Max Levy, Mrs. Earnest Newman and Mrs. T. J. Powell, Jr. The first corps of officers were Mrs. Newman, president; Mrs. Ellis, vice - president; Mrs. T. J. Powell Jr., secretary; Mrs. Gross, treasurer and Mrs. Byerly, chaplain. Mrs. W. K. Evans was the delegate to the department convention.
Unit presidents for the 25 years of the unit's history were 1926-27-28 Mrs. Margaret M. Newman, president with Mrs. Bessie B. Powell, secretary; other years with president and secretary were 1929-30 Mrs. W. H. Hamley, Mrs. Isabel R. Voelker 1931-32 Mrs. Bessie Lyon, Mrs. Alice A. Sharp; 1933 Mrs. Alice Whittington Johnson, Mrs. Pearlier Schober; 1934 Mrs. E. C. Frenz, Mrs. Agnes Hamley; 1935-36 Mrs. Grace Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Vera Cohron and Mrs. Pearlie Schober; 1937 Mrs. W. T. Turner, Mrs. H. L. Van Valkenburgh; 1938 Mrs. Ottilie Wall, Mrs. Maude McPhate Van Fossen; 1939 Mrs. Grady Wyly, Mrs. Agnes Hamley; 1940-41, Mrs. Harry Blount; 1947 Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston; 1945-46 Mrs. Alma Culter Igou, Mrs. Harry Blount; 1947 Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, Mrs. Rose Mary Beard Barlow; 1948 Mrs. Doris Majors Winters, Mrs. Louisa O'Steen; 1949 Mrs. Mary Hall Reed, Mrs. Nell Hamilton Patrick; 1950 Mrs. Adell Goode Markey, Miss Nikki Cade; 1951 Mrs. Marie B. Parker, Mrs. Sybal Logan; 1951-52 year Mrs. Naomi H. Rosenzweig with Mrs. Jaon Bruton Hamilton secretary.
Among the early projects were medals for sixth grade students' best essays on "How Sixth Grade Boys and Girls May Become Better Citizens"; musical comedies; suppers for the Boy Scouts; Mother's Day candy sale; underprivileged families sent to recreation camp, Alexandria; quarterly payment of cigarette fund for veterans at Alexandria hospital. 1927 is considered the outstanding year with cooperation with Red Cross in emergency relief in gathering and distributing clothing, food and medicine to those from stricken areas which were overflowed and which left Lake Providence a veritable island from backwaters coming through the bayous both north and south of the town.
The outstanding program of the unit is child welfare, of which Mrs. Margaret Newman has been chairman for 15 of the 25 years of existance, and in which thousands of dollars, countless articles of clothing, hundreds of pounds of food, have been donated to help for a better community life.
The membership has grown from the 10 of 1926 to 180 in 1951 with a greatly increased goal for 1952 report.

HODGE

Mr. Drew Jimerson and son, James enjoyed a very pleasant fishing trip to Old River Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Bud Davis and children, Donnie — and Linda Kay and Mrs. Davis' father, J. M. Neisler, have just recently returned from a visit with relatives in Great Bend, Kan. They were the guests of Mr. Neisler's brother and his family Mr and Mrs. John Neisler who has been critically ill for the past several months.
Mrs. W. A. Peevy and son Larry, Mrs. Era Phymes and daughter, Martha Ann and Mrs. D. M. Gunter of Jonesboro spent a very pleasant vacation in Hot Springs, Ark.
Mrs Faye Fredieu of Jonesboro visited relatives and friends in Shreveport and Keithville this week end.
Familiar faces of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart and family of San Diego, Calif. are seen about the ole home town this week. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are former employes of the Southern Advance Bag and Paper Company.

Hewitt's Doorway To Fine Music Offers . . . .

The most beautiful of all music for your church

Traditionally the beautiful music of the organ is synonymous with the greatest music of the church. Since its introduction, the Hammond Organ has been the outstanding leader among all church organs.

For your church the Hammond Organ offers thousands of beautiful rich church tones, together with a depth of expression unequalled by any comparable instrument. No matter what the size or construction of your church, the Hammond Organ can bring it music of "cathedral quality," with exclusive Reverberation Control.

Service and maintenance costs of the Hammond Organ are low, practically negligible; many churches have used the Hammond Organ for years without spending a single dollar for service. And since the Church Model Hammond Organ cannot go out of tune, there is never a cent of tuning expense.

Year after year, more churches choose the Hammond Organ than all other comparable instruments combined. This is striking evidence of the leadership of the Hammond Organ—the best buy for your church.

The world's population is increasing faster than food production and about 75 per cent of the people of the world are eating less and wearing less than they did before the war, according to U. S. agricultural experts.

A big hydroelectric program for developing power and irrigation facilities is getting under way in Italy's Tiber River basin where the ancient Romans made engineering history with bridges, aqueducts and drainage systems.

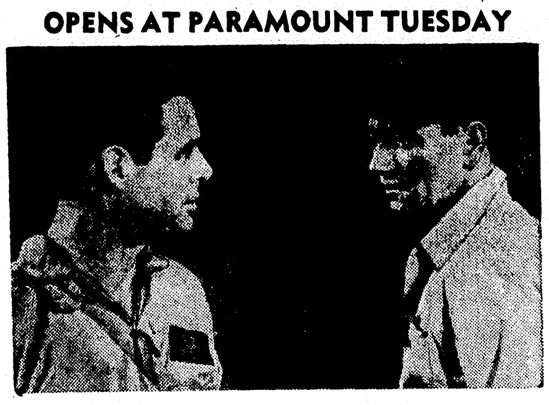
Friday and Saturday "The Fat Man," with Julie London and J. Scott Smart.

The gauge on a pressure cooker does not indicate the actual pressure inside the cooker, but merely the excess in pressure over that which prevails around it.

OPENS AT PARAMOUNT TUESDAY



Robert Ryan and John Wayne co-star in the inspiring story of Marine Corps fighter pilots air campaign in the Pacific, "Flying Leathernecks," in technicolor, which opens a five-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Tuesday.

U. S. Marines Air Corps Basis Of Virile Drama

Edmund Grainger's production "Flying Leathernecks," an RKO Radio picture in color by Technicolor is first to bring into focus the activities of the U. S. Marine Corps air arm, and opens a five day engagement at the Paramount Theater Tuesday.

Upon the completion of his "Sands of Iwo Jima," which told of the Marines' heroic stand on Okinawa and Iwo Jima, Grainger was approached with the suggestion of a picture that would bring to the public the story of a phase of aircraft fighting that originated with the Marine Corps, and which today has proved of value in the Korean struggle; that is — close support of air with the ground troops.

Working closely with Brig. Gen. Clayton C. Jerome, who at that time was in full charge of public information and recruiting for the Corps, Grainger came up with the story contained in "Flying Leathernecks."

Here is told a heroic story of a small group of Marine fliers, who were the first American squadron to take over Henderson Field, Guadalcanal, from the Japs.

John Wayne and Robert Ryan carry the top roles. Don Taylor, Jay C. Flippen and William Harrigan play featured supporting roles along with Janis Carter, who is cast as Wayne's wife.

Wayne, in the role of a squadron commander, struggles to remain loyal to his duty and yet remain the human toward his fliers. Sending men to their almost certain death is not a job of his own choosing; yet he must be firm. Ryan, though devoted to his leader, rebels against such rigid routine. The conflict between Ryan and Wayne is a salient motivation in the screen story.

IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood, Sept. 15. —(AP)— Surprise of the week was the bowout by Russell Nype from his first movie.

The bespectacled, crew - cut singing sensation of the Broadway hit "Call Me Madam" had been working for eight days in his first picture, 'Young Man in a Hurry." Then MGM announced suddenly he was being taken out of the film. Here is his explanation:

"I realized from the outset that I was too young for the role. It was originally written for Jimmy Stewart, and the character was supposed to be married 10 years and have three children — eight, five and one years old.

"I naturally expected they would rewrite the script and at least knock off one or two of the children. But they didn't, and I started the picture with trepidation. When the studio bosses saw the first eight days' rushes, they agreed with me that I was too young for the part."

Nype, who is 27, won't be able to restart his film career until June, 1952. He is signed until then to appear in the Ethel Merman musical and was on leave of absence to make his movie debut. He expects to return to the show within a few days . . .

The circus is in town this week and Hollywood stars are among the ordinary citizens watching "The Greatest Show on Earth" every afternoon and evening. Cecil B. DeMille, who has made a circus picture of that name, invited a number of stars to the opening night, among them James Stewart, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Grahame, Dale Evans and Roy Rogers.

All seemed to enjoy themselves as did another of DeMille's guests. Nancy Thomas, 3. According to Miss Thomas: "Elephants are better than ever." . . .

Record album of the week, month or perhaps year is "Hark! The Years" from Capitol. Narrated with understanding by Fredric March, it contains many of the important voices of the last 60 years.

The album begins with the trumpet call of a soldier who sounded the charge of the light brigade. It continues with such voices as those of Florence Nightingale, William Jennings Bryan, George M. Cohan, Theodore Roosevelt, Lillian Russell, Woodrow Wilson and other notables up to the present era. The painstaking job of assembling the recordings pays off with something valuable — audible history . . .

The topnotch comics of the town are whipping up their routines and writers for the debut of transcontinental television on a commercial basis. The event is kicked off with the Eddie Cantor show Sept. 30.

Meanwhile, there is still much discussion on the merits of live and filmed TV. Perhaps the last word is offered by Prof. James Durante, who argues that live TV is better than canned.

TOWN FIGHTS FOR SURVIVAL

Pusing, Malaya —(AP)— The 3,000 residents of this little mining town in Perak state of Malaya are fighting to "make good." If they don't, they may suffer the same fate as the village of Jenderam in Selangor state.

The British forcibly evacuated all of Jenderam's 1,600 people in February and ordered it burned off the map of Malaya because it was a "wasp's nest" of Communist terrorism. The people were screened and the worthy ones resettled elsewhere. Pusing has been described by a British magistrate as the "worst town in Malaya," because there's been a lot of Red terrorism, murder and sabotage in and around Pusing.

The British have delivered an ultimatum — that there must not be another single act of terrorism in Pusing, or "other arrangements" will be made. The hint was that Pusing would get the same medicine as Jenderam. The British ordered the Pusing people to organize themselves a home guard within 48 hours to protect themselves against the terrorists. All able-bodied men rushed to join up.

Careless Playing Aids Opponents

By Oswald Jacoby

East was dealt so many low cards in today's hand that he gave up hope. He was sure the opponents would get to a game—perhaps a slam, and he wasn't really surprised when they eventually bid six spades. Instead of looking for a chance to set the contract, East played listlessly and carelessly. One slip was enough to let South make the contract.

West opened the king of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer hopefully tried two rounds of trumps, since the slam would be unbeatable if all the trumps could be drawn in two rounds. When it became apparent that West had a third trump, South had something to worry about. West had already bid clubs and supported hearts. He was obviously short in diamonds.

This all flashed through declarer's mind very quickly. Without stopping for breath, he continued with four more rounds of trumps. On one of these East casually threw a low diamond from his "worthless" five card holding. That set up South's last diamond and assured the slam contract.

East's play was very ill-advised, to be sure. The bidding should have told him that his diamonds were more precious than gold or silver. It was clear that West and dummy had the clubs between them and that West and East had complete control of the hearts.

If South had nothing much in hearts and nothing much in clubs, why had he bid so vigorously? Obviously, he had a spade-diamond two-suiter. Equally obvious, the defender who held diamonds had to keep them no matter what else he parted with.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North, 1 Diamond; East, Pass; South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 2 Diamonds; East, Pass; South ?

You, South, hold: Spades A-8-7, Hearts J-4, Diamonds Q-3-2, Clubs K-J-10-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three clubs. Your hand is strong enough to give you some sound reason to hope for game. You can afford a second response at the level of three. You may still stay out of game, but this bid of yours suggests that you have a very good hand and urges your partner to be hopeful even if he has a near-minimum opening bid.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold; Spades K-Q-8-7-2, Diamonds K-Q-9-6-3, Heart 4, Clubs 8-5. What do you do?

'People Will Talk' Opens At The Tem Theater Here

(Review)

Few pictures that deal with the American scene and the people in it will surpass "People Will Talk," which opened last night at the Tem Theatre, for its humanness, comic inuendoes, satirical barbs and delightful entertainment. If this be high praise that is just what it is meant to be. Of course, one has come to expect something special from Darryl Zanuck and Joseph Mankiewicz. They put "All About Eve" on the screen, remember?

This time with Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain, two ingratiating players, as their stars, they have poked some fun at the medical profession but at the same time have expressed a heartening philosophy while telling a really charming love story.

Mr. Mankiewicz is a keen observer of contemporary life and his typewriter must be made of barbed wire, so keen is his wit. He wrote the script as well as directed this bright film and his dialogue is as sharp as the surgeon's scalpel which comes in for some lampooning in the story.

Cary Grant is the Dr. Praetorius about whom the story revolves and his polished performance is just what you have come to expect from such an expert actor. Women will love him and men will find him refreshing. It would not be fair to detail the plot of this unusual film play. Suffice to say that it is a story of a physician who had some strange and unorthodox ideas about the practice of medicine. With this idea, Zanuck, Mankiewicz and Grant proceed to have a field day. They let Dr. Praetorius, who in the course of the story proves that he is a real human being, interested in miniature trains and symphonic music, expound on "faith, properly injected into a patient, to be as effective in maintaining life as adrenalin," and say boldly that "the practice of medicine should become more and more intimately involved with the human beings it treats rather than confine itself to pills, serums and knives."

This fabulous doctor even takes a snipe at the practice of hospitals waking patients from a "health-giving sleep" to feed them to suit the whims of the kitchen help, and states his conviction that patients are sick people—not inmates in the institution.

All this is done in an atmosphere of serious thought, rare moments of comedy with a mixture of suspense in the person of Shunderson, played with quiet restraint by Finlay Currie, the Scotsman you'll remember from "The Mudlark."

The love story part of this superb picture in which Jeanne Crain, lovely to look at and giving a cleverly balanced performance, adds to much of its charm. There are also splendid characterizations by Hume Cronyn, Walter Slezak, whose bass fiddle playing accounts for much laughter, Sidney Blackmer, Basic Ruysdael and Katherine Locke. These players all seemed to be having the time of their lives and they impart this quality to the picture, which one might say was a social comedy with serious overtones.

There are many unforgettable scenes in this Zanuck - Mankiewicz triumph and one that will enchant every boy from four to forty is the miniature train sequence in which Grant, Slezak and Blackmer essay the roles of train dispatchers. Scenes such as this give the picture its fine human quality.

"People Will Talk" is two hours of delightful entertainment and it cannot be recommended too highly. See it and you will know what we mean.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Sept. 15. — Reading two recent news stories concerning Hollywood stars — the story of Robert Walker's death, and the account of Lana Turner's separation from Bob Topping — I found myself jolted, in each case, by the star's age. Walker was only thirty-two: Miss Turner is only thirty-one. Without stopping to consult my office file of "vital statistics", I would have been inclined to "guess" that they were considerably older.

My surmise would have been based, not on appearance, but on the sum total of their news-making activities since first they stepped into the spotlight. Both crowded so much more into their lives between the ages of twenty and thirty than the average person experiences, that, being an average person I instinctively would have tried to gauge their rate of living by my own.

That's never safe practice here in Hollywood where our celebrities, more often than not, seem to pack a decade's experiences into a single year. Success is far more sudden here in the ordinary walks of life, and so, rather tragically, is failure. Off-hand, I could name you a score of youngsters who have skyrocketed from obscurity to fame and then plummeted back to oblivion again, all within the space of three or four years. And, off-hand, too, I could name you another score who, in the frenzied place of life maintained here, have, within a single decade, contracted three or four marriages and incurred as many marriage failures.

Under such circumstances, time becomes meaningless. It's small wonder that movie fans, discussing a star who won fame in her teens and whose marriages and divorces were making headlines in her early twenties, are apt to over-estimate her age by as much as a full decade.

Idol Chatter: I can't imagine anything more likely to make a six-footer feel like a pigmy than a face-to-face conversation with Buddy "Man Mountain" Baer. . . Peas-in-a-pod: Dewey Martin and Marlon Brando .... My idea of the perfect gal to play Queen Elizabeth would be Agnes Moorehead.

Add Hollywood hobbyhorsemen; Movie tycoon Charles Skouras, collector of antique firearms....With the present cycle of pictures filmed against 1920; 1930 backgrounds, it's hard to imagine a better investment for a Hollywoodite than a fleet of ancient cars, rentable at as much as fifty bucks a day... How regrettable that the Hollywood glamour girls who are easiest on the eyes are also hardest on the pocketbook.

Alan Young's sense of humor appears to be matched by his sense of caution. I'm thinking about the contract clause he demanded before signing to play the role of Androcles in "Androcles and the Lion." It stipulates, in the most unequivocal language possible, that the lion must be fed a full quota of raw meat each day before it is brought to the set for movie chores.

A national magazine writer, having interviewed Elizabeth Coyote Threatt, the New York model who's making her screen debut in RKO's "The Big Sky," opines that hers is undoubtedly the most unusual name ever owned by a motion picture player. My "Roving Reporter" just back from a visit with the "Big Sky" troupe in Wyoming, finds a chuckle in that claim, and no wonder. Also playing important roles in the same picture are Crow Indians named, respectively, Agnes Deer Nose, Winona Plenty Hoops, Lizzie Yellowtail, Wilma Backbone, Wayne Tobacco, Woodrow Plenty - on - Top and John Take A Horse.

At MGM, they're chuckling about one of the circumstances connected with Adrian's return to movie work. When the famous designer agreed to do the costumes for "Lovely to Look At," he insisted on training the models who would wear his gowns in the picture for at least two weeks before the start of production. Arriving in Hollywood, he was informed by studio bosses that the training period could undoubtedly be dispensed with since they had been able to hire experienced models. Adrian, a man with very decided ideas, immediately disagreed. "If that's the case," said he, "I will need three weeks instead of two. They will have to be taught how to walk like people instead of models!"

Notebook

New York—(AP)—Signing of the Japanese peace treaty will start a new migration to America.

It is the signal for the mass return of some of our natives, sometimes referred to overseas as "The American colonials." And the long voyage home is going to be a sad disillusionment to many of them.

Who are the American colonials? They are a post-war phenomenon. They are U. S. citizens who, ever since the end of the second world war, have remained in foreign countries and represented the American way—in one way or another.

Some spread culture for the Voice of America. Some scattered dollars for the ECA. Some held clerical or civilian executive posts in our swollen staffs that supervised occupied Germany and Japan. Some represented legitimate businesses. A few were 20th century carpetbaggers, trying to browbeat a fast buck out of a fallen foe.

But one common bond usually linked all American colonials, good or bad. They had life easier than they ever had it here.

A man who had been lucky to afford three beers at a side street standup bar back home found he could loll at ease in a plush club there and afford all the scotch and soda he could consume. A housewife used to doing her own laundry back in Kansas City discovered that in Berlin or Tokyo her budget might cover a gardener, a maid, a cook, a governess and a girl-of-all-work.

Nope, they'd never had it so good. The wise ones took the good times as a windfall, did their jobs well, and put by their money for a rainy day. But the lush living also turned a lot of heads. And the American colonial at his worst was more insufferable than the worst type of British colonial, whose bad manners he aped but whose sureness of authority he never quite achieved.

The favorite bleat of this type of American colonial, when he couldn't get the price he wanted on the black market or the ice melted in his highball, was an injured, "Well, who won the war anyway? We've got to keep these people in their place."

But he didn't fool the average German or Japanese. They knew who won the war: The American soldier, not the American colonial.

Now the lush years are about over. With Allied government supervision lifting in both Japan and Germany, the American colonials are finding their privileges and their jobs evaporating.

Many, let out of one post, are frantically grabbing for a spot with other American agencies operating around the world. Anything to keep from coming back to the reality here. For a number who have come home have written back to them:

"For heaven's sake, be smart and stay over there on the gravy train as long as you can. The prices here will murder you."

By and large, the American colonilas did about as fine a job as could be expected, given the temptations they had. But it's a good thing most of them are going to come back home.

The American isn't meant by nature or training to be either a colonial—or a colonial boss.

Leathernecks Of Air Are Fostered By Marine Wings

A balloon filled with illuminating gas — a contraption built with wings and a motor (later called "Noisy Nan")— and a marine second lieutenant named Alfred Cunningham — gave birth to the present air arm of the U. S. marines.

"Noisy Nan," rented to Lieutenant Cunningham at the rate of $25 per month was of the pusher-type craft, and consisted of a four cylinder, motorboat type engine that made more noise than a threshing machine run amuck. Her test runs were more trouble than pitching hay in the boiling sun. It often took an hour of cranking before the motor took hold,, then the marine would go "grass - cutting" down the field at what should have been flying speed, but "Noisy Nan" figured otherwise and would not take off.

This did not discourage Lieutenant Cunningham, however, and after two hours and forty minutes of civilian flying instruction, he volunteered to solo. His solo was successful and then and there, Cunningham became the first marine airman.

Through his untiring efforts and persistant enthusiasm in the field of aviation, Lieutenant Cunningham fostered the development and growth of the marine air wings, and thereby laid the foundation and insight from which our present date marine air striking force was created.

During World War I, the infant air arm grew from the marine section of the Navy Flying School at Pensacola to the first aviation force, consisting of the first aviation squadron and aeronautical detachment, USMC. They performed as antisubmarine patrols in the Azores. In France the marine pilots, itching for action but without planes, offered their services to the British and French and the enemy felt the first sting of marine pilots.

Later marine pilots used dive-bombing tactics and strafing in support of ground troops in Nicaragua against bandits.

From the aviation pioneers of the Orville Wright days, marine aviation has contributed its share to the advancement of aviation and produced its share of outstanding pilots and heroes. Today, men of the marine aviation fly the latest jets — the Banshee, the Panther, and the Phantom, the sturdy propeller - driver fighters like the Corsair and the Tigercat. In addition marine pilots fly the giant commando transport, the Flying Boxcar, the helicopter.

Yes, marine aviation is effective because its pilots are marines. They understand the problems of the ground troops — they are indoctrinated in ground tactics as well as those in the air. As a result, the confidence and trust of one marine in the other makes the land-sea - and a-ir team of the corps a hard - hitting trio that does not know defeat.

Presently, with the marine corps' expanding program ineffect, vacancies and promotions will be open in this elite air organization for young men between the ages of 17 and 29. For further details these men are encouraged to visit the local marine recruiting office, room 312, post office building between the hours of 8 o'clock a. m., and 4:30 p. m., Mondays through Saturdays.

NOW AT THE TEM

Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain speak love with their eyes in this tender scene from "People Will Talk," the witty Darryl F. Zanuck-Joseph L. Mankiewicz comedy with social implications, being held over for another week by the Tem Theatre. The Twentieth Century-Fox production features Finlay Currie, Hume Cronyn, Walter Slezak, Sidney Blackmer, Basil Ruysdael and Katherine Locke.

'Folsom' Movie Film Shot On Authentic Sets—In Jail

Because Producer Bryan Foy insisted that the entire story be photographed inside Folsom Prison in the exact places where the events of the factual story actually occurred, "Inside the Walls of Folsom Prison" brings to the screen probably the most authentic prison picture ever filmed. The revealing drama opens at the Paramount Theatre today.

Producer Foy took the Warner Brothers location company inside the prison walls daily to film scenes in the cell blocks, mess halls, workshops and the prison yard. Although no actual inmates will be seen in the film, they were constantly milling about out of camera range during the production.

Since the famed California penitentiary is a "maximum security" penal institution filled with 2,800 desperate men, most of whom are four and five-time "losers," David Brian, Steve Cochran and the 100 man crew were under constant protective custody by extra prison guards. Each member of the company had to be "mugged" and given an identification card, as many of them entered and left the prison daily dressed in the convict garb for their roles in the film.

The attitude of the inmates to "Inside the Walls of Folsom Prison" shifted from indiffeence to grudging approval when they learned through the grapevine that the script was the real story of old Folsom that some of the old-timers had lived through.

The script, written and directed by Crane Wilbur, is based on the history of that prison, but it well might have been the story of any prison in any state during the same era. It traces the bad handling of the inmates and how such treatment continually bred riots. From this chaos sprang the modern correctional prisons operated by highly trained penologists, best illustrated by Folsom today.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. The late psychologist Alfred Adler argued that in marriage there should be neither aggression nor submission but cooperation. He said: "Most marriages fail because of the lack of willingness to cooperate and compromise." Our booklet, "How To Predict Your Married Happiness," shows this to be true from extensive researches. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Small minds run in the same channel. Great minds are original, unique, and separate from other minds. They think their own thoughts. All progress has been made by persons whose minds ran in new channels — Plato, Aristotle, St. Thomas Aquinas, Washington, Lincoln, Florence Nightingale, et al.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. When I began public speaking I was almost speechless. Many wish I had remained so. But I now appear before 1,000 or 10,000 people without an extra heartbeat because I developed the art of conversation — first in small groups then in larger ones. I found that public speaking and acting are merely conversation with larger groups. You can learn a lot from our booklet, "The Art of Conversation," sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope. This booklet would have saved me hours of misery when I was starting out with the girls.

The Art of Conversation
By Milton Wright

This interesting and instructive booklet contains 12 great chapters brimming with examples, rules and principles of conversation used by every fluent conversationalist. Become one yourself. Included are ten tests of a good conversationalist with complete information for answering them. This remarkable booklet is yours for 15 cents in coin — less than actual cost. To get your copy address Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. Include a stamped (3 cent) self-addressed return envelope.

TOWN FIGHTS FOR SURVIVAL

Pusing, Malaya —(AP)— The 3,000 residents of this little mining town in Perak state of Malaya are fighting to "make good." If they don't, they may suffer the same fate as the village of Jenderam in Selangor state.

The British forcibly evacuated all of Jenderam's 1,600 people in February and ordered it burned off the map of Malaya because it was a "wasp's nest" of Communist terrorism. The people were screened and the worthy ones resettled elsewhere. Pusing has been described by a British magistrate as the "worst town in Malaya," because there's been a lot of Red terrorism, murder and sabotage in and around Pusing.

The British have delivered an ultimatum — that there must not be another single act of terrorism in Pusing, or "other arrangements" will be made. The hint was that Pusing would get the same medicine as Jenderam. The British ordered the Pusing people to organize themselves a home guard within 48 hours to protect themselves against the terrorists. All able-bodied men rushed to join up.

Careless Playing Aids Opponents

By Oswald Jacoby

East was dealt so many low cards in today's hand that he gave up hope. He was sure the opponents would get to a game—perhaps a slam, and he wasn't really surprised when they eventually bid six spades. Instead of looking for a chance to set the contract, East played listlessly and carelessly. One slip was enough to let South make the contract.

West opened the king of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer hopefully tried two rounds of trumps, since the slam would be unbeatable if all the trumps could be drawn in two rounds. When it became apparent that West had a third trump, South had something to worry about. West had already bid clubs and supported hearts. He was obviously short in diamonds.

This all flashed through declarer's mind very quickly. Without stopping for breath, he continued with four more rounds of trumps. On one of these East casually threw a low diamond from his "worthless" five card holding. That set up South's last diamond and assured the slam contract.

East's play was very ill-advised, to be sure. The bidding should have told him that his diamonds were more precious than gold or silver. It was clear that West and dummy had the clubs between them and that West and East had complete control of the hearts.

If South had nothing much in hearts and nothing much in clubs, why had he bid so vigorously? Obviously, he had a spade-diamond two-suiter. Equally obvious, the defender who held diamonds had to keep them no matter what else he parted with.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North, 1 Diamond; East, Pass; South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 2 Diamonds; East, Pass; South ?

You, South, hold: Spades A-8-7, Hearts J-4, Diamonds Q-3-2, Clubs K-J-10-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three clubs. Your hand is strong enough to give you some sound reason to hope for game. You can afford a second response at the level of three. You may still stay out of game, but this bid of yours suggests that you have a very good hand and urges your partner to be hopeful even if he has a near-minimum opening bid.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold; Spades K-Q-8-7-2, Diamonds K-Q-9-6-3, Heart 4, Clubs 8-5. What do you do?

'People Will Talk' Opens At The Tem Theater Here

(Review)

Few pictures that deal with the American scene and the people in it will surpass "People Will Talk," which opened last night at the Tem Theatre, for its humanness, comic inuendoes, satirical barbs and delightful entertainment. If this be high praise that is just what it is meant to be. Of course, one has come to expect something special from Darryl Zanuck and Joseph Mankiewicz. They put "All About Eve" on the screen, remember?

This time with Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain, two ingratiating players, as their stars, they have poked some fun at the medical profession but at the same time have expressed a heartening philosophy while telling a really charming love story.

Mr. Mankiewicz is a keen observer of contemporary life and his typewriter must be made of barbed wire, so keen is his wit. He wrote the script as well as directed this bright film and his dialogue is as sharp as the surgeon's scalpel which comes in for some lampooning in the story.

Cary Grant is the Dr. Praetorius about whom the story revolves and his polished performance is just what you have come to expect from such an expert actor. Women will love him and men will find him refreshing. It would not be fair to detail the plot of this unusual film play. Suffice to say that it is a story of a physician who had some strange and unorthodox ideas about the practice of medicine. With this idea, Zanuck, Mankiewicz and Grant proceed to have a field day. They let Dr. Praetorius, who in the course of the story proves that he is a real human being, interested in miniature trains and symphonic music, expound on "faith, properly injected into a patient, to be as effective in maintaining life as adrenalin," and say boldly that "the practice of medicine should become more and more intimately involved with the human beings it treats rather than confine itself to pills, serums and knives."

This fabulous doctor even takes a snipe at the practice of hospitals waking patients from a "health-giving sleep" to feed them to suit the whims of the kitchen help, and states his conviction that patients are sick people—not inmates in the institution.

All this is done in an atmosphere of serious thought, rare moments of comedy with a mixture of suspense in the person of Shunderson, played with quiet restraint by Finlay Currie, the Scotsman you'll remember from "The Mudlark."

The love story part of this superb picture in which Jeanne Crain, lovely to look at and giving a cleverly balanced performance, adds to much of its charm. There are also splendid characterizations by Hume Cronyn, Walter Slezak, whose bass fiddle playing accounts for much laughter, Sidney Blackmer, Basic Ruysdael and Katherine Locke. These players all seemed to be having the time of their lives and they impart this quality to the picture, which one might say was a social comedy with serious overtones.

There are many unforgettable scenes in this Zanuck - Mankiewicz triumph and one that will enchant every boy from four to forty is the miniature train sequence in which Grant, Slezak and Blackmer essay the roles of train dispatchers. Scenes such as this give the picture its fine human quality.

"People Will Talk" is two hours of delightful entertainment and it cannot be recommended too highly. See it and you will know what we mean.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Sept. 15. — Reading two recent news stories concerning Hollywood stars — the story of Robert Walker's death, and the account of Lana Turner's separation from Bob Topping — I found myself jolted, in each case, by the star's age. Walker was only thirty-two: Miss Turner is only thirty-one. Without stopping to consult my office file of "vital statistics", I would have been inclined to "guess" that they were considerably older.

My surmise would have been based, not on appearance, but on the sum total of their news-making activities since first they stepped into the spotlight. Both crowded so much more into their lives between the ages of twenty and thirty than the average person experiences, that, being an average person I instinctively would have tried to gauge their rate of living by my own.

That's never safe practice here in Hollywood where our celebrities, more often than not, seem to pack a decade's experiences into a single year. Success is far more sudden here in the ordinary walks of life, and so, rather tragically, is failure. Off-hand, I could name you a score of youngsters who have skyrocketed from obscurity to fame and then plummeted back to oblivion again, all within the space of three or four years. And, off-hand, too, I could name you another score who, in the frenzied place of life maintained here, have, within a single decade, contracted three or four marriages and incurred as many marriage failures.

Under such circumstances, time becomes meaningless. It's small wonder that movie fans, discussing a star who won fame in her teens and whose marriages and divorces were making headlines in her early twenties, are apt to over-estimate her age by as much as a full decade.

Idol Chatter: I can't imagine anything more likely to make a six-footer feel like a pigmy than a face-to-face conversation with Buddy "Man Mountain" Baer. . . Peas-in-a-pod: Dewey Martin and Marlon Brando .... My idea of the perfect gal to play Queen Elizabeth would be Agnes Moorehead.

Add Hollywood hobbyhorsemen; Movie tycoon Charles Skouras, collector of antique firearms....With the present cycle of pictures filmed against 1920; 1930 backgrounds, it's hard to imagine a better investment for a Hollywoodite than a fleet of ancient cars, rentable at as much as fifty bucks a day... How regrettable that the Hollywood glamour girls who are easiest on the eyes are also hardest on the pocketbook.

Alan Young's sense of humor appears to be matched by his sense of caution. I'm thinking about the contract clause he demanded before signing to play the role of Androcles in "Androcles and the Lion." It stipulates, in the most unequivocal language possible, that the lion must be fed a full quota of raw meat each day before it is brought to the set for movie chores.

A national magazine writer, having interviewed Elizabeth Coyote Threatt, the New York model who's making her screen debut in RKO's "The Big Sky," opines that hers is undoubtedly the most unusual name ever owned by a motion picture player. My "Roving Reporter" just back from a visit with the "Big Sky" troupe in Wyoming, finds a chuckle in that claim, and no wonder. Also playing important roles in the same picture are Crow Indians named, respectively, Agnes Deer Nose, Winona Plenty Hoops, Lizzie Yellowtail, Wilma Backbone, Wayne Tobacco, Woodrow Plenty - on - Top and John Take A Horse.

At MGM, they're chuckling about one of the circumstances connected with Adrian's return to movie work. When the famous designer agreed to do the costumes for "Lovely to Look At," he insisted on training the models who would wear his gowns in the picture for at least two weeks before the start of production. Arriving in Hollywood, he was informed by studio bosses that the training period could undoubtedly be dispensed with since they had been able to hire experienced models. Adrian, a man with very decided ideas, immediately disagreed. "If that's the case," said he, "I will need three weeks instead of two. They will have to be taught how to walk like people instead of models!"

New York—(AP)—Signing of the Japanese peace treaty will start a new migration to America.

It is the signal for the mass return of some of our natives, sometimes referred to overseas as "The American colonials." And the long voyage home is going to be a sad disillusionment to many of them.

Who are the American colonials? They are a post-war phenomenon. They are U. S. citizens who, ever since the end of the second world war, have remained in foreign countries and represented the American way—in one way or another.

Some spread culture for the Voice of America. Some scattered dollars for the ECA. Some held clerical or civilian executive posts in cur swollen staffs that supervised occupied Germany and Japan. Some represented legitimate businesses. A few were 20th century carpetbaggers, trying to browbeat a fast buck out of a fallen foe.

But one common bond usually linked all American colonials, good or bad. They had life easier than they ever had it here.

A man who had been lucky to afford three beers at a side street standup bar back home found he could loll at ease in a plush club there and afford all the scotch and soda he could consume. A housewife used to doing her own laundry back in Kansas City discovered that in Berlin or Tokyo her budget might cover a gardener, a maid, a cook, a governess and a girl-of-all-work.

Nope, they'd never had it so good. The wise ones took the good times as a windfall, did their jobs well, and put by their money for a rainy day. But the lush living also turned a lot of heads. And the American colonial at his worst was more insufferable than the worst type of British colonial, whose bad manners he aped but whose sureness of authority he never quite achieved.

The favorite bleat of this type of American colonial, when he couldn't get the price he wanted on the black market or the ice melted in his highball, was an injured, "Well, who won the war anyway? We've got to keep these people in their place."

But he didn't fool the average German or Japanese. They knew who won the war: The American soldier, not the American colonial.

Now the lush years are about over. With Allied government supervision lifting in both Japan and Germany, the American colonials are finding their privileges and their jobs evaporating.

Many, let out of one post, are frantically grabbing for a spot with other American agencies operating around the world. Anything to keep from coming back to the reality here. For a number who have come home have written back to them: "For heaven's sake, be smart and stay over there on the gravy train as long as you can. The prices here will murder you."

By and large, the American colonilas did about as fine a job as could be expected, given the temptations they had. But it's a good thing most of them are going to come back home.

The American isn't meant by nature or training to be either a colonial—or a colonial boss.

Leathernecks Of Air Are Fostered By Marine Wings

A balloon filled with illuminating gas — a contraption built with wings and a motor (later called "Noisy Nan")— and a marine second lieutenant named Alfred Cunningham — gave birth to the present air arm of the U. S. marines.

"Noisy Nan," rented to Lieutenant Cunningham at the rate of $25 per month was of the pusher-type craft, and consisted of a four cylinder, motorboat type engine that made more noise than a threshing machine run amuck. Her test runs were more trouble than pitching hay in the boiling sun. It often took an hour of cranking before the motor took hold,, then the marine would go "grass - cutting" down the field at what should have been flying speed, but "Noisy Nan" figured otherwise and would not take off.

This did not discourage Lieutenant Cunningham, however, and after two hours and forty minutes of civilian flying instruction, he volunteered to solo. His solo was successful and then and there, Cunningham became the first marine airman.

Through his untiring efforts and persistant enthusiasm in the field of aviation, Lieutenant Cunningham fostered the development and growth of the marine air wings, and thereby laid the foundation and insight from which our present date marine air striking force was created.

During World War I, the infant air arm grew from the marine section of the Navy Flying School at Pensacola to the first aviation force, consisting of the first aviation squadron and aeronautical detachment, USMC. They performed as antisubmarine patrols in the Azores. In France the marine pilots, itching for action but without planes, offered their services to the British and French and the enemy felt the first sting of marine pilots.

Later marine pilots used dive-bombing tactics and strafing in support of ground troops in Nicaragua against bandits.

From the aviation pioneers of the Orville Wright days, marine aviation has contributed its share to the advancement of aviation and produced its share of outstanding pilots and heroes. Today, men of the marine aviation fly the latest jets — the Banshee, the Panther, and the Phantom, the sturdy propeller - driver fighters like the Corsair and the Tigercat. In addition marine pilots fly the giant commando transport, the Flying Boxcar, the helicopter.

Yes, marine aviation is effective because its pilots are marines. They understand the problems of the ground troops — they are indoctrinated in ground tactics as well as those in the air. As a result, the confidence and trust of one marine in the other makes the land-sea - and a-ir team of the corps a hard - hitting trio that does not know defeat.

Presently, with the marine corps' expanding program ineffect, vacancies and promotions will be open in this elite air organization for young men between the ages of 17 and 29. For further details these men are encouraged to visit the local marine recruiting office, room 312, post office building between the hours of 8 o'clock a. m., and 4:30 p. m., Mondays through Saturdays.

NOW AT THE TEM

Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain speak love with their eyes in this tender scene from "People Will Talk," the witty Darryl F. Zanuck-Joseph L. Mankiewicz comedy with social implications, being held over for another week by the Tem Theatre. The Twentieth Century-Fox production features Finlay Currie, Hume Cronyn, Walter Slezak, Sidney Blackmer, Basil Ruysdael and Katherine Locke.

'Folsom' Movie Film Shot On Authentic Sets—In Jail

Because Producer Bryan Foy insisted that the entire story be photographed inside Folsom Prison in the exact places where the events of the factual story actually occurred, "Inside the Walls of Folsom Prison" brings to the screen probably the most authentic prison picture ever filmed. The revealing drama opens at the Paramount Theatre today.

Producer Foy took the Warner Brothers location company inside the prison walls daily to film scenes in the cell blocks, mess halls, workshops and the prison yard. Although no actual inmates will be seen in the film, they were constantly milling about out of camera range during the production.

Since the famed California penitentiary is a "maximum security" penal institution filled with 2,800 desperate men, most of whom are four and five-time "losers," David Brian, Steve Cochran and the 100 man crew were under constant protective custody by extra prison guards. Each member of the company had to be "mugged" and given an identification card, as many of them entered and left the prison daily dressed in the convict garb for their roles in the film.

The attitude of the inmates to "Inside the Walls of Folsom Prison" shifted from indiffeence to grudging approval when they learned through the grapevine that the script was the real story of old Folsom that some of the old-timers had lived through.

The script, written and directed by Crane Wilbur, is based on the history of that prison, but it well might have been the story of any prison in any state during the same era. It traces the bad handling of the inmates and how such treatment continually bred riots. From this chaos sprang the modern correctional prisons operated by highly trained penologists, best illustrated by Folsom today.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. The late psychologist Alfred Adler argued that in marriage there should be neither aggression nor submission but cooperation. He said: "Most marriages fail because of the lack of willingness to cooperate and compromise." Our booklet, "How To Predict Your Married Happiness," shows this to be true from extensive researches. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Small minds run in the same channel. Great minds are original, unique, and separate from other minds. They think their own thoughts. All progress has been made by persons whose minds ran in new channels — Plato, Aristotle, St. Thomas Aquinas, Washington, Lincoln, Florence Nightingale, et al.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. When I began public speaking I was almost speechless. Many wish I had remained so. But I now appear before 1,000 or 10,000 people without an extra heartbeat because I developed the art of conversation — first in small groups then in larger ones. I found that public speaking and acting are merely conversation with larger groups. You can learn a lot from our booklet, "The Art of Conversation," sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope. This booklet would have saved me hours of misery when I was starting out with the girls.

The Art of Conversation
By Milton Wright

This interesting and instructive booklet contains 12 great chapters brimming with examples, rules and principles of conversation used by every fluent conversationalist. Become one yourself. Included are ten tests of a good conversationalist with complete information for answering them. This remarkable booklet is yours for 15 cents in coin — less than actual cost. To get your copy address Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. Include a stamped (3 cent) self-addressed return envelope.

YOUR CHILDISH PLOT AMUSES THE DRAGON LADY, TERRY LEE, THOUGH I SHOULD BE ANGRY THAT YOU DELIBERATELY SPOILED AN EXPENSIVE GOWN WITH EQUALLY EXPENSIVE PERFUME.

AND THE DIABOLICAL CUNNING WITH WHICH YOU PERSUADED ME TO LEAVE MY DRESSING ROOM DOOR AJAR SO THAT YOU COULD REMOVE MY DISCARDED GARMENTS WITH THE AID OF A BAMBOO WINDOW-BLIND SLAT AS I CHANGED...QUITE CLEVER, REALLY.

OF COURSE, I ANTICIPATED YOUR PLAN AND THE LIN REPORT IS AGAIN HIDDEN HERE IN ITS ACCUSTOMED PLACE — WHERE IT REMAINS UNTIL YOUR WOOING PERSUADES ME TO REMOVE IT!

WELL, I'LL BE...! FRIEND TERRY IS IN A SPOT...IT'S A DOWNRIGHT SHAME, BUT I GUESS OL' HOTSHOT WILL HAVE TO BREAK THIS UP. ...NOW, LESSEE...

GOTTA FIND WHERE WE STASHED THAT RUBBER BOAT...IT'S A SCREWY IDEA...

AND A SHORT TIME LATER...

GOOD OL' U.S. NAVY...EXTRA AIR BOTTLES TO REINFLATE BOAT FOR RETURN TRIP... ONE OUGHT TO DO IT...!

AND STILL LATER...

COME, TERRY LEE. LET ME SEE YOU STORM THE DRAGON LADY'S HEART.

"STORM", BABY! IF THIS GIMMICK WORKS, OL' HOTSHOT WILL PROVIDE YOU WITH YOUR OWN PERSONAL HURRICANE!

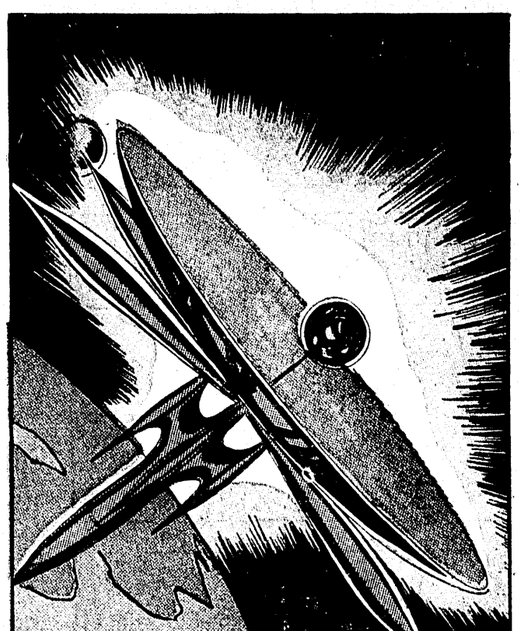
®FLASH GORDON ..... by Mac Raboy and Don Moore



WHILE FLASH AND HIS CO-WORKERS WERE BUSY FIGHTING THE MARTIANS, THEY FAILED TO NOTICE THAT THEIR SPACE-PLATFORM WAS RUNNING SHORT OF OXYGEN. A HURRIED SOS TO THE EARTH BY RADARPHONE GETS NO ANSWER. ATMOSPHERIC DISTURBANCES PREVENT THE SIGNALS FROM GETTING THROUGH.

MEANWHILE, TOXO, THE CAPTURED PIRATE, GULPS THE WANING AIR GREEDILY. ALTHOUGH AS A MARTIAN HE CAN LIVE WITHOUT BREATHING, HE ENJOYS THE LUXURIOUS FEEL OF AIR IN HIS LUNGS... AND GLOATS OVER THE FACT THAT HE IS CONSUMING PRECIOUS OXYGEN HIS HUMAN ENEMIES NEED TO LIVE.

"LIE STILL!" FLASH ORDERS HIS COMPANIONS. "WE'VE GOT TO MAKE THE AIR LAST TILL RESCUE ARRIVES." WHILE FLASH CONTINUES HIS FRANTIC EFFORTS TO REACH THE EARTH WITH HIS CALLS FOR OXYGEN, TOXO MANAGES TO WIGGLE FREE FROM HIS BONDS AND CREEP TOWARD THE HATCHWAY OF THE CABIN.

JAMMING THE SAFETY CONTROLS, THE EVIL GENIUS FROM MARS OPENS BOTH INNER AND OUTER AIRLOCK DOORS AND THE SHIP'S AIR SUPPLY HISSES SWIFTLY OUT INTO EMPTY SPACE. THE ROCKET CABIN WILL SOON BE A VACUUM.

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE THAT IN 7 OUT OF 10 CASES, COLGATE'S INSTANTLY STOPS BAD BREATH THAT ORIGINATES IN THE MOUTH. AND NO OTHER TOOTHPASTE DOES A BETTER JOB OF CLEANING TEETH. COLGATE'S CLEANS TEETH THOROUGHLY AND SAFELY—BRINGS OUT THEIR NATURAL SPARKLE AND BEAUTY. COLGATE'S IS FAMOUS FOR ITS WONDERFUL WAKE-UP FLAVOR, TOO!

READER'S DIGEST* Reported The Same Research Which Proves That Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

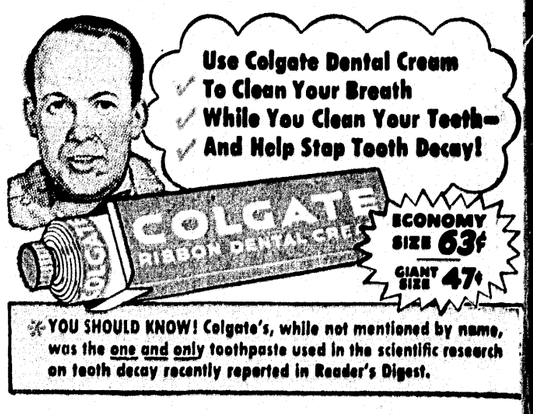
COLGATE DENTAL CREAM

STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Most Thoroughly Proved and Accepted Home Method Of Oral Hygiene Known Today!

Reader's Digest recently reported the very same research which proves that the Colgate way of brushing teeth right after eating stops tooth decay best! The most thoroughly proved and accepted home method of oral hygiene known today!

Yes, and two years' research showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people than ever before reported in all dentifrice history! No other dentifrice—ammoniated or not—offers such proof—the most conclusive proof ever reported for a dentifrice of any type!



*YOU SHOULD KNOW! Colgate's, while not mentioned by name, was the one and only toothpaste used in the scientific research on tooth decay recently reported in Reader's Digest.

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

By LYMAN YOUNG

I HOPE WE CAN GET TO THE STAIRS IN TIME!

WHEN I MOVED THE CLAW OF THE EAGLE ON THE THRONE, THE WHOLE THRONE BEGAN TO SHAKE AND THEN DISAPPEARED BELOW THE FLOOR....

AND THE VIOLENT SHAKING MUST'VE WEAKENED THE WALLS OF THIS ANCIENT TEMPLE, CAUSING THEM TO CRACK AND LET IN ALL THIS HOT MUD!

HELP! WAIT FOR ME!

HOLD ON, TIM! LARGO HAS SLIPPED IN THE MUD! WE'VE GOT TO GO BACK AND HELP HIM!

WE'VE GOT YOU, LARGO!

THERE'S THE FOOT OF THE STAIRS! WE'LL BE OUT OF HERE IN A MINUTE!

THE MUD IS COMING UP THE STAIRS ALMOST AS FAST AS WE CAN CLIMB THEM!

THE WALLS ARE CAVING IN HERE, TOO...THE WHOLE TEMPLE MUST BE SINKING INTO THE MUD!...

LET'S HURRY AND GET IT OPEN!

WE'RE ALMOST TO THE DOOR!

WE CAN'T OPEN IT, SPUD!

IT'S JAMMED! WE'RE ALL DOOMED TO DIE!

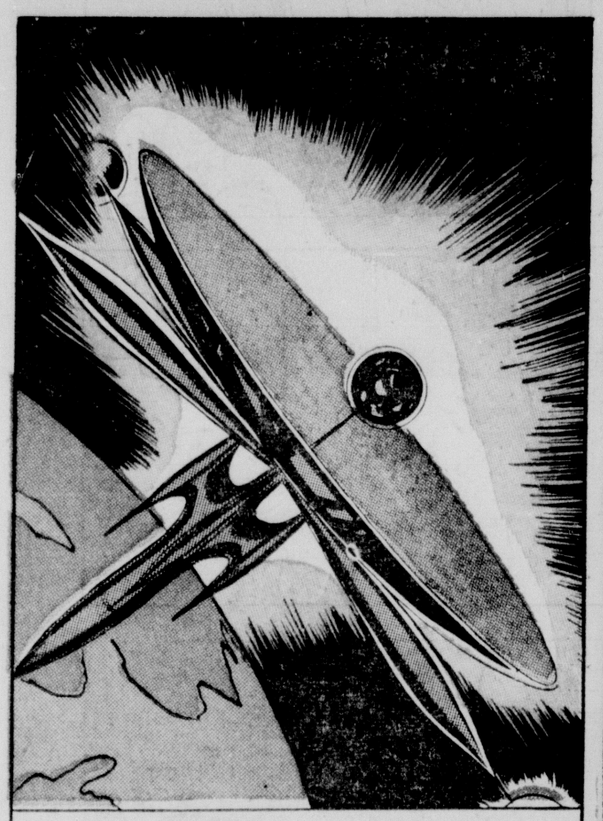
®FLASH GORDON ..... by Mac Raboy and Don Moore



WHILE FLASH AND HIS CO-WORKERS WERE BUSY FIGHTING THE MARTIANS, THEY FAILED TO NOTICE THAT THEIR SPACE-PLATFORM WAS RUNNING SHORT OF OXYGEN. A HURRIED SOS TO THE EARTH BY RADARPHONE GETS NO ANSWER. ATMOSPHERIC DISTURBANCES PREVENT THE SIGNALS FROM GETTING THROUGH.

MEANWHILE, TOXO, THE CAPTURED PIRATE, GULPS THE WANING AIR GREEDILY. ALTHOUGH AS A MARTIAN HE CAN LIVE WITHOUT BREATHING, HE ENJOYS THE LUXURIOUS FEEL OF AIR IN HIS LUNGS... AND GLOATS OVER THE FACT THAT HE IS CONSUMING PRECIOUS OXYGEN HIS HUMAN ENEMIES NEED TO LIVE.

"LIE STILL!" FLASH ORDERS HIS COMPANIONS. "WE'VE GOT TO MAKE THE AIR LAST TILL RESCUE ARRIVES." WHILE FLASH CONTINUES HIS FRANTIC EFFORTS TO REACH THE EARTH WITH HIS CALLS FOR OXYGEN, TOXO MANAGES TO WIGGLE FREE FROM HIS BONDS AND CREEP TOWARD THE HATCHWAY OF THE CABIN.

JAMMING THE SAFETY CONTROLS, THE EVIL GENIUS FROM MARS OPENS BOTH INNER AND OUTER AIRLOCK DOORS AND THE SHIP'S AIR SUPPLY HISSES SWIFTLY OUT INTO EMPTY SPACE. THE ROCKET CABIN WILL SOON BE A VACUUM.

THE DAMAGE DONE, TOXO ESCAPES IN THE MAZE OF CORRIDORS ON THE SPACE PLATFORM. GASPING FOR BREATH, FLASH HURLS HIMSELF AGAINST THE AIRLOCK, WHILE DALE AND THE OTHERS SCRAMBLE TO DON THEIR SPACE HELMETS. WITH HIS LAST OUNCE OF STRENGTH, FLASH SWINGS SHUT THE PONDEROUS LOCK!

NEXT WEEK: "MINUTES TO LIVE."

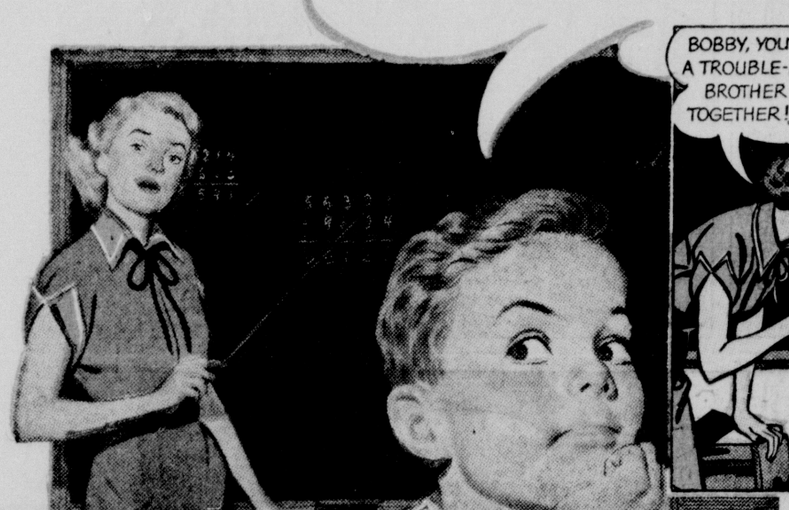
Somebody ought to teach teacher!



SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE THAT IN 7 OUT OF 10 CASES, COLGATE'S INSTANTLY STOPS BAD BREATH THAT ORIGINATES IN THE MOUTH. AND NO OTHER TOOTHPASTE DOES A BETTER JOB OF CLEANING TEETH. COLGATE'S CLEANS TEETH THOROUGHLY AND SAFELY—BRINGS OUT THEIR NATURAL SPARKLE AND BEAUTY. COLGATE'S IS FAMOUS FOR ITS WONDERFUL WAKE-UP FLAVOR, TOO!

READER'S DIGEST Reported The Same Research Which Proves That Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

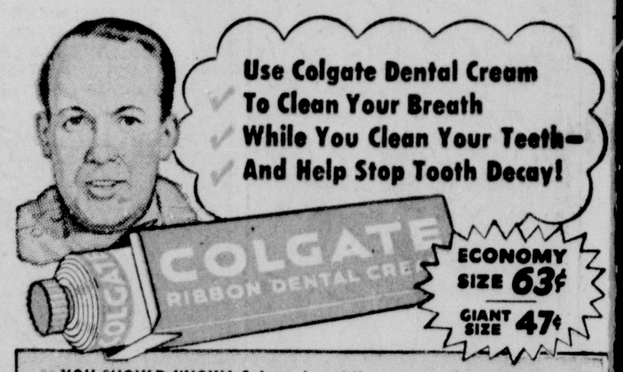
STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Most Thoroughly Proved and Accepted Home Method Of Oral Hygiene Known Today!

Reader's Digest recently reported the very same research which proves that the Colgate way of brushing teeth right after eating stops tooth decay best! The most thoroughly proved and accepted home method of oral hygiene known today!

Yes, and two years' research showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people than ever before reported in all dentifrice history! No other dentifrice—ammoniated or not—offers such proof—the most conclusive proof ever reported for a dentifrice of any type!



YOU SHOULD KNOW! Colgate's, while not mentioned by name, was the one and only toothpaste used in the scientific research on tooth decay recently reported in Reader's Digest.
